Introduction

The Assistance and Investigations Guide

1. Purpose: This guide outlines the specific techniques, formats, and procedures used when performing Assistance, Investigations, and Investigative Inquiries.
2. The Assistance and Investigations Guide: The Inspector General Action Process (IGAP) is the process IGs use when performing Assistance and conducting Investigations. Although Assistance and Investigations are both separate functions, each one shares this same process and, as a result, many of the same steps, formats, and techniques. Factors that bear on Assistance also have an impact on Investigations and vice versa. Since both functions share similar doctrine, they appear together -- for doctrinal purposes -- in one complete guide for ease of reference.
3. The Guide as a Handbook: This guide is designed to serve as a ready reference and step-by-step handbook that will allow an IG serving in the field to follow each step of the IGAP and perform Assistance or conduct an Investigation (or Investigative Inquiry) as necessary. Part One of the guide addresses the IGAP and its application to Assistance while Part Two addresses the IGAP and the performance of Investigations. Many of the techniques and formats offered herein are not mandatory for use but instead offer all Army IGs a common frame of reference and a generally approved way of executing both of these functions. The rules bearing on these two functions, as outlined in Chapters 4, 7, and 8 of Army Regulation 20-1, Inspector General Activities and Procedures, represent the policy that frames this doctrine and, ultimately, the execution of both functions. Therefore, IGs must use this guide in concert with the policy outlined in the regulation.
4. Format for Sample Memorandums: This guide contains numerous sample memorandums that adhere to the format requirements outlined in Army Regulation 25-50, Preparing and Managing Correspondence. However, in an effort to save space and paper, some of the required font sizes and spacing have been compressed. Refer to Army Regulation 25-50 for the precise format specifications.
5. Questions and Comments: For questions or comments concerning this guide, please contact the authors at the U.S. Army Inspector General School, 5500 21st Street, Suite 2305, Fort Belvoir, Virginia 22060-5935 or call commercial (703) 805-3900 or DSN 655-3900. The authors' names are as follows:

Part One: Assistance - LTC Silke Shrader (703) 805-3906

Part Two: Investigations - LTC Andrew Schublin (703) 805-3895

Summary of Change

This version of The Assistance and Investigations Guide supersedes the January 2007 version of the guide. The major changes included in this version are as follows:

- Corrects typographical and other minor errors throughout.
- Clarifies the point that IGs will attempt to contact an individual before releasing that person's personal information due to certain Privacy Act provisions (Part One, Section 2-3-4-2).
- Explicates further the procedures for handling allegations of professional misconduct against an Army lawyer (Part One, Section 3-8).
- Clarifies the duties of Reserve Component personnel involved in IG investigations (Part Two, Section 4-4).
- Standardizes the format for Reports of Investigation (ROI) / Reports of Investigative Inquiry (ROII) for all IG investigations, to include investigations of Whistleblower Reprisal and Improper Mental Health Evaluations (Part Two, Sections 9-4, 9-5, 11-4, and 11-6).
- Adjusts the ROI / ROII format to omit the Introduction before Consideration of Allegations if the report already has an Executive Summary that addresses that information (Part Two, Sections 9-4, 11-4, and 11-6).

Section 1-1

Introduction

1. Purpose: The purpose of Part One of this guide is to help Inspectors General at all levels within the Army carry out the Assistance function. The U.S. Army Inspector General School uses this guide to teach the Assistance function and the seven-step Inspector General Action Process (IGAP) to newly selected Inspectors General. Hence, this guide will also aid Acting Inspectors General in performing their Assistance duties.

2. Army Regulation 20-1: This guide creates a tool that, when used in conjunction with Army Regulation 20-1, Inspector General Activities and Procedures, will prepare an Inspector General to provide the best support to Soldiers, civilians, family members, their commands, and the U.S. Army.

The policy outlined in Army Regulation 20-1, Inspector General Activities and Procedures, takes precedence in the event of a conflict between the regulation and this guide.

Section 1-2

Definitions

1. Purpose: The purpose of this section is to explain some key terms associated with the Inspector General Assistance function.
2. Allegation: An allegation is a statement or assertion of wrongdoing by an individual formulated by the IG. An allegation contains four essential elements: who, improperly, did or failed to do what, in violation of an established standard. The IG refines allegations based upon evidence gathered during the course of an investigation or inquiry.
3. Army Command (ACOM): An Army force, designated by the Secretary of the Army, performing multiple Army Service Title 10 functions across multiple disciplines.
4. Army Service Component Command (ASCC): An Army Force, designated by the Secretary of the Army, comprised primarily of operational organizations serving as the Army component of a combatant command or subunified command.
5. Assistance: Army Regulation 20-1, Inspector General Activities and Procedures, defines Assistance as the process of receiving, inquiring into, recording, and responding to complaints or requests for Assistance either brought directly to the Inspector General or referred to the Inspector General for action concerning matters of Army interest.
6. Assistance Inquiry: An informal fact-finding process used to address or respond to a complaint involving a request for help, information, or issues but not allegations of impropriety or wrongdoing. An Assistance inquiry may simply provide the facts to answer a question posed by the complainant.
7. Complainant: A person who submits a complaint, allegation, or other request for assistance to an IG.
8. Complaint: An expression of dissatisfaction or discontent with a process or system.
9. Direct Reporting Unit (DRU): An Army organization of one or more units with institutional or operational support functions, designated by the Secretary of the Army, normally to provide broad general support to the Army in a single, unique discipline not otherwise available elsewhere in the Army.
10. Inspector General Action Request (IGAR): IGAR is the term used to refer to the process of receiving, inquiring into, recording, and responding to complaints or requests either brought directly to the Inspector General or referred to the Inspector General for action. Inspectors General record this information on DA Form 1559, Inspector General Action Request.

11. Inspector General Action Request System (IGARS): The IG database that documents all IGARs within the Department of the Army. Only trained and qualified IGs have access to this database.
12. Inspector General Investigation: A formal fact-finding examination by a detailed IG into allegations, issues, or adverse conditions to provide the directing authority a sound basis for decisions and actions. (See Part Two of this guide, or AR 20-1, Inspector General Activities and Procedures, Chapter 8.)
13. Inspector General Investigative Inquiry: A fact-finding examination by an IG into allegations, issues, or adverse conditions. The investigative inquiry is an informal fact-finding process followed by IGs to gather information needed to address allegations of impropriety against an individual that do not require a formal investigation. (See Part Two of this guide, or AR 20-1, Inspector General Activities and Procedures, Chapter 8.)
14. Issue: An issue is a complaint, request for information, or request for assistance to the Inspector General that does not list a "who" as the violator of a standard or policy.
15. Office of Inquiry (OOI): If another IG office refers an IGAR to a lower-echelon IG office for action but retains office of record status, the IG office acting on the IGAR becomes the office of inquiry. The OOI must gather all pertinent information and submit the completed case to the office of record for final disposition.
16. Office of Record (OOR): Normally the IG office that receives the complaint. This office may request to refer the office of record status to another IG office if the case falls under another's IG area of command. The OOR must ensure that all issues are addressed and all IG responsibilities were fulfilled.
17. One-Minute IGAR (OMI): OMIs are a shorthand method to document certain types of IGARs for information requests only. The only two OMI types are 1A (Routine Request for Information) and 1B (Request for Support IG to IG).
18. Senior Official (SO): Includes general officers (Active Army and Reserve Component), colonels selected for promotion to brigadier general, retired general officers, and current or former civilian employees of the Department of the Army Senior Executive Service (SES) or equal positions, to include comparable political appointees.
19. Standard IGAR: A standard IGAR will be opened in the IGARS database when the request to the IG is more than what a One-Minute IGAR would entail. The standard IGAR includes detailed information on the initiator, complainant, subject / suspect, function codes, case notes, and synopsis.
20. Subject: A person against whom non-criminal allegations have been made such as a violation of a local policy or regulation that is not punitive.
21. Suspect: A person against whom criminal allegations were made. The allegations include violations of UCMJ punitive articles, punitive regulations, or violations of other criminal laws. A person may also become a suspect as a result of incriminating information that arises during an investigation or interview, or whenever the questioner believes, or reasonably should believe, that the person committed a criminal offense.

Section 1-3

Categories of Inspectors General

1. Purpose: The purpose of this section is to discuss and describe the five Inspector General Categories (Detailed Inspectors General, Assistant Inspectors General, Temporary Assistant Inspectors General, Acting Inspectors General, and Office and Administrative Support Staff).
2. Detailed Inspector General: Detailed Inspectors General are commissioned officers in the grade of O-3 and above, commissioned chief warrant officers (CWOs), and DA civilians in the grade of GS-12 and above with TIG's approval. A detailed IG may receive and process requests for Assistance, direct and conduct Inquiries, conduct Investigations and Inspections, and administer oaths. Uniformed detailed Inspectors General wear the Inspector General insignia (except for DA photos). Detailed Inspectors General must be trained and qualified at the Army Inspector General School at Fort Belvoir, Virginia.
3. Assistant Inspector General: An Assistant Inspector General may be a chief warrant officer (CWO) who is not commissioned in the grade of CW2 promotable or above, a noncommissioned officer in the grade of staff sergeant promotable and above, or a civilian employee in the grade of GS-09 and above. This category of Inspector General may receive and process requests for Assistance; conduct Inspector General Assistance Inquiries; assist detailed Inspectors General with Inspector General Investigative Inquiries, Inspector General Investigations, and Inspector General Inspections; and perform administrative duties. They may also administer oaths during sworn, recorded testimony and wear the Inspector General insignia (except for DA photos). Assistant Inspectors General must be trained and qualified at the Army Inspector General School at Fort Belvoir, Virginia.
4. Temporary Assistant Inspector General: These individuals are commissioned officers, chief warrant officers, enlisted Soldiers, Department of the Army civilians, and contracted subject-matter experts temporarily detailed to augment an Inspector General Inspection or Investigation team for a specified period. These individuals are Subject-Matter Experts (SME) in a particular subject area. The Inspector General (TIG) must approve temporary assistant Inspectors General serving for longer than 180 days, and they must attend the Inspector General School at Fort Belvoir, Virginia. The ACOM, ASCC, or DRU commander is the approving authority for those temporary assistant Inspectors General serving between 90 and 180 days. The command or State IG is responsible to train the temporary assistant IGs prior to them performing IG duties.
5. Acting Inspector General (AIG): Acting Inspectors General are commissioned officers only whose ACOM, ASCC, or DRU commander has assigned them to serve as Acting Inspectors General as an additional duty. The TIG is the approving authority for all exceptions to policy. An Acting Inspector General assists a detailed Inspector General with receiving IGARs in population areas for which the detailed Inspector General has responsibility but from which the detailed Inspector General is often geographically separated. The detailed Inspector General has several other options in lieu of appointing an Acting Inspector General such as conducting periodic assistance visits, using phones and faxes, and developing Memorandums of Agreement (MOA) with other IGs. Acting Inspectors General will only provide Assistance for requests for help. They will not conduct Investigative Inquiries or Investigations, serve on Inspector General Inspection teams, or perform duties in the office of a Detailed Inspector General. They may not administer oaths and may not wear Inspector General insignia. Detailed Inspectors General at the ACOM, ASCC, or DRU level will train and supervise Acting Inspectors General.

6. Office and Administrative Support Staff: These individuals are Soldiers and civilians who serve in administrative and support positions such as secretaries, computer operators, etc. They will take the Inspector General oath because they are part of the Inspector General system and may have access to Inspector General records. Administrative Support Staff personnel will not lead, assist, or conduct Inspector General Inspections, Assistance, Inquiries, or Investigations. Administrative Support Staff may attend the Army Inspector General School at Fort Belvoir. The primary IG, after receiving TIG's permission, may designate school-trained office and administrative support staff personnel to serve temporarily as an assistant IG for a specified period of time on an emergency basis.

Section 1-4

The Assistance Function

1. Purpose: This section explains the Assistance function.
2. Assistance Function: The Assistance function is the process of receiving, inquiring into, and responding to complaints, requests for information, and requests for help presented or referred to an Inspector General. This process is used to correct problems indirectly. Inspectors General correct problems by bringing the matter to the attention of the command and letting the command do the right thing. This referral occurs at the lowest level of command appropriate to take the corrective action and elevated only when deemed appropriate. This process assists in eliminating conditions detrimental to the morale, efficiency, or reputation of the unit and the Army.

The Assistance function is a major portion of the Inspector General workload. It complements the Inspections and Investigations functions of the Inspector General system. For example, during an Inspection you may receive IGARs with either issues or allegations following interviews and sensing sessions. Likewise, a simple request for Assistance may require an Inspection to resolve -- especially in cases where a systemic problem is suspected. Some complaints may expand into an Investigation depending on the situation. Any Inspector General can perform the Assistance function.

The Assistance function is another opportunity for the Inspector General to teach and train; provide information about Army systems, processes, and procedures; and assess attitudes while assisting, inspecting, and investigating. The Inspector General Teaching and Training function is an integral part of all Inspector General functions.

Section 1-5

Who May Submit a Complaint to an Inspector General?

1. Purpose: This section explains who may submit a complaint to an Inspector General and lists and describes some of the many sources of Inspector General Action Requests (IGARs).

2. Who May Submit a Complaint to an Inspector General? Anyone, regardless of status, may make a complaint, allegation, or request for information or Assistance to any Army Inspector General concerning matters of Army interest. There are no pre-conditions for coming to the Inspector General for Assistance. During normal duty hours, military and Department of Defense (DoD) personnel must inform the chain of command that they are leaving their place of duty. They cannot just walk off the job and fail to inform their supervisors that they are going to the Inspector General. After duty hours, they may go to the Inspector General without notifying their supervisors.

The Inspector General will encourage the Soldier or civilian employee to discuss complaints, allegations, or requests for assistance first with the commander, chain of command, or supervisor as outlined in Army Regulation 600-20. If the complainant does not wish to do so, the Inspector General will accept the IGAR. If specific redress procedures are available, the Inspector General will teach and train the complainant on using the appropriate, formally established redress process and refer him or her to that process (see Section 3-4, Issues with Other Forms of Redress).

3. Sources of Inspector General Action Requests (IGARs): IGARs can come from anyone and anywhere. They come from walk-ins, call-ins, e-mail messages, write-ins, anonymously, or with Inspectors General hearing the IGARs for themselves. The following are some examples of sources of Inspector General Action Requests:

- a. Active, Army Reserve, and National Guard Soldiers (Example: Reserve Soldiers not getting the same treatment as an active counterpart when they access the Army systems).
- b. Anonymous (Example: An unidentified person complains about a lack of command opportunities in a specific unit).
- c. Department of Army civilians (Example: Pre-selection in hiring / promotions).
- d. Family members (Example: Nonsupport issues).
- e. Retirees / Veterans (Example: Veteran administration (VA) benefits / medical problems).
- f. Commander (Example: Discussing a policy or consulting the Inspector General).
- g. Other services (Example: Member of the Navy comes to an Army Inspector General for Assistance).
- h. Civilian-civilians (Example: Civilians complaining about a Soldier driving too fast or drinking while driving a government vehicle).
- i. Media (Example: Requesting that the Inspector General confirm or deny something).

- j. Contractors (Example: Contractors not meeting requirements or the Government exceeding the requirements of a contract).
- k. Third parties (Example: Parents complaining on behalf of a son or daughter).
- l. Other Inspectors General (Example: Another Inspector General received your case by mistake, or a Soldier is not in his or her command).
- m. Congress (Example: A Soldier went to his or her Congressperson about a matter).

An Inspector General's responsibility is to receive the IGAR and determine if it is appropriate for that Inspector General to work or refer to another agency. Because an Inspector General assists on an area basis, these IGARs can come from anyone and anywhere. As long as the matter is Army-related, the Inspector General will provide Assistance by working the case or referring the issue to the appropriate agency for action.

Section 1-6

The Purpose and Use of DA Form 1559

1. Purpose: This section describes the DA Form 1559, Inspector General Action Request, and its use.
2. The Purpose of DA Form 1559 and its Use: Inspectors General use DA Form 1559, Inspector General Action Request, to record complaints and Inspector General requests for information and assistance. This form acts as the base-control document, assists in documenting Inspector General workload, and assists in identifying trends and systemic issues. Also, the form allows the Inspector General to provide the Commanding General (CG) with information to improve the command. The Inspector General will complete DA Form 1559 every time there is a complaint, request for information, or request for Inspector General Assistance. The only time an Inspector General will not complete DA Form 1559 is when there is a complaint against a senior official (colonel promotable, general officer, or senior executive service civilian) (see Part Two, Section 2-4).

DA Form 1559

1. Purpose: This section discusses DA Form 1559, Inspector General Action Request.
2. DA Form 1559: Complete the DA Form 1559 in as much detail as possible for every request for Inspector General Assistance except for those regarding senior officials (see AR 20-1, paragraph 8-3i). A good rule of thumb is to complete this form with sufficient detail to allow another Inspector General without prior knowledge of the case to work the issue. The Inspector General will ensure that he or she gets a good phone number to contact the complainant and ask the complainant exactly what it is that he or she wants the Inspector General to do for him or her.

During the initial interview with the complainant, the Inspector General will advise the complainant of the Privacy Act Statement of 1974 on the DA Form 1559. The purpose of discussing the Privacy Act is to show that the Inspector General has the authority to request personal information and that the release of the complainant's social security number, home address, and home telephone number is voluntary.

Also review the statement concerning presenting false allegations to an Inspector General at the bottom of the page with the complainant. For walk-in cases, the Inspector General will have the complainant complete, or will assist the complainant in completing, DA Form 1559. The complainant will then sign the form. If the Inspector General receives the complaint via telephone, the Inspector General will complete a DA Form 1559 and, in the signature block, write the word telephonic. If the complaint arrives via e-mail, fax, or letter, the Inspector General will attach a DA Form 1559 to the source document and write in the "specific action requested" block the following phrase: see attached document. The Inspector General will provide the complainant with a copy of this form when completed and signed.

This form is available through the Army Publishing site and through the IGARS database in the Reports Menu.

IGARS Database 1559 Form

1. Purpose: This section discusses the IGARS Database 1559 Form.
2. IGARS Database 1559 Form: The IGARS Database 1559 is known as the electronic copy. This blank form exists only within the IGARS database and is for Inspector General use only. This form is only a graphic, hard-copy representation of the data that an Inspector General will enter into the IGARS database when opening and editing a case. Inspectors General should keep copies of this blank form on hand in case the Inspector General has no computer or the computer fails. The Inspector General may then capture the same information on the blank database form and then input that same data later when the computer resumes operation or a computer becomes available. Each field marked with an asterisk must be completed. Unlike the DA Form 1559, the Inspector General may not release a completed copy of this IGARS Database 1559 to the complainant. Inspectors General store sensitive and confidential information on this form.

Since the IGARS database will undergo continuous refinement, this database form will be updated routinely to include new fields for required information. Inspectors General should keep abreast of these changes by checking the current form available on the IGARS database at least monthly. A feature within the IGARS database in the Reports Menu allows Inspectors General to click on a button, open a copy of the blank form in IGARS, and print it for hard-copy reproduction and use as necessary.

Teach and Train

1. Purpose: This section explains the Inspector General Teaching and Training function.

2. Teach and Train: The Teaching and Training function is incorporated into all aspects of an Inspector General's duties. When an Inspector General learns that personnel do not know regulatory requirements, the Inspector General explains the requirements and the reason these requirements were established. Additionally, Inspectors General pass on lessons learned and good ideas (or benchmarks) observed during the conduct of other Inspector General functions (Inspections, etc).

The effectiveness of the Inspector General system is, to a great extent, a function of how receptive non-Inspectors General are to Inspectors General. Therefore, Inspectors General must teach leaders and their Soldiers how Inspectors General contribute to mission accomplishment and search for opportunities to inform them of the Inspector General system's purpose, functions, methods, benefits, and constraints. The bottom line is that while inspecting, assisting, or investigating, Inspectors General contribute to improving the Army by Teaching and Training others in policy and procedures.

Inspector General Action Process (IGAP) Chart

1. Purpose: This section explains the Inspector General Action Process (IGAP) Chart.

Inspector General Action Process Chart

2. The Inspector General Action Process Chart: This chart covers seven steps beginning with receiving the IGAR in Step One to closing the IGAR in Step Seven. The IGAP Chart will assist Inspectors General in following a logical sequence in which to process an IGAR from beginning to end. The process does not require a dogmatic, sequential application of each step for every case, but using this process allows the Inspector General to accomplish all critical tasks in resolving complaints. Subsequent pages will explain each of the seven steps.

Section 2-2

Step One, Receive the IGAR

1. Purpose: This section explains step one in the seven-step Inspector General Action Process.
2. Step One, Receive the IGAR: Step one starts the seven-step Inspector General Action Process when an Inspector General receives a request for assistance, a request for information, or a complaint or allegation. These things constitute an IGAR. The receiving Inspector General records all information received during step one on a DA Form 1559, which serves as the base-control document.

The Inspector General will encourage the Soldier or civilian employee first to discuss complaints, allegations, or requests for assistance with the commander, chain of command, or supervisor as explained in Army Regulation 600-20, Army Command Policy. If a complainant does not wish to use the chain of command, the Inspector General accepts the IGAR. If specific redress procedures are available, the Inspector General will teach and train the complainant on using the appropriate, formally established redress process and refer him / her to that process (see Chapter 3, Issues with Other Forms of Redress).

Even if the case is not appropriate for Inspector General action, the Inspector General receiving the IGAR will always open a case in the IGARS database unless the complaint involves a senior official. In this instance, do not open a case in the IGARS database but call SAIG Investigations within two days. If the case is referred to an agency outside the chain of command, the Inspector General will close the case. When referring to the chain of command, the Inspector General will keep the case open to monitor the chain of command's actions and to document actions in IGARS before closing the case.

Anyone can submit a complaint, allegation, or request for information or assistance to any Army Inspector General concerning a matter of Army interest. IGARs come from all directions: walk-ins, call-ins, write-ins, emails, and indirectly. An example of an indirect IGAR is an Inspector General shopping in the Post Exchange (PX) who overhears two individuals discussing double standards in the awards program in their unit. The Inspector General just received an IGAR.

Step One, Receive the IGAR Walk-In IGAR

1. Purpose: This section explains the process of receiving a walk-in IGAR.
2. Walk-in IGARs: Walk-in is one of many options to a complainant for requesting assistance from the Inspector General. The Inspector General will conduct an interview with the complainant to capture the essence of that person's complaint. The Inspector General must record information received from the complainant on DA Form 1559. The Inspector General will follow the procedures listed below when interviewing a complainant.
 - a. Interview: The Inspector General will interview the complainant during a walk-in complaint. The key to a successful interview is to establish rapport and to listen actively.
 - b. Private Area: The Inspector General will interview the complainant in a private or semi-private area that affords confidentiality between the Inspector General and the complainant. If there are two or more complainants, the Inspector General will attempt to conduct separate interviews.
 - c. Action Desired: The Inspector General will ask the complainant at a minimum these five basic questions:
 - (1) What do you want the Inspector General to do for you?
 - (2) Do you have any supporting documentation?
 - (3) Have you asked any other agency to assist you?
 - (4) Is your chain of command aware of your problem?
 - (5) What is your status?
 - d. DA Form 1559: A complainant may submit an IGAR in any form such as by telephone, in person, or by letter. The preferred method is for the complainant to submit a completed DA Form 1559 because it facilitates the standardization and implementation of IGARs. DA Form 1559 also provides the complainant with Privacy Act information. The Inspector General should read the Privacy Act statement to each complainant. The Inspector General must also ensure that DA Form 1559 is completed with as much detail as possible and must give the complainant an opportunity to review the form before signing and departing the Inspector General office. See the example of the Privacy Act statement on the following page.

AUTHORITY: Title 10, USC, Section 3039

PRINCIPAL PURPOSE: To secure sufficient information to make inquiry into the matters presented and to provide a response to the requestor(s) and / or take action to correct deficiencies.

ROUTINE USES: Information is used for official purposes within the Department of Defense; to answer complaints or respond to requests for assistance, advice, or information; by Members of Congress and other Government agencies when determined by The Inspector General and Auditor General to be in the best interest of the Army; and, in certain cases, in trial by courts-martial and other military matters as authorized by the Uniform Code of Military Justice.

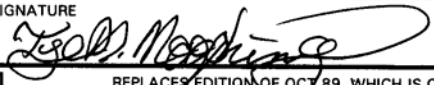

DISCLOSURE OF THE SOCIAL SECURITY NUMBER AND OTHER PERSONAL INFORMATION IS VOLUNTARY. HOWEVER, FAILURE TO PROVIDE COMPLETE INFORMATION MAY HINDER PROPER IDENTIFICATION OF THE REQUESTOR, ACCOMPLISHMENT OF THE REQUESTED ACTION (S), AND RESPONSE TO THE REQUESTOR.

e. Confidentiality: Inspectors General will ensure complainant confidentiality to the maximum extent possible. The complainant does not necessarily need to request confidentiality; the Inspector General will automatically maintain confidentiality. However, Inspectors General never guarantee confidentiality because the nature of the complaint may require the Inspector General to reveal the person's name in order to resolve the issue. If an Inspector General must release a person's identity, he or she will first attempt to notify the complainant and to obtain a DA Form 7433, Privacy Act Information Release Statement, or a similar statement, before doing so.

f. Commitments: The Inspector General will avoid making any promises or commitments. Instead, the Inspector General will inform the complainant that he or she will look into the matter and, when appropriate, respond to the complainant.

g. Case File: All information gathered during an interview in Step One, Receive the IGAR, will be included in the Inspector General case file. This information includes the Inspector General's notes and documents received from the complainant's initial interview. The Inspector General will then make copies of all documents received from the complainant but will not take original documents from the complainant.

Section 2-2-2

Step One, Receive the IGAR Call-In IGAR

1. Purpose: This section explains the process of receiving a call-in IGAR.
2. Call-in IGARs: Call-in is one of the options to a complainant for requesting assistance from the Inspector General. The Inspector General will conduct an interview with the complainant over the telephone to capture the essence of that person's complaint. The Inspector General will record the information from the complainant on DA Form 1559. Receipt of a telephonic complaint does not mean that the Inspector General must handle it. However, Inspectors General analyze all complaints in accordance with Step Two (Preliminary Analysis) of the seven-step IGAP. In addition to the interview, the Inspector General will follow the four steps listed below during a call-in interview:
 - a. Written Follow-up Documentation: The Inspector General will ask the complainant to forward any supporting documentation to the Inspector General office.
 - b. Privacy Act: The Inspector General will read the Privacy Act Statement of 1974 to the complainant. The Inspector General must ensure that the complainant understands the Privacy Act statement before the Inspector General begins working the complainant's case.
 - c. Read Back DA Form 1559: The Inspector General will read back to the complainant the information taken during the telephone interview for clarity and accuracy.
 - d. Telephonic: When taking complaints via the telephone, the Inspector General annotates in the signature block the word "Telephonic." The Inspector General may forward to the complainant a copy of DA Form 1559 for that person's records.

Section 2-2-3

Step One, Receive the IGAR Write-In IGAR

1. Purpose: The purpose of this section is to explain the process of receiving a write-in IGAR.
2. Write-in IGARs: Inspectors General may receive written complaints, allegations, and requests for Inspector General assistance in a variety of written formats. Upon receipt of a written request for assistance, the Inspector General will attach the document to a blank DA Form 1559 and write in the “specific action requested” block the words “see attached letter.” The following are some types of write-in IGARs.
 - a. Congressional Correspondence: These referrals from Members of Congress include requests from constituents who may be Soldiers, family members, or private citizens. The Office of the Chief of Legislative Liaison (OCLL) receives cases from Members of Congress (MoC) and refers them to the Army Staff, the chain of command, Adjutant General (AG) congressional channels, or SAIG-AC. The DAIG Assistance Division normally refers the correspondence through the ACOM, ASCC, or DRU Inspectors General to the field Inspectors General for action. The command or state Inspectors General complete the case and return a copy of the report of inquiry or investigation through the ACOM, ASCC, or DRU Inspector General to DAIG Assistance Division for reply to the MoC. The MoC then responds to the constituent. If an IG receives congressional correspondence directly from a MoC, the IG must contact DAIG Assistance Division immediately and then forward the correspondence to that office -- even though the IG who received the correspondence may later handle the issue on behalf of DAIG Assistance Division. See Chapter 7 of this guide for more information.
 - b. White House Correspondence: The Army White House Liaison Office refers selected requests from the President, Vice President, or their spouses to Department of The Army Inspector General Assistance Division (SAIG-AC). The local Inspector General will work case as the office of inquiry and forward all findings to SAIG-AC. SAIG-AC will respond to The Office of the White House. If the command or activity’s congressional liaison office receives a case on which the Inspector General is currently working or has already completed an Inspector General inquiry, the local Inspector General must inform the tasking official that the response will be forwarded through Inspector General channels to SAIG-AC. See Chapter 8 of this guide for more information.
 - c. Secretary of Defense, Secretary of the Army, and Army Chief of Staff Correspondence: The Army Administrative Assistant and the Office of Executive Communications and Control (ECC) receive referrals from the Secretary of Defense, Secretary of the Army, Army Chief of Staff, and other senior leaders. ECC reviews the information provided and refers the case to the Army agency or headquarters best able to gather the facts and respond. At the installation level, the field Inspector General may receive this type of referral from the local chain of command. These referrals normally include instructions as to the type of action requested and the desired form of reply. The Inspector General should advise the command of the Inspector General's policy that SAIG-AC answer all investigative work done by an Inspector General for those types of cases.

d. Department of Defense (DoD) Hotline Correspondence: DoD Hotline cases come through SAIG-AC. The coordinator at SAIG-AC refers all DoD Hotline cases to the field Inspector General offices for appropriate action and reply in a specific format. The format for this report is in Department of Defense Directive (DoDD) 7050.1, Defense Hotline Program. The Inspector General must meet the suspense established for DoD Hotline cases or put in writing a request for extension. See Chapter 9 of this guide for more details.

e. Normal Correspondence: These are letters written to the Inspector General presenting an allegation, concern, or request for assistance. Enter "see attached" in the "specific action requested" block rather than transferring the contents of the correspondence onto the form.

Section 2-2-4

Step One, Receive the IGAR E-Mail IGAR

1. Purpose: This section explains the process of receiving an e-mail IGAR.
2. E-Mail IGARs: Inspectors General may receive complaints, allegations, and requests for Inspector General assistance via electronic mail (e-mail). Upon receipt of an e-mail request for assistance, the Inspector General will acknowledge receipt by sending a generic e-mail if the complainant did not provide a mailing address or phone number. When using e-mail to acknowledge receipt, the Inspector General must use a generic subject line to ensure confidentiality of the complainant. Never respond to the actual message; develop and send a new message so that you do not inadvertently send any confidential information through an open e-mail server. Also, there is no way for the Inspector General to know if the person making the complaint is actually the same person on the e-mail address line. The Inspector General should make every attempt to speak with the complainant by phone. The bottom line is that the Inspector General receiving the case should treat e-mail IGARs just like a call-in IGAR and ask the complainant to confirm the issue(s) or allegation(s) in writing. If the complainant refuses to reply in writing or to call the Inspector General, treat the case just like an anonymous one and work it if there is enough information. If the complainant did not provide sufficient information, then close the case. The following is an example of an e-mail IGAR sent to the Inspector General for action from a complainant.

Sample E-Mail IGAR

From: Doe, SGT Jane
Sent: Monday, June 20, 2003 3:19 PM
To: Britton, MAJ Richard (IG)
Subject: My IG Complaint

Dear IG

I am making this complaint because I cannot live with my conscience anymore. I just returned from having sex with my 1SG in his quarters.

What can you do about this?

Jane

The e-mail listed below is in response to SGT Jane Doe's e-mail message to the Inspector General regarding an improper relationship with the first sergeant. Notice the subject line and the content of this reply e-mail. Send a new message; do not reply to the message sent to you so that you do not transmit this person's IGAR through the e-mail system once again unnecessarily.

Sample Response to an E-Mail IGAR

Subject: Your E-Mail

We are in receipt of your e-mail dated June 20, 2003. Please give us a call at (xxx) xxx-xxxx or e-mail us back with your mailing address or phone number so that we can discuss this matter with you. By policy, the Inspector General will not initiate an inquiry on your behalf based upon an e-mail message. To ensure that you are the one presenting these matters, we request that you provide us with a signed DA Form 1559, Inspector General Action Request (IGAR). You may fax or mail this request to our office. Our fax number is (xxx) xxx-xxxx, and our mailing address is Iron Mountain Road, Suite 2222, Fort Belvoir, VA 22060.

Sincerely,

MAJ Richard Britton
Deputy Inspector General
(xxx) xxx-xxxx

Step One, Receive the IGAR Anonymous IGAR

1. Purpose: This section explains the process of receiving an anonymous IGAR.
2. Anonymous IGAR: Inspectors General will always look into anonymous IGARs. The substantiation rate for anonymous allegations is slightly higher than signed Inspector General Action Requests (IGARs). Inspectors General will take action to resolve anonymous IGARs and protect the interests of the government. When processing anonymous allegations and complaints, Inspectors General should not create the appearance of unduly trying to identify a complainant. The determination of the facts and circumstances related to the IGAR is the Inspector General's primary concern.

If the Inspector General does not have enough information to work the case, the Inspector General should close the case and annotate that fact in the synopsis. Since the complaint is anonymous, there is no need for the Inspector General to reply to the complainant even if the Inspector General discovers the identity of the complainant.

Section 2-2-6

Step One, Receive the IGAR Habitual Complainants

1. Purpose: This section explains the process of receiving an IGAR from a habitual complainant.

2. Habitual Complainants: Some complainants will repeatedly bring complaints to an Inspector General. Some complaints will be new and others will be issues previously handled by the Inspector General. The Inspector General must thoroughly analyze all issues and allegations to ensure that no new information is present. If the Inspector General has worked the case before, he may choose not to reopen the case unless the complainant has presented new and relevant information to the case. If there is new information, the Inspector General will either need to reopen the case or initiate a new case.

If the Inspector General reopens the case and amends an opinion, judgment, or conclusion, the Inspector General must get approval from the TIG prior to doing so. The Inspector General forwards requests to the DAIG Records Release Office for referral to the appropriate division within DAIG for review prior to action by TIG. The file includes one copy of the requested amendment for the record, any recommendations concerning whether to grant or refuse the amendment, and any supporting rationale.

If the Inspector General reopens a case and, upon review of the new information finds nothing new, the Inspector General may close the case without TIG approval. Do not automatically reject the complainant's communication without first analyzing the correspondence for new matters.

Section 2-2-7

Step One, Receive the IGAR Abusers of the IG System

1. Purpose: This section explains the process of receiving an IGAR from abusers of the IG system.
2. Abusers of the IG System IGAR: Since complainants have the responsibility to present truthful information concerning allegations or other information, the IG must assume that each complaint received is legitimate and worthy of further inquiry. If a complainant has a documented history of submitting baseless and unfounded issues and allegations, or has presented a pattern of complaints that are false, malicious, deceptive, and defamatory, the principal IG may require the complainant to present any and all subsequent matters in writing only. The IG must obtain the directing authority's approval and inform DAIG's Assistance Division prior to imposing this requirement via written notification to the complainant.

Step 2, Conduct Inspector General Preliminary Analysis (IGPA)

1. Purpose: This section describes step two, Conduct Inspector General Preliminary Analysis (IGPA).

2. Step 2, Conducting Inspector General Preliminary Analysis (IGPA):

a. Inspector General Preliminary Analysis (IGPA) is a process used by an Inspector General to determine how best to proceed with a case. IGPA may take a few moments, hours, or days. This process helps identify the issues and / or allegations, determines whether those issues or allegations are appropriate for Inspector General action, acknowledges receipt to the complainant, and assists the Inspector General in developing a course of action. It helps the Inspector General determine who should resolve the problem and how to solve it. IGPA is the beginning of a process that may result in several courses of action for the Inspector General. The Inspector General may provide Assistance; conduct an Inspector General Inspection or Investigation; refer the case to another Inspector General or agency; or recommend a follow-on Investigation using other Investigative processes such as a commander's inquiry, Army Regulation 15-6 Investigation, Military Police Investigation (MPI), or Criminal Investigation Command (USACIDC) Investigation. An Inspector General is usually in IGPA until he or she selects a course of action.

b. Inspectors General always look for the central issues at the core of a problem (or problems) when formulating allegations and providing assistance. Many Assistance cases require the Inspector General to turn a matter of concern over to another individual or agency. This referral process requires the Inspector General to be aware of the possible implications concerning the confidentiality of the complainant. A Soldier who asks for help may not want his first sergeant to know that he made a complaint to the Inspector General. While interviewing the complainant, the Inspector General should determine the circumstances and act accordingly. Referring the complaint to another agency usually means the Inspector General will need to follow-up to determine the action taken and whether or not it addressed the complaint. The Inspector General should request that the individual or agency provide the response back to the Inspector General. The Inspector General reviews the response to ensure that he or she addresses each concern before the complainant receives a final response. A response provided directly to a complainant, if not complete, may require additional time to resolve completely and may decrease the credibility of the Inspector General.

Step Two, Conduct Inspector General Preliminary Analysis Analyze for Issue(s) and Allegation(s)

1. Purpose: This section explains the process of analyzing complaints or requests for assistance for issues and allegations.
2. Analyzing for Issues and Allegations: Inspectors General will analyze the information presented by the complainant and determine whether that information is a systemic issue, an allegation of impropriety, a request for help (assistance), or a combination of two or more of these elements. For example, a Soldier who complains about not receiving a paycheck is a request for help, but it could also be a systemic problem if trends indicate that the same problem may be pervasive throughout the organization. The Inspector General will determine the assistance requested and what issues or allegations the complainant presented.

The Inspector General must identify all requests for help and matters of concern, even if the complainant did not specifically mention them. The Inspector General should contact the complainant to clarify the issues, allegations, or concerns. The Inspector General may later refer the complainant to the chain of command or an appropriate staff agency for action. For example, a Soldier with a pay complaint who has not initiated the complaint with his or her chain of command or servicing Personnel Administration Center should do so first. The Inspector General will follow-up referrals to ensure that the complainant receives the appropriate assistance.

Step Two, Conduct Inspector General Preliminary Analysis What is an Issue?

1. Purpose: This section explains what an Inspector General determines to be an Inspector General issue.
2. An Issue: An issue is a request for information or assistance to the Inspector General that does not list a who as the violator of a standard or policy. The Inspector General determines the issues and allegations, not the complainant. If the information from the complaint has a who for the violator, then this complaint is an allegation, and the Inspector General must conduct an Investigative Inquiry or Investigation (See Part Two, Chapter 2).

However, there are times when the complainant will express dissatisfaction, resentment, or discontent that does not necessarily imply a violation of a standard but is more appropriate for the chain of command. If the IGAR involves more than simple assistance, the Inspector General must determine the action necessary to resolve the issues -- referral, Inspector General Inspection, Assistance Inquiry, or an Investigative Inquiry. The following are some examples of issues:

- a. A request for pay by a Soldier.
- b. A request to locate a Soldier's missing household goods.
- c. A request for a copy of a Soldier's travel voucher.
- d. The finance office improperly failed to process a Soldier's TDY voucher in a timely manner in violation of the 66th ID Finance Battalion SOP.

Final resolution of issues presented to and worked by an Inspector General will be categorized as either "Founded" or "Unfounded" when the final determination is completed in the ROI / ROII and in the synopsis of the IGARS case. The determination code in the IGARS remains A for assistance.

Section 2-3-1-2

Step Two, Conduct Inspector General Preliminary Analysis What is an Allegation?

1. Purpose: This section explains what represents an allegation to an Inspector General.

2. Allegation: The Inspector General will analyze all requests for assistance, requests for information, and allegations. The Inspector General will take the information provided by the complainant and form the allegation, which must identify a who. The Inspector General is responsible to place the allegation into the proper allegation format. The Inspector General should use the investigative process when the information from the complaint has the following four elements:

a. Who? -- The complaint involves an individual. For example, my company commander, CPT Smith. If no name is given, the Inspector General can also learn the company commander's name.

b. Improperly? -- The complainant alleges the subject or suspect to have committed an improper action. For example, the company commander, CPT Smith, improperly did something. Some standards already include language that indicates a wrongful act. In these cases, the word "improperly" might not be required. Seek the SJA's advice when formulating allegations.

c. Did or did not do what? -- Describing of improper behavior. For example, the company commander, CPT Smith, improperly used a government vehicle.

d. In violation of what standard? -- There is a policy, regulation, or law that has allegedly been violated. For example, the company commander, CPT Smith, improperly used a government vehicle in violation of the Joint Ethics Regulation (JER).

A correctly worded allegation by an Inspector General must contain all parts: who improperly did or did not do something in violation of an existing standard. For example, CPT Smith improperly used a government vehicle to transport his girlfriend to the movies in violation of the JER.

Inspectors General should always look for larger systemic problems, implied allegations, and the condoning of wrongdoing. If the preliminary analysis resulted in a decision to conduct an Investigative Inquiry or Investigation, use Part Two, Chapter 2, of this guide, as well as Army Regulation 20-1, Inspector General Activities and Procedures, for the correct procedures.

All allegations require an Inspector General to pursue a course of action of either an investigative inquiry or investigation. Inspections and Assistance inquiries are not appropriate forms of action for resolving any allegation. Therefore, a Report of Investigation (ROI) or Report of Investigative Inquiry (ROII) is required for each allegation presented to an Inspector General. The final determination on either the ROI or ROII that is made after reviewing all evidence and information provided will be either "Substantiated" or "Not Substantiated." IGs might close a case prior to completion if the investigation or investigative inquiry is terminated due to a special circumstance. These circumstances include an allegation that relates to actions that are more than three years old or a legal process that may terminate the ongoing inquiry or investigation (see AR 20-1, paragraph 8-4k (7)). In these instances the IG will document this situation in the case file, including the synopsis in IGARS, as "closed without findings" and include all details such as the timeline, the court order, or the settlement. The IGARS entry will then be changed from an allegation into an issue with a determination code of A (Assistance).

Step Two, Conduct Inspector General Preliminary Analysis What is a Complaint?

1. Purpose: This section explains what an Inspector General determines to be a complaint.
2. Complaint: A complaint is an expression of dissatisfaction or discontent with a process or system such as leave policies or the pay system. In some cases, the Inspector General may not be able to assist the complainant with his or her complaint. The Inspector General will conduct some teaching and training with the complainant and explain the role of the Inspector General. Even though the Inspector General knows that the complaint is not appropriate for the Inspector General, the Inspector General must still analyze the entire complaint for any issues and / or allegations. The following is an example of a complaint.

Sample Complaint

LTC Jones complains to the Inspector General about the Basic Allowance for Housing (BAH). He is dissatisfied with the amount that he is receiving based upon the zip code for Arkansas. He feels that he should be getting more.

The Inspector General's job is to teach and train the individual while at the same time analyzing the complaint for larger issues. In this case, the Inspector General must explain the BAH process to the complainant and, if necessary, refer the complainant to either the Housing or Finance office for a more informed explanation. If the complainant is receiving BAH in accordance with approved rates, then the Inspector General can refer his dissatisfaction about the approved BAH rate to the chain of command or recommend that the complainant use another established appeal or grievance process (if one exists). Many complaints presented to the Inspector General will have an established appeal process. If so, the complaints are not appropriate for Inspector General action until the complainant uses the established process. If the complainant is still dissatisfied, the Inspector General can check the appeal action for due process.

Step Two, Conduct Inspector General Preliminary Analysis Determine IG Appropriateness

1. Purpose: This section explains what issues are appropriate for Inspector General action.
2. Determining Inspector General Appropriateness: If the results of preliminary analysis indicate that the IGAR received is appropriate for Inspector General action, the Inspector General will accept the IGAR and open a case file. As a rule, not all matters presented to the Inspector General are appropriate for Inspector General action (See Chapter 3 for specific examples).
 - a. When presented with non-Inspector General appropriate matters of concern, Inspectors General will advise complainants of the appropriate agency that can resolve the complaint and normally allow complainants to present their issues to that agency directly. Inspectors General may elect to refer the issue to the appropriate agency on behalf of the complainant but must be mindful of confidentiality concerns. Inspectors General will provide the necessary information to the agency and determine whether to monitor the action until completion. For example, if an individual alleges criminal activity, Inspectors General will refer the case to the local U. S. Army Criminal Investigation Command (USACIDC) investigative office. The bottom line is that if the Inspector General knows of this problem (whether it is appropriate for Inspector General action or not), he or she must act on what is known. This action could be the Inspector General's own work or referral to another agency. The Inspector General will still open the case, complete the DA Form 1559 stating why the issue is not appropriate for Inspector General action, and explain what the Inspector General did with the IGAR. The Inspector General will then close the case in the IGARS database.
 - b. If the Inspector General determines that the matters of concern are appropriate for Inspector General involvement, the Inspector General should ask the following questions as part of preliminary analysis:
 - (1) Is the matter of concern clearly systemic in nature? If so, does the Inspector General need to conduct an Inspection?
 - (2) Is there any indication of general officer or senior executive service misconduct or violations of 18 U.S.C., 207(a), (b), or (c) (post employment violations)? Refer these allegations directly to the DAIG Investigations Division within two working days of receipt. Paragraph 8-3i, Army Regulation 20-1, Inspector General Activities and Procedures, provides guidance on allegations against general officers and senior executive service civilians.
 - (3) Do the matters of concern involve an allegation against an Inspector General? If so, refer them, within two working days of receipt, to that Inspector General's next higher-echelon Inspector General for appropriate action while also informing DAIG Assistance Division. Paragraph 8-3h, Army Regulation 20-1, provides guidance on Inspector General action for allegations against other Inspectors General.

(4) Are the concerns within the purview of the Inspector General's Directing Authority? If not, refer them to the Inspector General of the appropriate organization.

Section 2-3-3

Step Two, Conduct Inspector General Preliminary Analysis Open a Case in IGARS

1. Purpose: This section provides an overview of the Inspector General Action Request System (IGARS).
2. Inspector General Action Request System (IGARS): IGARS is a database accessed through Thin Client that stores all cases entered into it as a complete record of all issues and allegations presented to an IG. This database facilitates the identification of trends and helps IGs in the field to monitor and track open cases and refer back to closed cases as necessary. For technical instructions on how to use IGARS, see the IGARS User Manual, available on the Thin Client's desktop screen (Citrix MetaFrame applications window) and on the SAIG home page (click on "Highlight", "IGARS Updates").
3. When to Open a Case in IGARS: The IG will open a case in the IGARS database prior to completing Step Two, Preliminary Analysis.
 - a. The only time the IG will not open a case in IGARS is when the complaint includes allegations against SOs (see Section 3-6) or against members of SAPs and SAs (see Section 3-7). In these cases, the IG will call DAIG Investigations Division or DAIG Intelligence Oversight Division within two working days.
 - b. All other complaints will be logged in the IGARS database. Even if the case is referred to another agency outside the command such as CID -- or falls under civilian IGARs not appropriate for IG action and also referred to another agency -- the IG will still open a case and annotate all actions taken, for instance the referral to the appropriate agency (CID, EEO, CPAC, etc.).
4. Entries: This database has several entry fields to identify and track all pertinent information for each particular case. Some fields are explained below.
 - a. Function Codes: The function code explains the allegation, issue, or complaint. Each functional area has sub-categories that provide a more detailed explanation. Accurate and specific entries make the database useful and the information gleaned from it meaningful. Complaints are grouped into various functions, which are assigned a specific letter or number. For example, all finance issues are grouped under the function code "K," Finance and Accounting, and all health- and medical-related issues under "H," Health Care. Further characters identify more specific categories to provide a better trends-analysis tool. Hence, the function code for an active-duty Soldier requesting assistance to correct his base pay will have a function code of "KAC."
 - K - Finance and Accounting
 - KA - Military Pay / Allowances - Active
 - KAC - Issues regarding basic pay or its computationA complete list of the function codes is embedded in IGARS under the Utilities tab.

b. Agency / Command Code: The agency or command that best defines where the allegation, issue, or complaint resides. A complete list of the command codes is embedded in IGARS under the Utilities tab.

c. Determination Codes: Shows the final determination of the allegation as either S (Substantiated) or N (Not Substantiated) or indicates that the case is A (Assistance).

d. Case Notes: Case notes should be a detailed, chronological listing of everything pertaining to the case. Case notes should include, at a minimum --

- phone calls, including names, phone numbers, summary of topic / discussion
- notifications, if verbal or written
- coordination with staff / command (who, what, ...)
- legal reviews
- any e-mails, faxes, or correspondence received or sent
- additional information as required

IGARS allows more than one IG to input data into the same case file. IGs should make use of that capability and update cases notes, even if he or she is not the primary IG working a particular case but merely answered or processed information on behalf of -- or during the absence of -- the primary action officer. Case notes will be in the following format:

Date (IG Name) Notes

Example:

2007 / 01 / 16 (John Jones): Received conformation from FVS (Fort Von Steuben) finance office, Mr. Dollars, that SPC Poor was paid.

e. Synopsis: The synopsis is a concise summary of everything pertaining to the case. See Section 2-8-2, Close an IGAR in the Database, for more detail.

Section 2-3-4

Step Two, Conduct Inspector General Preliminary Analysis Acknowledge Receipt

1. Purpose: This section explains when and how to acknowledge receipt of an IGAR.
2. Acknowledge Receipt: Inspectors General will properly acknowledge receipt of all IGARs. Inspectors General acknowledge, orally or in writing, individual complaints, allegations, or requests for assistance. An acknowledgment is simply a notification that the Inspector General received the request and may either open a case, refer the IGAR, or do nothing if the issue does not meet the criteria for Inspector General action. In some cases, it may be appropriate to provide a more substantive acknowledgment based upon the nature of the correspondence.

Inspectors General receiving an oral IGAR may acknowledge it at that time but will make a written record of the acknowledgment in the file's case notes. Inspectors General do not acknowledge anonymous complaints or requests for assistance.

An individual may ask an Inspector General for assistance and at the same time seek help from a MoC. Once a MoC intervenes, the complainant will not receive a response from the Inspector General. Rather, the MoC will receive the Inspector General response from DAIG Assistance Division (SAIG-AC). The Inspector General must therefore inform the complainant that he or she will receive a response from the MoC and not directly from the Inspector General. It is important that when the local Inspector General discovers Congressional involvement, the Inspector General must immediately contact SAIG-AC, which is the office of record for all Congressional correspondence.

In acknowledging a request, inform the complainant that he or she will only receive information on the results of the Inquiry or Investigation that affect him or her directly and personally.

Inspectors General acknowledge IGARs received from another Inspector General via telephone with the exception of those IGARs received from SAIG-AC unless otherwise noted. However, the Inspector General is not required to acknowledge receipt of information copies of letters addressed to other agencies unless that Inspector General should take action.

Section 2-3-4-1

Step Two, Conduct Inspector General Preliminary Analysis Acknowledge Receipt to a Complainant

1. Purpose: This section explains when and how to acknowledge receipt to a complainant.
2. Acknowledge Receipt to a Complainant: Inspectors General choosing to acknowledge receipt of a complaint in writing should use the format listed below. This recommended example is direct and to the point; appears less awkward to a civilian recipient; and is in accordance with Army Regulation 25-50, Preparing and Managing Correspondence. A sample acknowledgement of receipt to a complainant is found on the next page:

Sample of an Acknowledgment to a Complainant

DEPARTMENT OF THE ARMY
HEADQUARTERS, 66TH INFANTRY DIVISION
FORT VON STEUBEN, VIRGINIA 22605

December 2, 20XX

Office of the Inspector General

Captain John Doe
3030 Anywhere Lane
Anywhere, VA 22060

Dear Captain Doe:

We received your letter to The Inspector General dated November 29, 20XX, concerning incorrect retirement points.

The Inspector General initiated a thorough inquiry into your complaint (or request for assistance). We will advise you of the results at the conclusion of the inquiry.

Sincerely,

Richard Britton
Major, US Army
Inspector General

Step Two, Conduct Inspector General Preliminary Analysis Acknowledge Receipt to a Third Party

1. Purpose: This section explains how to acknowledge receipt to a third party.
2. Acknowledge Receipt to a Third Party: Inspectors General reply to third-party complainants in a very general manner. Inspectors General may divide third-party letters into two types. The first type is a letter sent by someone on behalf of someone else. For example, parent or family members may submit complaints on behalf of a Soldier without the Soldier's knowledge. The second type of third-party letter pertains to someone giving information about another person who alleges that someone has done something wrong. The resultant inquiries in both cases will produce information not directly pertaining to the individuals who initiated the letters. Remember that the Privacy Act generally prohibits the release of personal information to third parties without consent. However, the Privacy Act has provisions that may require an Inspector General to release personal information without the individual's consent (such as a subpoena); in this situation, the IG will attempt to contact the complainant and obtain a Privacy Act release statement (such as a DA Form 7433 or similar statement) from the complainant. In general, Inspector General replies to third parties are direct in nature and simply acknowledge receipt of the complaint or allegation. The replies contain no specific information about the complaint or what the Inspector General has done with the complaint. Also, replies to third parties must not violate an individual's right to privacy (unless an exception exists as mentioned above). The Inspector General should always obtain a Privacy Act release authorization as shown below from the individual about whom the complaint is made. Shown below is a sample copy of a Privacy Act Information Release Form.

Section 2-3-5

Step Two, Conduct Inspector General Preliminary Analysis Select a Course of Action

1. Purpose: This section explains how to select a course of action.
2. Select a Course of Action: There are normally four courses of action available: conduct an Inspector General Inspection, conduct an Inspector General Investigation or Investigative Inquiry, conduct an Inspector General Assistance Inquiry, or refer the matter to another agency. Inspectors General should determine the appropriate courses of action for each complaint, issue, and allegation determined in the IGAR. IGARs often contain issues that result in more than one course of action.
 - a. If a systemic problem exists and warrants an Inspection, the Inspector General should follow the Inspector General Inspections process outlined in Chapter 6 of Army Regulation 20-1, Inspector General Activities and Procedures, and The Inspections Guide.
 - b. If an Inspection is not appropriate, you may use the IGAP for Assistance or an Investigation depending on the nature of the issue or allegation. If conducting an Investigation, remember that the local Inspector General must obtain authority from his or her Directing Authority (Commanding General) (see Part Two, Section 2-9, of this guide).
 - c. Whether the complaint contains allegations of wrongdoing by an individual or an adverse condition or issue, refer to the process outlined in Part Two, Section 2-7, of this guide for action. Inspectors General not assigned to DAIG Investigations Division are not authorized to handle allegations against senior officials (promotable colonels, general officers, or civilian members of the senior executive service). These allegations require referral to DAIG Investigations Division within two working days at commercial (703) 601-1000 or DSN 329-1000. Refer allegations against members of Army special-access programs (SAPs) and sensitive activities (SAs) to DAIG Intelligence Oversight Division.
 - d. Inspectors General could also determine that the case should be forwarded to another Inspector General agency or recommend a follow-on investigation. Complaints or requests for assistance may be referred for appropriate action to the responsible Army leader, commander, or management official within the Inspector General's command; to other Army Inspectors General using Inspector General technical channels; to the Inspector General, DoD; Inspectors General in other Services; or to other DoD, Army, and non-military agencies.

Section 2-4

Step 3, Initiate Referrals and Make Notifications

Section 2-4-1- Initiate Referrals

Section 2-4-2- Make Initial Notifications

Section 2-4-1

Initiate Referrals

1. Purpose: This section explains the process of initiating referrals.
2. When to Initiate a Referral. Depending upon the nature of the issue, Inspectors General may decide during preliminary analysis that their best course of action for resolution of the issues and / or allegations would be to refer complaints to the chain of command, outside the chain of command, or to other Inspector General offices.
3. Initiate a Referral to the Chain of Command. When referring complaints to the chain of command, the chain of command has the responsibility and the authority to address the complaints. Where appropriate, the Inspector General should refer matters to the chain of command and then monitor these matters to ensure that the chain of command takes proper action. If the Inspector General refers or recommends a case to a commander for the commander to conduct an inquiry or investigation, the Inspector General will keep the case open until the commander provides a copy of the inquiry or investigation.
 - a. All referral documents sent to commanders requesting an inquiry or investigation will include all allegations written in the correct format (i.e., who, improperly did or did not do something, in violation of a standard). The referral document must also inform the commander that the Inspector General requires a copy of the inquiry or investigation to use as evidence when making the final Inspector General determination and closing the case. The Inspector General will also provide the name of an Inspector General whom the command's investigating officer can contact. When working with the investigating officer, the Inspector General must be careful to provide only the information allowed by paragraph 3-6b (3), Army Regulation 20-1. Additionally, the Inspector General will inform the commander that he or she will notify the subject or suspect of the inquiry or investigation results posted in the IGARS database.
 - b. If the Inspector General, in reviewing the inquiry or investigation, notes that information is missing or that all issues were not addressed, the Inspector General will discuss the discrepancies with the Staff Judge Advocate (SJA) and the commander (if necessary) and ask that corrections be made. If the commander decides not to address the missing issues or add the missing information, the Inspector General will conduct an inquiry on only those areas that the commander did not address and resolve. If the Inspector General, in reviewing the inquiry or investigation, disagrees with the procedures followed for the investigation, the Inspector General will attempt to resolve the issues with the command; if he or she cannot resolve the issues, the Inspector General will contact DAIG Assistance Division for guidance before proceeding. If the commander does not provide the Inspector General with a copy of his inquiry or investigation, the Inspector General will explain to the commander that in accordance with (IAW) Army Regulation 20-1, Inspector General Activities and Procedures, paragraph 1-9(d), the Inspector General is authorized a copy of the inquiry or investigation report.
 - c. If, during an IG inquiry or investigation, the Inspector General feels that he or she will substantiate the allegation(s), the Inspector General should inform the Directing Authority (DA) (that is, the commander) and request that the DA do his or her own investigation. The Inspector General will keep the case open, request a copy of the other investigation, and then close the case in the same manner as stated above. If the Inspector General is conducting an inquiry or investigation and then discovers that a commander at some other level is conducting an inquiry or investigation on the same case, the Inspector General will contact that commander and request a copy of the commander's inquiry or investigation. If the commander does not comply, the Inspector General will contact DAIG Assistance Division for guidance before proceeding.

4. Initiating Referrals Outside the Chain of Command: The Inspector General may elect to refer the issue to the appropriate agency on behalf of the complainant, but be mindful of confidentiality concerns. Provide the necessary information to the agency, and determine whether or not to monitor the action until completion. For example, if an individual alleges criminal activity, the Inspector General, following a consultation with the SJA, should refer the information to the local Criminal Investigation Division (CID) field office. The Inspector General will request that the CID office follow up with the individual and advise the Inspector General of the results or reply directly to the complainant. The Inspector General should retain a copy of the complaint. CID may not accept it, and the Inspector General may need to refer the allegation to Military Police Investigators (MPI) or to the chain of command for inquiry or investigation.

5. Initiating Referrals to Another Inspector General Office. The IG receiving an IGAR may decide during his or her preliminary analysis that another IG office is best suited to handle a particular issue due to jurisdictional or other reasons. A referral to another IG can occur by either retaining Office of Record status and requesting the other IG office work the case as an Office of Inquiry, or referring the case to the new IG office and giving them full Office of Record status. In all cases, the receiving IG office must agree to accept the referral.

a. There will be times when a higher vertical-echelon command IG needs assistance from another IG in order to resolve the issues raised by the complainant. If this IG office chooses to refer the issue to the other IG office and retain Office of Record status, the new IG office (if that office accepts the case) becomes the Office of Inquiry, and the originating IG can only close the case once the Office of Inquiry has reported their fact-finding results. IGARS allows the Office of Record to close the case only after the Office of Inquiry case has been closed.

b. When IGs receive an IGAR from complainants that another IG must address due to jurisdictional or other reasons (such as non-support cases), they will take the IGAR as part of their area of responsibility and refer the case to the appropriate IG office. In this type of referral, the issues (along with Office of Record status) are transferred to the appropriate IG office, and the originating office can close the case upon receiving acceptance from the gaining office.

c. IGs may refer issues to other IG offices via IGMET e-mail, the IGARS database, or some other means of confidential transmittal. Although these electronic referrals ease the transferring of cases, IGs must still communicate with each other before completing the referral. The IGARS electronic referral process was not created as a fire-and-forget system that allows an IG to manage his or her caseload by referring all work to other IGs. Remember that the referral to other IGs is an extension of IG technical channels and that the receiving IG office must agree to accept the referred case. Only DAIG may directly task another IG office to work an issue or conduct an investigation. This tasking authority does not exist among IGs, regardless of echelon, below DAIG level. If a disagreement between two IG offices occurs with regard to a referral, DAIG Assistance Division will adjudicate.

Section 2-4-2

Make Initial Notifications

1. Purpose: This section explains the process of making initial notifications.
2. Making Initial Notifications: If Inspectors General initiate an inquiry or recommend an investigation, they will verbally notify the appropriate commanders or supervisors and the subjects or suspects of the inquiry / investigation and inform them of the nature of the allegation(s). These notifications will be documented and enclosed to the Report of Inquiry (ROI) or Report of Investigative Inquiry (ROII) (See Part II, Section 9-4) and annotated in the IGARS database.

Section 2-5

Step 4, Conduct Inspector General Fact-Finding

Section 2-5-1 - Conduct Inspector General Fact-Finding

Section 2-5-2 - Assistance Inquiry

Section 2-5-3 - Investigative Inquiry

Section 2-5-4 - Investigations

Section 2-5-5 - Inspections

Section 2-5-1

Conduct Inspector General Fact-Finding

1. Purpose: This section explains the process of conducting Inspector General Fact-Finding.
2. Conduct Inspector General Fact-Finding: Fact-finding involves the process of obtaining factual information in the conduct of an Inspector General Inspection, Assistance Inquiry, Investigative Inquiry, and Investigation. In order to resolve the issues and allegations gleaned from an IGAR (no matter whether the IGAR is from a complainant or a request from a commander), the Inspector General must obtain facts that will support the Inspector General's eventual decision. The Inspector General needs no additional authority to conduct an Assistance Inquiry and Investigative Inquiry. When an Inspector General determines that an Inspector General Inspection or Investigation is needed, he must first obtain authority from the Inspector General's Directing Authority (usually the Commanding General). The Inspector General will use the Assistance Inquiry as the fact-finding process to gather the information needed to resolve IGAR Assistance issues. Each of the four elements of Inspector General Fact-Finding is discussed on subsequent pages.

Assistance Inquiry

1. Purpose: This section explains the process of conducting an Assistance Inquiry.
2. Assistance Inquiry: The Assistance Inquiry is an informal fact-finding process used to address or respond to a complaint involving a request for help, information, or issues and not allegations of impropriety or wrongdoing.

Depending on the nature of the IGAR, the Inspector General may complete the Assistance Inquiry or refer the issues to another agency to resolve and return to the Inspector General. The Inspector General must evaluate the facts and evidence received to ensure that all issues were addressed before responding to the complainant. The information provided to the Inspector General must lead to a reasonable conclusion or recommendation. If there is a proponent available regarding the information requested, the proponent should verify the information provided to the Inspector General when appropriate. However, the Inspector General is responsible for ensuring that all issues have been addressed and / or resolved prior to notifying the complainant and closing the case.

The Inspector General should obtain an opinion from the local supporting Staff Judge Advocate (SJA) on the legal sufficiency of the Assistance Inquiry. If the local SJA is not capable of supporting the Inspector General, contact the DAIG Legal Office for assistance. The inquiry findings will be the basis for the notification to the complainant as well as the final reply.

Section 2-5-3

Investigative Inquiry

1. Purpose: This section explains the process of conducting an Investigative Inquiry.
2. Investigative Inquiry: An Investigative Inquiry is an informal fact-finding examination by an Inspector General into allegations, issues, or adverse conditions. The Investigative Inquiry is the informal fact-finding process used by Inspectors General to gather information needed to address allegations of impropriety against an individual that do not require an investigation. This process does not require the Inspector General to obtain additional authority from his or her Directing Authority (Commanding General). The process for an Investigative Inquiry is addressed in Part II of this guide.

Investigations

1. Purpose: This section explains the process of conducting an Investigation.
2. Investigation: The Investigation is a formal fact-finding examination led by a Detailed Inspector General into allegations, issues, or adverse conditions to provide the Directing Authority a sound basis for decisions and actions. Inspector General Investigations normally address allegations of wrongdoing by an individual and are authorized by written directives. The conduct of Inspector General Investigations involves the systematic collection and examination of testimony and documents but may also include physical evidence. The results are reported using the Report of Investigation (ROI) format addressed in Part II of this guide.

Section 2-5-5

Inspections

1. Purpose: This section explains how assistance trends are best addressed through as Inspections.
2. Inspections: An Inspection may be necessary if the Inspector General learns of a trend or sees a pattern of individual complaints. When requests for assistance come to the Inspector General, they are recorded in the IGARs database and analyzed for any developing trends or systemic issues. These trends may result in an Inspector General Inspection. On the other hand, Inspections can assist the command in identifying local issues that are unique to that area. Members from the Inspection team sometimes bring back IGARs received during their Inspections fact-finding. Inspections complement the Assistance function by allowing Inspectors General to identify potential problem areas and acting on them proactively. See The Inspections Guide for further information about Inspector General Inspections.

Section 2-6

Step 5, Make Notification of Results

Section 2-6-1 - Make Notification of Results for an Assistance Inquiry

Section 2-6-2 - Make Notification of Results for an Investigative Inquiry and Investigation

Make Notification of Results for an Assistance Inquiry

1. Purpose: This section explains the process of making notification of results for an Assistance inquiry.
2. Make Notifications of Results for an Assistance Inquiry: At the completion of the Assistance Inquiry, the complainant will be notified and informed of the results. Only information directly pertaining to the complainant regarding actions taken will be provided to the complainant. Remember: The person presenting the complaint may in some cases be a third party and is only authorized by law to receive information directly pertaining to him or her without prior consent from the complainant (unless a Privacy Act exception applies). All notifications made will be recorded in the IGARS database and annotated in the case file using case notes.

Section 2-6-2

Make Notification of Results for an Investigative Inquiry and Investigation

1. Purpose: This section explains the process of making notifications of results for an Investigative Inquiry and Investigation.
2. Making Notification of Results for an Investigative Inquiry and Investigation: Investigations or Investigative Inquiries notifications during Step 5 include the subject(s) / suspect(s), the supervisor / commander, and the complainant. See Part Two, Chapter 10, of this guide for more details.

Section 2-7

Step 6, Conduct Follow-up

Section 2-7-1 - The Inspector General's Responsibilities in Conducting Follow-up

Section 2-7-1

The Inspector General's Responsibility in Conducting Follow-up

1. Purpose: This section explains the Inspector General's responsibilities in conducting follow-up.

2. The Inspector General's Responsibilities in Conducting Follow-up: Follow-up ensures that all issues and / or allegations have been thoroughly addressed and the Inspector General's responsibilities have been fulfilled. This responsibility includes follow-up on any needed corrective actions. Although the corrective actions may not satisfy the complainant, an Inspector General's primary concern is with ensuring that all Inspector General actions, command decisions, or proponent actions occurred as necessary. Follow-up should include a review of issues and / or allegations previously addressed to determine if further appeal procedures are available or if the Inspector General should examine due process for the complainant. Inspectors General may personally conduct follow-up or address the issues and / or allegations during a Staff Assistance Visit (SAV) or during future Inspector General Inspections.

If the Inspector General refers a complainant to another agency (such as the Finance office) for problem resolution, the Inspector General should check back with the complainant to ensure that he or she received assistance from that agency. Remember: Inspectors General assist in resolving problems. Do not close a case until the complainant's problem is resolved or until you are satisfied that the complainant has received fair and just treatment or consideration.

If the problem is not resolved, the Inspector General must determine the reason for the failure to resolve the issue. Some problems cannot be resolved until standards, such as laws, regulations, or policies, are changed. An Inspector General's case is not closed until all appropriate actions are completed.

Section 2-8

Step 7, Close the IGAR

Section 2-8-1 - Send a Final Reply

Section 2-8-2 - Close the IGAR in the Database

Section 2-8-3 - Make Appropriate Reports

Section 2-8-4 - Analyze for Developing Trends

Send a Final Reply

1. Purpose: This section explains the process of sending the complainant a final reply.
2. Sending a Final Reply: Closing an IGAR includes providing the complainant a final reply. The response should be helpful, reflect established policies, and state corrective action as appropriate. The response will not contain classified information, information from agencies outside the Department of the Army (DA), private information about third parties, unconfirmed or speculative information, information pertaining to the loyalty of an individual, or information that could involve a breach of faith or violate a moral obligation to keep information confidential. The Inspector General will annotate this action in the case file.

The complainant will only get the information pertaining directly to him or her. If the complainant wishes to have more information, he or she must complete a Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) request for unofficial use of Inspector General records. At no time will the Inspector General provide any documents from Inspector General records directly to the requestor.

The final reply provides the Inspector General with an excellent opportunity to teach and train. The complainant may not like the reply provided by the Inspector General. In this case, the Inspector General must be prepared to attempt to resolve the questionable issues with the complainant. If it becomes apparent that resolution in the complainant's favor is not possible, advise the individual that he or she can request the assistance of an Inspector General at a higher headquarters.

If the final reply is for White House or Congressional Correspondence, DAIG Assistance Division makes the final response except for cases received directly by Army National Guard (ARNG) Inspectors General (see paragraph 7-6, Army Regulation 20-1). The Inspector General should be thorough and accurate, even if it requires more time. Request suspense-date extensions through the appropriate ACOM, ASCC, or DRU to DAIG Assistance Division -- the Office of Record -- who will in turn send an interim reply to the complainant if the extended suspense date is beyond the original expected date of the DAIG reply. For DAIG referrals, always interview the complainant; if not available, consult with the point of contact at DAIG Assistance Division.

The final response for an Assistance Inquiry to the complainant may be verbal or written. For Investigative Inquiries or Investigations, the final response to the complainant must be in writing. For more information on responses to subjects or suspects and their supervisors, see Part Two, Chapter 10, of this guide. Inspectors General may use the example memorandums below when providing a written final response to the complainant as either the affected party or as a third party.

Dear Captain Doe:

This letter is in response to your letter dated December 1, 20XX, to the Inspector General concerning your pay problem.

We conducted a thorough inquiry into your request for assistance. Our inquiry determined that the Finance Office was missing the promotion orders they needed to pay you your base pay for the rank of captain. (If more than one issue or complaint was provided, address each one in the same order that the complainant listed them in the initial letter or phone call).

We trust this information responds to your concerns.

Dear SGT Smith:

This is a final response to your September 19, 20XX, letter containing potential allegations against CPT Joe Davis.

We conducted a thorough inquiry into your complaint. Section 2-8-2

Close an IGAR in the Database

1. Purpose: This section explains the process of closing the IGAR in the IGARS database.

2. Close the IGAR in the IGARS Database: In closing the file, ensure that all relevant documents, including memorandums and collected evidence, are present and included in the file. Review completed actions to ensure that all issues and allegations have been appropriately addressed. The file is complete if another Inspector General, unfamiliar with the case, can determine the extent of the examination conducted and understand the factual content on which the conclusions were based and agree that the inquiry was complete and accurate. Following the review, file the case in accordance with Army Regulation 25-400-2 and Army Regulation 20-1. Closed Inspector General case files are subject to quality-assurance reviews by The Office of The Inspector General. DAIG looks for objectivity, completeness, thoroughness, and timeliness.

The next step in closing the IGAR is to code the case. Give special attention to deciding which codes are appropriate for the request for assistance or the allegation. The IGARS database must be useful to all Inspectors General in the office. The data must also have meaning since ACOMs, ASCCs, or DRUs and DAIG often run reports from the database to identify broader emerging trends and issues. The function code selected identifies the areas where the Inspector General has received complaints, allegations, and requests for help (assistance). Likewise, the determination codes are also important to understanding what the data is showing. The determination codes are referred to as "SNA" codes. Remember: each allegation or request for assistance is represented by a function code.

a. An allegation is substantiated (S) when the preponderance of the credible evidence establishes that the impropriety is true.

b. An allegation is not substantiated (N) when the preponderance of the credible evidence establishes that the impropriety is untrue.

c. Assistance (A) is used when advice or guidance is provided, the request for assistance is resolved by the Inspector General, or when the complainant is referred to an agency other than the Inspector General to resolve the problem.

When a case is referred to a Commander to conduct an inquiry or investigation, the Inspector General will use the Commander's findings (if the Inspector General agrees with those findings) as part of the IG's ROI or ROII when coding the determination for the case (i.e., the commander substantiates on an Army Regulation 15-6 investigation, which in turn becomes a substantiation in the IGARS database with the synopsis explaining that the Commander did the investigation and that the results were from the Army Regulation 15-6 investigation). If the Inspector General does not agree with the results of the Commander's investigation, then the Inspector General may simply consider the Commander's results as evidence in the IG's ROI / ROII in the matter and make an independent determination based upon the preponderance of credible evidence.

The synopsis is the final item entered into the IGARS database. As a concise summary of everything pertaining to the case, the synopsis should describe the request for assistance as well as actions taken to resolve any issues. The entries should create a stand-alone document that can be pulled up from the IGARS database anytime in the future and understood by the Inspector General reading it. The synopsis should not state "See inquiry" because the file copy of the inquiry will ultimately be destroyed and therefore unavailable. If the allegation is substantiated, this synopsis will be part of the DA Form 1559 that will be retained in the DAIG IGARS database for up to 30 years. An example format is as follows:

First Part

"The complainant / initiator (name, rank / grade) assigned to (unit, agency, command, location, etc.), status (AC, USAR, NG, mobilized, civilian, contractor, DAC, etc.).

the spouse / parent (or whatever the relationship) of (name, rank / grade) assigned to (unit, agency, command, location, etc.), status (AC, USAR, NG, mobilized, civilian, contractor, DAC, etc.).

and:

contacted / wrote / faxed (whoever DAIG, USARC, congressman XXX, etc.) alleging someone acted improperly by (whatever) or complaining of (what) or requesting (what).

Second Part

Assistance / investigation / inquiry was completed by (whom). Include if the IG used any Command Products (AR 15-6, MP / CID Reports, EO Inquiries, etc.) and if those products sufficiently answered all issues / allegations, or if the IG used other additional resources / findings.

Third Part (Summary of IG Conclusion)

The allegation that (name, rank / grade) improperly did / did not do something in violation of a standard was / was not substantiated.

Summarize the complaint and key evidence that led to your conclusion.

Issue of (what) was resolved by coordinating with / processing paperwork / documents through (command, staff, agency, etc.).

Fourth Part

Case was closed by (describe method of case closure and final assistance provided). Annotate legal review (if conducted) and final notifications, including addresses of subject, complainant, and commander.

Section 2-8-3

Making Appropriate Reports

1. Purpose: This section explains the process of making appropriate reports.
2. Making Appropriate Reports: Appropriate reports are based upon the local Inspector General Standing Operating Procedures (SOP). These reports may vary from command to command.

Section 2-8-4

Analyze for Developing Trends

1. Purpose: This section explains the process of analyzing for developing trends.
2. Analyze for Developing Trends: The final process in closing an IGAR is analyzing trends that may be developing. The Inspector General's objectives are to identify trends that affect the command and to identify and correct systemic problems or potential problem areas. The IG may also provide the Commander and staff with information and insight for their use in improving the command. See the IGARS User Manual on the IGMET home page for more information on the various reports that IGARS can generate to assist in trends development.
 - a. The following are some items that an Inspector General should identify:
 - (1) Most frequent categories or function codes.
 - (2) Most substantiated categories or function codes.
 - (3) Most frequent assistance categories or function codes.
 - (4) Total numbers.
 - (5) Source of IGARs.
 - b. The Inspector General should always look for trends. Is there anything that suggests the need for an Inspector General Inspection or other command or staff action? How frequently should an Inspector General conduct an analysis? Monthly? Quarterly? By major category or sub category? Comparing one quarter to the next or the fiscal year to a quarter?
 - c. Here are a few guidelines:
 - (1) Do not compare units (outside of the Inspector General office). Start your analysis with major categories and work down to sub-categories. Look for good news as well as bad. Be observant for seasonal aberrations.
 - (2) A high level of not-substantiated allegations may indicate areas that require more information and / or training.
 - (3) Consult closely with the other Inspectors General in the office on a regular basis to ensure that similar cases are coded (determination and function codes) in a like manner.
 - (4) Look first at the coding process to explain wide variations in data.
 - d. Look at allegations most frequently substantiated in addition to allegations most frequently made.

Non-Related Army Matters

1. Purpose: This section explains the process for working non-related Army matters presented to an Inspector General.
2. Non-related Army matters: In cases where the issues are clearly not Army related, the Inspector General will advise the complainant to present the complaint to the appropriate agency. The Inspector General will still complete a DA Form 1559 to capture the request for assistance, thoroughly analyze the complaint for all issues and allegations to ensure that the entire matter is not appropriate for the Inspector General, open a case in the IGARS database, and annotate any action taken. In cases where the issues are not appropriate for the Inspector General, the IG will provide as much teaching and training as possible. When the Inspector General refers a case that is not appropriate for action, he or she must refer, and then close, the case. The Inspector General must acknowledge receipt to the complainant explaining what actions he or she took and what agency should process the complaint.

Listed on the next page is a sample letter of acknowledgment to the complainant in response to a complaint that is not appropriate for an Inspector General.

Acknowledgment to Complainant, Case Referred with Direct Reply Authorized

DEPARTMENT OF THE ARMY
FORT VON STEUBEN, VIRGINIA 22605

Office of the Inspector General

Major Jane Doe
Anywhere, VA 22060

Dear Major Doe:

We received your letter to the Inspector General dated November 29, 20XX, concerning sexual misconduct.

The matter you present is under the jurisdiction of Criminal Investigation Division (CID). We referred your correspondence to CID for appropriate action and direct reply to you.

Sincerely,

Richard Britton
Major, US Army
Inspector General

Section 3-2

Equal Opportunity (EO) Complaints

1. Purpose: This section explains the process for working or referring Equal Opportunity complaints.
2. Equal Opportunity Complaints: The Equal Opportunity Office normally works these complaints, but an Inspector General may also work an EO complaint. If so, the Inspector General must follow the Inspector General Action Process rather than the Equal Opportunity process to resolve the case. When the complainant seeks redress for past alleged discriminatory practices that have become part of official Army records, the Inspector General should advise the complainant to seek redress through appeals procedures provided by law or Army regulations pertaining to the particular adverse action.

Hazardous Work Conditions

1. Purpose: This section explains the process for working or referring complaints involving Hazardous Work Conditions.
2. Hazardous Work Conditions: The Inspector General will advise individuals presenting complaints of hazardous, unsafe, or unhealthy work conditions to follow the procedures outlined in Army Regulation 385-10, Army Safety Program. The Inspector General will not work cases involving hazardous work conditions.

Section 3-4

Issues With Other Forms of Redress

1. Purpose: This section explains the process for working issues where another form of redress exists.

2. Issues with other forms of redress: There are many situations for which law or regulation provide Soldiers a remedy or means of redress. Soldiers must seek the prescribed redress or remedy before an Inspector General can provide assistance. Once the Soldier has used the available redress procedures, the Inspector General action is limited to a due-process review of the situation to determine if the Soldier was afforded an opportunity for redress as provided by law or regulation.

Some common situations where specific redress, remedy, or appeals procedures are applicable include, but are not limited to, the following:

- a. Courts-martial actions (10 USC, Chapter 47, United States Code of Military Justice).
- b. Nonjudicial punishment (Manual for Courts-Martial, Part V, paragraph seven).
- c. Officer evaluation reports (AR 623-3, Evaluation Reporting System).
- d. Non-Commissioned Officer evaluation reports (AR 623-3, Evaluation Reporting System).
- e. Enlisted reductions (AR 600-8-19, Enlisted Promotions and Reductions).
- f. Type of discharge received (AR 635-200, Active Duty Enlisted Administrative Separations).
- g. Pending or requested discharge (AR 635-200, Active Duty Enlisted Administrative Separations, and AR 600-8-24, Officer Transfers and Discharges).
- h. Complaint that a Soldier has been wronged by the commanding officer (AR 600-20, Army Command Policy, and AR 600-100 Army Leadership).
- i. Financial Liability Investigations of Property Loss (AR 735-5, Policies and Procedures for Property Accountability).
- j. Relief for cause (AR 600-20, Army Command Policy).
- k. Adverse information filed in personnel records (AR 600-8-2, Suspension of Favorable Personnel Actions (FLAGS), and AR 600-37, Unfavorable Information).
- l. Claims (AR 27-20, Claims).
- m. Security clearances (AR 380-67, Personnel Security Program)

The Inspector General does not need to be the subject-matter expert on what redress, remedy, or appeals procedures the Soldier must take, but he or she must recognize if the Soldier's request has a formally established redress process in place before taking action.

As a matter of policy, the Inspector General does not normally become involved in complaints where an established avenue of redress is available to resolve a problem. The Inspector General's primary concern is that the complainant is afforded an opportunity for redress and that the redress was conducted by the applicable standard. If the complainant, after pursuing the established avenues of redress, still feels an injustice has occurred, the Inspector General system could address his or her concerns. However, the involvement would be limited to ensuring the complainant's rights were protected and he or she received due process.

Criminal Allegations

1. Purpose: This section explains the process for working criminal allegations.
2. Criminal Allegation: Allegations of a criminal nature are normally not appropriate for Inspector General action. However, the Inspector General's directing authority may still direct the Inspector General to conduct an Investigation or Inquiry into allegations of criminal conduct. Coordination or consultation with the appropriate legal advisor is essential in such cases, to include coordination with Criminal Investigations Division officials if appropriate. See The Assistance and Investigations Guide, Part Two, for more information.

Allegations Against Senior Officials

1. Purpose: This section explains the process for handling allegations against senior official that are not appropriate for Inspectors General below the DAIG level.
2. Allegations Against Senior Officials: Inspectors General will forward all allegations against Senior Executive Service (SES) civilians, promotable Colonels, and General Officers to DAIG Investigations Division within two working days. The Inspector General will not conduct any fact-finding into the allegation nor will he or she input the allegation into the IGARS database. The Inspector General only receives the IGAR and immediately passes it to DAIG Investigations Division for action as required. See AR 20-1, Inspector General Activities and Procedures, paragraph 8-3i and Appendix C for more information.

Section 3-7

Allegations Against Members of SAPs and SAs

1. Purpose: This section explains the process for handling allegations against members serving in -- or working with -- Army special-access programs (SAPs) and sensitive activities (SAs).
2. Allegations Against Soldiers and Civilians assigned to -- or working with -- Army Special-Access Programs (SAPs) and Sensitive Activities (SAs): Inspectors General will forward all IGARS containing an allegation against any person assigned to a SAP or SA as defined in AR 380-381 within two working days by secure means to DAIG Intelligence Oversight Division.

Section 3-8

Allegations of Misconduct for a Specific Profession

1. Purpose: This section explains the process for handling allegations of misconduct in a specific professional area.

2. Allegations of misconduct in a specific profession: During Step 2, Conduct IG Preliminary Analysis, the IG identifies issues and allegations and decides on a course of action on how best to resolve them. Some allegations will not be easily decipherable, and the IG might have difficulty deciding what standard to use. For example, when a complainant alleges misconduct by someone of a specific profession -- such as a doctor making a wrong medical decision, a lawyer's improper representation in a legal matter, or a recruiter fraudulently processing the initial enlistment contract -- the local IG, if he or she is not of this particular profession, might not necessarily know what would be a right or wrong action. Since the IG is not a subject-matter expert in all topics of special interest, some issues or allegations presented to the IG might need special consideration and the assistance of subject-matter experts. In fact, for many of these professional misconduct cases, the IG will refer the case to the subject-matter experts. The following examples, though not all-inclusive, provide references and / or points of contact that will help the IG gather more information.

3. Lawyers and Legal Counsel: IGs will refer allegations involving professional misconduct by an Army lawyer, military or civilian, through the DAIG Legal Advisor to the senior counsel having jurisdiction over the subject lawyer for disposition. See Army Regulation (AR) 20-1, Inspector General Activities and Procedures, paragraph 8-3b (5). Allegations of mismanagement by a member of the Judge Advocate Legal service serving in a supervisory capacity at the time of the alleged mismanagement will be referred through the DAIG Legal Advisor to the Executive, OTJAG, for disposition. See AR 20-1, Inspector General Activities and Procedures, paragraph 8-3b (6). Once the DAIG Legal Advisor confirms the referral, the IG will treat the case as an assistance request and close the case in IGARS. The IG will then notify the complainant that the IG has referred the case to legal channels. The local IG will not monitor the case any further. Contact the DAIG Legal Advisor (SAIG-ZXL) at (703) 601-1093 for more information or assistance.

4. Inspectors General: Complaints which involve the actions of an Inspector General while performing IG-specific duties, such as not resolving an Assistance Inquiry or not responding to the complainant, will be resolved in accordance with AR 20-1, Inspector General Activities and Procedures, paragraph 8-3h. This regulation requires reporting allegations against IGs, uniformed and civilian, to the next higher vertical echelon command IG for appropriate action within two working days after receipt. The ACOM, ASC, or DRU IG will consult with DAIG Assistance Division concerning what actions to take. If the allegation involves other matters besides IG-specific duties, the commander may resolve them. Contact SAIG-AC at (703) 601-1060 for more information or assistance.

5. Chaplains / spiritual guidance: Complainants presenting issues involving the nature and quality of spiritual or religious counseling or advice from a Chaplain should be referred to the next higher supervisory chaplain, i.e. battalion to brigade. If there is no clear higher headquarters, check with the local installation chaplain's office. The main references for understanding what a chaplain should do are Chapters 1 and 5 of AR 165-1, Chaplain Activities in the United States Army, and Chapter 1 of FM 1-05, Religious Support.

6. Army Recruiters: US Army Recruiting Command (USAREC) has two primary regulations (USAREC Regulation 600-25, Prohibited and Regulated Activities, and USAREC Regulation 601-45, Recruiting Improprieties and Procedures) under which most IGARs fall. Examples of recruiter misconduct or impropriety include, but are not limited to, prohibited relationships (social, business, or personal employment with subjects of recruiting efforts), criminal involvement, false documents, misrepresentation, and coercion. The local IG should refer cases with allegations against a Regular Army or Army Reserve recruiter, to include contract recruiters, to the USAREC Assistance and Investigations IG. Cases with allegations against an Army NG recruiter should be referred to the State IG owning that recruiter. Bottom line: if it has anything to do with a recruiter or the initial enlistment contract, contact the USAREC IG at 1-800-223-3735, extension 60392.

7. Medical: Complaints involving medical issues or allegations should be referred to the regional medical command (MEDCOM) IG or one of the MEDCOM major subordinate command (MSC) IGs, e.g. Army Medical Department (AMEDD) Center and School, Center for Health Promotion and Preventive Medicine (CHPPM), or Medical Research and Materiel Command (MRMC). The Military Treatment Facilities (MTF) typically have Acting IGs. The regional medical command IG also provides coverage for any dental or veterinary activity in the area. The primary references include AR 40-3, Medical, Dental, and Veterinary Care, and AR 40-68, Clinical Quality Management. For more information, including POCs, see the MEDCOM Web page in AKO (AKO Home Page, Site Maps, MACOMS, MEDCOM, MEDCOM IG); or, for TRICARE-specific questions, use <http://www.tricare.mil>.

8. CID Agents: Any allegations and issues involving a CID Special Agent as the subject or suspect should be referred to the US Army Criminal Investigation Command (USACIDC) Inspector General. Examples of CID agent misconduct include treating a victim, witness, or suspect without dignity or respect; threatening the victim or suspect; conducting an unauthorized or illegal search of a person or premises; or violations of the Privacy Act by disclosing the victim's identity to unauthorized personnel. The main references are AR 195-2, Criminal Investigation Activities, and CID Regulation 195-1, Criminal Investigation Operational Procedures. The local IG may coordinate the referral of the allegation or issue via IGMET e-mail, FAX, or telephonically (depending on the circumstances) with USACIDC IG at (703) 806-0419 / 0381 / 0382 (DSN 656).

9. Other Considerations: Even though a complaint might involve someone of a special profession, the issue or allegation might fall outside the specific professional conduct area as discussed previously. For example, a complaint that the doctor, chaplain, and IG used a military vehicle to move personal household goods from one off-post apartment to another is clearly a violation of the Joint Ethics Regulation and is not directly related to the medical, religious, or IG professions. Allegations and issues of these types are still best resolved at that local IG's office -- either by the IG or through the appropriate command.

Section 3-9

Non-Support of Family Members

1. Purpose: This section explains how to process a non-support request.
2. Non-Support of Family Members: AR 20-1, paragraph 7-3b, provides that "[r]esolving nonsupport . . . claims is a command responsibility; the primary IG role is to ensure that the commander is aware of all complaints and takes appropriate action. AR 608-99, as applicable, establishes the commander's responsibilities in nonsupport cases. . . ." In other words, the complainant has the responsibility of communicating non-support problems through command channels to the Soldier's commander. The IG should refer the complaint to the commander and monitor the situation to ensure that the commander contacts the complainant within the 14 days prescribed by AR 608-99, paragraph 3-5.

An exception to this procedure occurs when the complainant provides information pertaining to a violation of another regulation or statute. For example, the complainant tells the IG that this is the third time in the past year that he / she has had to come to the IG to help obtain support payments from the military spouse, a possible allegation of a failure to obey the commander's order to pay family support the first time (a UCMJ violation). In these cases, the IG, in addition to following the paragraph 7-3b procedures outlined above, should also refer these additional matters to the command for investigation of allegations against the Soldier.

3. An Inspector General's Responsibility: An Inspector General may offer assistance in formulating and routing the complaint. The Inspector General should do the following when presented with a request for Inspector General assistance:

- a. Inspectors General should control the comments made to the family members being assisted. Do not offer opinions or be judgmental in their presence.
- b. Inspectors General provide assistance to ensure that the immediate needs of the family are met (shelter, food, medical care, etc.)
- c. Determine if the Soldier's spouse (or other dependent) has forwarded a complaint through command channels informing the Soldier's commander of the problem. If not, offer assistance in formulating and properly routing the complaint to ensure that the commander is made aware of the situation.
- d. If the complainant has already corresponded with the commander, continue assistance only if the responsible commander has not responded satisfactorily. In the case where the commander is not in the immediate area, use Inspector General technical channels but only to the extent necessary to ascertain that the commander has fulfilled his or her obligations as required by law or regulation.
- e. If the IG continues to provide assistance, inform the complainant that the IG may need to release personal information (social security numbers, address, etc.) in order to resolve the issue. Obtain written consent to release this information (DA Form 5459-R, suitably modified for non-military personnel, is appropriate for this purpose).

Note: When using Inspector General technical channels, remember that other Inspectors General will be trying to assist. Do not allow an adversarial relationship to develop with the other Inspector General.

4. The Commander's Responsibility: The Commander's responsibilities are detailed in, Army Regulation 608-99, Family Support, Child Custody, and Paternity, paragraphs 1-4d, 1-4e, 1-4f, 1-4g, and Chapter 3. An Inspector General should review the information in those chapters and paragraphs as an aid in determining if the commander's actions meet the "standard" of AR 608-99.

a. Commanders should:

(1) Establish and monitor procedures to ensure compliance with Army Regulation 608-99.

(2) Ensure Soldiers and subordinate commanders, if applicable, are thoroughly familiar with the provisions of Army Regulation 608-99.

b. If the complainant provides sufficient information, the company commander (or battalion commander if appropriate) should:

(1) Review the complaint and respond to all requests received under the provisions of AR 608-99 within 14 days in writing (Chapters 3 and 4, Army Regulation 608-99, contain guidance regarding the timeliness and content of the response).

(2) Notify the Soldier of the nature of the inquiry or complaint.

(3) Give Soldiers the opportunity to complete the DA Form 5459-R, Authorization to Release Information from Army Records on Nonsupport, Child Custody, or Paternity Complaints.

(4) Counsel the Soldier and take other actions, as appropriate, in accordance with Army Regulation 608-99.

(5) Determine, when asked to do so by the Soldier (or the immediate commander when applicable), whether specific provisions of AR 608-99 release the Soldier from requirements of the regulation.

(6) Sign replies to complainants or inquiries received under AR 608-99 (the Battalion Commander will sign replies pertaining to repeated or continuing violations, and the Company Commander will sign those pertaining to initial complaints).

(7) Consult with the Staff Judge Advocate (SJA).

c. If the complainant provides insufficient information, the commander should:

(1) Review the complaint.

(2) Acknowledge receipt.

(3) Explain that the information provided is insufficient to take action on the complaint and explain what information is needed before a complete reply may be provided.

(4) Answer any policy or procedural questions that have been asked.

d. Upon completion of action with the Soldier and coordination with the Staff Judge Advocate, the commander should advise the complainant courteously and promptly of information that would constitute a “clearly unwarranted invasion of personal privacy” (AR 608-99, paragraph 3-2c (7)). Each reply to an inquiry will contain the specific information required by AR 608-99, paragraphs 3-6 through 3-9, as appropriate together with the following information:

(1) The name, rank, and organization of the commander who personally counseled the subject of the inquiry.

(2) Postal mailing address.

(3) Commercial telephone number (and DSN if the reply is sent to a person within the Army).

(4) A statement as to whether the Soldier has authorized the release outside the DoD of information obtained from a system of records (see Army Regulation 608-99, Family Support, Child Custody and Paternity, paragraph 3-2). The Soldier's decision regarding the release of information should be recorded on DA Form 5459.

(5) If the Soldier consents, a statement as to whether the Soldier admits that he or she has an obligation to take certain action under this regulation and, if so, the nature of that action and, if not, why not.

(6) Replies to family members, or agencies acting on behalf of family members, should include advice on other courses of action beyond AR 608-99 that may be taken to obtain relief.

5. Basic Family Support Requirements:

a. A Soldier must provide financial support to family a member that meets at least the minimum support requirements stated in AR 608-99, paragraph 2-6, in the absence of a court order or written financial-support agreement. Support obligations are stated depending on the number of dependents involved, whether the family unit is single or multiple, and the spouse's military status. The commander should look at each case individually and consult with the SJA when determining the minimum amount of support.

b. The Soldier must comply with court-imposed obligations.

c. The Soldier must obey court orders and AR 608-99 on child custody and visitation rights (AR 608-99, paragraph 2-10).

d. The following methods are available to resolve non-support issues with family members:

- (1) Oral agreements in limited circumstances.
- (2) Written support agreements.
- (3) Court orders.

6. Inspector General Proactive Measures: Listed below are several measures that an Inspector General can take when dealing with a non-support case:

a. Use the chain of command in responding to an Inspector General request for assistance (Note: AR 20-1, The Inspector General Activities and Procedures, is specific on Inspector General involvement in non-support cases). If an Inspector General experiences problems with members of the chain of command, for example, company, battalion, or brigade commander, the Inspector General should elevate the problem to the level needed to resolve the issue and ensure compliance with AR 608-99.

b. Use the commander's inquiry provisions of Army Regulation 608-99, paragraphs 3-1 through 3-9, in working the Inspector General case.

c. Facilitate communications between the commander and family requesting Inspector General assistance.

d. Use the command's SJA. The SJA is the proponent's local representative. Paragraph 1-4, Army Regulation 608-99, outlines specific SJA responsibilities.

7. Cautions: The Inspector General should always remain focused and committed to the items listed below:

a. Do not become personally involved or take sides against another family member -- remain objective. An Inspector General's emotional attitude may be more apparent when the spouse is in a different command.

b. In considering referral to another Inspector General, particularly an overseas-based Inspector General, consider time as it relates to the geographic location of the Soldier, relative to the Inspector General's location, and unit training requirements (Soldier availability for problem resolution).

c. Where a referral is appropriate, ensure the Inspector General who will work the case receives the essential information.

d. Make referrals, depending upon the Inspector General's location, by using the IGARS electronic referral function and at least one of the following:

- (1) Telephone (voice or fax).
- (2) E-Mail.
- (3) Surface mail.
- (4) Personal contact (messenger).

e. The Inspector General who is the office of record makes the IGARS database entry and therefore selects the appropriate function / determination codes for the DA Form 1559. That Inspector General is the office of record because the commander within his command is responsible for resolving the problem (NOTE: See Army Regulation 20-1 for a definition of Inspector General Office of Record). An Inspector General who actually refers the case will close the case in his database and make the following entries in the Function Information section on the backside of the DA Form 1559: Function Code, "Nonsupport of Family" (ZD5), AGCMD Agency (Against Command Agency), the Inspector General Agency Code for the Inspector General office with responsibility for the Soldier not supporting the family member, and Determination Code "A" because that Inspector General only provided assistance in referring the IGAR to the appropriate Inspector General for action. The Inspector General who receives the referred IGAR should open and work the case as a referred IGAR, then close the case using the function code "Nonsupport of family" (ZD5) and determination code "A" for assistance. If the request for assistance also includes an ALLEGATION that the COMMANDER of the Soldier is not enforcing Army Regulation 608-99 or an allegation that the Soldier violated some other regulation or statute (through repeated non-adherence to the commander's order to pay, for example), the Inspector General closing the case will include an additional function code relating to the allegation as well as a determination code of either "S" (Substantiated) or "N" (Not Substantiated) -- after appropriate command or IG investigation and legal review. This situation does not preclude the referring Inspector General from providing the information to the spouse (complainant). The Inspector General who has received the referral will complete the case and respond to the complainant, keeping the case open until follow-up has been completed. Coordination between the two Inspector General offices can ease this process by having the Inspector General who worked the case send the results to the referring Inspector General using Inspector General technical channels. The referring Inspector General can then respond to the complainant, informing the Inspector General who worked the case when the response is completed. The Inspector General must always follow-up to ensure that the support issues were resolved. (NOTE: The Inspector General office of record has the responsibility of follow-up. Coordination with the referring Inspector General can establish a follow-up procedure where the referring Inspector General contacts the complainant and the Inspector General working the case contacts the unit commander to follow-up on the actions of the Soldier. Remember to keep the case open until proper follow-up has been completed.) (See Matrix in Section I-3-8-3 for steps to be taken when resolving non-support cases)

8. General Information: This information should be helpful with the Inspector General's interaction with the chain of command and the SJA.

a. Child Support Enforcement. The subject of child and spousal support is of command interest, but enforcement of support matters is merely an incidental function of the Department of Defense. Many commanders don't know about the extensive multi-billion dollar civilian support structure specifically created by Congress to enforce family support issues and cannot advise spouses on how to obtain the assistance provided by law. The United States Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) administers statutory programs under Title 42, United States Code, that include monetary grants of tax dollars to the States to provide for the operation of State Offices of Child Support Enforcement. Each of the 50 States has such an office, with branch offices located in all large cities and also at most county seats. These offices are normally found in the county court house or the local county or state office building -- often collocated with the welfare office. While State laws vary in detail and specific procedures, every State provides child-support collection assistance, normally at no cost to the requesting spouse. Many states also provide assistance for spousal support and alimony. An excellent source of contact information for state Child Support Enforcement Agencies is found at www.acf.hhs.gov/programs/cse/extinf.htm.

(1) A Soldier's spouse who is not receiving child support from the military sponsor should contact the nearest Office of Child Support Enforcement. Each of these offices has the funded mission of obtaining support payments by use of the State's legal system. Typically, where court-ordered support payments are two months (sometimes three) in arrears, the office will initiate support-collection efforts on behalf of the children and spouse. If voluntary payment is not made, the office may either issue an administrative payment order that has the full force of law to the Defense Finance and Accounting Service, Indianapolis (DFAS-C), to require involuntary garnishment or allotment of Soldier pay or retired pay for support or, through the County or District Attorney, obtain a State court order to the same effect. Sections 659 and 665 of Title 42, US Code, implemented at 32 Code of Federal Regulations (CFR), Part 54 and Sections 584.8 and 584.9, provide for direct payment of support collection by DFAS-C to the supported spouse (or to the State support collection unit for the benefit of the supported family members) when such State orders are properly served upon DFAS-C. Such payments, once begun, will only stop:

[a] When a superseding court or administrative order is served upon DFAS-C,

[b] Where the order was for a specific total amount only when that amount has been paid in full through involuntary collection of Soldier pay.

(2) State Offices of Child Support Enforcement will assist both spouses and former spouses with or without support agreements, alimony, or child support orders; each State will normally apply its own standards, not Army standards, of the amount of support required based upon the State's own laws and regulations. The amount of support required by a State under its procedures may exceed the Army's minimum of BAQ at the "with dependents" rate.

(3) The State's Office of Child Support Enforcement or local District or County Attorney can also initiate actions under the Uniform Interstate Family Support Act (UIFSA) to transfer enforcement authority of court-ordered support from the State in which the supported spouse resides to the State of the Soldier spouse's duty station by registry of the court decree in the local court of the duty station State. In addition to all of the foregoing, this procedure can also provide for the alternative enforcement method of seeking a contempt order from the court nearest the duty station in lieu of action under 42 U.S.C., 659 or 665, to permit the arrest and jailing of the Soldier for contempt of court for continually refusing to pay court-ordered support.

(4) In cases where the supported spouse is destitute, the State's welfare authorities can, in some cases, also provide for subsidized housing and child care, food stamps, job training, and State monetary aid (paid in large part from HHS Federal grant money). The State Office of Child Support Enforcement will refer qualifying cases to the State's welfare authorities while still pursuing support from the Soldier.

(5) In large cities and in cities near large military installations, the State offices and County or District Attorneys are highly knowledgeable in these matters, but elsewhere the local officials may be unfamiliar with the Federal regulatory and statutory provisions and procedures for involuntary collection (32 CFR and 42 U.S.C., 659 and 665), so it may be necessary for commanders, ACS personnel, and legal assistance attorneys to make them, as well as the supported spouse, aware of the HHS statutory remedies at their disposal. Doing so will put chronic non-support cases into the channels designed and funded by Congress for their proper resolution and relieve the command of an administrative burden that Congress never intended DoD or the Services to assume.

b. Garnishment. Military and Federal Civil Service pay (and retired pay) may be garnished for payment of alimony and child support. The Federal statutory authority is Section 659 of Title 42, United States Code. Its procedures are set forth at Section 584.8 of Title 32, Code of Federal Regulations. A County or District Attorney can provide copies of these provisions and explain how they operate to the extent that your State does not have an administrative procedure established to pursue this remedy. Understand that the Federal procedures are mandatory; similar State procedures cannot be substituted.

c. Home Addresses. The home addresses of Department of Defense or Army personnel are exempt from disclosure under the Privacy Act without the written consent of the individuals concerned. However, Section 453, Public Law 93-647, established authority for the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, Federal Parent Locator Service (FPLS), to obtain information from Department of Defense and to provide locator information to State Child Support Enforcement Officials. City or County Child Support Enforcement officials should contact the appropriate State agency for policy information or locator assistance. Many States operate a similar locator and have a direct line to FPLS.

d. Involuntary Allotment. Military pay and military retired pay can be diverted by involuntary allotment when court-ordered support is two months in arrears. The procedures are similar to, but slightly different from, the garnishment procedure. The Federal statutory authority is Section 665 of Title 42, United States Code. Its procedures are found in Title 32, Code of Federal Regulations, at Part 54 and Section 584.9 and Army Regulation 608-99, Chapter 9. As in garnishment actions, the Federal procedures must be scrupulously followed. Garnishment is the predominant method used by the State Child Support Enforcement Officials when diverting pay for court-ordered support. For more information regarding garnishment and involuntary allotments, see the DFAS Web site at <http://www.DFAS.mil>.

e. Locator Service.

(1) Agencies frequently have no idea how to ascertain the current duty station and unit assignment of a Soldier. The Army maintains a world-wide locator service for active-duty Soldiers. Send the request to:

Army World Wide Locator
U.S. Army Enlisted Records and Evaluation Center
8899 E. 56th St.
Indianapolis, IN 46249-5301

The following is required:

(a) Full name and SSN are needed or date of birth (numerous Soldiers with the same name are often listed).

(b) Requires an advance payment of $3.50 per person for the locator service.

(c) When a certificate is required (that is, Soldier's Certificate) a $5.20 fee must be paid in advance of the service.

(d) Make check or money order payable to: Finance Office.

(e) Other inquiries should be made directly to the installation commander where the service member is stationed.

(2) Former Soldiers may use the Parent Locator Service of the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services by going through the main State Office of Child Support Enforcement. The Parent Locator Service can access the database of the Internal Revenue Service, Social Security Administration, Department of Veteran's Affairs, and States such as driver-license records and motor-vehicle registries.

(3) To obtain the city or town and the country for an APO address, contact your local Postmaster. The Postal Service publishes an APO directory.

(4) Address Army Reserve or Retired Personnel inquiries to:

Human Resource Command St . Louis
Attention: DARP-IMG-F
9700 Page Boulevard
St. Louis, MO 63132-5200

(5) Address former Army personnel inquiries to:

Director
National Personnel Records Center (NPRC)
Attention: NRP-MA-S
9700 Page Boulevard
St. Louis, MO 63132

(6) Former personnel are those who have been discharged and have no further Army service obligation or status. NPRC is part of the National Archives and Records Administration.

(7) Address Army National Guard personnel inquiries to the appropriate State Adjutant General.

9. Sample Non-support Letters: The following are sample letters that Inspectors General may use for replies to individuals who have sought Army assistance on a non-support matter. Also included are samples of Defense Finance and Accounting Service (DFAS) letters sent to individuals who have inquired about involuntary support allotments and garnishment of U.S. Army pay.

Referral of a Non-Support Case to a Commander

(OFFICE SYMBOL)

12 March 20XX

MEMORANDUM FOR Commander (UNIT ADDRESS)

SUBJECT: Request for Commander's Inquiry (Non-Support, AR 608-99)

1. Reference telephonic coordination between (NAME); this office; and (NAME), (UNIT NAME), (DATE). The enclosed correspondence (Enclosure 1) and interim response to the complainant (Enclosure 2) are forwarded for your review and appropriate action. I request you inquire into the allegation of failure to provide financial support to family members by (NAME), (SSN), (UNIT). Under the provisions of Army Regulation 608-99, Family Support, Child Custody, and Paternity, review the allegations, determine all relevant facts and evidence (e.g. allotment forms, canceled checks, court orders) in this case, and provide the complainant (copy to this office) a response in writing within 14 days of receipt of this letter. You should consult with your SJA legal advisor concerning the amount of financial obligation and necessary proof of payment.
2. A commander's inquiry will protect the rights of the Soldier and the interests of the Army. A commander's inquiry is the best method to handle this sensitive issue since adverse administrative or UCMJ action (Army Regulation 608-99, paragraph 1-6) could result should the allegations be substantiated. IG records, as a rule, cannot be used as the basis for adverse action against an individual.
3. This memorandum is an Inspector General record and contains privileged and confidential information. (NAME) consented to the release of his or her name in the interest of resolving this issue. However, as an individual requesting Inspector General assistance, (NAME) is entitled to confidentiality and to certain safeguards; among these safeguards is the right to register complaints with the IG free from restraint, coercion, discrimination, harassment, or reprimand.
4. The use or attachment of these records as exhibits to records of other offices or agencies within DA is not authorized without the written approval of The Inspector General. UNAUTHORIZED REPRODUCTION OR RETENTION OF IG DOCUMENTS IS STRICTLY PROHIBITED. Return this document with the results of your inquiry.
5. When contacting this office, please refer to case number (LOCAL CASE #). If you need additional information, please contact (NAME) at extension (DSN / COM XXX-XXXX).

Sample of Acknowledgment to a Complainant for Non-Support

FORT VON STEUBEN, VIRGINIA 22605

December 2, 20XX

Office of the Inspector General

Mrs. Jane Doe
1515 Anywhere Road
Anywhere, Virginia 22222

Dear Mrs. Doe:

This letter is in reply to your inquiry concerning the support obligations of Major John Doe.

The Army expects Soldiers to provide support to their legal dependents. However, the determination of what is adequate or reasonably sufficient support is a highly complex and individual matter. In the absence of a court order, the Department of the Army has established a minimum-support policy as an interim measure until the parties involved resolve their differences by mutual written agreement or the matter is resolved by court action.

Army officials must assume that adequate support is provided to family members unless a complaint is received.

When a complaint arises regarding support, Army Regulation 608-99 requires a commander to take action, and you may correspond with the Soldier's commander at 5500 21st Street, Fort Von Steuben, Virginia 22605. Be advised, however, that while he will be counseled to provide the required amount of support, and certain adverse personnel or disciplinary actions may be taken against him for noncompliance, the Army cannot actually force a Soldier to make payment. That requires civil court or state child support enforcement agency action.

Your correspondence has been sent to the Soldier's commander. The commander will reply directly to you. If you are not satisfied with the commander's answer, you should pursue the matter through the civil courts.

Sincerely,

Richard Britton

Sample Reply to a Letter Concerning [CONUS] Court-Ordered Support Obligations

DEPARTMENT OF THE ARMY
FORT VON STEUBEN, VIRGINIA 22605

December 2, 20XX

Mr. John Doe
1520 Every Stone Road
Whistle, Virginia 22222

Dear Mr. Doe:

This letter is in response to your inquiry concerning the court-ordered support obligations of Sergeant Jane Doe.

Army Regulation 608-99 requires a commander to take action in non-support cases. You may correspond with the Soldier's commander at 5500 21st Street Fort Von Steuben, Virginia 22605. However, while the Soldier will be counseled to provide the required amount of support, and certain adverse personnel or disciplinary action may be taken against her for noncompliance, the Department of the Army cannot actually force a Soldier to make payment. Only the civil court can actually force a Soldier to pay.

Congress has enacted two Federal statutes (Sections 659 and 665 of Title 42, United States Code) that permit the civilian courts to order the Army to make an involuntary collection of support from military pay. The procedures are published in Title 32 of the United States Code of Federal Regulations at Part 54 and Sections 584.8 and 584.9. Each State has laws and regulations to implement these Federal procedures. However, the party seeking to collect support -- and not the Army -- must initiate these actions. These provisions are in addition to the contempt powers of the civil courts to order a Soldier's arrest and to impose monetary fines for refusal to pay court-ordered support.

Your correspondence has been sent to the Soldier's commander, who will reply directly to you regarding the Soldier's court-ordered support obligations. If you are not satisfied with the commander's response, you should pursue the matter as outlined above.

Sample Reply to a Letter Concerning German or Overseas Court-Ordered Support

DEPARTMENT OF THE ARMY
FORT VON STEUBEN, VIRGINIA 22605

December 2, 20XX

Mr. John Durango
2222 Elite Stone Road
Freedom, Virginia 22222

Dear Mr. Durango:

This letter is in response to your inquiry regarding the court-ordered support obligations of Specialist Mary Durango.

Army Regulation 608-99 requires a commander to take action in non-support cases, and you may correspond with the Soldier's commander at 5500 21st Street, Fort Von Steuben, Virginia, 22605. While the Soldier will be counseled to provide the required amount of support, and certain adverse personnel or disciplinary actions may be taken against him for noncompliance, only the civil courts and not the commander or the Department of the Army can actually force a Soldier to pay. You should pursue the collection of support through the courts since you possess a court order.

Congress has enacted two Federal statutes (Sections 659 and 665 of Title 42, United States Code) that permit the civilian courts to order the Army to make an involuntary collection of support from military pay. The procedures are published in Title 32 of the United States Code of Federal Regulations at Part 54 and Sections 584.8 and 584.9. However, the party seeking to collect support -- and not the Army -- must initiate these actions. These provisions are in addition to the contempt powers of the civil courts to order a Soldier's arrest and to impose monetary fines for refusal to pay court-ordered support.

Under the United States Uniform Reciprocal Support Act (URESAs), which, with some minor differences, has been adopted by almost all of the United States, supports orders of the courts of a foreign nation that have a law similar to URESAs. These court orders may be registered in a URESA state and enforced through that State's legal system. Germany has such a law.

The civil-court procedure requires the legal services of an attorney to represent you in the United States. You may be required to provide documentation as follows:

a. A number of copies of each signed court order, certified by apostle in accordance with the Hague (den Haag) Convention of 1961 and English translations (translator swears to accuracy before a notary),

b. A copy of the German statute with sworn and notarized English translation, and

c. A sworn and notarized written statement from you (in English) verifying the dollar amount of your claim and the details of such, to include the Soldier's full name, social security number, etc.

Once your court orders are registered, and it is shown that support is in arrears, the attorney can obtain a court order that directs the Defense Finance and Accounting Service to pay directly to you the support in arrears and future support. The order can be worded to apply to future retired pay as well as active-duty pay.

In the meantime, your correspondence has been sent to the Soldier's commander. The commander will reply directly to you regarding the Soldier's court-ordered support obligations. If you are not satisfied with the commander's answer, you should pursue the matter as outlined above.

More information regarding state Child Support Enforcement Agencies may be found on www.acf.hhs.gov/programs/cse/extinf.htm. Also, more information regarding involuntary collection of support from military pay may be found on the DFAS Web site at <http://www.dod.mil/dfas>.

10. Non-support Questions and Answers: These questions are included to give you an idea of possible responses to nonsupport complaints. The references are to AR 608-99, Family Support, child Custody, and Paternity. The solutions are not "cookie cutter" solutions and are not the only way a command or the Army may respond to particular non-support situations.

QUESTION 1:

A spouse and one child are separated from the Soldier. The spouse makes more money than the Soldier. How much does the Soldier have to pay?

ANSWER:

The Soldier does not have to support the spouse if released from the obligation by the Battalion Commander. Based on a pro-rata share, the Soldier has to provide one-half of his BAQ at the "with dependents" rate for the child.

QUESTION 2:

Since my husband (a Soldier) is making my car payment, he says that he does not have to pay me support. Correct or incorrect?

ANSWER:

Incorrect. Unless mutually agreed upon, the Soldier must make direct payments to the spouse. As an exception to this rule, a Soldier may comply with the financial support requirements of AR 608-99 by directly paying non-Government housing expenses on behalf of family members if the family members are residing in non-Government housing. See AR 608-99, paragraph 2-9d.

QUESTION 3:

I have a court order that says my wife (a Soldier) should be paying me $250 a month. What can I do about it?

ANSWER:

Soldiers are required to provide financial support in accordance with a court order. Compliance with minimum-support requirements of AR 608-99 will be enforced by administrative and criminal remedies as appropriate. Individuals should go to their unit commander for action. Garnishment action or involuntary allotment action (through a civil court or appropriate civilian agency) can also be taken.

QUESTION 4:

My husband (a Soldier) has not been supporting me for the last year since he has been in Korea. How can I get my back money?

ANSWER:

If there is a court order or a written separation agreement establishing an amount for support, then it must be pursued in civil court. However, in the absence of either of these documents, the Soldier cannot be ordered to pay arrears. He can, however, be punished for failure to comply with the minimum-support requirements, and recoupment action can be taken for BAQ previously received but not used for the support of family members.

QUESTION 5:

My husband and I are physically separated. On reassignment, he took our child to his new post. Can he get away with this?

ANSWER:

Army policy is violated only if a valid court order exists granting custody to someone other than the Soldier.

QUESTION 6:

A Soldier and I had a child. He acknowledges the child through letters and money. This month, I didn't get any money. Can you make him send me my child's money?

ANSWER:

No action can be taken on the claim of paternity in the absence of a court order. The court order must identify the Soldier in question as the father of the child. Also, the court order must direct that the Soldier provide financial support to the child.

QUESTION 7.

A female Soldier calls and says that she and her husband (also a Soldier) are not getting along. She took the two children and got an apartment downtown. He refuses to send any money. What can be done? What does he have to do?

ANSWER:

A Soldier married to another Soldier is not required to pay spousal support. However, the non-custodian Soldier parent will provide the custodian Soldier parent an amount equal to the difference between the "with" and "without" rate for the non-custodian Soldier's rank.

QUESTION 8:

A Soldier writes and says she has a child by another Soldier. They are not married. Can the Army make the Soldier (alleged father) pay for child support? The alleged father does not recognize the child as his.

ANSWER:

No.

QUESTION 9:

A spouse calls in and says she and her husband are separated. The husband refuses to send her support money. Her husband says his commander told him he didn't have to do so. Can the commander do that?

ANSWER:

No. A commander has no authority to excuse a Soldier from complying with the interim minimum-support requirements under these circumstances.

QUESTION 10.

A lady calls and says her husband won't support her because he claims she deserted him. His commander said that's right -- he doesn't have to do so. Is this correct?

ANSWER:

Alleged desertion or other marital misconduct on the part of a spouse has no effect on a Soldier's obligation to provide financial support.

QUESTION 11.

A grandmother writes that she is taking care her son-in-law's two children. (a Soldier). The Soldier is not giving her any money but, instead, is sending it to his wife. Can you get her support for the children?

ANSWER:

If the family members are not residing together, the Soldier will ensure that each family member receives his or her pro-rata share.

QUESTION 12:

A man calls in and says his former wife is now married to a Soldier. He states that she took his kids with her and her new husband to Germany. He wants the children back. What can Army officials do?

ANSWER:

First, it depends on who has legal custody. If the former wife has custody, then the Army will not intervene. If the former husband has legal custody, the Army has only limited capabilities to intervene. Since the authority that the Army has is almost exclusively over the Soldier, the wife of the Soldier is simply a citizen and not subject to Army jurisdiction. However, as a matter of practice, the Army will forward the inquiry to the unit commander of the Soldier and inform the ex-wife, through the Soldier, of the allegations and encourage the family to resolve this issue.

QUESTION 13:

A spouse is not satisfied with the amount of support specified in a written agreement (not court ordered) and asks for assistance in obtaining an increase of support. How can Army officials help her, and what can she hope to achieve?

ANSWER:

Army officials can advise her to obtain a modified agreement in writing and signed by both parties or to obtain a court order specifying a greater amount of support to be provided by the Soldier.

QUESTION 14:

A former wife calls saying her husband (a Soldier) has missed the last six months of court-ordered support payments. She wants the Army to take this money directly from his pay. What do you tell her?

ANSWER:

She must go back to court and obtain an actual garnishment order. DFAS-C will then process the order.

QUESTION 15:

A former wife calls saying her husband (a Soldier) has missed three months of court-ordered support payments. She asks what can be done.

ANSWER:

Public Law permits involuntary allotments from pay and allowances from active-duty Soldiers as spousal support payments when the Soldier has failed to make payments under the court order for two months or in a total amount equal to or in excess of the support obligation for two months.

Section 3-9-1

Paternity Cases

1. Purpose: This section explains the process for working Paternity Cases.
2. Paternity Cases: The Company or Battalion Commander, as appropriate, will fully investigate every inquiry alleging paternity on the part of a Soldier and provide complete, accurate, and timely information to the individual making the inquiry. The commander should seek legal advice from the servicing SJA office if in doubt as to the requirements or application of his or her requirement under Army Regulation 608-99, Family Support, Child Custody, and Paternity. This advice should not come from a legal assistance attorney who advocates the client's interest.

The Inspector General will advise the complainant to take the complaint to the commander for action. The commander should respond in writing within 14 days of receiving the complainant's request. If the commander fails to respond within the 14 allotted days, the Inspector General can conduct an Investigative Inquiry or Investigation.

Section 3-9-2

Child Custody

1. Purpose: This section explains the process for working Child Custody Complaints.
2. Child Custody: The Company or Battalion Commander, as appropriate, will fully investigate every Inquiry alleging child custody, visitation, or related matters and provide complete, accurate, and timely information to the individual making the Inquiry. The commander should seek legal advice from the servicing SJA office if in doubt regarding the requirements or application of this regulation in a particular case. This advice should not come from a legal assistance attorney who advocates the client's interests.

The Inspector General will advise the complainant to take his or her complaint to the commander for action. The commander should respond in writing within 14 days of receiving the complainant's request. If the commander fails to respond within the 14 allotted days, the Inspector General can conduct an Investigative Inquiry or Investigation.

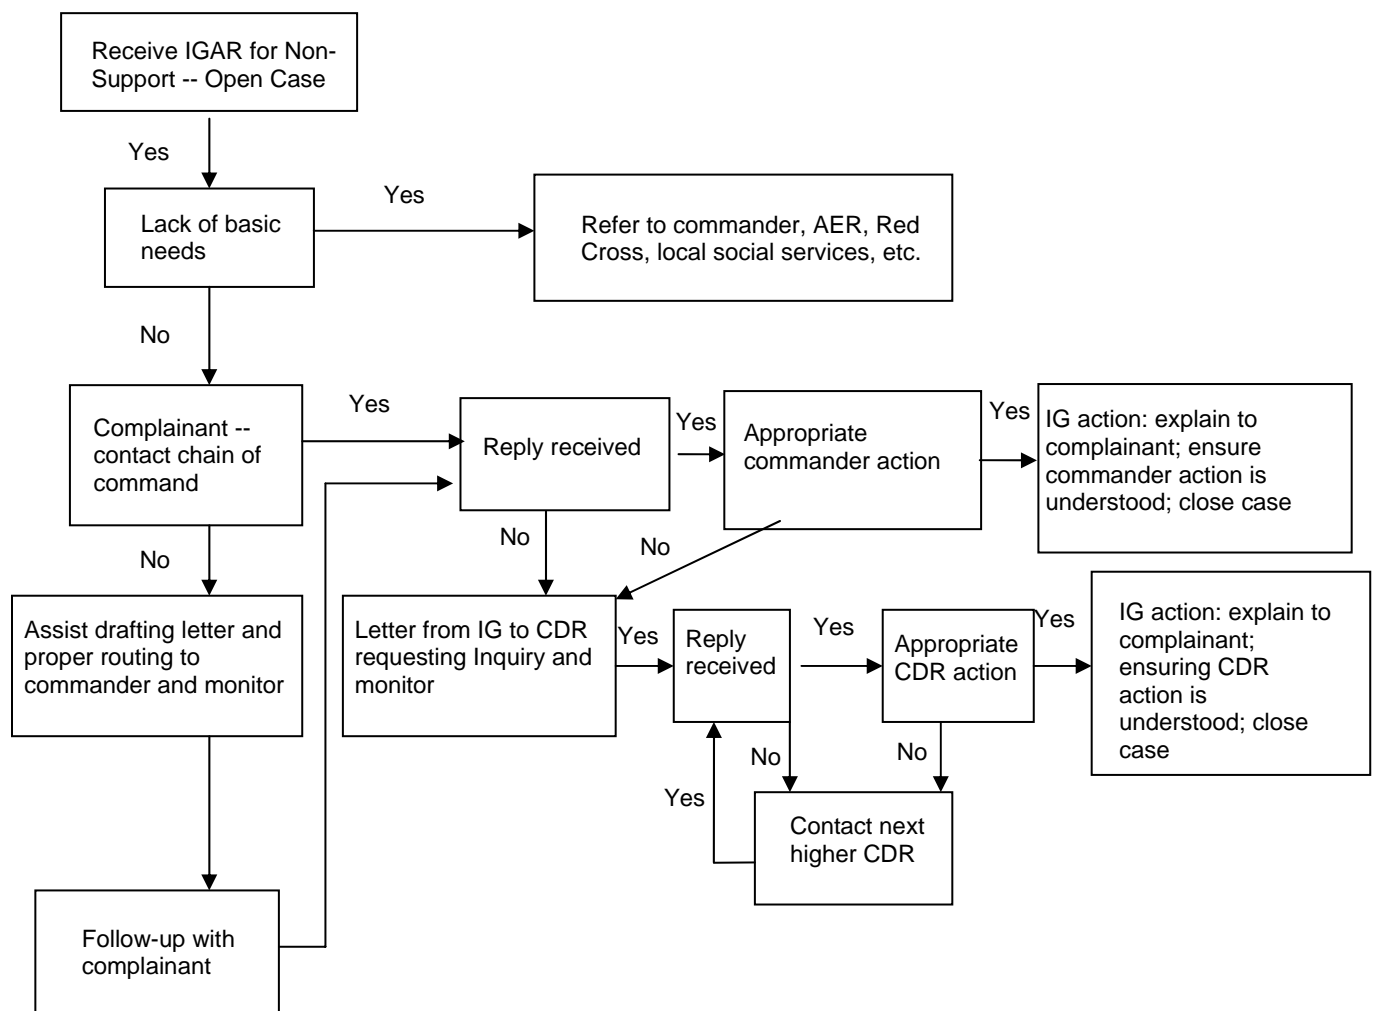

Section 3-9-3

Inspector General Decision Matrix for Non-Support Complaints

1. Purpose: This section illustrates the Inspector General Decision matrix for Non-Support Complaints.

2. Inspector General Decision Matrix for Non-Support Complaints: This matrix is designed to assist the Inspector General in determining what actions the Inspector General and the commander must to take based upon the complainant's response to specific questions.

Chapter 4

Time Limits and Withdrawn Complaints to the Inspector General

Section 4-1 - Complaints Not Received in a Timely Manner

Section 4-2 - Withdrawn Complaints

Section 4-1

Complaints Not Received in a Timely Manner

1. Purpose: This section explains the procedures for processing an IGAR not received in a timely manner.

2. Complaints not received in a timely manner: Complaints must be presented to an IG in a timely manner in order to be resolved effectively. An IG is not required to look into a complaint if the complainant has failed to present the matter to an IG within one year of learning of an alleged problem or wrongdoing or if more than three years have elapsed since the date of the problem or wrongdoing. The IG will thoroughly analyze the complaint for all issues and allegations, open a case in the IGARS database, and inform the complainant that the request is not timely.

a. ACOM, ASCC, or DRU IGs and DAIG may accept and refer complaints submitted between three and five years after the alleged wrongdoing where extraordinary circumstances justify the complainant's delay in reporting the allegation or issue -- or in cases of special Army interest. ACOM, ASCC, or DRU IGs may also approve for action complaints received by subordinate IG offices that occurred between three and five years after the alleged wrongdoing and where extraordinary circumstances exist. ACOM, ASCC, or DRU IGs -- and DAIG -- will serve as the Office of Record when referring such cases to a lower-level IG.

b. The TIG must give a local Inspector General approval to work any IGAR presented more than five years after an event occurred. The complainant always has the freedom to send the IGAR to TIG for final disposition. The TIG is the final authority in the event the complainant is not satisfied with the local Inspector General's decision.

c. This time limit does not invest IGs with the authority to decline a referral from IG, DOD, or a Member of Congress (MC); in addition, the time limit does not apply to the requirement to report allegations against senior officials in accordance with paragraphs 1-4b (5)(e) of Army Regulation 20-1.

Example: A complainant submits an IGAR to a local Inspector General that is four years old. The Inspector General will thoroughly analyze the entire complaint for issues and allegations, and, if the IG does not see any documents or other evidence available, the Inspector General will inform the complainant that the IGAR is not timely. If the IG thinks there is enough evidence to work the case, he or she must obtain approval from the ACOM, ASCC, or DRU IG before proceeding.

Withdrawn Complaints

1. Purpose: This section explains the procedures for processing a complainant's request to withdraw a complaint.
2. Withdrawn Complaints: At any point following receipt of a complaint, the complainant or the initiator may ask to withdraw the IGAR. The Inspector General decides whether or not to continue based on the best interests of the Army or the command. If the Inspector General decides to continue the case, he does not require the permission of the complainant. If he accepts the request to withdraw the complaint but keeps the case open, he should change the case name from that of the complainant to a generic title; in addition, the Inspector General is no longer required to provide a final response.

The Inspector General may want to ask the complainant why he or she wants to withdraw the complaint. Possible reprisal, coercion, or duress are issues of concern for Inspectors General. Inspectors General will not suggest that a complainant withdraw a complaint; however, if the complainant desires to do so, Inspectors General will require a written request to document properly the withdrawal. In some instances, complainants have requested confidentiality. When a person who withdraws a complaint provides information about impropriety or wrongdoing, the Inspector General may disclose the complainant's identity to detailed Inspectors General, the supporting legal advisor, and to the Directing Authority without the complainant's consent unless the Inspector General determines that such disclosure is unnecessary or prohibited during the course of an inquiry or investigation.

Civilian Employee Categories

Section 5-1 - Appropriated Fund Employees

Section 5-2 - Non-Appropriated Fund Employees

Section 5-3 - Local Nationals

Section 5-4 - Contractors

Section 5-1

Appropriated Fund Employees

1. Purpose: This section explains how Inspectors General handle requests for assistance from Appropriated Fund Employees.
2. Appropriated Fund Employees: Appropriated Fund (APF) employees are U.S. citizens paid from funds appropriated by Congress and governed by Federal civil service laws. The Office of Personnel Management (OPM) administers the laws governing APF employees. APF employees include General Schedule (GS) civilians working in DoD or in specific services such as the Army and Navy.

The Inspector General provides assistance on an area basis, which means that even APF civilians can seek help from the nearest Inspector General office. As in all cases, the Inspector General receiving the request for assistance must determine if the request is appropriate for the Inspector General and, if not, refer it to the appropriate agency.

Section 5-2

Non-Appropriated Fund Employees

1. Purpose: This section explains how Inspectors General handle requests for assistance from Non-Appropriated Fund Employees.

2. Non-Appropriated Fund Employees: Non-Appropriated Fund (NAF) employees are paid from funds generated through the sale of goods and services. They are civilians, usually from the local labor market, or off-duty U.S. military personnel who compete for employment on the basis of merit.

NAF employees play an important role in providing morale and recreation services to military personnel and their family members. Army clubs, guest houses, child-care centers, craft shops, bowling centers, swimming pools, gymnasiums, and many other NAF activities employ a considerable number of employees at most Army installations.

Army Regulation 215-3, NAF-Personnel Policies and Procedures, establishes policies and procedures applicable to Department of the Army NAF employees. These policies are designed to maintain uniform, fair, and equitable employment practices in keeping with the Army's traditional concept of being a good employer. CPAC provides guidance and personnel support to NAF managers who are responsible for administering the NAF personnel program.

The Inspector General will treat requests for assistance from NAF employees in the same manner as Appropriated Fund employees. If the issues are appropriate for the Inspector General, the Inspector General will provide the necessary assistance. If not, the Inspector General will refer the matter to the appropriate agency. Be careful in making the decision to grant an exception to policy for any reason or circumstance. An Inspector General may inadvertently deprive an employee of his or her right to due process. If there is a procedure or system in place with Civilian Personnel Office (CPO), Equal Employment Office (EEO), or a labor union, the Inspector General must know the applicable procedure or system (e.g., written policy, negotiated agreement, etc.) as it relates to the grievance procedures.

Section 5-3

Local Nationals

1. Purpose: This section explains how Inspectors General handle requests for assistance from the Local Nationals.
2. Local Nationals: Local National employees are normally hired to work in overseas duty stations such as South Korea and Germany. Federal law and DoD policy are consistent with of the applicable Status of Forces Agreements that form the basis of these employment systems. Within this framework, administration must be consistent with host-country practices, with U.S. law, and the management needs of the Army based upon Department of the Army requirements.
3. Civilian Personnel Agencies or Activities: Office of Personnel Management (OPM) is the central personnel agency of the Executive Branch with delegation of authority from the President to administer most Federal laws and executive orders dealing with all aspects of personnel administration and related subjects. Some laws and executive orders place certain personnel management responsibilities directly on agency or department heads subject to OPM policy and review.

In other cases, OPM has authority by statute and delegation to establish specific program standards and regulate and control the means of carrying out major aspects of agency / department personnel management.

The Inspector General will treat requests for assistance from Local National employees in the same manner as Appropriated Fund employees. If the issue is appropriate for the Inspector General, the Inspector General will provide the necessary assistance. If not, the Inspector General will refer the matter to the appropriate agency. Be careful in making the decision to grant an exception to policy for any reason or circumstance. An Inspector General may inadvertently deprive an employee of his or her right to due process. If there is a procedure or system in place with Civilian Personnel Office (CPO), Equal Employment Office (EEO), or a labor union, the Inspector General must know the applicable procedure or system (e.g., written policy, negotiated agreement, etc.) as it relates to the grievance procedures.

Section 5-4

Contractors

1. Purpose: This section explains how Inspectors General process requests for assistance from Contractors.
2. Contractors: The Inspector General must analyze the substance of complaints and requests for assistance from contractors involved in commercial activities, procurement activities, or contracting to determine if the complaints are proper for Inspector General action. Contractor activities normally fall within the jurisdiction of other established avenues of redress. Coordinate with the support Staff Judge Advocate (SJA), general counsel, or DAIG Legal Advisor for questions or issues concerning complaints from contractor personnel.

General requests for assistance may be rendered by the Inspector General. This assistance may include referring contractors to the appropriate agency to work a specific issue.

Chapter 6

Civilian IGARs Not Appropriate for an Inspector General

Section 6-1 - Civilian Grievances

Section 6-2 - Inspector General Decision Matrix for DoD Civilian Complaints

Section 6-1

Civilian Grievances

1. Purpose: This section explains how Inspectors General process civilian employee grievances.
2. Grievances: Code of Federal Regulations, Department of Defense Civilian Personnel Manual (CPM), Army Regulations, and local collective bargaining agreements include procedures for processing grievances, appeals, and Equal Employment Opportunity (EEO) complaints. These complaints pertain to all aspects of employment. As the Inspector General, your role in these cases usually involves determining the nature of the complaint and where the person should take the complaint for action. In most situations, these complaints are not appropriate for Inspector General action except to ensure due process unless they fall into the fifth category below. Army Regulation 20-1, Inspector General Activities and Procedures, paragraph 4-4k, provides guidance on how to handle the various categories of civilian complaints as follows:
 - a. Refer grievances within the purview of the DoD CPM and the local collective bargaining agreement to the Chief, Civilian Personnel Advisory Center (CPAC) for information and assistance.
 - b. Refer appeals of adverse action within the purview of 5 U.S.C., Sections 7701 through 7703 to the CPAC for information and assistance.
 - c. Refer Equal Employment Opportunity (EEO) complaints, including reprisals for protected EEO activity, within the purview of 29 Code of Federal Regulations (CFR), 1614, and Army Regulation 690-600 to the local EEO counselor for action and resolution.
 - d. Refer complaints of retaliation or reprisal (Whistleblower) within the purview of 5 U.S.C., 2301 and 2302 to the Office of Special Counsel (OSC). In the case on Non-Appropriated Fund employees, refer them to Inspector General, DoD.
 - e. Civilian complaints involving matters that do not directly affect the employment, situation, or well-being of the individual will be worked by the Inspector General. Examples include complaints or allegations against third parties and reports of alleged misconduct, mismanagement, or other matters requiring command attention.
3. Inspector General Actions: The Inspector General must analyze a complaint upon receipt to determine the category and Inspector General appropriateness. The Inspector General should consult the following individuals as necessary:
 - a. The Staff Judge Advocate (SJA).
 - b. The Chief, Civilian Personnel Advisory Center.
 - c. The Equal Employment Opportunity (EEO) Office.
 - d. Army Regulations and Public Laws.

4. Appeal for Adverse Action: If the IGAR is a grievance or appeal, the Inspector General will refer the employee to the CPAC for information and assistance. Also, the Inspector General will advise the employee of procedures and timelines provided by regulation.

If the complainant, while understanding due process and presenting valid reasons for not exercising the employee grievance channel, insists on Inspector General involvement, the Inspector General may, as an exception to policy, accept the IGAR and work it. The IGAR should be in writing. If a locally negotiated grievance procedure exists, it must be used. An Inspector General Inquiry or Investigation can only determine the facts of the case. Subsequent correction of the record or change of a personnel action may still require submission of a request by the civilian to the appropriate agency.

5. Equal Employment Opportunity (EEO): If the IGAR pertains to a complaint based on discrimination or allegations of reprisal, harassment, or intimidation for filing such a complaint, the Inspector General should:

a. Advise the complainant to contact the EEO officer or counselor for information and assistance in processing the complaint.

b. Not accept EEO complaints per Army Regulation 20-1, Inspector General Activities and Procedures, paragraph 4-4k (3) b.

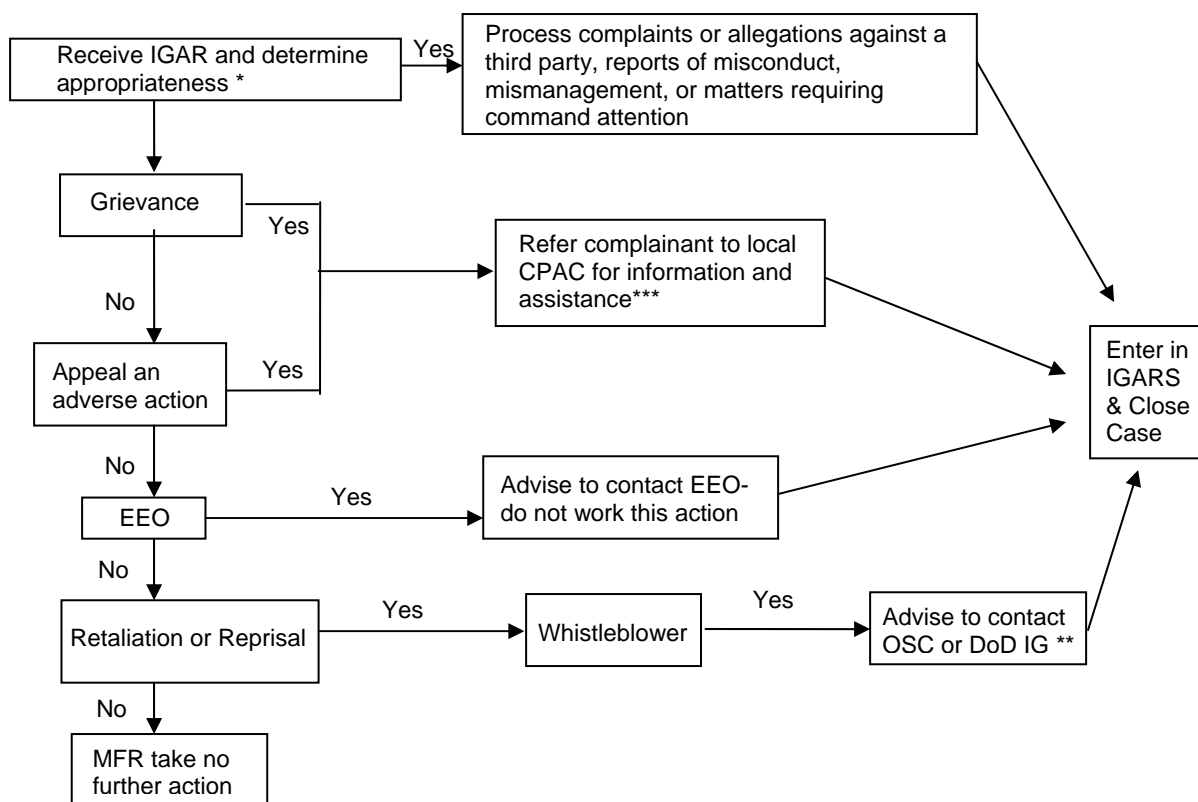

6. IGPA and IGARS Database: In all cases involving civilians, the IG will thoroughly analyze the entire complaint and look for systemic issues or trends that might be IG or command appropriate. Furthermore, the IG will enter a case into IGARS annotating the IG's referral of the complainant to the appropriate agency.

Section 6-2

Inspector General Decision Matrix for DoD Civilian Complaints

1. Purpose: This section explains the Inspector General Decision Matrix for DoD Civilian Complaints.
2. Inspector General Decision Matrix for DoD Civilian Complaints: This Inspector General Decision Matrix will assist the Inspector General in either working the case or referring it to the proper agency. The Inspector General will determine the appropriate course of action in step two of the seven-step IGAP.

Inspector General Matrix for DoD Civilian Complaints

* See Army Regulation 20-1, Inspector General Activities and Procedures, paragraph 4-4k (4), if the commander directs the Inspector General to investigate or inquire into allegations associated with a complainant's grievance that is being processed through appropriate channels.

 Appropriated Fund Employee: contact Office of Special Council (OSC); Non-Appropriated Fund Employee: contact DoD Inspector General.

 If the complainant insists on the Inspector General working the case, see Army Regulation 20-1, Inspector General Activities and Procedures, for further guidance.

Chapter 7

Congressional Inquiries

Section 7-1 - Congressional Inquiries in Command Channels

Section 7-2 - Congressional Inquiries in Inspector General Channels

Section 7-1

Congressional Inquiries in Command Channels

1. Purpose: This section explains how Inspectors General process Congressional Inquiries in Command Channels.
2. Congressional Inquiries in Command Channels: Sometimes referrals from a Member of Congress (MoC) on behalf of constituents who may be a Soldier, family member, or private citizen will flow down through command channels. The Army Office of the Chief of Legislative Liaison (OCLL) receives cases from the MoC and refers them to either the Army Staff, the chain of command (Adjutant General [AG]), congressional channels, or to DAIG Assistance Division.

When the Inspector General receives a request directly from the MoC or from the installation or activity's congressional liaison office, the Inspector General will notify DAIG Assistance Division expeditiously. If the command or activity's congressional liaison office receives a case in which the Inspector General is currently working or has already completed an Inspector General Inquiry, the local Inspector General must inform the tasking official that the response will be forwarded through Inspector General channels to DAIG Assistance Division. These cases are handled as Inspector General cases. DAIG Assistance Division is the office of record for these cases and will contact the Office of the Chief, Legislative Liaison, to transfer the case to DAIG Assistance Division. Once the inquiry is complete, the local Inspector General will forward the Report of Investigation or Investigative Inquiry through the ACOM, ASCC, or DRU Inspector General to DAIG Assistance Division. DAIG Assistance Division, not the local IG, will prepare the final response to the complainant on behalf of the MoC and furnish copies to OCLL and the Inspector General office that processed the case.

National Guard Inspectors General process Congressional Inquiries in the following manner. If an inquiry is received directly from a MoC and there is no indication that the OCLL or DAIG Assistance Division has been contacted by that or any other MoC on the same issue, the National Guard Inspector General may respond directly to the MoC in accordance with that State's customs for handling congressional replies. The National Guard Inspector General will contact DAIG Assistance Division to confirm that a parallel complaint has not been received from OCLL. If a parallel complaint was received at DAIG Assistance Division, a copy of the response to the MoC will be provided to DAIG Assistance Division.

When there is an indication that OCLL or DAIG Assistance Division has been contacted, the completed Inspector General report will be forwarded through the National Guard Bureau to DAIG Assistance Division.

Section 7-2

Congressional Inquiries in Inspector General Channels

1. Purpose: This section explains how Inspectors General process Congressional Inquiries in Inspector General Channels.
2. Congressional Inquiries in Inspector General Channels: DAIG Assistance Division -- the Office of Record for all Congressional Inquiries -- will refer the case in IGARS as Office of Inquiry through the ACOM, ASCC, or DRU Inspector General. The local Inspector General will then work the case as the Office of Inquiry and provide the completed case results to DAIG Assistance Division. For Congressional Inquiries, the local IG -- as the Office of Inquiry -- will not provide final responses to the complainant, subject, or suspect as ordinarily done during Step 5 (Make Notifications) and Step 7 (Close the IGAR, Provide a Final Reply) of the IGAP. DAIG Assistance Division -- as the Office of Record -- provides a final response to the Member of Congress.

Chapter 8

White House Inquiries

1. Purpose: This section explains how Inspectors General process White House Inquiries.
2. White House Inquiries: White House inquiries may include requests from the President, the Vice President, or their spouses. DAIG Assistance Division is the Office of Record for White House Inquiries. DAIG Assistance Division may task an ACOM, ASCC, or DRU Inspector General office to inquire into a White House Inquiry by referring the case in IGARS to the appropriate IG office as Office of Inquiry. The ACOM, ASCC, or DRU Inspector General will then work the case as the Office of Inquiry by conducting the Inquiry and then forwarding the final results to DAIG Assistance Division for a final reply to the Office of the White House. If the local Inspector General needs an extension to the suspense, the ACOM, ASCC, or DRU Inspector General must request that extension through DAIG Assistance Division. DAIG Assistance Division will send an interim reply to the complainant if the extended suspense date is beyond the original expected date of the DAIG Assistance Division reply.

If there are any questions regarding the processing of White House Inquiries, call DAIG Assistance Division for guidance.

Section 9-1

General

1. Purpose: This section describes the processing of DoD Hotline Referrals.
2. General: The DoD Inspector General forwards by email the DoD IG Hotline cases to the Department of the Army Inspector General's (DAIG) Assistance Division, Hotline Branch. The DAIG Hotline Branch does not run a telephonic Hotline operation and does not accept cases submitted by a complainant directly to the Army. The DAIG Hotline Branch makes referrals to Army Commands (ACOM), Army Service Component Commands (ASCC), Direct Reporting Units (DRU), Multi-National Forces - Iraq (MNF-I), Combined Joint Operations - Afghanistan (CJOA), and the Combined Joint Task Force 76 (CJTF-76) Inspectors General, the U.S. Army Criminal Investigation Command, and Army Staff offices. The DoD IG does the initial acknowledgement to the complainant, not SAIG-AC or the field Office of Inquiry. DoD IG advises the complainant that if he or she wishes to know the results of his or her case (or any case), he or she must submit a Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) request. There is no final response to the complainant by any Army IG.
3. Timeline: With the exception of Congressional DoD Hotline cases, SAIG-AC has 120 days to respond to DoD IG with a Hotline Completion Report. Congressional cases have a 90-day suspense. Field Inspectors General are given 90 days by SAIG-AC to finish a non-Congressional case (includes mail and delivery time) and 60 days to finish a Congressional case. If the Office of Inquiry cannot meet SAIG-AC's established suspense date, a DoD Inspector General Progress Report is required. SAIG-AC forwards these Progress Reports to DoD IG.
4. Types: DoD IG determines if a case will be "Action" or "Information Only". Usually "Information Only" cases have limited information provided in them. SAIG-AC and those offices to which SAIG-AC refers the case can convert "Information Only" to "Action" but not vice versa. The DoD IG assigns the primary case number, which is a five-digit number.
 - a. Action Cases: Action cases are managed by the SAIG Hotline Branch and are assigned an IGARS number. SAIG-AC remains the Office of Record and will refer these cases by both email and IGARS to the appropriate Inspectors General. Non-IG cases are referred through the mail. All action cases must be addressed whether it is appropriate for the Army Inspector General or not.
 - b. Information-Only Cases: Information-Only cases are managed by the SAIG Hotline Branch. These cases will not be assigned an IGARS number and are referred only by email to the appropriate Inspectors General. Non-IG cases are referred through the mail. If the case is entered in IGARS by the local IG office, that office becomes the Office of Record. If this type of case is worked by the local IG and nothing is substantiated or founded, the local IG is responsible for final notification to the subject(s) / suspect(s). If an allegation is substantiated or an issue founded, the local IG office working the case must forward a DoD Hotline Completion Report to SAIG-AC, who will open the case in IGARS as Office of Record. SAIG-AC will then refer the case as Office of Inquiry (DAIG remains Office of Record), which the local IG who worked the case will link to their current case, thus changing the status to Office of Inquiry.

Sample SAIG-AC Hotline Referral Memorandum to an IG

SAIG-AC (20-1b)

MEMORANDUM FOR

SUBJECT: Inspector General Hotline Case

1. The enclosed correspondence (Hotline XXXXX / DIH 07-8XXX) is forwarded for Inquiry or Investigation into the matters presented in accordance with The Assistance and Investigations Guide. If upon completing your preliminary analysis of this IGAR, you determine that this matter belongs to an agency outside of your IG area of responsibility, please contact the undersigned at SAIG-AC immediately. Cases will be referred only by SAIG-AC.
2. Your final response must be in the revised Hotline Completion Report format (Enclosure 2). Please refer to The Assistance and Investigations Guide if you need assistance in preparing this report. Forward the Hotline Completion Report with a copy of the completed Electronic IGARS Database 1559 to SAIG-AC by the above suspense date. The final notification of the subject / suspect and appropriate IG will be accomplished by SAIG-AC. Therefore, the Completion Report format has been revised (additional paragraph number 11) to obtain the necessary information for the final notification. The initial notification of the subject / suspect and command is still the responsibility of the office conducting the Investigation or Inquiry.
3. SAIG-AC will notify you when the Completion Report is approved at Army level and forwarded to DoD for final approval. Upon receipt of this closure memorandum, you should wait three months before beginning the countdown for file retention. Do not start the countdown when you close the case in IGARS if you close it upon sending the CR to SAIG-AC. The reason is because that even though you have closed the case in IGARS, a case is not officially closed until DoD IG approves it. Do not forward digitized records of DoD Hotline cases with substantiated allegations until notified by this office to do so.
4. If the suspense date cannot be met, a Progress Report will be submitted to SAIG-AC. An extension from DoD Inspector General cannot be obtained without this Progress Report.
5. If any allegation is substantiated or an issue founded, address what corrective action if any (administrative, punitive, or management actions) was taken. If the command chose to take no action, please state that fact.
6. SAIG-AC is the IGAR Office of Record. This case will be referred to your office as Office of Inquiry in the IGARS database. Request that you notify this office within two business days if any field-grade officer or enlisted Soldier in the grade of E-8 or above is identified as a subject / suspect. Allegations against a Colonel (promotable), General Officer, and Senior Executive Service (SES) civilian will be reported immediately to SAIG Investigations Division. Complete identification (name, SSN, grade / rank, unit / agency) is required upon notification and at case closure.

7. The point of contact at this office is the undersigned at DSN 329-1060, commercial (703) 601-1060.

Section 9-2

General Guidance for the Preparation of DoD IG Hotline Completion Reports

1. Purpose: This section describes the guidelines for preparing a DoD Hotline Completion Report (CR).
2. General Guidance for the Preparation of DoD Hotline Completion Reports (CR):
This section details the process for preparing a DoD Inspector General Hotline Completion Report (CR). The Completion Report format is dictated by DoD IG and can be found at the end of this section. The DoD IG is the final approving authority to close a case, so the Office of Inquiry will not tell a complainant that a case is closed just because the Office of Inquiry believes it has completed its part. Substantiated allegations require a legal review. The legal representative may sign at the bottom of the Completion Report, or the separate legal review will be submitted along with the Completion Report.

The reason for the Completion Report is to explain what was found during an Assistance Inquiry, Investigative Inquiry, or Investigation. The key thing to remember when writing the CR is that the writer has to make a concise, detailed presentation that someone unfamiliar with the situation and the applicable guidelines can understand and be convinced that the finding is sound and based on a thorough Inquiry or Investigation. All allegations and issues in the complaint must be addressed. If the command or the field IG has previously worked the same exact allegations or issues, the command product or IG product may be used as evidence if the IG feels the allegations or issues in the Hotline case were thoroughly addressed. Paragraph 6 of the CR must contain the following information:

- a. The first subparagraph will cover the background of the case: When was the complaint received? What is the complaint about? Was a command product used to write the CR? Did the Inspector General use the command product and follow-up Inquiry to address all the allegations and issues? Each allegation must be written in the proper IG format. Always frame the allegation in the past tense. You must use names and not position titles. Good sources for standards are the legal office, functional experts, and Inspector General technical channels. If the Inspector General does not have the necessary parts to form an allegation, it may only be an issue or a matter of concern. These issues or matters must also be addressed.
- b. Another subparagraph will contain a list of the people (names, ranks, and positions) interviewed to obtain evidence about the allegation or issue. Specify if the Inspector General or the Investigating Officer of a command product did the interviewing. Specify whether testimony can be released outside official channels in accordance with FOIA.
- c. Another subparagraph will contain a list of the documents reviewed to obtain evidence about the allegation or issue. Include the complainant's letter.

d. Presentation and discussion of the evidence will follow in one or more subparagraphs.

(1) The Inspector General will thoroughly present all the key evidence by witness(es) and document(s) that the Inspector General gathered (or which the Inspector General is extracting from a command product that answers the allegation adequately) and which led the Inspector General to a finding. Due to the volume of cases processed by the DoD Inspector General, no attachments are allowed. The DoD Inspector General requires that each CR be a stand-alone document.

(2) After the evidence is presented, the Inspector General will tie it together in the discussion section. The Inspector General will explain why the allegation was substantiated or not substantiated, or why the issue was founded or unfounded.

e. Conclusion. The final subparagraph will repeat the allegation using the exact wording previously used. Copy and paste the same allegation and add whether that allegation was substantiated or not substantiated.

f. Disposition. The usual statement here is "Recommend that the case be closed." If any allegations were substantiated (or issues founded), the Inspector General will address the corrective action(s) taken by the command or that the command chose to take no action. (Recommendations by the Inspector General will not satisfy this requirement.) Hotline cases must remain open until all administrative and / or punitive actions, if any, taken by the command are completed. If the command conducts a follow-on Investigation, the Inspector General will wait for the results before writing the CR. If the command determines that no corrective action will be taken, this decision must be stated in the CR. If the case involves recoupment of funds from an individual by Defense Finance and Accounting Service (DFAS), the Inspector General must report that the command has initiated the paperwork for recoupment and the amount of money involved. The DoD Inspector General will follow through with DFAS to see if DFAS has actually recouped the money.

3. Sample DoD Hotline Completion Report: A sample DoD Hotline Completion Report to be written by an IG appears on the next page. Non-IGs are given a slightly different sample when the case is referred.

Sample of a DoD Hotline Completion Report

DoD Hotline Completion Report
(Date initially written; if revised, add final revision date)

1. Name of Examining Official: (Name of Inspector General who conducted the Inquiry or Investigation, or name of Inspector General who wrote the CR based on information from a command product).

2. Rank / Grade of Examining Official:

3. Duty Position and Telephone of Examining Official:

4. Organization of Examining Official:

5. Hotline and DIH Control Numbers:

6. Scope of Examination, Findings, Conclusions, and Recommendations: This paragraph should go into sufficient detail concerning the allegation(s) or issue(s), evidence collected, discussion of the evidence, conclusion pertaining to each allegation and / or issue, and any corrective action.

a. Background: Specify what the complaint is about, when the complaint was received, if the Inspector General conducted the Inquiry upon which the CR is based, if a command product was the only evidence used to write the CR, and any additional follow-on Inquiry by the Inspector General.

b. The following people were interviewed by (select one: Inspector General or command product Investigation Officer) during this (select one: Investigative Inquiry / Assistance Inquiry / Investigation). Follow the Assistance and Investigations Guide, Chapter 2, for the proper format of an allegation.)

(1) Presentation of evidence: Present the key evidence provided by each of the interviewees and documents. Be sure to specify what the standard says.

(2) Discussion: Discussion paragraphs are used to tie the items of evidence together. The Inspector General should discuss the lowest levels of evidence and build toward the combination of facts, which will support the Inspector General's decision. The last part of this section should be a statement explaining why the allegation was or was not substantiated.

(3) Conclusion: Repeat the allegation using the same wording as written earlier in paragraph 6d and add the finding (substantiated, not substantiated). If substantiated, address the corrective action (i.e. the command chose not to take any action; the Soldier received an Article 15, etc.).

e. Allegation 2: Follow the same process as with the first allegation above.

Criminal Investigation Command Cases

1. Purpose: The purpose of this section is to describe the guidelines for referring a DoD Hotline case to the Criminal Investigation Command.
2. Criminal Investigation Command (CID) Cases: Obvious criminal cases are referred by SAIG-AC Hotline Branch directly to the Criminal Investigation Command (CID) at Fort Belvoir, Virginia. CID will prepare a Completion Report with their findings. If the Office of Inquiry discovers during the Preliminary Analysis that all or part of the case should be referred to the Criminal Investigation Command, the Inspector General must contact the SAIG-AC Hotline Branch so that the case can be formally referred -- partially or completely -- by SAIG-AC to CID Operations, Fort Belvoir, Virginia. The Office of Inquiry will not refer a case to the local CID office.

If a case is split between an Inspector General and the Criminal Investigation Command, each agency must prepare a Completion Report on the portion worked by that office. The CID Completion Report may not show corrective action; so, if necessary, SAIG-AC may contact the Inspector General to address that corrective action directly with the command.

Section 9-4

Documents Required for Forwarding with Completion Report

1. Purpose: This section describes the documents needed when forwarding a DoD Hotline Completion Report (CR) to SAIG-AC.
2. Documents Required for Forwarding with Completion Report: Each CR prepared by an Inspector General will be forwarded with a completed Electronic IGARS Database 1559 and a legal review (if there is a substantiated allegation) through the appropriate ACOM, DRU, ASCC, MNF-I, CJOA, or CJTF-76 IG to SAIG-AC. SAIG-AC will not accept CRs without their written approval. CRs prepared by non-IGs will be forwarded with a legal review (if there is a substantiated allegation) through the appropriate chain of command to SAIG-AC.

Section 9-5

Subject / Suspect Notification

1. Purpose: This section describes the subject / suspect notification procedures for DoD Hotline Cases.
2. Subject / Suspect Notification: SAIG-AC, when it is the Office of Record, will do the final notification of the subject / suspect (including CID cases) and notify the appropriate IG / Army Staff (excluding CID) when the case is approved at the Army level. The Hotline Completion Report will then be forwarded to the DoD Inspector General for final approval. Initial subject / suspect notification is the responsibility of the Inspector General conducting the Inquiry / Investigation. Mailing addresses for the subject / suspect must be included in paragraph 11 of the Completion Report.

A sample letter SAIG-AC uses for final subject / suspect notification appears on the next page.

Quality Assurance Review and File Maintenance

1. Purpose: This section describes the Quality Assurance Review and file maintenance process.
2. General: The DoD Inspector General conducts formal Quality Assurance Reviews (QAR) of selected Hotline cases completed by field Inspectors General (DoDI 7050.8). A sample QAR is listed below.

Sample of a Quality Assurance Review (QAR)

Quality Assurance Review (DoDI 7050.8)

1. The Inspector General, DoD, conducts formal QARs of selected completed Hotline cases and examines the areas listed below. Therefore, all Hotline Inquiries and Investigations should be conducted and Completion Reports written utilizing the following guidelines to ensure a quality product for possible inclusion in the QAR:
 - a. The timeliness of the Inquiry / Investigation. Adherence to the established Hotline suspense is essential. When the established suspense cannot be met, an interim Progress Report must be submitted to DAIG-AC requesting a new suspense date and the reasons for the delay.
 - b. The independence and objectivity of the examining official. Independence is generally not a problem in cases conducted by detailed Inspectors General. DoD is concerned that Inspectors General be objective and that there is no perception of intimidation by high-ranking officials of Inspectors General conducting Inquiries / Investigations.
 - c. The adequacy of the documentation in the file to support the conclusions. Adequate documentation must be maintained in the file to support the findings and conclusions. The official examination file should contain the following:
 - (1) The names of those interviewed; the date, time, and place of the interviews; and notes or summary of the discussion.
 - (2) Identification of all records / documents reviewed, the findings, their location, and the person assisting the Inspector General. All documentation produced must be maintained as a part of the file (use the Army rule: after the case has been declared closed, retain the file for 30 years if substantiated and three years if not substantiated).
 - (3) A copy of the DoD Hotline complaint (referral).
 - (4) A copy of the Completion Report.

- (5) Investigator notes.
- (6) Case-generated memoranda and correspondence.
- (7) Description of all other evidence collected.

d. The overall adequacy of the Inquiry. Consider the following to determine if the completed report will be adequate when reviewed:

- (1) Was the Examining Official independent and qualified?
- (2) Were all the allegations and issues addressed?
- (3) Was the examination timely?
- (4) Were all the key individuals interviewed?
- (5) Were all the relevant questions asked?
- (6) Was all the relevant documentation collected and reviewed to support the conclusions?
- (7) Was a legal or technical review requested when necessary?
- (8) Did the Examining Official demonstrate common sense in the approach to answering the allegations?
- (9) Are the findings and conclusions accurately reflected in the report?
- (10) If appropriate, was corrective action taken and reported?
- (11) Army Requirements: Was there an Electronic IGARS Database 1559, and was it approved by the appropriate highest level IG office prior to being sent to SAIG-AC?

Chapter 1

Overview

Section 1-1 - Introduction and Purpose

Section 1-2 - Definitions

Section 1-3 - Rights and Protections

Section 1-4 - Inspector General Action Process Chart

Section 1-1

Introduction and Purpose

1. Purpose: The purpose of this section is to provide IGs with an overview of the recommended procedures and techniques for implementing the regulatory requirements relating to IG investigations and investigative inquiries in accordance with Army Regulation (AR) 20-1.
2. Scope: If, in the process of resolving Inspector General Action Requests (IGARs), preliminary analysis (step two) reveals possible wrongdoing by an individual, the fact-finding process (step four) will either be an investigative inquiry or an investigation. In this section of the guide, we describe the principles and philosophies of IG investigative inquiries and investigations as well as the techniques used to conduct them. The techniques discussed are based on field experience and are effective but cannot be applied inflexibly. Every case you encounter will be unique -- the facts and circumstances will differ. Consequently, you must apply sound judgment based upon your training, experience, knowledge of the case at hand, and the desires of your commander while ensuring that you adhere to the provisions of AR 20-1.
3. Caution: Before conducting an investigation or investigative inquiry, you should review Chapter 8, The Inspector General Investigations Function, of AR 20-1, to ensure that you are familiar with the requirements of an investigation and an investigative inquiry.

Section 1-2

Definitions

1. AR 15-6 Investigation. A formal or informal investigation conducted by an officer or board of officers under the authority of the commander conducted IAW AR 15-6, Procedure for Investigating Officers or Boards of Officers. The findings of a formal AR 15-6 investigation are conveyed to the commander in a DA Form 1574, Report of Proceedings by Investigating Officer / Board of Officers. A commander is not bound or limited to the findings or recommendations of the investigation or board and may direct findings or take less action than recommended by the investigation. The results of an AR 15-6 investigation can be used for adverse action against the subject or suspect of the investigation.
2. Article 32 Investigation. The Fifth Amendment constitutional right to grand jury indictment is expressly inapplicable to the Armed Forces. In its absence, Article 32 of the Uniform Code of Military Justice (Section 832 of Title 10, United States Code) requires a thorough and impartial investigation into charges and specifications before they may be referred to a general courts-martial (the most serious level of courts-martial). The purpose of this pretrial investigation is to inquire into the truth of the matter set forth in the charges, to consider the form of the charges, and to secure information to determine what disposition should be made of the case in the interest of justice and discipline. The investigation also serves as a means of pretrial discovery for the accused and defense counsel in that copies of the criminal investigation and witness statements are provided and witnesses who testify may be cross-examined.
3. Commander's Inquiry. In accordance with (IAW) the Manual for Courts Martial, Rule 303, commanders are required to inquire into allegations of misconduct by members of their command when informed of possible offenses that can be tried by courts-martial. These inquiries are normally informal and do not require a written report. The results of a commander's inquiry under this provision can be used for adverse action against the subject or suspect of the inquiry.
4. Criminal Investigation (CID). Army CID Command is responsible for the conduct of criminal investigations in which the Army is, or may be, a party of interest as defined in AR 195-2. Army CID Special Agents conduct criminal investigations that range from death to fraud, on and off military reservations, and, when appropriate, with local, state and other Federal investigative agencies. CID is responsible for investigating felonies, complex misdemeanors, and property-related offenses when the value is greater than $1,000.00. IAW AR 195-2, CIDC or MPI do not normally investigate allegations of adultery and fraternization unless the allegations are tied to greater offenses. The results of a CID can be used for adverse action against the subject or suspect of the investigation.
5. Criminal Offense. Any criminal act or omission as defined and prohibited by the Uniform Code of Military Justice (UCMJ), US Code, State or local codes, foreign law, or international law or treaty.

6. Directing Authority. Any Army official who has the authority to direct the conduct of an IG investigation or inspection is a Directing Authority. At the Department of the Army, the Directing Authorities are the Secretary of the Army (SA), the Under Secretary of the Army (USofA), the Army Chief of Staff (CSA), the Army Vice Chief of Staff (VCSA), and The Inspector General (TIG). Commanders and Directors who are authorized detailed IGs on their staffs may direct IG investigations and inspections within their commands. The SA, USofA, CSA, VCSA, and TIG may direct IG investigations and inspections within subordinate commands as necessary. Although command and State IGs may direct IG investigative inquiries, they are not considered to be Directing Authorities.

7. Felony. A criminal offense that is punishable by death or confinement for more than one year.

8. Investigation.

a. AR 20-1, paragraph 8-1b(1), states that an IG investigation is "A fact-finding examination by a detailed IG into allegations, issues or adverse conditions to provide the directing authority a sound basis for decisions and actions. IG investigations normally address allegations of wrongdoing by an individual and are authorized by written directives." IG investigations involve the systematic collection and examination of evidence that consists of testimony; documents; and possibly physical evidence. The results are reported using the Report of Investigation (ROI) format addressed in Chapter 8 of AR 20-1 and this guide. Occasionally, IG investigations are used to examine systemic issues, especially when the possibility of some wrongdoing exists. For example, you might investigate an allegation that the development of a weapon system is fraught with fraud, waste, and abuse.

b. IG investigations are characterized by:

(1) An investigation directive issued by the commander providing written authority to examine the issues or allegations in question.

(2) A mandatory process providing a road map of how to proceed. These steps standardize procedures, protect individual rights, ensure proper command notifications, and protect the confidentiality of individuals and the IG system.

(3) A required format for documenting the results in the form of a Report of Investigation (ROI).

9. Investigative Inquiry.

a. AR 20-1, paragraph 8-1b(2), defines an IG investigative inquiry as an informal fact-finding process as follows: "An investigative inquiry is the fact-finding process followed by IGs to gather information needed to address allegations of impropriety against an individual that can accomplish the same objectives as an IG investigation. Command and State IGs normally use this investigative process when the involvement of the directing authority is not foreseen. This does not preclude directing authorities from directing an investigative inquiry. The command or State IG typically directs the investigative inquiry and provides recommendations to their commander or to subordinate commanders as appropriate. The investigative inquiry is the primary fact-finding process used by IGs to address allegations."

b. IGs conduct investigative inquiries to gather information needed to respond to a request for assistance or resolve allegations or issues concerning alleged misconduct on the part of an individual(s). An IG investigative inquiry is also done when investigative techniques are appropriate but circumstances do not warrant an IG investigation. An investigative inquiry has no requirement for a written directive from the commander. You may employ investigation techniques (sworn and recorded testimony, for example) when conducting investigative inquiries. These techniques enhance the thoroughness of the fact-finding process. Chapter VI of this section provides recommended techniques for conducting and documenting investigative inquiries. The results are reported using the Report of Investigative Inquiry (ROI) format addressed in Chapter 8 of AR 20-1.

Investigation versus Investigative Inquiry

- Investigations are more formal and require a directive from the commander
- Investigative Inquiries are informal and do not require a directive
- Both are thorough
- Both are fair and impartial
- Both support a decision
- Both are properly documented
- Investigation recommendations – a Detailed IG makes recommendations to the Directing Authority
- Investigative Inquiry recommendations – a Detailed or Assistant IG may make recommendations to subordinate commanders

c. Field IGs frequently conduct investigative inquiries in response to allegations of impropriety. They conduct investigations less frequently. Both forms of fact-finding have the common characteristics of fairness, impartiality, confidentiality, and thoroughness.

10. Military Police Investigation. Investigations conducted by Military Police Investigators (MPI) IAW AR195-2, Criminal Investigation Activities. MPI is responsible for investigating misdemeanors and property-related offenses when the value is less than $1,000.00. The results of an MPI investigation can be used for adverse actions against the subject or suspect of the investigation.

11. Subject. Any person who is alleged to have violated a non-criminal standard (e.g., a non-punitive policy or regulation) is considered a subject during IG Investigations and investigative inquiries.

12. Suspect. Any person who is alleged to have violated a criminal standard (e.g. punitive law, punitive regulation or code, such as the Uniform Code of Military Justice (UCMJ)) is considered a suspect during IG investigations and investigative inquiries.

13. Witness. Any person who provides information to an IG during the conduct of an Investigation or investigative inquiry that has some knowledge to support or refute an allegation is considered a witness. A witness can be a subject-matter expert or a person who saw, heard, or knows something relevant to the issues and allegations being investigated.

Section 1-3

Rights and Protections

1. Overview. IG investigative inquiries and investigations afford individuals against whom allegations are made a broader range of rights and protections (both legal and administrative) than are afforded individuals in a criminal investigation. Chapter 4 of this section discusses these rights and protections.

2. Legal and Administrative Basis. IG investigations and investigative inquiries are administrative and not legal actions. AR 20-1, paragraphs 8-5 and 8-6, specifies the administrative due process afforded during investigations as:

- Advising the subject or suspect of the allegations made against him or her;
- Advising the subject or suspect of the unfavorable information against him or her;
- Giving the subject or suspect the opportunity to comment on unfavorable information which will be used against him or her; and
- Protecting the rights of all persons against self-incrimination.

3. IG's Dual Role. Whether conducting an investigative inquiry or an investigation, the dual role of the IG is to protect the best interests of the U.S. Army and protect the rights and confidentiality of all individuals involved.

4. Flagging Actions. Commanders will not initiate flagging action for individuals under IG investigation. Also, Inspectors General will not advise the commander to initiate flagging action in accordance with AR 600-8-2 because such action could be construed as adverse action. For more specific guidance, review AR 20-1, paragraph 3-3e.

Section 1-4

Inspector General Action Process (IGAP) Chart

Investigations and investigative inquiries are conducted in accordance with the IGAP. The IGAP facilitates a systematic, fact-finding approach to IG problem solving. Specific actions or components of the IGAP are integral to the entire process and are not intended to be a group of isolated steps that are accomplished independent of the process. The process does not require a dogmatic, sequential application of each step for every case. The IGAP allows the IG to accomplish all critical tasks in resolving complaints. Part One of this guide details each step of the IGAP. A chart of the IGAP that outlines the steps used is shown below at Figure II-1. Refer to this chart throughout this part of The Assistance and Investigations Guide.

IG Investigative Inquiry and Investigations Process Preliminary Analysis

1. Overview. IGs begin the IGAP by receiving complaints. Complaints can be made directly to the IG or can be referred to the IG from other sources such as DAIG or the Office of Congressional Liaison. Regardless of the method of receipt, IGs treat each complaint with equal vigor and attention to detail.

2. Refine the Issues and Allegations. In step two, “Conducting IG Preliminary Analysis,” of the seven-step IG Action Process (IGAP), the IG must identify the issues and develop the issues and allegations. If step two of the IGAP process revealed an impropriety, then fact finding (step four of the seven-step process) is either an investigative inquiry or an investigation. This decision-making approach is detailed, structured, and requires additional analysis of the allegations. The process builds upon the analysis performed as part of a preliminary analysis (PA). While additional analysis may appear redundant, it is important. Failing to properly identify the issues and allegations is the number one problem encountered by IGs when they conduct investigative inquiries and investigations.

Issues

1. Definition. Issues are defined as a point in question of law or fact. Simply stated, an issue is something a person states in a complaint into which an IG must inquire. It may be a rationale for why something has transpired or an allegation of wrongdoing by someone or some organization. Issues can become allegations when all four parts of an allegation are present.
2. Requirement. Issue identification is critical to preliminary analysis. IGs must address a complainant's issues during the investigation or investigative inquiry in order to resolve the complaint. Failure to do so frequently results in an IG investigation or investigative inquiry being returned as incomplete, or a follow-on complaint may arise from the dissatisfied complainant alleging you improperly 'white-washed' or 'covered up' a complaint.

Allegations

1. Overview. Complainants do not normally write allegations in a manner that is useful for fact-finding purposes; this responsibility falls to the IG. The IG must take the information from the complainant, research the standards for each issue raised by the complainant, and write a concise allegation that contains four elements: (1) who, (2) the word “improperly,” (3) what acts allegedly occurred, and (4) the standard violated. It is important for the IG to consider each of the four elements of an allegation.

a. Identify the “WHO.” The “who” becomes the subject or suspect in the inquiry or investigation. A “who” must be identified by name and not as a position or job title. For example, you receive a complaint alleging the commander of Company B, 4-4th Armor, improperly used a Government vehicle. You must identify who the company commander was at the time of the alleged impropriety to identify the subject or suspect. He or she should be a military member or DA civilian of your command. If he or she is not in your command, coordinate a hand-off of the case through IG tech channels to another IG. If he or she is a civilian-civilian, consult with your SJA. For example, you receive a complaint that the garrison commander's wife was using an official vehicle to visit the commissary. If she was not a DoD employee, you have no jurisdiction over her. You should make her husband the suspect or subject in this case since he may have permitted her to use the vehicle.

b. Insert the word “IMPROPERLY” in each allegation to ensure that the focus is on impropriety. Although the word improperly may appear redundant and misplaced, it is an essential element of a properly worded allegation. For example, presenting a false travel voucher is always improper by its nature, yet the allegation qualifies the conduct by stating “improperly submitted a false travel voucher in violation of the Joint Travel Regulation.” Also, some standards include language that indicates the inherent wrongfulness of the action. For example, “dereliction of duty” already describes wrongful behavior without the addition of the word “improperly”. In these cases, IGs should not include the word “improperly” in the allegation. For clarification, contact your local SJA or DAIG's Legal Advisor.

c. Describe the “ALLEGED ACTS” that constitute the impropriety. This information is extracted from the interview with the complainant or from the complainant's written request for assistance. The language in an allegation should be kept simple and must be worded in such a way that substantiation represents impropriety. In some cases, the alleged act could be a failure to act such as a commander failing to take action when informed of misconduct by a subordinate. You must also ensure that the focus is correct. In this regard you need to balance specificity and confidentiality. For example, you receive a complaint that a supervisor sexually harassed his secretary during the month of May. You might write the allegation that the supervisor “improperly sexually harassed a female subordinate assigned to Fort Von Steuben.” It is not essential to state the month the event occurred. Do not name the victim of the improper action in the allegation.

d. Research the “STANDARD.” This portion of framing the allegation is often the most difficult and important step in properly writing allegations. You, not the complainant, determine which standard was violated. Often complainants will observe something they believe to be wrong that actually did not violate any standard. The question you must continually ask yourself is: "Do the alleged acts violate law, a regulation, or policy?"

e. If you cannot identify a violation of a standard, you may not have an impropriety, hence no need to investigate or inquire. Be cautious, however. Actions may violate one of the seven Army values: Loyalty, Duty, Respect, Selfless Service, Honor, Integrity, and Personal Courage, or the 14 general ethical principles contained in DoD Directive 5500.7-R, The Joint Ethics Regulation (JER). Other acts might violate common sense or indicate negligence to a degree that allows you to use the provisions of dereliction of duty as a standard. Sometimes there may not be an applicable standard. You cannot substantiate an impropriety for an action that does not violate an established standard. In such cases, it might be appropriate for you to close the case. If in doubt, consult with your SJA.

f. Some acts violate more than one standard. Sexual harassment, for example, violates AR 600-20, Army Command Policy; the JER; and the UCMJ. In selecting the appropriate standard, consult your SJA and discuss the situation surrounding the allegation and determine the applicable standard. Ensure that you apply the standard in effect at the time the alleged impropriety occurred.

g. You may encounter a situation where you are unable to determine a standard, but systemic problems are evident. In such cases, you may elect to inspect or take corrective action rather than to inquire or investigate.

h. There are situations when you identify systemic problems during your inquiry or investigation that violate a standard but do not indicate misconduct (an allegation) on the part of any individual. You may address the systemic issue in the other matters paragraph of the ROI / ROII.

i. It may be necessary for you to interview experts to determine the applicable standards. For example, should you receive allegations of wasteful official travel, you might interview personnel from your servicing finance office to gather information on the provisions of the Joint Federal Travel Regulation (JFTR). When discussing standards with experts other than your SJA, always be aware of the need to maintain confidentiality. Protect the identity of your complainant as well as the identity of the subject or suspect. Describe to the expert the general nature of the allegation and allow the expert to describe how regulations apply. Record the results of the interview as summarized testimony and continue with your own research of the cited regulations.

j. The United States Army Publishing Directorate (USAPD) Web site (www.apd.army.mil) is an excellent source for standards.

2. When writing the allegation, be concise, focusing on a specific type of impropriety. Combining two or more improprieties compounds the elements of proof necessary to substantiate or refute the allegation and inhibits your ability to provide a clearly stated conclusion. For example, combining the improprieties of conducting civilian commercial business using a government computer during duty hours and the impropriety of improper solicitation of gifts from subordinates will entail use of different standards and consequent elements of proof. Should sufficient credible evidence exist to substantiate one impropriety but not the other, what would be your conclusion? "Partially substantiated" is not an acceptable IG conclusion. Write another properly formatted allegation for each act of impropriety.

3. Review the allegation with your SJA. It is always best to consult your the SJA. If you intend to recommend that your commander direct an investigation, ensure you coordinate with the SJA. It is often helpful to ask the SJA what facts you need to substantiate a violation of a standard. Talking to your SJA is particularly vital when dealing with criminal standards. It is critical that you establish whether any of the allegations violated a criminal standard. If they did, the individual must be treated as a suspect rather than a subject.
4. When you formulate the allegations, do not be afraid to tackle complex, technical cases simply because you have no previous experience in that area. Remember: you can call experts as witnesses or make experts temporary assistant IGs for your case. Gather the facts and compare them against the information gleaned from the experts and regulations. IGs without previous technical experience in a specific functional area often conduct excellent inquiries and investigations. You will find that by carefully studying and becoming "smart" in the area you are investigating, you will become extremely knowledgeable.
5. Writing accurate allegations takes practice. Do not hesitate to ask for help from other IGs in your office or through tech channels. When in doubt, don't punt – huddle!

Section 2-4

Examples of Violations of Standards

1. The following are examples of alleged wrongdoing from recent cases. The bulk of allegations are violations of DoD Directive 5500.7-R, The Joint Ethics Regulation (JER), or personal conduct in violation of the UCMJ (for military personnel).

- a. Improperly accepting gifts and gratuities in violation of the JER.
 - Expensive meals from contractors.
 - Expensive departure and retirement gifts.
- b. Misuse of government equipment and employees in violation of the JER.
 - Requiring dining facility personnel to cater social functions.
 - Using government property or personnel to support private organizations.
 - Using dining facility food for change of command receptions or award ceremonies.
 - Requiring a secretary to make personal vacation travel arrangements.
 - Using a driver for personal errands.
- c. Improper personal conduct in violation of AR 600-20, UCMJ, and the JER.
 - Adultery.
 - Improper relationship.
 - Sexual harassment.
 - Public drunkenness.
 - Fraternization with subordinates.
 - Verbal abuse of civilians or soldiers.
- d. Improper procurement activities in violation of the JER.
 - Committing the government to an acquisition without contract authority.
 - Improperly influencing the acquisition process.
 - Giving "inside information" to selected contractors.
- e. Misuse of aircraft or vehicles in violation of the JER.
 - Domicile-to-duty transportation.
 - Unauthorized use by spouses.
 - Use of sedan or aircraft for personal errands.
 - Transporting personal items on military aircraft.
 - Supporting private organizations without authority.

f. Misuse of government funds in violation of the UCMJ (coordinate with CID prior to looking at these allegations).

- Using appropriated funds for unauthorized purposes.
- Diverting government funds for personal use.
- Claiming pay for duty not performed (drill).
- Going TDY principally to conduct personal business or private association business.
- Claiming POV mileage when transported by government sedan.
- Claiming per diem when not in TDY status.

g. Abuse of position or authority in violation of the JER.

- Inadequate or improper response to a subordinate's impropriety, i.e., cover-up or whitewash (failure to take action).
- Coercion (or the perception of coercion) to join a private organization.
- Disregarding regulatory requirements for hiring, assigning, and firing subordinates.
- Using inappropriate language (cursing) at, or in the presence of, subordinates.

2. Special Category Allegations. AR 20-1 requires all allegations against General Officers (GOs), members of the Senior Executive Service (SES), and promotable Colonels to be reported directly to DAIG Investigations Division. This requirement includes allegations made to the chain of command, reports of derogatory information about GO or SES personnel from MPI, CIDC, EEO, EO, etc. as well as the IG. DAIG Investigations Division will determine the method of investigation. Also, allegations against field-grade officers or senior NCOs and allegations of post-employment violations have additional reporting requirements as noted below.

a. Allegations Against GO and SES Personnel. You must refer all GO, SES, and promotable Colonel allegations, including allegations against retired GOs, to DAIG Investigations Division by confidential means within two working days in accordance with paragraph 8-3i (2), AR 20-1. As you continue to gather facts and evidence in an investigative inquiry, you must continually evaluate whether the new allegations or issues are appropriate for your continued involvement. As an example, if you developed GO (or SES) allegations during an investigative inquiry or investigation, you are required to notify DAIG Investigations Division. When in doubt, call DAIG Investigations Division for guidance. If the GO is your boss, you may be concerned about confidentiality and the possible damage that could occur to your relationship with your commander. Make DAIG aware of your concerns. DAIG will take every reasonable step to protect the relationship between you and your boss. You are not authorized to do any preliminary analysis into allegations against GO or SES personnel.

(1) You may inform your commander of the general nature of the allegations against other GOs in the command. Paragraph 8-3i (3), AR 20-1, provides specific guidance concerning allegations against GOs. Should you receive an allegation against your GO commander, contact DAIG Investigations Division for guidance prior to informing your commander. Past experience has shown that IGs who have attempted to "protect" their bosses by informing them of the allegations and / or conducting their own "preliminary analysis" or "preliminary inquiry" have actually exposed the GO and themselves to allegations of reprisal and regulatory violations. The best method of protecting your boss is to report immediately the allegation in accordance with AR 20-1. DAIG Investigations Division will provide you information on what, if anything, to tell your boss.

(2) If DAIG is conducting an investigation within your command, the agency will normally inform your commander. DAIG may not inform you of the investigation, however. Even if you are aware of an investigation, you will not be informed of the specific allegations unless DAIG Investigations Division deems that you have a need to know.

b. Allegations Against Field-Grade Officers and Senior NCOs. Any IGAR containing an allegation against an Army officer in the grade of Major through Colonel or a senior NCO in the grade of Master Sergeant through Command Sergeant Major that has resulted in the initiation of an IG investigation, investigative inquiry, or a command-directed action (e.g., AR 15-6 investigation, commander's inquiry, UCMJ action, etc.) will be reported to DAIG Assistance Division within two working days after receipt in accordance with paragraphs 1-4b (5) (b); 4-7c; and 8-3g of AR 20-1.

c. Post-Employment Violations. Should you receive allegations of post-employment violations (18 USC 207(a), (b) or (c)), coordinate with your command Ethics Counselor (SJA). You will report these types of allegations to the DAIG Legal Advisor for action. If an investigation is required, usually the higher command of the activity involved will be asked by DAIG to conduct the investigation and will be furnished specific guidance by DAIG.

Section 2-5

IG Appropriateness

1. Overview. AR 20-1, paragraph 4-4f, addresses areas where IG involvement is not appropriate. As a general rule, the following issues and allegations are not appropriate for IG involvement:

a. Allegations of serious criminal misconduct such as murder, rape, and grand theft are normally outside the purview of the IG. Furthermore, allegations constituting a felony offense are not appropriate for an IG. However, certain allegations pertaining to acts or omissions that could constitute dereliction of duty, violations of regulations, or conduct unbecoming an officer are not precluded from IG involvement. IGs frequently inquire into and investigate these types of allegations. Consult your SJA or DAIG Legal Division for advice if you are uncertain in this area.

b. When other means of redress are available, IGs will advise complainants to exhaust the prescribed redress or remedy first. IG involvement will include a review of the situation to determine if the complainant was afforded the due process provided by the applicable law or regulation. For example, if a civilian contractor alleged to an IG that a government contract was improperly awarded, the IG would ask the complainant if he or she had appealed the contract in accordance with the Federal Acquisition Regulation (FAR). If the complainant had not made the appeal, you would advise him or her as to the procedure for redress and deem the complaint to be not IG appropriate.

c. Your Directing Authority may require you to conduct an investigation or investigative inquiry into matters that would normally not be IG appropriate. When this situation arises, advise your Directing Authority of the provisions of AR 20-1 and, if still directed to proceed, contact your SJA and your local CIDC office as appropriate.

2. Referral to another form of investigation. If you determine that substantiation of an allegation appears certain during IGPA and that adverse actions against the person involved in the misconduct may be appropriate, you should deem the allegation not appropriate and refer the allegation to your Directing Authority for another form of investigation. For example, if a complainant alleges adultery and provides you with photographs showing the suspect having sexual intercourse with someone other than a spouse, you may conclude that the allegation would be substantiated and that adverse action may result. You may refer the allegation for another form of investigation.

3. Chain of command action. If the chain of command decides to address the issues and allegations made by a complainant, you should afford subordinate commanders the opportunity to conduct a commander's inquiry. IGs try to give the command an opportunity to address problems first.

4. Misconduct by Army Lawyers. Allegations involving professional misconduct by Army lawyers are not IG appropriate. Refer these allegations through DAIG Legal Division to the senior counsel for disposition. See AR 20-1, paragraph 8-3b (5), for further details.

5. Misconduct by Judge Advocate Legal Service members. Allegations involving mismanagement by members of the Judge Advocate Legal Service serving in a supervisory capacity are not IG appropriate. Refer these allegations through DAIG Legal Division to The Judge Advocate General (TJAG) for disposition. See AR 20-1, paragraph 8-3b (6), for further details.

Section 2-6

Course of Action Development

1. Commander's / Directing Authority's Options.

a. Commanders have several options available to resolve allegations of wrongdoing. They may elect to do nothing, pass the allegations to a subordinate commander, refer the case to another investigator (AR 15-6, UCMJ Rule 303, MPI / CID, civil authorities), or conduct either an IG investigative inquiry or investigation. The least desirable option is to do nothing. Avoid recommending this option to your commander as it could result in an allegation being made against both you and your commander for failing to take appropriate action.

b. The decision whether to conduct IG fact-finding or to conduct a non-IG investigation rests with the commander and is usually based on the recommendations of the IG and the SJA. Remember: IGs do not recommend a specific type of investigation – only that the allegations be investigated by another form of investigation. Ensure you coordinate your recommendations with the SJA before you bring allegations to your commander for a decision.

c. Often your purpose for initiating an investigative inquiry into allegations is to determine if a non-IG investigation is appropriate. The subject / suspect may not be known, or the allegation made is so fragmentary that the IG must inquire just to determine if there is an actual allegation. It is important that you understand your commander. There are certain types of allegations that your commander will want to know about immediately. Also, your commander will probably want to be informed immediately when allegations are made against key individuals in the command. On the other hand, your commander may permit you to inquire into some allegations without informing him or her in advance. Many commanders provide either verbal or written guidance to their IGs concerning those topics on which the IG can initiate investigative inquiries without prior approval. As your relationship with your commander evolves, you will gain a better understanding of those issues important to him or her. The key point here is to avoid “blind-siding” your commander.

2. Select a Fact-Finding Process.

a. After you formulate the allegations and determine IG appropriateness, you must determine whether you will conduct an investigative inquiry or recommend that your commander direct an investigation. There are no hard and fast rules to guide you in making this determination. Every case is different. You must evaluate the circumstances at hand and make a decision with which both you and your commander can be comfortable. Deciding which cases to bring to him or her may appear to be a high-risk venture, but as your relationship with your commander develops, you will gain an appreciation for the types of issues of personal interest to him or her. During your initial in-brief with your commander, you should ask for his or her guidance on this subject. Factors to consider when deciding whether to recommend an investigation or an inquiry are:

(1) Seriousness of the Allegations. The allegations are serious and, if substantiated, could result in adverse personnel action or criminal charges against the suspect.

(2) Appropriate Level for Command Decision. Determine which command level the allegations involve for adjudication. Determine to which commander you should make your recommendations. If your recommendation to investigate is appropriate for your commander, then an IG investigation may be appropriate.

(3) Image of Army. Are the issues so sensitive that the image of the Army or the command could be needlessly damaged if confidentiality is not maintained? Confidentiality is a tenet of IG investigations.

(4) Impact on Command. If known, could the allegations impact on the command's ability to function or on the ability of key members of the command to function effectively? Confidentiality is a tenet of IG investigations.

(5) Need to Document. Have the allegations surfaced at a higher level or might surface at a higher level (to include Members of Congress, for example), and is there a requirement for a formal report? IGs document all investigations and investigative inquiries in the ROI / ROII format.

(6) Media Interest. Do the issues have potential media interest (or already have media interest)?

(7) Harm to Soldier. Do the issues have the potential to cause real or perceived harm to a Soldier's career or personal life?

(8) Civilian Involvement. Do the allegations involve civilian-civilians or members of another command not under your Directing Authority's control?

(9) Protection of Confidentiality and Rights. Are the issues and their potential impact such that there is an increased concern for protection of an individual's confidentiality and administrative due process? IG investigations protect the rights of all persons involved.

(10) "Glass House" Allegations. Does the level of responsibility and visibility of individuals against whom allegations are made put them in the "glass house?" These are individuals who may have allegations made against them because of their position rather than because of wrongdoing.

b. Depending on the situation, any combination of these issues might cause you or your commander to resolve the issues with an IG investigation or investigative inquiry. Remember: the primary factor in your decision should be: Do you feel comfortable that your decision to conduct either an inquiry or investigation will satisfy your commander's needs, be thorough, and protect the rights of everyone involved?

3. Nature of IG Investigative Inquiries and Investigations.

a. Fair and Impartial. Your commander will base decisions on the facts you present. Therefore, you must thoroughly investigate and make an accurate, timely, impartial, and complete report. As an impartial fact-finder, you must also report both sides of the story, not just the evidence that supports your conclusion. Additionally, IG investigations and investigative inquiries are always conducted in an overt manner; covert methods are not appropriate for IGs. However, IGs conducting investigative inquiries or investigations are always concerned with confidentiality and must be discreet in the conduct of investigative inquiries and investigations.

b. Limited Distribution of Information. Many allegations by their very existence, whether substantiated or not, have the potential of being disruptive and having a traumatic effect upon the individuals or units concerned. You can minimize these effects by maximizing your protection of confidentiality and limiting distribution of information about the investigation to only those who need to know. See Chapter 3, AR 20-1, for procedures for the release of IG records.

c. Confidentiality. All Department of the Army personnel have a duty to cooperate with IGs. Individuals who provide you information have a reasonable expectation that you will safeguard their identity and the nature of their testimony to the maximum extent possible. Successfully protecting the confidentiality of those with whom you interact is a key component of the IG system as it protects individual privacy and precludes retaliation. This approach also maintains confidence in the IG system and encourages voluntary cooperation and willingness to ask for help or to present a complaint for resolution. However, you must not state or imply a "guarantee" of confidentiality. Information and testimony provided to IGs is used within the Army for official purposes and may be released outside the Army if required by law or regulation.

d. Non-adversarial. IGs conduct investigations in a non-adversarial manner. IGs must conduct themselves professionally, tactfully, and in a non-judgmental manner. IGs must conscientiously avoid becoming biased during the course of an investigation or investigative inquiry. An IG conducting an investigative inquiry or an investigation is not a prosecutor conducting a trial. Remember: the IG's role is to protect the best interests of the government as well as the rights and confidentiality of all involved individuals. This role is accomplished through a dogged pursuit of the truth in a given matter.

e. No Recommendations for Adverse Action.

(1) IGs do not recommend adverse action in the ROI / ROII. Should you determine during the course of an investigative inquiry or investigation that allegations will be substantiated, and that adverse action might be appropriate, you will normally recommend referring the case to another form of investigation or agency (e.g. MPI, CID).

(2) IGs assess facts, draw conclusions, and make recommendations. As stated above, should you conclude that allegations of wrongdoing are substantiated, you might recommend that the commander refer the case to a follow-on investigator. Prior to rendering a report to the commander, you should request the SJA review the ROI and, in some cases, an ROII for legal sufficiency. Accordingly, the SJA may then provide specific recommendations to the commander regarding subsequent action.

(3) IG records may be used as the basis for adverse action only with approval of the Secretary of the Army; Under Secretary of the Army; Chief of Staff, Army; Vice Chief of Staff, Army, or The Inspector General (see paragraph 3-3, AR 20-1). IGs should advise the commander on the possible consequences such action may have on the perceived confidentiality of the IG System. Should IG records be approved for use in adverse action, the records may have to be released to the individual against whom the action is taken. The confidentiality normally afforded to witnesses may be reduced or eliminated.

(4) A Suspension of Favorable Personnel Action (flag) is not initiated during IG investigations. Subjects and suspects of IG investigations do not have favorable personnel actions suspended as this could compromise confidentiality. A flag is initiated by the unit commander and would identify, in a non-confidential environment, the individual as the object of an IG action. If personnel actions are pending, the IG should inform the commander of the allegations and status of the investigation so the commander can make an appropriate decision regarding the personnel action. When an investigation is turned over to another investigator (non-IG), and adverse action is being considered, then a flag may be appropriate.

f. IGs Identify Problems. If during an investigative inquiry or investigation you discover issues or problems not specifically related to the allegation, you can initiate corrective action by bringing the issues to the attention of the commander or the appropriate staff agency. This communication should not compromise confidentiality. An acceptable method would be an extract of pertinent data without revealing protected information. As an example, after investigating allegations of travel-claim fraud, the IG determined that travel claims are not properly processed within the command. The IG could alert the commander and provide the local Finance and Accounting Officer an extract of the pertinent information without revealing confidential information.

Section 2-7

Allegations Often Resolved by an IG Investigative Inquiry or Investigation

1. Overview. Experience has shown that IGs normally look at three classes of allegations: violations of established policy, Standing Operating Procedures (SOPs), and standards; violations of regulatory guidance (non-punitive); and violations of law (UCMJ / USC) or of punitive standards within regulations.
2. Criminal Allegations. IGs normally do not investigate criminal offenses (defined as offenses punishable by fine or imprisonment) that traditionally fall in the category of felonies. However, there are certain violations of criminal law that typically are not investigated by criminal investigators but do reflect on the credibility of the command. Therefore, you may find that your commander directs you to investigate these allegations.
3. Administrative and Standards of Conduct Violations. Violations of Standards of Conduct are among the most typical allegations investigated by IGs. The JER is our standard for ethical conduct. The JER specifically charges DoD component IGs with investigating ethics matters within their respective components. All violations of punitive regulations are normally treated as criminal although they are frequently investigated by IGs.
4. Exceptions. IGs routinely investigate some UCMJ violations. Adultery is a typical example of an allegation not normally investigated by MPI or CIDC even though it is a criminal violation of the UCMJ. You should coordinate with law enforcement officials and the SJA in cases where you receive allegations that are criminal in nature.

Section 2-8

Comparison of Investigative Inquiries and Investigations

1. Overview. While investigative inquiries are an informal fact-finding process and investigations are formal, the two are actually very similar. In both, the IG must analyze the situation at hand, decide if standards have been violated, determine what evidence must be gathered, gather the evidence, analyze the evidence, draw conclusions, and recommend appropriate action. The differences between the two processes rest chiefly in the requirement for a signed directive and transcribed verbatim testimony as required by formal investigations. IGs frequently begin fact-finding using an investigative inquiry and transition to an investigation if the situation warrants it.

a. Purpose. Assistance inquiries are frequently conducted as part of the process of resolving IGARs. IG investigative inquiries and investigations are processes designed specifically to look at allegations of wrongdoing on the part of a person. All three provide a sound, factual basis for decision-making.

b. Thoroughness. Investigative inquiries and investigations are equally thorough and correct. A common misperception is that investigations are more thorough than investigative inquiries. The detail with which you gather and evaluate evidence is determined by the nature of the case, not the fact-finding process you select. If you conduct each investigative inquiry and investigation in accordance with AR 20-1 and the procedures in this guide, you will ensure that you are thorough as well as fair and impartial.

c. Difficulty. Some IGs believe that it is inherently more difficult to conduct investigations. It is true that an investigation entails more administrative details, e.g., one must prepare an action memorandum with a directive and arrange for the verbatim transcription of testimonies. However, the documentation required for an investigative inquiry might be equally voluminous. In some cases, it is actually easier to conduct an investigation. The commander's authority, as evidenced by the signed directive, "energizes" the command and can protect you from civil liability as long as policy has not been violated.

d. Directing Authority. A command or State IG may initiate an investigative inquiry. Many IG offices have a local policy that outlines who may inquire into what types of allegations. Only the commander may direct an IG investigation, usually upon the recommendation of the IG.

2. Personnel who can conduct an Investigation or Investigative Inquiry.

a. Only a detailed IG may lead an investigation or investigative inquiry. Assistant IGs routinely assist detailed IGs in all phases of investigations (normally two IGs are assigned to an investigation). An Acting IG may not conduct or assist in the conduct of interviews, give oaths, or write reports. An Acting IG is limited to providing administrative support only for investigative inquiries and investigations.

b. Outside experts such as medical doctors, psychologists, military or DA civilian lawyers, Equal Opportunity staff officers, auditors, or contracting specialists may also be required to assist in investigations or investigative inquiries. Normally, these types of individuals are called upon as expert witnesses or subject-matter experts. If they are needed to assist throughout the investigative inquiry or investigation, they may be made Temporary Assistant IGs. Administer Temporary Assistant IGs the IG oath in accordance with paragraph 2-5, AR 20-1, and limit their duties to their areas of expertise.

3. Evidence. Oral statements from witnesses provide the bulk of the evidence in both investigative inquiries and investigations. In investigative inquiries, statements may be made in informal interviews. In investigations, witnesses will provide sworn, recorded testimony. However, there are circumstances under which sworn testimony is appropriate in investigative inquiries. Unsworn statements in investigations occur by exception.

4. Protections. Investigative inquiries and investigations must provide protection for the IG, the persons involved, and the command. Protections are built into the investigation process. They include administrative due process; rights; consent to release under the Freedom of Information Act (FOIA); and confidentiality. Additionally, the directive protects IGs from civil liability as long as the IG conducts the investigation in accordance with AR 20-1 and remains within the scope and limits of the action memorandum. You must also ensure that you provide individuals administrative due process and the rights to which they are entitled in the investigative inquiry process. As long as you act in accordance with AR 20-1, you need not fear civil liability -- even if conducting an investigative inquiry.

Section 2-9

Obtain Authority

1. Overview. Gaining authority for an IG investigation or investigative inquiry is a simple but sometimes misunderstood process. IGs do not conduct investigations or investigative inquiries without obtaining the authority to do so.

2. Investigative Inquiries. If you determine that an investigative inquiry is the appropriate fact-finding process, a written directive is not required. This lack of requiring a directive does not, however, relieve you of your responsibility to keep your boss informed. Local IG office procedures will provide guidance on the conduct of your investigative inquiries. The principal detailed IG will direct an investigative inquiry. IGs should not begin an investigative inquiry without a directive from the command or State IG. The command or State IG may provide either a written or oral directive.

3. Investigations. Should you recommend that an investigation is appropriate, there are formal steps required to obtain the authority to begin. Your commander is the only individual who is authorized to "direct" you to conduct an investigation. Your tool to obtain a Directive is the Action Memorandum. Your commander must provide the IG with a written Directive.

a. Action Memorandum. After you determine an IG investigation should be conducted, prepare an Action Memorandum (an example is shown below or use another locally acceptable format) for your commander. The Action Memorandum is an internal administrative document. It should be included in the final ROI (ROI if appropriate). It defines the scope and limits of what you and your commander decided to investigate. As a document prepared in conjunction with an IG investigation, the Action Memorandum is FOUO and must be marked accordingly. It is also protected from release under FOIA. The Action Memorandum:

- Forwards a Directive for the commander's signature.
- Gives a brief background of how the allegations were received, who made the allegations, and against whom they are made (since this memorandum is prepared for the commander, it contains names and specific details.)
- Outlines the allegations that need to be investigated.
- Contains a summary of your inquiry / PA if appropriate.
- Summarizes the SJA's legal opinion for the commander.
- Recommends that the Directive for Investigation be signed.

b. The Directive for Investigation is your authority to investigate the specific allegations outlined in the Action Memorandum. While the Action Memorandum is very specific, the directive is very general. Do not disclose the names of individuals involved or the precise nature of the allegations in the Directive. This lack of disclosure helps maintain confidentiality. The Directive is prepared by you, signed by your directing authority, and addressed to the directing authority's IG (you). If the initial Directive is issued orally, write a Memorandum For Record (MFR) that outlines your instructions and secure a signed Directive as soon as practicable. Ensure that the SJA concurs with your approach and recommendation for an IG investigation.

c. The example Directive shown below:

- May protect you from civil liability by providing a historical record of authority to investigate (it becomes part of the ROI).
- Is used as the basis for notifications.
- Is shown to witnesses to establish your investigative authority.
- Is quoted in the formal read-in of witnesses.
- Gives you the authority to require the presence of military and DA civilians at interviews and the authority to secure documents and other pertinent evidence.

4. The Directive and the Action Memorandum together define the scope and limits of the investigation. The IG may not initiate, expand, or terminate an investigation on his own volition. The Directive and Action Memorandum ensure that there is a clear, mutual understanding between the IG and directing authority concerning what should be investigated.

5. Any commander who is authorized a detailed IG may direct an investigation. An investigation pertaining to General Officers -- including ARNG, USAR, and retired General Officers -- or SESs may only be directed by the Secretary of the Army; the Under Secretary of the Army; the Chief of Staff, Army; the Vice Chief of Staff, Army; or TIG. The State Adjutant General (TAG) may direct his active-duty IG to investigate items of Federal interest not pertaining to General Officers. You must report allegations of misconduct on the part of promotable Colonels, General Officers, and SESs to Investigations Division, DAIG, within two working days, by confidential means after receipt of the complaint.

6. You should hand-carry the Action Memorandum and Directive to the commander. Schedule time to provide the commander a desk-side briefing on the allegations and issues and ask the SJA to be present. Do not send an Action Memorandum and Directive through normal distribution, and do not assume that the Secretary of the General Staff (SGS), Chief of Staff, or other members of the staff should be made aware of the investigation unless your commander so desires.

Section 2-10

Common Pitfalls

1. Overview. The greatest problem with IGPA is improperly developing allegations. Poorly worded allegations that do not address the complaint are frequently observed. Allegations are sometimes too broad in scope, combining two or more allegations. Standards used are frequently either the wrong standards or not dated commensurate with the time of the alleged impropriety.
2. Another common failing is to use the wrong form of investigation for the nature of the allegations presented by the complainant. Specifically, when allegations are presented that are criminal (or punitive) in nature, IGs should use formal proceedings (investigation) in order to ensure that the suspect's rights are fully protected.
3. IGs are sometimes reticent to ask for a Directive from the Directing Authority to conduct an investigation, which leads to an investigative inquiry when an investigation is the best proceeding. Remember, the Directive may protect you from civil liability during and after the conduct of your investigation or investigative inquiry. The protection it affords you is well worth the minor added time and effort in preparing and obtaining approval of the Directive.
4. Frequently, IGs will receive complaints that generate multiple allegations against multiple individuals. The sheer volume of analysis can overwhelm you. In such situations, your best course of action is to break the allegations into small groups based upon the identity of the individual suspected of the misconduct and investigate each one separately.
5. Lastly, never work cases on GOs, SES personnel, or promotable Colonels. Refer these cases to DAIG Investigations Division within two working days via the most secure and confidential means possible. Do not open an IGAR, and do not conduct IGPA!

Chapter 3

Referrals and Initial Notifications

Section 3-1 - Referring Allegations

Section 3-2 - Initial Notifications

Section 3-3 - Use of Command Products

Section 3-1

Referring Allegations

1. Referral to the Chain of Command. The chain of command has the responsibility and the authority to address complaints. Where appropriate, you should refer matters to the chain of command and then monitor to ensure that the chain of command takes proper action.

a. If you refer / recommend a case to a commander for the commander to conduct an inquiry or investigation, you will keep the case open until the commander provides a copy of the inquiry or investigation. All referral documents sent to commanders requesting that an inquiry or investigation be conducted will include all allegations written in the correct four-part format (i.e. who improperly [unless the language from the standard indicates an inherent wrongful action] did or did not do something in violation of a standard). The referral document must also inform the commander that the IG requires a copy of the inquiry or investigation. Additionally, the commander will be informed that the subject / suspect of the inquiry or investigation will be notified by the IG of the results being posted in the IGARS database. Upon reviewing the inquiry or investigation, if you determine that information is missing or that all issues were not addressed, you will discuss the discrepancies with the commander and ask that the corrections be made. If the commander refuses to address the missing issues or add the missing information, you will inform the commander that the IG will conduct an inquiry on only those areas the commander refuses to address. If you disagree with procedures followed for the conduct of the investigation, you will attempt to resolve the issues with the command. If you cannot resolve the issues, contact DAIG Assistance Division for guidance before proceeding.

b. If the commander refuses to give you a copy of his inquiry or investigation, explain to the commander that in accordance with AR 20-1, paragraph 1-9(d), the IG is authorized a copy of the inquiry or investigation. If you request that the Directing Authority intervene, and the Directing Authority refuses, contact DAIG Assistance Division for guidance before proceeding. If, during an inquiry or investigation, you feel that you will substantiate the allegation(s), inform the Directing Authority and request that the Directing Authority designate someone else to conduct the investigation. You will keep the case open and request a copy of the investigation; close the case in the same manner as stated above. If the Directing Authority informs you to continue with the IG inquiry or investigation and then directs his or her own investigation -- and both do not come to the same conclusion and the Directing Authority does not want the IG investigation placed into the IGARS database -- the IG will contact DAIG Assistance Division for guidance before proceeding. If you are conducting an inquiry or investigation and then discover that a commander is conducting an inquiry or investigation on the same case, contact the commander and request a copy of the commander's inquiry or investigation. If the commander complies, close the case in the same manner as stated above. If the commander does not comply, contact DAIG Assistance Division for guidance before proceeding.

2. Referral to other agencies. You may elect to refer allegations to the appropriate agency on behalf of the complainant, but be mindful of confidentiality concerns. Provide the necessary information to the agency and determine whether to monitor the action until completion. For example, if an individual alleges criminal activity, you should refer the information to the local CIDC field office and request that that office follow up with the individual and advise you of the results. The IG should retain a copy of the complaint. CIDC may not accept it, and you may need to refer the allegation to MPI or to the chain of command for inquiry or investigation. If you refer the allegation to civil authorities, be mindful that they may choose not to comply with your request for action or for a copy of their investigation.

3. Example referral memorandums used to refer allegations as described above are as follows:

Memorandum Format: IGAR Referral for Investigation to a Commander

Office Symbol

Section 3-2

Initial Notifications

1. Notifications are required when you conduct an investigative inquiry or an investigation. Notifications are normally done by telephone, but are documented using the notification formats below. A copy of the notifications will be included in the ROI / ROII.
2. After obtaining authority for the investigation or inquiry, you must notify the subject / suspect's commander / supervisor before you contact any other witnesses or gather further evidence. Notification of the commander involved ensures their cooperation and understanding. Subjects or suspects must be notified of the nature of the allegations prior to conducting interviews or taking statements. This notification provides for their due-process right to know that there are allegations against them and allows them to seek legal counsel. Notification is also appropriate as IGs do not operate covertly. Do not confuse this notification requirement with your acknowledgment of the case to the complainant. Complainants, if personally wronged by the impropriety, are not entitled to know any information concerning the case other than that the allegation was substantiated or not substantiated. Third-party complainants, those not directly wronged by the impropriety, are not entitled to any information other than the acknowledgment of receipt and closure of the case. Your communication with the complainant is a separate action and not a part of the notification step of the investigative process.

- a. Command Notifications:

(1) Chain of Command. Normally, at least the first commander or supervisor in the chain of command of the individual being investigated should be notified. Use the notification formats at the end of this chapter to make these notifications. You, the directing authority, or someone designated by the Directing Authority may make these notifications. How much information you provide, how deep in the chain of command you make notifications, and whether you give the notified commander the option to inform other members of the chain of command will vary. You need to consider the nature of the allegations, your commander's guidance, and the personalities of the commanders or supervisors involved. In sensitive cases, you might not provide any detail except that there is an ongoing investigation. At other times, you may choose to provide the names of subjects or suspects and specific allegations or some combination thereof. Also, consider the possibility of commander involvement in the allegations or that the commander has condoned the actions. For example, you have sensitive allegations against a battalion commander in the 2nd Brigade that your commander directs you to investigate. Your commander believes the brigade commander should be informed of the investigation but is concerned that this notification may needlessly damage the battalion commander's reputation in the eyes of the brigade commander. Therefore, you may choose only to provide the brigade commander with the general information contained in the directive. Should the facts indicate that the allegations will be substantiated and that the brigade commander was knowledgeable and condoned the misconduct, you may need to investigate the brigade commander.

(2) Visited Commands. You may have to visit organizations or staff sections to obtain information and interview witnesses when there are no individuals in that organization who have allegations against them. It is your decision whether or not to notify the commanders of those organizations where you are conducting an investigation. Normally, you only need to provide other commands with the general information contained in the directive.

(3) Higher Commands. Your higher commands are not automatically notified of your investigations. Notify higher commands of an investigation based on the nature of the investigation, the rank or grade of the person being investigated, or as requested by higher headquarters or directed by your commander. Use your judgment and your commander's guidance to determine when to notify higher commanders. Remember: you must report any IGAR containing an allegation against an Army officer in the grade of Major through Colonel that has resulted in the initiation of an IG investigation, investigative inquiry, or a command-directed action (e.g., AR 15-6 investigation, commander's inquiry, UCMJ action, etc.) to DAIG Assistance Division within two working days after receipt by confidential means (see paragraph 1-4b (5)(b), 4-6c, and 8-3g, AR 20-1).

b. Subject / Suspect Notification

(1) Always notify the individuals against whom the allegations are made. Failure to do so may jeopardize their due-process rights. The person should be notified as either the subject or suspect. Determining their status in the case is your responsibility. Seek the assistance of your SJA and, if necessary, DAIG Legal Division. It is important that you make the proper distinction since the rights afforded vary with the individual's status. Suspects are afforded more rights than subjects. If the standard allegedly violated is criminal in nature, then the person is a suspect. To interview someone about criminal allegations without first informing that person of his or her rights is a violation of the individual's rights. This fact is true even if you decide to question the individual concerning only non-criminal matters. See the explanation of rights earlier in this guide and in Chapter 8, AR 20-1. Remember: military personnel who have criminal or punitive allegations leveled against them must be treated as suspects.

(2) What do you tell the subject or suspect? An IG investigation is not an adversarial proceeding. Therefore, you do not have to notify the subject or suspect of the specific allegations at the time of notification, but you must tell the person what is mentioned in the Directive. However, under most circumstances, you will inform the subject or suspect of the specific allegations at the time of notification. This approach is especially important for suspects since they are more likely to seek the advice of a lawyer. Before deciding, consider whether or not informing the subject or suspect of the specific allegations would reveal the source of the complaint. You must avoid any act that may jeopardize confidentiality. You must be concerned with the possibility of retribution and a cover-up. The subject or suspect might talk to, or influence, the complainant or potential witnesses and thereby hamper your investigation. Do not tell the subject / suspect with whom you have talked (other than commander / supervisor, if notified) or with whom you plan to talk.

(3) You should understand that if you do not give a suspect the specific allegations during notification, then once you give that person the specific allegations during the interview, he or she may ask to see an attorney. This situation may slow your investigation, but it is the suspect's right to seek legal advice. Sample Notification Formats for subjects and suspects follow this section.

c. Who makes the Notifications? Who makes the notifications will be based on your SOP and will vary with the rank of the person against whom the allegations are made. There are several advantages for you, as the investigating officer, to make the subject or suspect notification. It gives you the opportunity to begin to develop a rapport with the individual. You may be able to anticipate from this conversation whether that person will be cooperative or not, and you can prepare yourself accordingly.

d. How do you make Notifications? Experience has shown that telephonic notifications are best. Chain of command notifications made over the telephone are discreet and minimize disruption to the unit. Face-to-face notifications with a subject or suspect can be very difficult to control and will eliminate non-verbal communications that can hinder a proper notification. Other than restating the allegations, when notifying a suspect, you should avoid discussing the facts surrounding the allegations. The rights warning contained in the suspect notification format is not considered legally sufficient for questioning an individual suspected of a criminal offense. You may provide the allegations to their attorney. Remember that experience has shown that the best course of action is to interview the subject or suspect last -- after you have conducted most of your investigation and know the facts. The notification memorandums are for your files and should be included in the ROI / ROII. Do not send the memorandum or give it to the individuals you notify.

e. New Allegations / New Subjects / New Suspects. During the investigation, you may develop new allegations unrelated to the original allegations or unrelated to the subjects or suspects. You must brief or send a memorandum to your Directing Authority to expand the investigation by explaining the additional allegations and / or new subjects or suspects. Prior to completing the investigation, the subject or suspect must be informed and given the opportunity to present his side of the story. If the allegations are against someone not originally defined as a subject or suspect, then that person should be notified and interviewed. Remember: subjects / suspects have the right to know and comment on the allegations against them and any unfavorable information.

Use of Command Products

1. Overview. Command products can be used by IGs conducting IG inquiries and investigations. Existing policy is contained in AR 20-1, paragraph 1-9d, which allows IGs access to all documents and other evidentiary materials needed to discharge their duties.

2. Definition. Command products include, but are not limited to, commander's inquiries and formal and informal investigations conducted under the provisions of Army Regulation 15-6. Most commonly, questions arise pertaining to an IG's use of AR 15-6 investigative reports, particularly when the report is already completed before the IG receives a related IG Action Request (IGAR).

3. Why use Command Products in an IG Investigation or Investigative Inquiry?

The use of command products avoids duplication of investigative effort. Additionally, it is more appropriate for commanders to investigate some command matters, notably when disciplinary action is a likely outcome of the investigation. By regulation, command products used or considered by IGs to support IG findings, conclusions, recommendations, or resolution actions become part of the IG's record. In the case of AR 15-6 findings and reports, the commander that initiated the investigation makes the determination whether it should be released.

4. Cautionary Note. Inspectors General should use caution when using command products to support their inquiries and investigations. Command products are simply administrative tools used by commanders to assemble facts. They are not binding upon, nor do they limit, a commander's actions. The directing commander may use or reject the findings and recommendations of the product in part or in full. Command products are not subject to appeal and have no remedy or redress -- though the commander may use the product as a basis for action that is subject to appeal with remedy or redress. Because a command product does not afford due process, IG review of a command product simply determines the extent to which the product addressed the issues and whether the product and process were fair and impartial.

5. IGs Do Not Use Command Products Alone to Resolve Allegations. While command products can be vital to the Inspector General Action Process (IGAP), they are not an alternative to an inquiry or investigation by an IG. A completed command product will rarely address each and every issue and allegation presented by a complainant to an IG and will not provide acknowledgement or feedback to complainants. Command products normally have a very specific and narrow focus and do not easily accommodate the exploration of new issues or allegations that may emerge. AR15-6 investigating officers often have less investigative training and experience than IG investigators and lack access to resources such as records and a global network.

6. Analysis of Command Products by an IG. It is a misconception that when an IG accepts an IGAR and determines that a related command product has already been completed, the IG's role is simply to conduct a "due-process review" of the product and to handle the IGAR as an assistance case. This approach is the proper course of action when the complaint is against the command product or the investigative process (e.g., a complaint that an AR 15-6 investigation was not conducted properly). In this instance, the "due-process review" is handled and reported as assistance. However, this approach does not preclude the IG from conducting a "due-process review" as part of the analysis of a referral that led to a command product via an IG investigation or investigative inquiry. As a matter of prudence and thoroughness, the IG should conduct a "due-process review" of all command products. The IG must be prepared to branch into other issues or allegations that may warrant inquiry or investigation, and these issues or allegations may be beyond the scope of the command product. Inspectors General must follow the Inspector General Action Process (IGAP) with each IGAR received, beginning with preliminary analysis to determine IG appropriateness and the course of action. Command products are appropriately used by IGs in the fact-finding phase of the IGAP -- after the IG has decided whether a matter is IG appropriate, what the allegations or issues are, and the appropriate course of action (inquiry or investigation) to take. The pre-existence of a command product does not "lock-in" an IG course of action (assistance, inquiry, or investigation) -- and certainly not the outcome. The command product is simply a source of information available to the IG during fact-finding.

7. SJA Coordination and Command Products. When an IG receives an IGAR and a command product is determined to be already underway, or not yet initiated, the IG should coordinate with the Staff Judge Advocate and the appropriate command to ensure the command product properly addresses the IG issues and allegations. Without some coordination between the IG and the SJA / command, it is unlikely the final product will fully address the issues and allegations presented to the IG by the complainant.

8. Sample ROI / ROII. Section 9-5 of this guide contains a description and an example of a modified Report of Investigation / Report of Investigative Inquiry (ROI / ROII) using a Command Product.

9. Summary. Command products do not provide an alternative to an IG investigation / investigative inquiry, and the pre-existence of a command product does not pre-determine how an IG must handle an IGAR. If an allegation starts with the IG, it must end with the IG. Even though the IG may refer the allegation to the command for action, the IG must still make a final determination of the matter using the ROI / ROII. The command product becomes a major piece of evidence in this final determination. In addition, the IG must ensure that each issue and allegation presented in an IGAR is addressed in a fair and impartial manner while retaining flexibility to delve into new issues and allegations that may emerge during fact-finding. As the eyes, ears, voice, and conscience of the commander, the IG must be prepared to question the adequacy of the command product and to look beyond its bounds.

Chapter 4

Rights, Non-Rights, and Witness Cooperation

Section 4-1 – Categories of Individuals

Section 4-2 – Rights of Individuals Involved in IG Investigations

Section 4-3 – Non-Rights of Individuals Involved in IG Investigations

Section 4-4 – Duties of Individuals Involved in IG Investigations

Section 4-1

Categories of Individuals

1. Overview. People involved in IG investigative inquiries or investigations are classified as witnesses, subjects, or suspects.

a. A witness is someone whom we believe has information that supports or refutes an allegation. A witness may also be an expert in some field in which you need to acquire knowledge concerning a law, regulation, process, or procedure.

b. A subject is someone against whom a non-criminal / non-punitive allegation has been made.

c. A suspect is someone against whom a criminal / punitive allegation has been made.

2. Caution. Individuals, to include witnesses, may become subjects or suspects during an investigation based on evidence developed during the case (including information given by the individuals themselves). The rights individuals have in an IG investigative inquiry or investigation depend partially upon their category. For example, military suspects in IG investigations must be informed of their legal rights under Article 31, UCMJ.

3. Criminal / Punitive Allegations. IGs often use these two terms interchangeably. However, a violation of a regulation's punitive provisions can be criminal under Article 92, UCMJ. The bottom line is that criminal violations include violations of punitive regulations, violations of the UCMJ, and violations of other State and Federal laws. Consult with your staff judge advocate when in doubt about the criminal nature of an allegation.

a. For the most part, the Army's many technical instructions, administrative regulations, directives, and manuals serve to standardize Army operations. Failure to adhere to these publications usually carries few consequences aside from counseling. A portion of a regulation is "punitive," however, when a violation of that portion of the regulation subjects the violator to punishment under Article 92, UCMJ, "Violation of general orders or regulations," and sometimes also to punishment under similar statutory sanctions and regulations pertaining to Department of Army civilian personnel.

b. Punitive provisions must be more than mere policy statements or administrative guidelines. Such provisions must impose a specific duty on Soldiers to perform or refrain from certain acts. These provisions and regulations cannot require further implementation from subordinates. The President, Secretary of Defense, Secretary of a military department, a flag or general officer in command, or a general court-martial convening authority must also have promulgated the regulation before any portion of it becomes "punitive." This situation is never a problem with Army Regulations since all of them are promulgated by order of the Secretary of the Army.

c. The Army almost always delineates its punitive regulations, or the punitive portions of regulations, by stating this fact on the title page of the regulation and by indicating in the text that Soldiers who violate the subject provision will be subject to disciplinary action under the UCMJ (for example, see Army Regulation 20-1's title page pertaining to paragraph 1-11).

Section 4-2

Rights of Individuals Involved in IG Investigations

1. Right to Comment.

a. Administrative due process in Inspector General investigative inquiries and investigations (paragraph 8-6, AR 20-1) afford a suspect or subject the right to know and comment on unfavorable information which may result in adverse information included in the ROI / ROII. This administrative due process should not be confused with legal due process, which occurs during a criminal proceeding in which the accused has a right to face his accuser. The suspect in an Inspector General investigative inquiry or investigation does not have the right to know who made the allegation.

b. In an investigation or investigative inquiry, ensure that you afford the suspect or subject the opportunity to know and comment on the allegations made against him or her (see paragraph 8-6, AR 20-1). Advise the subject or suspect of the allegations if you or your commander determines it is fair or beneficial to the case for that person to know the allegations. At a minimum, if you develop substantiated allegations in an investigative inquiry that you will make a matter of IG record, you must inform subjects or suspects of the nature of the allegations and provide them the opportunity to comment. Individuals have the right to know the allegations against them and to tell their story during an IG investigative inquiry or investigation.

c. There is a commonly held belief that individuals who have allegations made against them will not be willing to comment. Experience has shown the opposite to be true. The IG investigative process is often the subject's and suspect's only chance to rebut the allegations, and they are often willing to provide information. While there are exceptions, the subject or suspect is interviewed last so that he or she has an opportunity to comment on the allegations and any unfavorable information you have gathered.

a. Witnesses, subjects, and suspects should be afforded an opportunity to consult with a lawyer if they so desire. However, only the suspect has a right to have an attorney present during questioning. The right to legal counsel in IG investigations is related to the right to remain silent and not to incriminate oneself. If you are going to question someone who has a criminal allegation against him or whom you believe may have committed a criminal offense, you must advise him of his rights using a DA Form 3881, Rights Warning Procedure / Waiver Certificate, before questioning. If during an interview, a witness or subject says something that makes you believe that he has committed a criminal offense, you must warn him of his rights using the DA Form 3881 before continuing questioning. Once advised, an individual has the right to seek the advice of a lawyer, have a lawyer present during questioning, and to remain silent.

b. If a witness or subject requests that a lawyer be present during his interview, it is your decision to allow it or not allow it. Experienced IGs, comfortable with the IG investigations process and with conducting interviews, may allow a lawyer to be present. It usually makes the interviewee more comfortable and cooperative. Remember that the lawyer's only function in an IG investigative inquiry or investigation is to advise the client. Do not allow the lawyer to answer questions for the interviewee or control your interview. You should explain these ground rules at the beginning of the interview. If a lawyer attempts to control an interview or advise you on the process, you may terminate the interview and seek SJA advice. You must exercise care in this situation to ensure that your termination of the interview does not result in the subject or suspect being denied the right to comment on the allegations and unfavorable information.

3. Right to Union Representation.

a. The Civil Service Reform Act of 1978 (as a consequence of the 1975 case Weingarten vs. the National Labor Relations Board) created a right to union representation for Federal civilian employees whose term of employment is governed by a union contract. This right exists during interviews with a Federal employee in connection with IG investigative inquiries or investigations if the employee reasonably believes that disciplinary action will be taken against him or her as a result of the interview.

b. The Civil Service Reform Act does not require an IG to advise an employee of the right to union representation before an interview. The act merely requires management to inform its employees annually of this right. This advice is frequently communicated through an installation's daily bulletin. However, some local union contracts have been negotiated wherein the management of an installation has agreed to provide notice before each interview. Therefore, exercise caution when interviewing Federal (not just DA) employees to ensure that you are not violating the terms of a local contract. Simply ask the SJA what the local bargaining agreement specifies. Additionally, your installation may have more than one collective bargaining agreement or union contract. Find out before your interview.

c. The basic rules that apply to legal counsel in an interview apply to union representatives as well. The representative may advise the employee but may not ask or answer questions. However, the representative can comment, speak, and make statements. An individual may have both a union representative and legal counsel present in an interview.

d. In some cases, the right to union representation has been extended to other IG activities such as sensing sessions. You should check with the SJA and the local labor relations representatives, Civilian Personnel Advisory Center (CPAC), or Civilian Personnel Operations Center (CPOC) before conducting interviews or sensing sessions with any Federal employees.

4. Right of Individuals to Confidentiality.

a. IGs always strive to provide confidentiality to protect privacy, maintain confidence in the IG System, and minimize the risk of reprisal. Confidentiality is a key component of the IG System because it encourages voluntary cooperation and willingness to present complaints for resolution. Confidentiality is maintained by protecting the identities of all persons involved from unnecessary disclosure as well as protecting the nature of their contact with the IG. However, as an IG, you must ensure that people who seek your help understand that while protecting confidentiality is a concern, it cannot be guaranteed. Identities of individuals and the information they provide may be disclosed if required by law or regulation or at the direction of The Inspector General. Confidentiality also cannot be guaranteed because the Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) allows members of the public to request government records for unofficial purposes. IGs should inform individuals of the provisions of the FOIA and ask if they consent to the release of their testimony for unofficial purposes. This request for consent applies to both investigative inquiries and investigations.

b. The primary threat to confidentiality is an individual's voluntary disclosure of the matters being investigated by the IG. Consequently, IGs should conclude each interview (during investigative inquiries and investigations as stated in the interview guides) by admonishing the individual not to discuss the matters under investigation with anyone except his attorney, should he choose to consult one, without the permission of the investigating officers.

Section 4-3

Non-Rights of Individuals Involved in IG Investigations

Frequently, persons involved with IG investigative inquiries or investigations have confused administrative due process with legal due process. These common misperceptions are called non-rights and consist of the following:

1. To Know the Identity of Witnesses. In an IG investigation or investigative inquiry, neither the suspect nor the subject have the right to know who made allegations against him or her or to know the names of witnesses or other individuals who provided information. When an IG record is used as a basis for adverse action, the subject or suspect may become entitled to the legal due process right to see the IG record, know who made the allegations, and know who provided evidence during the course of the investigation or investigative inquiry.

2. To Question Witnesses. In an IG investigation or investigative inquiry, subjects and suspects do not have the right to question other witnesses or be present for witness interviews. Individuals being interviewed do not have the right to know the names of other witnesses, specific allegations, the identity of subjects or suspects, or the results of the investigative inquiry or investigation.

3. To Tape Record or Take Notes. In an investigative inquiry or investigation, individuals do not have the right to take notes during an interview or to record their testimony. Should an individual request to take notes or record the interview, stress the importance of confidentiality. Offer the individual the opportunity to review his testimony in your presence and receive a copy of it once the case is complete. (See paragraph 8-4i, AR 20-1)

4. To Have a Friend or Family Member Present. No one has the right to have friends or family members present during interviews. Should someone make such a request, you may grant permission based upon your assessment of the benefit gained (a more relaxed individual). If you accede to the request, do not permit the friend or family member to advise the witness or otherwise participate in the interview. You must counsel the friend or family member regarding confidentiality and the importance of not disclosing the matters under investigation.

Section 4-4

Duties of Individuals Involved in IG Investigations

1. Active Duty Military Personnel and DoD Civilians. Soldiers and DA civilians are required by AR 20-1 to cooperate in IG investigations and inquiries. Witnesses, suspects, and subjects with a duty to cooperate cannot lawfully refuse to answer questions unless the answers are incriminating or privileged. Those who refuse to cooperate can be ordered by their commander or supervisor to do so. Non-DA military and civilian personnel are not bound by AR 20-1, and an Army IG cannot compel them to cooperate. However, DoD civilians, other Federal civilian employees, and military personnel from other services may have a duty to cooperate. Before interviewing anyone from outside the Army, make sure you coordinate with the individual's Service or department supervisory chain if you have any doubts about the individual's obligation to cooperate. Do not order individuals to cooperate. To do so is to put yourself in an adversarial position with the individual whom you desire to interview. Seek assistance from the individual's supervisor or commander and your SJA when necessary.

2. Reserve Component Personnel. Members of the Reserve Components, both Army Reserve (USAR) and Army National Guard (ARNG), are not required to cooperate with an IG if not in a duty status (e.g. while at their civilian job). AR 20-1 governs them when they are performing Federal duties or engaging in any activity directly related to the performance of a Federal duty or function (Federal interest). However, if a member of the National Guard is strictly on State status (e.g. State Active Duty), AR 20-1 does not apply to that person since he or she is governed by State regulations. In those cases, the IG should coordinate with the ARNG chain of command. USAR and National Guard Soldiers can be ordered to a duty status (Title 10, USC) to provide testimony to an IG. Review the attached matrix below prior to interviewing Reserve Component personnel. Most members of the Reserve Components, as well as Active Component personnel, are fully willing to cooperate with an IG regardless of their status at the time of the interview. Only infrequently will you have to seek chain-of-command assistance in gaining cooperation.

3. Civilians.

a. Civilians not connected with the Federal government (commonly referred to as civilian-civilians) have no requirement to cooperate with Army IGs. Civilians not connected with the government cannot be compelled to cooperate with an IG conducting an investigation or investigative inquiry. IGs have no authority to investigate civilian-civilians. Family members are civilian-civilians unless DoD employs them in some capacity. Individuals employed by companies under contract to DoD are also civilian-civilians.

b. If a witness is not in military service or is not a government employee, you are not required to treat him or her as a suspect or give that person the same right to comment (due process) as a member of the military or a DA civilian. However, you may choose to treat the individual as a suspect and advise him or her of his or her rights if you believe it is the best and fairest course of action. For example, you receive allegations that a civilian contractor may have given a bribe to a military contracting officer. This act is considered a gratuity for the military officer (violation of the JER) and might be a violation of Federal law, 10 US Code, Section 2207, by the civilian. While we would not investigate the civilian, we would interview the individual to gain information about the allegations against the military officer. During this interview, we decide whether or not to provide the individual with a rights warning. Consulting your legal advisor prior to the interview should reduce any doubt concerning the correct course of action. If you do decide to advise the civilian of his rights, execute a rights warning by using the DA Form 3881 as you would with military personnel or with DA civilians.

c. Remember: IGs do not investigate civilian-civilians. Should you develop criminal allegations against a civilian, turn these allegations over to your SJA, local CIDC, or MPI. In the contracting example used above, if the allegation was substantiated, the matter would be reported to procurement officials. The civilian contractor might be barred or suspended from further government contracts as well as face possible civilian court action.

d. Since non-governmental civilians (civilian-civilians) have no requirement to cooperate, you have limited recourse should they request to take notes, record interviews, or have friends present. As with military personnel, your best approach is to convince them of the need for confidentiality. As with military personnel and DA civilians, you may offer civilian-civilians the opportunity to read their testimony while the case is ongoing or receive a copy of their testimony after the case is complete. Some IGs have convinced interviewees to allow them (the IGs) to hold an interviewee's tapes until the case was completed. If a civilian refuses to interview without taping or having a friend present, then you must decide whether the individual's testimony is crucial enough to warrant conducting the interview under those conditions. Even though civilians are not required to cooperate with you, it is a violation of Federal law under Title 18, US Code, Section 1001, for them knowingly to give you false testimony under oath.

4. The chart below details rights and witness cooperation requirements for all IG investigations and investigative inquiries.

Witness Interview Status, Rights, and Non-Rights

MILITARY STATUS AT TIME OF INTERVIEW	ROLE IN INVESTIGATION	SUBJECT TO UCMJ	REQUIRED TO TESTIFY	LAWYER PRESENT	UNION REPRESENTATION
ACTIVE ARMY	WITNESS SUBJECT SUSPECT	YES YES YES	YES YES NO (1)	NO NO YES	NA NA NA
USAR ON ANY OFFICIAL STATUS	WITNESS SUBJECT SUSPECT	YES YES YES	YES YES NO (1)	NO NO YES	NA NA NA
ARNG TITLE 10 (IADT, OCONUS, AGR) (2)	WITNESS SUBJECT SUSPECT	YES YES YES	YES YES NO (1)	NO NO YES	NA NA NA
ARNG TITLE 32 (IDT, AT, AGR) (2)	WITNESS SUBJECT SUSPECT	NO NO NO	YES YES NO (1)	NO NO YES	NA NA NA
USAR & ARNG WHEN NOT ON DUTY	WITNESS SUBJECT SUSPECT	NO NO NO	NO NO NO	NO NO YES (3)	NA NA NA
DA CIVILIAN EMPLOYEES	WITNESS SUBJECT SUSPECT	NO NO NO	YES YES NO (1)	NO NO YES (3)	YES (4) YES (4) YES (4)
CIVILIANS, INCLUDING STATE NG EMPLOYEES AND FAMILY MEMBERS	WITNESS SUBJECT (5) SUSPECT (5)	NO NO NO	NO NO NO	NO NO YES (3)	NO (4 & 5) NO (4 & 5) NO (4 & 5)

NOTES:

(1) The duty of a suspect to cooperate is offset by his right to remain silent on all matters that may incriminate him.

(2) IG should check the guardsman's orders to determine status. ADT / ADSW / AGR can be either Title 10 or Title 32.

(3) Must be civilian lawyer at own expense or as appointed by law.

(4) Only applicable if the civilian employee's position is covered by a collective-bargaining agreement. The employee does not have to be a member of a union.

(5) Normally a civilian-civilian will not be either a subject or a suspect in an IG investigation. Consult with your SJA.

IG Fact Finding

Section 5-1 – Overview

Section 5-2 – Comparison of IG Fact-Finding Methodologies

Section 5-3 – Plan the Investigative Inquiry or Investigation

Section 5-1

Overview

As with all forms of intellectual endeavor, an IG investigative inquiry or investigation requires significant forethought in order to resolve the issues and allegations brought forward by the complainant. Rarely can an IG jump into an investigation without investing a significant amount of time and effort into planning. All investigations, even the simplest investigative inquiries, should proceed from a written plan. Planning will maximize the likelihood of successfully completing the investigation while concurrently minimizing the resources (time, materiel, labor) consumed in the process.

Section 5-2

Comparison of IG Fact-Finding Methodologies

1. Overview. Investigative fact finding is the process of obtaining information and deriving facts throughout the conduct of an investigative inquiry or investigation. The process is broken down into a series of sequential and interrelated steps to gather and assess logically information pertaining to the issues and allegations presented for investigation.

2. Figure II-2 below depicts the steps used in the IG investigative fact-finding process (within the seven-step IGAP). Refer to this chart throughout this section.

Plan the Investigative Inquiry or Investigation

1. As in any military operation, planning is a critical element leading to the successful achievement of the objective. You formulate a plan of how you will obtain facts and information pertinent to the allegations you have received. The planning process for investigative inquiries and investigations is the same.
2. The planning process begins with your assessment of the facts you must gather to substantiate or refute the fact that a violation of a standard occurred as alleged. This assessment occurs through a careful examination of the standard violated and the essential elements of that standard (e.g., the elements of proof). Next, you must determine where you go to gather those facts. Generally, this step involves deciding whom (witnesses) you must interview to gather and corroborate those facts and the questions you must ask to elicit the required information. You then develop a logical sequence for conducting the interviews. At this point, you also assess what documentary or physical evidence might be available that would contribute to your investigation.
3. It is also necessary for you to conduct a certain amount of logistical planning – court-reporter availability, travel orders, hotel arrangements, etc.
4. A suggested format for a plan is shown below. The plan should include a list of the witnesses (also complainant, subjects, and suspects) in the order you want to interview them, where you will interview them, and for how long. List the witnesses and documents needed for each allegation separately. This technique will prevent you from unexpectedly coming up short on evidence for a particular allegation. Often, this information appears in the form of an Evidence Matrix. An example is shown at Figure II-3. Items usually found in a good plan are:
 - a. Background. Keep a record of how the allegations were received, who has been informed of them or otherwise has knowledge of them, and who should be informed. This record may include a list of individuals, commands, or commanders and supervisors. This list will help when writing a final report. Experienced IGs have found it helpful to develop and maintain a chronology of events.
 - b. Specific Allegations / Issues. List the specific allegations that you have developed to this point (from your Action Memorandum).
 - c. Evidence Required. In order to plan an investigative inquiry or investigation properly, you must have an understanding of the evidence required to establish the facts that will either substantiate or refute the allegation. For example, if you are investigating allegations of adultery, you must establish that the suspect had wrongful sexual intercourse, that either the subject or the other party was married to someone else, and that the conduct was either prejudicial to good order or discipline or discreditable. Under the Manual for Courts-Martial, these items address the elements of proof for the standard.

5. You should also have a feel for the evidence that you will realistically be able to gather in your case (as you see it at that point in time). For example, in the adultery case, documentary evidence might establish that one of the parties was married, but verbal statements would probably provide the bulk of the evidence regarding intercourse (and most might be circumstantial). It is not premature during planning to develop a sense of what your standard of proof in the case will be (how much evidence will you need to establish a preponderance of evidence).

6. Develop a Witness List (includes complainants, subjects, and suspects). There are three areas on which you should focus: Whom are you going to interview? In what sequence are you going to conduct the interviews? What type of interview are you going to use?

a. Whom are you going to interview? Selecting whom you should interview can seem very difficult until you have had some practice. Plan to interview the minimum number of witnesses necessary to ascertain the facts in the case -- IGs are always concerned with confidentiality. There is no set rule for establishing the minimum number required -- use your judgment to determine when you have reached a preponderance of evidence. Keep in mind that you want to verify all important facts and that you do not accept something as factual or true just because someone of a higher rank says it is so. As a minimum, you should have at least one person or document that verifies or corroborates a fact. You must always appreciate the effect of talking to someone about allegations against someone else, especially someone in the same unit (i.e., the effect on confidentiality, unit cohesion, and morale). People often assume the worst when an IG is asking questions. Where possible, you may want to gather information from agencies outside the subject's or suspect's workplace. As an example, the local finance office may be able to give you information concerning whether an individual was on leave or temporary duty (TDY) for a certain period. This information may have less negative impact than going directly to the unit to find out. Where possible, use IG tech channels to get information. Often the complainant (if known) may be able to provide you names of witnesses, but do not limit yourself to what complainants provide. You will also need to develop your own witness list since the complainant is not likely to give you names of people who could provide another side of the story.

b. In what sequence are you going to conduct your interviews? You will normally interview the complainant first followed by any expert witnesses, the witnesses, and the subject or suspect last. Under some rare circumstances, such as a vague or anonymous allegation, you might elect to interview the subject or suspect first.

c. What type of interview format will you use? Most interviews conducted in an investigative inquiry will be statements while those conducted during an investigation will be testimonies. However, you may choose the type of interview you plan to conduct based upon the nature of the case. If you believe the sensitivity of the interviews require the taking of testimony during an investigative inquiry, then do so. You can always summarize the testimony from the tape recordings to statements.

7. Additional Items. Additional items that you must include in your plan are the elements of proof from the standard. Consult your SJA to ensure you have the correct focus and interpretation of the standard. Also, list those areas requiring discussion with proponents or subject-matter experts. List the regulations and other publications necessary for the conduct of the investigation and make extracts for your report. Detail any other requirements such as travel arrangements and coordination required with external agencies. If you use an evidence matrix as an information-management tool, you can also use it as a planning tool to assist describing the information each witness or document may contribute to your investigation of the allegations. The Evidence Matrix is discussed in more detail later in this chapter.

8. Schedule Witnesses. Schedule and interview the minimum number of witnesses consistent with thoroughness (i.e. to reach a preponderance of evidence). This minimum number of witnesses will protect the integrity of your investigation. Additionally, ensure you interview all the witnesses provided by the complainant and the suspect / subject that have material evidence concerning the allegations. Consider these points when scheduling witnesses:

a. Provide the witness only with the information contained in the Directive. Avoid revealing the details of the allegations. Occasionally, you may need to provide a witness with additional information so that that person can prepare for the interview. For example, if you need a witness to bring documents related to a case to the interview, you will need to provide them enough information to identify the documents. Use caution. At times, you may be able to ask for several documents of the same type to protect the identity of the individuals involved in the investigation.

b. Protect the confidentiality of the witness and the confidentiality of others. Do not reveal the names of other witnesses, complainant, or subjects and suspects.

c. Follow the scheduling format except for answering administrative questions (like location and direction to interview location). During the scheduling call, the witness may begin to provide information concerning the case. Avoid this discussion until you are prepared to conduct the interview. However, on occasion you may decide to question a witness during the scheduling process to determine if that person is the correct witness. Again, you should be concerned about confidentiality. Be careful if a witness whom you believe to have information important to your case attempts to convince you otherwise. It is often difficult to judge over the telephone whether a witness is misleading you to avoid being involved.

d. Ask the witness not to discuss the investigation with anyone and explain the IG concept of confidentiality.

e. As the investigating officer, you will benefit from personally making the scheduling calls rather than having someone else make them for you. You are the most knowledgeable person concerning the case and why the witness is important to the fact-finding process. Should a witness prove reluctant to participate, you are the most likely person to persuade him or her to cooperate. Do not attempt to compel (order) a witness (Soldier or Government employee) to participate. If a witness is refusing to cooperate, contact the witness's supervisor or commander. The witness's supervisor or commander should compel the individual to cooperate, not the IG. This approach will maintain your IG impartiality. Remember: regardless of whether a person is required to cooperate or not, willing cooperation will yield the greatest benefit. On occasion, other IGs in tech channels or members of the witness's chain of command can schedule the person for you. Ensure that you give them specific instructions concerning confidentiality, location, and time of interview. If a witness is from another command, consider contacting that command's IG before you contact the witness or the witness's commander.

Evidence

Section 6-1 – Overview

Section 6-2 – Categories of Evidence

Section 6-3 – Levels of Evidence

Section 6-4 – Facts

Section 6-5 – Evaluating Evidence

Section 6-6 – Military Rules of Evidence

Section 6-1

Overview

Investigative inquiries and investigations are both focused searches for evidence in order to substantiate or refute allegations. The bottom line of an investigative inquiry or investigation is the conclusion you draw from evaluating the preponderance of credible evidence gathered in your proceeding. Consequently, it is essential that you have a good understanding of the nature and characteristics of evidence. Evidence is identified by its source and its comparative value. Therefore, we identify evidence in categories and in levels.

Section 6-2

Categories of Evidence

1. Evidence is first described by its source category. Evidence generally falls into one of four major categories: documentary, physical, oral statements / testimonies, and the IG's personal observation. Most investigations depend upon the testimony of witnesses while other investigations require extensive use of documentary evidence and, sometimes, physical evidence.

2. Documentary Evidence. Documentary evidence includes written items (including DA Forms 2823, Sworn Statement, from witnesses, if used), photographs, maps, sketches, regulations, laws, records (travel vouchers, evaluation reports, medical records), other investigation reports (AR 15-6, MP, etc.), and other types of written material. Nearly all investigative inquiries or investigations include some documentary evidence. You should gather documents early in the investigative inquiry or investigation and identify them by showing the date obtained, indicating whether they were an original or a copy, specifying the location of the original, and identifying the custodian and signature of the investigating officer. When practical, use copies of the documents and leave the originals with their proper custodians. One of the most important pieces of documentary evidence in any investigative inquiry or investigation is the standard upon which the allegations are based.

3. Physical Evidence. Physical evidence consists of objects or conditions that establish facts. It is the least common category of evidence found in investigative inquiries or investigations. Physical evidence may or may not accompany the ROI / ROII.

a. An object is normally not required to accompany an ROI / ROII. If you do need to forward an object, securely attach it to the ROI / ROII and identify it by showing:

- (1) The name of the object.
- (2) Where and when the object was obtained.
- (3) Custodian (or from whom obtained).
- (4) Its function, if applicable.
- (5) Serial number, size, make, brand name, or other identifying information.
- (6) Monetary value, if applicable.
- (7) Description of container, if appropriate.
- (8) State of serviceability.

b. Most physical evidence will not be included with the ROI / ROII because of size, perishability, monetary value, or other reasons. Photograph, sketch, or describe these objects in a memorandum for record (MFR) that contains the information and attach it as an exhibit to the ROI / ROII.

4. Oral Statements. An oral statement is evidence given orally by a competent witness. Oral statements are the primary means of gathering evidence in the IG investigative inquiry or investigation. Oral statements fall into two categories: testimony and statements.

a. Testimony.

(1) Testimony is defined as a sworn and recorded oral statement. Individuals who do not wish to swear an oath may affirm that their testimony is truthful. Testimony is the primary means of gathering evidence in investigations and may be used in inquiries. Recorded testimony is normally transcribed verbatim. Verbatim transcripts can be prepared by court reporters (sometimes available from the SJA), contract transcriptionists, or typed by an IG. Verbatim transcripts are time consuming and expensive to prepare and review but provide the most accurate record of the testimony. The IG who conducted the interview normally must certify the accuracy of the transcript by reading it and making corrections as he or she reviews the tape.

(2) Verbatim testimony may not always be practical. If assets or time are limited, take sworn and recorded testimony and initially prepare a summary in Memorandum for Record (MFR) format. If you turn the case over to a follow-on investigator, a transcript may not be necessary. Should you determine a transcript is necessary as the case proceeds, you can prepare it at that time. Another alternative is to transcribe only the testimony of key witnesses (complainant and subject or suspect, for example). You can summarize evidence from other witnesses using the MFR format. When taping interviews, use two tape recorders or a court reporter and a backup system (many court reporters have their own backup). Keep in mind that the purpose for recording is to make an accurate record of the interview. For accuracy, you may tape interviews even if you do not intend to prepare a verbatim transcript. When in doubt, tape!

b. Statements.

(1) Statements are defined as information gathered during an interview that is not sworn. The interview may be conducted as part of either an investigative inquiry or an investigation and may or may not be recorded. The IG who conducted the interview can document the statement in summarized form in a MFR. When you prepare the summary, you must be extremely careful to write what the witness actually said and not what you think the witness said. Claims by witnesses that they were misquoted by IGs sometimes occur. Draft the summary immediately following the interview to avoid having to rely upon your memory several hours or days later. You may also ask the interviewee to verify your summary of the interview. For accuracy, you may tape verbal statements even if they are not sworn. This technique is particularly important if the issues or allegations are serious, complex, or conflicts in the evidence exist. When taping a telephonic interview, ensure you inform the interviewee that you are recording.

(2) If you are unable to obtain an oath, you must evaluate whether administering the oath is necessary or appropriate. Some considerations are the nature of the allegations or issues and the expected evidence the witness might provide. Swearing the witness adds formality to the interview and may enhance the accuracy of the information presented by the interviewee. The oath creates the belief and expectation in the witness's mind that he or she must be truthful or suffer the consequences. For military personnel, a false official statement (sworn or not sworn) is a criminal offense. For non-government civilians, false sworn statements are a violation of Federal law.

When evaluating evidence, sworn statements are generally given more weight than unsworn statements.

(3) Individuals may present written statements to you. Examples include e-mails and written material dated and signed by the person making the statement. In certain situations this form of evidence is acceptable for inclusion in an ROI / ROII. Examples include statements from subject-matter experts that are used to establish standards or accepted SOP practices that have bearing on the allegation. But be warned – your best form of oral evidence is sworn and recorded testimony. Always strive to obtain the highest quality of oral evidence.

c. Personal Observation.

(1) You can document physical conditions you observe in a MFR. These observations may include vehicle damage, unsanitary dining facilities, overcrowded troop quarters, the state of building maintenance, etc. Your observations or measurements in a MFR can supplement or provide background for reports or testimony by technicians or authorities whose expertise may be better evidence than your non-expert observation. Certain observations or events that occur during an interview (witness comments while off-tape, for example) may be worthy of a MFR.

(2) Investigating officers should minimize the use of personal observation. By introducing personal observations as evidence, you make yourself a witness in the case (perhaps opening yourself to allegations of bias). As an alternative, you might have another individual observe the conditions in question and then interview the other individual as a witness.

Section 6-3

Levels of Evidence

1. Overview. Evidence is also characterized by its quality. Evidence generally falls into one of four major levels that are rank-ordered in value from highest to lowest: direct, circumstantial, hearsay, and opinion. This credibility assessment is applied to each category of evidence to establish its relative merit. Together, these characterizations enable the IG to weigh the evidence collected and reach a conclusion in the investigation.

2. Direct Evidence. First-hand knowledge, or direct evidence, proves or disproves an issue through the use of facts. For example, if a witness states, "I saw the subject's car at the headquarters on day x at time y," you have direct evidence that the subject's car was at the headquarters at that date and time. Direct evidence should be verified (corroborated) by other evidence, if possible.

3. Circumstantial Evidence. Circumstantial evidence tends to prove or disprove an issue by inferences. The statement, "I saw the subject's car parked in front of the headquarters on day x at time y," is circumstantial evidence that the subject was inside the headquarters at that time. Circumstantial evidence is an inferior kind of evidence that can be used when there is no direct evidence. It may not have the weight of direct evidence, but it is still valid evidence. It can be used with direct evidence to establish a fact. Some issues such as command climate and unit morale are seldom established by direct evidence. Frequently, they are established by circumstantial evidence alone.

4. Hearsay Evidence. Hearsay is what one individual says another person said. It is an acceptable source of information in IG investigative inquiries and investigations. However, you should attempt to verify hearsay by contacting the person having direct knowledge of the information (the person who said whatever the witness heard).

5. Opinion. An opinion, a person's belief or judgment, may be used as evidence. Opinions of qualified experts are commonly used as evidence in IG investigations. You may ask witnesses for their opinions, but you need to develop the reasons why they reached their opinions. Some investigative inquiries or investigations, especially those concerning unit morale, esprit de corps, and command climate, must rely heavily on witnesses' opinions. Clearly identify such oral statements as opinion. Complainants frequently express opinions during initial interviews. Statements such as "CPT Jones is a jerk!" taken without specific examples of CPT Jones's past behavior should be considered as opinion.

Section 6-4

Facts

IG investigations and investigative inquiries constitute fact finding. Facts include events that are known to have happened and things that are known to be true. Some matters are easily established as facts while others are difficult. In solving a disputed issue, use judgment, common sense, and your own experience to weigh the evidence, consider its probability, and base your conclusions on what is the most credible. A general guide in establishing facts is to obtain the testimony of two or more sworn, competent witnesses who independently agree on a single point. A fact is also established by a combination of testimony, documentary evidence, and physical evidence that all agree on a single point.

Section 6-5

Evaluating Evidence

1. The critical analytical task performed by the IG in each inquiry or investigation is the evaluation of the evidence. To draw a conclusion, the IG must determine if there is a preponderance of credible evidence as viewed by a reasonable person. Preponderance is defined as "superiority of weight." In layman's terms, preponderance means "more likely than not." The preponderance of credible evidence is a lesser standard than "beyond a reasonable doubt," which is used in criminal proceedings. A preponderance of credible evidence is the standard IGs use to reach a conclusion and resolve an allegation. AR 15-6, Procedure for Investigating Officers and Boards of Officers, defined the term preponderance of evidence as follows: "The weight of the evidence is not determined by the number of witnesses or volume of the exhibits, but by considering all the evidence and evaluating such factors as the witness's demeanor, opportunity for knowledge, information possessed, ability to recall and relate events, and other indications of veracity."

2. To evaluate the evidence, you must first determine the facts that must be supported or refuted to indicate whether or not the allegation occurred. You must then collate the evidence pertaining to each fact and determine the credibility of each item of evidence -- often a difficult task. Some witnesses provide inaccurate information, others fail to provide the whole truth or slant the truth to their advantage, and a few deliberately lie. You must look for and address voids and conflicts in the evidence. You must seek corroboration. You must assign a relative value to each item of evidence -- some evidence is more important than other evidence. Finally, you must determine if a preponderance of the credible evidence substantiates or not substantiates the allegation, which is a highly subjective process. Remember: the more thorough you are in gathering pertinent evidence, the more likely you are to be objective in evaluating the facts.

3. You repeat this evaluation process for each of the facts essential to the allegation. Finally, given a set of supported or refuted facts, you must determine whether a preponderance of credible evidence exists regarding the allegation as a whole. If a preponderance indicates that the allegation occurred, the allegation is substantiated. If a preponderance indicates that the allegation did not occur, the allegation is not substantiated. If there is no preponderance of credible evidence, the allegation is neither substantiated nor refuted. Neither-nor conclusions are not authorized. When faced with a neither-nor situation, you should evaluate your process and attempt to gather additional evidence that will substantiate or refute the allegation. If your neither-nor situation still exists after searching for more evidence, then the allegation is not substantiated.

4. An IG is not bound by the rules of evidence that apply in a court of law. Nor must an IG prove an allegation beyond a reasonable doubt. But the process of evaluating evidence is not easy. Few cases are black and white; most are gray. Thoroughness, objectivity, and good judgment are critical aspects of an IG's evaluation process in every investigation or investigative inquiry.

5. Force-Field Diagram. A force-field diagram (shown below) is an invaluable tool for graphically depicting the assigned weight of evidence, determining facts, and assessing the preponderance of evidence in any investigation or investigative inquiry. Begin by first writing your allegation and elements of proof at the top of the chart. Next, divide your evidence into two groups – (1) evidence that tends to support substantiating the allegation or (2) not substantiating the allegation and write it on the chart. Indicate the level of each piece of evidence (direct, circumstantial, hearsay, opinion). Similarly, make a notation if un-sworn testimony is provided (i.e. statement) versus sworn testimony. Look for multiple citations in the evidence to establish any facts, and enter the facts as a separate line in either or both of the columns. The resulting columns of evidence are then weighed to determine a preponderance of evidence. Three entries of direct evidence weigh greater than three entries of hearsay evidence. Finally, assess the evidence as a whole and make a determination of substantiated or not substantiated.

Military Rules of Evidence

IGs will not consider evidence that is privileged under the Manual for Courts Martial, Military Rules of Evidence (MRE), as follows: communications between a lawyer and client, (MRE 502), privileged communications with clergy (MRE 503), the husband-wife privilege (MRE 504), the political vote privilege (MRE 508), deliberations of courts and juries (MRE 509), and the psychotherapist-patient privilege (MRE 513). In addition, IGs will not use evidence derived from the illegal monitoring of electronic communications in violation of 18 USC 2511. Furthermore, IGs may not use in any IG inquiry or investigation evidence derived from other evidence procured in violation of 18 USC 2511 pursuant to 18 USC 2515.

Section 7-1

Overview

The predominant category of evidence gathered by IGs is testimony obtained through oral statements. Interviews are the method used to gather oral evidence. In every interview, the IG has three major concerns: the rights of the individual being questioned, maintaining confidentiality, and obtaining the evidence needed. The process used by IGs to conduct interviews is designed to protect rights and enhance confidentiality. The IG's preparations and skills as an interviewer affect the quantity and quality of the evidence gathered. In investigations, the IG usually gathers sworn, recorded testimony by conducting formal interviews. In investigative inquiries, statements, gathered via informal interviews, are the norm. This section describes the process used by IGs to conduct both formal and informal interviews.

Section 7-2

Preparation for Interviews

1. Overview. As with most activities, interview preparation is vital to success. Interview preparation falls into three areas: witness scheduling, administrative considerations, and substantive issues. Determining the sequence in which you will conduct interviews is a key step in the planning process.

a. Witness Scheduling. Experience has shown that the best sequence is to interview the complainant first; then the subject-matter experts followed by material witnesses; and, finally, suspects or subjects. Naturally, the sequence of interviews will vary based on the nature of the allegations and on the availability of the witnesses, subjects, or suspects. Many inexperienced investigators are inclined to resolve cases quickly by talking to subjects or suspects first. Avoid that pitfall by following the recommended sequence that will:

- Give you information needed to ask the right questions of the subject or suspect.
- Enhance truth telling (i.e., people are more likely to be truthful if they know you have done your homework).
- Enable you to challenge immediately statements that are inconsistent with other evidence or that appear untrue.
- Allow you to advise subjects or suspects of all unfavorable information against them and allows them an opportunity to comment. You will have more unfavorable information at the end of an investigation than at the beginning. Remember: you must allow the subject or suspect to comment on all unfavorable information that you intend to use in your report!
- Decrease the likelihood for a recall interview. An interview conducted too early in the investigative inquiry process increases the likelihood of the need for a recall interview and may unnecessarily consume more of your time.
- Protect the legal rights of all persons involved. Because you will become more progressively knowledgeable about the case, you are more likely to protect the legal rights of all persons involved. For example, you are less likely to interview someone as a witness when that person should have been treated as a suspect.

You should also consider the order in which you will interview similar material witnesses. Frequently, investigators will group witnesses by the evidence they are expected to provide. For example, all witnesses who observed a specific event might be interviewed sequentially. Another alternative is to interview witnesses in chronological order.

b. Out-of-Sequence Interviews. There are circumstances that may cause you to interview the subject or suspect early in the investigation or inquiry. Examples of these circumstances are as follows:

- You have anonymous allegations and cannot readily identify any witnesses.
- You have vague or anonymous allegations that the subject may be able to clarify. The subject or suspect may provide you the names of witnesses.

- The subject or suspect has information not readily available elsewhere that you need early in the inquiry.
- The subject or suspect is about to retire or depart via permanent change of station (PCS) to a distant location and flagging is not appropriate.
- You believe this is one of those rare occasions when the need for speed justifies the risk.

c. Administrative Preparation. Ensure that you have the proper administrative details completed prior to the interview. These details include selecting the right interview guide from Appendix A and filling in the blank spaces with information from the Action Memorandum and Directive. If you are going to request a social security number, have a copy of the Privacy Act Statement available. If you are interviewing a suspect, complete the front side of a DA Form 3881. If taping, have a Transcript Information Sheet available. Set up and test your tape recorders; have extra batteries and a sufficient number of blank tapes on hand. Use AC power whenever possible; use batteries only as a back up power source. (As a matter of routine, once you complete a case, erase your tapes, remove the old labels, and affix new blank labels.)

(1) Time Factors. Another key planning consideration is the time it will take to conduct each interview. There are no hard and fast rules -- some interviews move along quickly, others become lengthy. At a minimum, you should plan time for the following:

(a) Rapport Building. Set aside a minute or two to put the witness at ease before you begin your interview.

(b) Pre-tape or Introduction. Plan to spend 5-15 minutes covering the points of your pre-tape. More time is required if you must execute a rights warning certificate.

(c) Questions and Answers. Always consider the possibility of unexpected issues or allegations arising during the interviews and allow a few extra minutes.

(d) Protect Confidentiality. Provide adequate time to allow one witness to leave and another to arrive without violating confidentiality. As a contingency, you should plan on what to do when you have a witness in your interview room and another waiting outside to be interviewed. Many IGs take a break and leave their interviewee in the interview room while they move the person waiting outside to another location.

(e) Administration. Plan time for you and your partner to compare notes, prepare for the next interview, and take care of personal needs. Experience has shown that an interview that turns out being shorter than planned is far better than an interview that takes more time than scheduled.

(2) Location Considerations. You can conduct interviews almost anywhere. The major consideration in choosing a location is privacy. Some locations, however, offer other advantages as well.

(a) Your IG office. Experience has proven that an IG office is often the best place to conduct interviews. You control the environment. You can avoid interruptions such as ringing telephones and people entering unannounced. Your office personnel can control other witnesses who may come early for an interview. Should you sense that a witness is going to be difficult, you may be able to ask for assistance from a more experienced IG or an IG of a higher rank. Your office is probably located away from the subject or suspect's workplace. Witnesses can discreetly visit your office. Conducting interviews at your office maximizes your efficiency. You do not have to spend time traveling, and you have your administrative support immediately available.

(b) Witness's Workplace. Another choice is to conduct the interview at the suspect's, subject's, or witness's office. The advantages are that the interviewee may be more at ease, more willing to cooperate, and more willing to share information. Often, your willingness to come to the witness's location for the interview can help establish rapport with a reluctant or defensive witness. The witness may also have ready access to information, records, or documents. The disadvantages are that many people at that office may find out that you are there, and rumors could result. Additionally, you have little control over privacy and probably cannot prevent unwanted interruptions. Subjects or suspects may want you to conduct the interview in their office because they feel more in control. If you have interviewed the proper witnesses, gathered the facts, and prepared for the interview, it will make little difference.

(c) Hotel or Motel. There will be times when you may need to travel, and your interviews may have to be conducted at a motel or hotel. These interviews can be done effectively if you plan ahead. When possible, arrange for a neutral interview location (have your orders cut to allow you to rent a conference room, extra room, or business suite). When notifying someone that you will interview him or her at a motel, set up an initial meeting in a public place such as the lobby. There you can properly identify yourself and make the interviewee more at ease. While you are not prohibited from interviewing one-on-one, even if the interviewee is of the opposite sex, having a partner while interviewing may make the interviewee more comfortable and provide everyone involved with a measure of protection from possible allegations of misconduct.

(d) Other Installations. If you must travel to another installation, you can request that the local IG provide you an interview room. You need to ensure that the local IG is aware of your needs and requirements. Additionally, consider asking the local IG to make witness notifications for you. The local IG is known in the command, knows the local environment, and can possibly enhance the confidentiality of your inquiry or investigation. Consider using a Reserve Center or National Guard Armory as an interview location if there is no installation nearby. Coordinate with the local IG.

(e) Witness's Home. At times you may have to interview a witness (usually a civilian) at his or her home. This situation can be undesirable because you lack control. Interviews conducted in a home are fraught with distractions. Additionally, the physical characteristics of the site may not be good. In all cases you want to ensure that your interview location is private enough to ensure that you can protect confidentiality of witnesses and preclude unnecessary disclosure of the details of the case.

d. Substantive Issues. Prepare an interrogatory (list of questions) for the interview. The process of building an interrogatory begins with the standards / elements of proof and your assessment of the evidence you believe the witness possesses. You then write questions to gather that evidence. War-game possible answers the interviewee might provide. The interrogatory provides you a road map for the interview and helps ensure that you do not forget to ask questions on all key points. If you plan to have the interviewee comment on documentary evidence, ensure that you have the documents at hand in the order that you plan to introduce them during the course of the interview. (See Interviewing Techniques in Chapter 8 in this guide for additional information.)

2. Pre-Interview Rehearsal. You should also consider rehearsals during your interview preparation. Set up all of your required materials in the location you plan to use for the interview. Ask for other IGs in your office to role-play the part of the witness you plan to interview. Test your recorders and telephone (if required) for sound quality while practicing your read-in and read-out procedures. Ask your role-playing witness the draft questions and refine your interrogatory. Good IG interviews don't just happen through wishful thinking. Remember the old adage - practice, practice, practice!

Section 7-3

Interview Types and Modes

1. Interview Types. There are three types of IG interviews: Witness Interviews, Subject Interviews, and Suspect Interviews. Each interview type has its own unique set of considerations for planning and conduct and are addressed in this section and in Chapter 8.

2. Interview Modes.

a. Face-to-Face. This is the most efficient method of communication and is the ideal method for conducting IG interviews during both investigative inquiries and investigations. Face-to-face interviewing allows you to observe the non-verbal reactions of the individual, enhancing your ability to establish and maintain rapport and ask effective follow-up questions. You should always attempt to interview your key witnesses and the subject or suspect face to face. Chapter 8 describes the non-verbal aspects of face-to-face interviews.

b. Telephonic Interviews.

(1) You may obtain both a statement and testimony over the telephone. A telephonic interview is an excellent time and money-saving method for interviewing witnesses who reside or work at a distant location. While you cannot observe the witness's non-verbal communications, you can often gain insights from the witness's inflection or tone of voice.

(2) Normally, you must contact witnesses in advance to schedule telephonic interviews. Many witnesses are not prepared to devote the required time to you when you first contact them. Also, you must be concerned about confidentiality. If you call them at work, they may not have the desired degree of privacy in their office. Always ask a telephone interview witness if he or she is in a location where he or she can speak freely and privately before conducting the interview. You should always strive to interview the witness in a location that provides a confidential setting in which the witness feels free to speak openly during the interview.

(3) Consider having a local IG at the witness's location and set a time for the interview. This approach may help put the witness at ease and establish your identity. The local IG may also provide a private location in his office for the witness to speak with you during the telephonic interview.

(4) If you are conducting a formal interview, just prior to calling, have the IG at the witness's location conduct a read-in on tape using the appropriate interview guide from Appendix A. Once the call is placed, the IG who administered the read-in script can verify the witness's identification and the fact that the witness has been properly sworn and advised of his or her rights. If you do not have an IG present at the witness's location, you may administer the oath and read-in over the telephone. Close the interview using the script in the appropriate interview guide (witness / subject / suspect). Either IG can conduct the read-out.

(5) In some cases, you may want the local IG at the witness's location to remain in the room or even on the telephone with the witness. The IG can later provide you feedback on the non-verbal reaction of the witness to your questions. In other sensitive cases, you may want the IG to give the witness complete privacy for the interview.

(6) A detailed list of questions prepared in advance is essential for a successful telephone interview. Try to anticipate the witness's answers and have follow-on questions prepared. It helps to have another IG participate in the interview using an extension telephone. Make sure you inform the witness of all parties on the telephone at your location.

(7) If you record a telephonic interview, you must inform all parties that the call is being recorded. Taping telephone conversations without the knowledge of all parties can violate Federal and / or State law. You can purchase simple devices through the supply system that allow your tape recorder to adapt to a telephone. You may also use a speaker telephone if available. This technology allows you to record the conversation and aids in the process when another IG is present. You are not required to ask whether someone consents to a recorded telephone interview. If the individual seems uncomfortable with the telephonic interview process, regardless of whether that person is required to cooperate, you have a problem you must overcome. When tape recording a telephonic interview using a speaker telephone, ensure the microphone is not voice-activated. Voice-activated microphones will cause the first one or two words in a sentence not to be recorded, which could change the entire meaning of someone's testimony.

c. Interviews by Others. In some cases you may coordinate via tech channels for another IG to interview witnesses for you. You must provide the interrogatories and enough background information so that the IG can conduct informed interviews. It is helpful to provide the IG with anticipated answers that you might expect from each witness. Also provide the IG a copy of your Directive as well as copies of any documentary evidence he or she may need during the interview. After the interviews are completed, the assisting IG sends you the tapes or copies of the transcripts. After you have acknowledged receipt of the testimony, the assisting IG destroys all file material.

Witness Availability and Cooperation

1. Within the Department of the Army. AR 20-1 requires DA personnel to cooperate with IGs. If you have a witness who is reluctant to cooperate in either an investigation or an investigative inquiry, the best course of action is to persuade that person that cooperation is in his or her (and the organization's) best interest. If unsuccessful, you should seek the assistance of the witness's commander or immediate supervisor, who can order or direct the individual to cooperate. Do not order or direct the individual yourself as it could cause you to lose your IG impartiality.
2. Witnesses from other Services. You may have occasion to interview witnesses from other branches of the Armed Forces. Make arrangements in the same way you do for Army witnesses. If you anticipate or have problems arranging interviews with members from another Service, coordinate through DAIG Assistance Division.
3. Civilian-Civilians. You cannot compel civilians not employed by DoD to cooperate with you. You have no authority to subpoena civilian witnesses. Contact your Legal Advisor or SJA for advice in situations regarding civilian witness cooperation.
4. Department of Defense Contractor Witnesses. DoD Contractor personnel are considered to be civilian-civilians under the provisions of AR 20-1. However, they can be made to cooperate with IG investigations and investigative inquiries if the contract employing them with the Government requires them to cooperate. In these situations, contact your contracting office and work through the Contracting Officer's Representative (COR) to obtain witness cooperation. Do not reveal the allegations or provide any IG records to the COR.
5. Control of Witnesses. It is difficult to conduct an investigation if the witnesses talk to each other about the case. Ensure you inform each witness of the requirement not to reveal to anyone the questions or topics discussed during the interview. Appendix A details specific language you must use to enhance IG confidentiality during interviews.

Section 7-5

Other Participants in Interviews

1. Court Reporters. If a court reporter not assigned to your IG office is used to record testimony, you must instruct the reporter on his duties and responsibilities. Caution the reporter about the privileged nature of the investigation. Provide instruction for taking the testimony, and direct the reporter to make a verbatim record of the testimony. Have the court reporter set up the equipment neatly but inconspicuously. The court reporter should test any recording devices before you begin interviewing. Require the reporter to save notes and give them to you with the verbatim transcripts. At the beginning of the investigation, administer the following oath to the reporter:

OATH: "Do you, _____, solemnly swear (or affirm) that the testimony taken in the case under investigation will be truly taken and correctly transcribed to the best of your ability; and that all knowledge of the case coming to you will be held in confidence; that all stenographic notes, carbon paper, spoiled sheets of testimony, or other papers, and all transcriptions thereof, will be carefully safeguarded and delivered into my hands, or otherwise disposed of as I may direct, so help you God?"

2. Interpreters. If an interpreter is required, caution him on the privileged nature of the investigation. You may administer to the interpreter the IG oath for a Temporary Assistant IG (see paragraph 2-5, AR 20-1). Immediately prior to the interpretation, administer the following oath at the beginning of the investigation but do not repeat it for each witness:

OATH: "Do you, _____, solemnly swear (or affirm) that you will interpret truly the testimony you are called upon to interpret, so help you God?"

3. Attorneys.

a. Suspects have a right to have an attorney present during their interview. You may choose to allow witnesses or subjects who request the presence of a lawyer during an interview to do so; however, they have no right to demand the presence of a lawyer. Remember: the purpose of a lawyer in an IG interview is only to advise the witness, subject, or suspect. You must prohibit a lawyer from answering questions for the suspect or from advising you on the conduct of the interview. We do not allow anyone other than transcribers to record or take notes during IG interviews. If you encounter difficulties with an attorney during an interview, take a break and contact SJA for advice. It is always best to explain the ground rules to both the suspect and the attorney during the pre-tape. This approach often precludes problems later during the interview.

b. If a witness or subject demands his right to have a lawyer present during the interview, what should you do? Explain that an IG interview is not a court of law and the proceedings are administrative in nature. Additionally, they do not have a right to have a lawyer present because they are not a suspect and do not have criminal allegations against them. You may allow the individual to have a lawyer present during the interview. Should a witness or subject request to see a lawyer during an interview, it is again your choice. In most cases it is best to allow them to do so. To not allow them to do so might make them defensive and reluctant to answer questions.

4. Friends. Persons being interviewed may request to have friends present. No one has a right to have a friend present. If you choose to allow a friend to be present, you must advise the friend about IG interview procedures. The friend is there for the moral support of the witness only and must remain silent. Inform the friend of confidentiality, and ask that he or she not reveal any information discussed during the interview.

5. Union Representatives. Some DA civilian employees may have the right to have a union representative from your installation present during their interviews. Others may request a union representative even if it is not their right if they are considered a member of the collective-bargaining agreement established between the union and the government. It is your responsibility to control a union representative at your interview whether that person is there by right or with your permission. In most cases, the role of the union representative is to observe and advise the witness. Union representatives do have the right to comment on the record but may not speak for their represented employee. Check with SJA regarding the collective-bargaining agreement at your installation.

Section 7-6

Status of Individuals During Interviews

The chart below summarizes the status, rights, non-rights, and interview guide formats to use during IG interviews.

Witness Interview Status, Rights, and Non-Rights

NOTES:

(1) The duty of a suspect to cooperate is offset by his right to remain silent on all matters that may incriminate him.

(2) IG should check the guardsman's orders to determine status. ADT / ADSW / AGR can be either Title 10 or Title 32.

- (3) Must be civilian lawyer at own expense or as appointed by law.
- (4) Only applicable if the civilian employee's position is covered by a collective-bargaining agreement. The employee does not have to be a member of a union.
- (5) Normally a civilian-civilian will not be either a subject or a suspect in an IG investigation. Consult with your SJA.

Section 7-7

Interview Sequence and Conduct

1. Depending on the nature of the allegations, sensitivity of the case, and location of witnesses, your interview may be anything from a very brief, informal telephone call (documented in a MFR summary) to a formal, recorded session lasting several hours.

a. Investigative Inquiry versus Investigation. Most of your interviews in an investigative inquiry will be informal. In an investigative inquiry, formal, recorded interviews are not the rule; but, in certain situations, they may be the best way to proceed. Generally, the more serious the issue, the more formality is appropriate. Sworn and recorded interviews are also useful in situations when you have conflicting evidence from different sources or when the allegations and issues are complicated. The sworn verbatim transcript will provide an accurate record of what was said. During investigations IGs take sworn testimony. There are circumstances, however, when sworn, tape-recorded testimonies are not required such as interviews with reluctant civilian-civilian witnesses or with subject-matter experts.

b. Testimony. Formal interviews are conducted in four parts consisting of a Pre-tape briefing; a recorded Read-in; recorded Questioning; and a recorded Read-out. Interview Guides can be found at Appendix A.

2. Pre-Tape Concept. The pre-tape briefing shown below is an informal briefing given by you to the interviewee. It serves several purposes. It familiarizes the witness with the interview process and helps to put him or her at ease (most witnesses have never been involved in an investigation or investigative inquiry). It provides you an opportunity to establish a dialogue with the witness. A skillful interviewer uses the pre-tape briefing to assess demeanor and to condition the witness to respond to questions. Most importantly, the pre-tape briefly explains key information, outlines administrative details, and answers any questions the interviewee may have concerning the interview process off tape, thus saving transcription time and expense. The pre-tape briefing includes:

- Advising the witness of the Privacy Act. (Required when you ask for personal identifying information such as the witness's social security number, home address, or home telephone number.)
- Advising the witness of the FOIA and that his testimony may be requested for unofficial purposes.
- Emphasizing confidentiality but not guaranteeing it. Witnesses must understand that their testimony can be used for official purposes.
- Advising suspects of their rights.

3. Pre-tape Briefing Outline. Use the pre-tape outline as a guide, become familiar with the contents, and brief the witness in your own words. Ensure that you can explain the reasons for each item. This briefing comes easily with experience and provides you the opportunity to establish rapport with the witness and condition him or her to respond to your questions. The following paragraphs amplify the outline contained below.

- a. Introduce yourself and show your credentials. Your credentials include a Letter of Identification and your ID card. An example of an IG Letter of Identification is at the end of this section. Many IGs reduce this letter to ID card size and laminate it.
- b. Explain that the interview will be conducted in four parts (Pre-tape briefing, Read-in, Interrogatory, and Read-out), and explain that the procedures are standard for IG investigations.
- c. Explain your role as a confidential fact-finder and that both “hearsay” and “opinion” evidence can be accepted in testimony. You may have to define those terms for the person whom you are interviewing.
- d. Explain how the IG System protects the confidentiality of the witness but that law or regulation may in some instances result in the release of the testimony. For example, a court may order the release of an IG record, or the commander may want to use the case file for adverse action that would result in the release of the testimony to the suspect and the chain of command.
- e. State that the interview will be conducted while the witness is under oath or affirmation and that it will be recorded. Do not ask the witness whether he or she wants to be recorded or take the oath. If the witness raises the question, explain the importance of taking sworn, recorded testimony.
- f. Explain that a prepared script is used during the Read-in and Read-out portions of the interview to ensure that the witness's rights are explained as required by law and regulation. These scripts are contained in the Interview Guides at Appendix A.
- g. Explain that you will ask questions and give the witness time to respond.
- h. Explain that at the end of the interview, you will again read from a prepared script, and the witness will be given an opportunity to present additional material that pertains to the investigation.
- i. Tell the witness that because the interview is recorded, all responses must be verbal; not to speak while anyone else is speaking; and to avoid actions such as tapping on the table, which might obscure words in the recording.
- j. Caution the witness to discuss classified information only if necessary and to identify any classified information given. Instruct the witness to ask you to turn off the tape recorder prior to discussing classified information so that you can determine whether the information is necessary to the case and for the transcript. If any portion of the tape contains classified information, then the tape must be classified. Likewise, if any classified information is used in your report, the report also must be classified and protected as appropriate. If you use court reporters, make sure they have appropriate clearances and have taken the IG oath as a Temporary Assistant IG.
- k. Explain that the final product of the investigation will be a report to the directing authority.

l. Explain that FOIA allows members of the public (anyone) to request any government record. These requests include IG records such as the transcript of the interview or the report of this investigation. Explain that IG records (testimony and any information extracted from testimony and included in the ROI / ROII) can be protected from a FOIA release if the witness wants it protected. Explain that at the end of the interview, as part of the Read-out script, you will ask the witness whether or not he or she consents to release. A "yes" will mean the witness consents to release and a "no" means they do not consent to release. Should there be such a request, you will forward the entire record to DAIG because The Inspector General of the Army is the lowest level release authority for IG records for unofficial purposes (FOIA requests are unofficial). You should explain that while IG records are protected from unnecessary release, the records could be used for official purposes as necessary throughout the Federal government and that FOIA consent has nothing to do with that use.

m. Be sensitive to the fact that many witnesses misunderstand the FOIA release question. Some witnesses believe you will think they are trying to hide something if they do not consent to release. Do not advise the witnesses how to answer this question, but do make them aware of what it means. Additionally, you should tell them that you draw no inference about whether they are truthful or not from their answer regarding FOIA. This issue is strictly an administrative matter for you.

n. Provide the witness a copy of the Privacy Act Statement summary (attached at the end of this section) and allow the witness to read it. Ask if the witness has any questions. This procedure will save time after you start the interview. If there are questions, tell the witness that the purpose of providing the summary is to explain our authority to request personal information and that the release of his or her social security number is voluntary. This statement is not a consent to release to a third party and does not have to be signed. You will refer to it in the Read-in.

o. Have the witness complete the applicable information on a Testimony Information Sheet (header sheet) (attached below). Explain that the header sheet is designed to assist whomever does the transcribing. During the interview, correct spellings of proper names and acronyms will be recorded on this sheet. The person transcribing often has difficulty with those items. After the interview, fold the header sheet and secure it around the interview tapes with a rubber band. This technique organizes your tapes and ensures the transcription is not attributed to the wrong witness's testimony.

p. Explain that you can turn off the recording devices and discuss points off tape but that everything said is considered on the record and may be used in the investigation regardless of whether the tape recorder is on. Explain that you can turn the tape recorders off for any breaks as required, but anything said off tape is still on the record and may be introduced later on tape.

q. Verify the status of the witness (Active Army, USAR, ARNG, AGR, Federal technician, State technician, civilian, etc) to determine his or her rights and whether he or she is subject to the UCMJ (see above).

r. While not required, you may explain to civilian Federal employees their right to have a union representative present as described previously in Section 7-5.

s. If you are interviewing a suspect, execute the DA Form 3881, Rights Warning Procedure / Waiver Certificate, during the Pre-tape briefing. You will refer to it during the Read-in. If possible, ensure the SJA reviews the DA Form 3881 for legal correctness.

(1) Use the DA Form 3881, Rights Warning Procedure / Waiver Certificate, to advise suspects and witnesses who incriminate themselves of their rights. Consult your SJA concerning its proper use. The general procedures are to have the suspect read the front side, Part I, which you will have completed in advance. Then read the backside, Part II, aloud while the suspect reads a copy. Ask the suspect the four waiver questions. If the suspect chooses to waive his rights, have the suspect sign the waiver in Section B. You must also sign the appropriate block in Section B. Ensure that the name of any witness of the execution of the waiver appears in the appropriate block in Section B.

(2) Should you have to execute a DA Form 3881 during an interview and you are not sure what to put as the charges, take a break and call your SJA. If the SJA is unavailable, a general description of the charges, in your own words (i.e., failure to follow a regulation, misuse of government equipment, etc.) will suffice. If you question a suspect a second time on the same allegation(s) for which you already completed a DA Form 3881 (and that person waived his or her rights), you do not have to complete a new DA Form 3881. However, if you are questioning the suspect concerning new allegations, you must complete a new DA Form 3881 that includes any new allegations or suspected violations. The original copy of the DA Form 3881 should be included with the suspect's testimony in the ROI / ROII.

4. Read-in Script. The Read-in is a formal script used to begin the interview. Appendix A contains initial and recall interview guides for witnesses, subjects, and suspects. Before an interview, select the correct interview guide and fill in the blank spaces with the correct personal data from the investigation's Action Memorandum and Directive. If you are conducting an investigative inquiry and have no Action Memorandum or Directive, fill in the allegations about which you are inquiring. During the interview, complete the Pre-tape briefing, turn on the tape recorder, and read the Read-in script verbatim. This technique ensures -- as a matter of record -- that you fully and correctly advised the witness, subject, or suspect of the process and his or her rights. The Read-in and Read-out scripts were carefully prepared to ensure that they are technically correct. Do not paraphrase the material in them. The only modifications you should make are if an individual advises you that he will neither swear nor affirm (you indicate that the testimony is not sworn) or if you are conducting a recall interview and the previous testimony was not sworn (add the oath to the recall Read-in).

5. Questioning. The questions are the meat of an interview. During preparation, develop an interrogatory (a set of questions) to elicit the anticipated evidence from the witness. Once the interview begins, be flexible. You may have to alter the questions or the order in which you ask them based upon the topics introduced by the witness, the mood of the witness, and variances in the information actually presented. A detailed list of questions is essential for a good interview. Try to anticipate the witness's answers and have follow-on questions prepared. It helps to have another IG participate in the interview. Your partner should ensure the questions are answered clearly and completely. You must be prepared to ask difficult or embarrassing questions in a calm, forthright, and professional manner. The elements of proof from your standards will guide your question development. When interviewing a subject or suspect, you must ask questions that allow the subject or suspect to comment on the allegations and all adverse information that will appear in the report -- even if only to deny the allegations.

6. Read-out Script. The Read-out is a formal script that closes the interview. Read-outs follow Read-ins in the interview guides at Appendix A. A key portion of the Read-out is advising the witness of the FOIA and having that person respond "yes" or "no" on tape to indicate whether or not he or she consents to release of his or her testimony. Another key item is the admonition to the witness regarding confidentiality.

7. Statements. Informal interviews consist of three phases: an introduction, questioning, and a closing.

a. Introduction. The introduction is very similar to the Pre-tape briefing for taking testimony. In fact, you may wish to use all or part of the outline at Appendix A to guide your introduction when obtaining a statement. Using the standard outline helps to ensure that each witness gets the same information, that you cover all essential topics, and that your presentation is smooth and confident. At a minimum, you should discuss the investigation / investigative inquiry process, the IG role, Privacy Act, FOIA, and rights warning (if required).

b. Questions. There is no difference between questioning when taking a statement and questioning when taking testimony. The evidence that you expect to gather affects the questions you draft in your interrogatory. The information you receive and the demeanor of the witness affects how you actually ask the questions. These factors are independent of the type of interview you conduct. Remember: both are equally as thorough.

c. Closing. Once you complete your questioning, you must close out the interview. You should close out with some type of statement that allows the individual to know what to expect. Be candid. If you don't think you will ever contact the witness again, say so. If you sense that the witness fears retribution for cooperating with the IG, tell the witness to contact you or your office if he or she becomes the target of reprisal (IGs would treat that situation like any allegation we receive). When conducting an interview, do not speculate on the outcome of a case or commit yourself to a milestone for its completion. Ask the witness whether he consents to release his testimony in response to unofficial requests under the FOIA (see the READ-OUT portion of the investigations interview guide.). If you do not ask the question, and there is a request for the record, the information he provided must be treated as releasable. Finally, you should request that the individual not discuss the case with anyone except an attorney should he or she choose to consult one.

PRE-TAPE BRIEFING OUTLINE

Use your own words, but address each item listed below.

1. Identify yourself as the Investigator(s) -- Show Military ID and IG Credential / Detail Card

2. Show the Directive

3. Explain the Investigative Procedure - "This is a four-part interview..."

1. PRE-TAPE briefing (we are doing this now).
2. Formal READ-IN. (a formality designed to ensure that the rights of the individual are fully explained and legal requirements are met.)
3. Questioning.
4. Formal READ-OUT.

4. Explain IG investigator's role - "IGs are..." or "We are..."

- Confidential fact-finders for the Directing Authority.
- Collect and examine all pertinent evidence.
- Make complete and impartial representation of all evidence in the form of a written report.
- No authority to make legal findings, impose punishment, or direct corrective action.
- Dual Role of IG:
 - Protect best interests of U.S. Army.
 - Establish the truth of the allegations or that the allegations are not true and clear a person's good name. Anyone can make allegations.
- IG confidentiality:
 - Protect the confidentiality of everyone involved but do not guarantee that protection.
 - Will not reveal sources of information.
 - Will not tell you with whom we have talked.
 - Will not tell you specific allegations being investigated (except for subjects and suspects).

5. Explain the Interview ground rules

- We normally take sworn and recorded testimony. Recorders improve accuracy. (Ask if the witness objects to swearing; some people would prefer to affirm.)
- All answers must be spoken. Tape recorder cannot pick up nods or gestures.
- Classified information: If classified information comes up, we will discuss that information off tape first.
- Break procedures: We can go off tape at any time, but...
- We never go off the record.

6. Release of your testimony

- The last question we ask you during the READ-OUT is whether you consent to release your testimony to members of the public under the FOIA.
- FOIA allows members of the public to request government records for unofficial purposes. It is your choice whether you want to protect your testimony from release outside the Federal government.
- You will be asked to decide at the end of the interview if you consent to the release of your testimony (we do not infer anything from your answer).
- "NO" = Do not consent. "YES" = Do consent.
- Our report, including your testimony, will be used as necessary for official government purposes.

7. *Privacy Act of 1974 (Privacy Act pertains to U.S. citizens only unlike FOIA, which applies to the world.)

- Disclosure of SSN is voluntary.
- Describes authority to ask for personal information.
- Please read the Privacy Act. Will refer to it during the formal read-in.

8. *Testimony Information Sheet (Header Sheet)

- Individual fills out first four (4) lines (name, rank, address, phone, SSN).
Note: SSN is voluntary per the Privacy Act of 1974.
- Used by investigators for notes, acronyms, proper names, etc.
- Aids in preparing an accurate transcript.

9. Confirm Witness Status

10. *Rights warning / waiver. Execute DA FORM 3881 (when appropriate, such as during a suspect interview).

11. Wrap-up

- This is an administrative procedure; not a court of law.
- We can accept and use hearsay and opinion.
- We protect everyone's confidentiality but do not guarantee confidentiality.
- To keep this case as confidential as possible, you will be asked not to discuss your testimony with anyone except your attorney, if you choose to consult with one, without our permission.

* Provide interviewee with appropriate document.

Section 7-8

Self-Incrimination and Rights Warning / Waiver Certificate Procedures

1. Overview. You must always be alert for the witness or subject who, while testifying, implicates himself or herself as a suspect. The admission of possible criminal wrongdoing need not be related to the case you are investigating. This point also applies to suspects who may implicate themselves in an area outside the scope of your investigation. If an individual implicates himself or herself in criminal activity: stop, read, and execute the rights warning procedure and waiver on DA Form 3881, and continue the interview only if the individual waives his or her rights.

2. Procedures. DA Form 3881 procedures are shown below. If you have any questions regarding the DA Form 3881 or encounter any difficulty when executing the warning / waiver, consult with SJA.

a. Complete the administrative data on the front side of the DA Form 3881 prior to the interview. Summarize the allegations contained in the Action Memorandum. Ask the suspect to review the personal data and other information. Advise the suspect that you will formally advise him of his rights, explain his options, and then ask him if he is willing to waive his rights by signing the DA Form 3881. Also, inform the suspect that you will refer again to the rights warning / waiver when you conduct the Read-in (if you are taking testimony while interviewing a suspect).

b. Read the appropriate paragraphs in Part II on the back of the DA Form 3881 (THE WARNING) to the suspect verbatim (this reading includes advising the suspect of the specific allegations). Ensure that the suspect understands what you have read. Note that different paragraphs are applicable for military personnel and only for civilian personnel.

c. Ask the suspect the four questions in the second part of Part II on the back of the DA Form 3881 (THE WAIVER) verbatim. Ensure the suspect answers "yes" or "no" to the questions. Do not accept "I guess so" as an answer.

d. If the suspect waives his rights, ask him to sign the front of the DA Form 3881 in Block 3 of Section B (SIGNATURE OF INTERVIEWEE). If the suspect does not agree to waive his rights, have him check the appropriate block and sign in Section C (NON-WAIVER).

e. Do not recall a suspect who previously invoked his rights unless the suspect agrees to such a recall and has coordinated the interview with an attorney. He will be notified of unfavorable information in writing and advised that he has the right to comment on the information if he chooses.

3. See notes in Suspect Read-In Script in dealing with a witness who becomes suspected of knowingly making a false statement under oath or of having committed another criminal offense.

The questioning may not be utilized to discourage a suspect/accused from exercising his/her rights (For example, do not make such comments as "If you didn't do anything wrong, you shouldn't need an attorney.")

Break Procedures

Taking Breaks. Should you or the witness need to take a break for any reason while recording testimony, state for the record (on tape) the circumstances and time before shutting off the recorders. When ready to resume the interview, turn on the recorders and state the time and whether or not the people in attendance are the same. If someone has departed or someone new is present, give his or her name and briefly explain the reason for the change. Remember: during the Pre-tape you advised the witness that anything said during a break can and will be introduced on tape. You must be mindful of off tape conversations.

Section 8-1

Overview

1. The basis for the resolution of many IG cases is intelligent, careful questioning. Effective questioning can only be accomplished by skill, preparation, and experience. The nature of IG business involves dealing with perceptions and the reason why things occurred. Therefore, IGs normally conduct interviews as a question-and-answer session rather than taking written statements. The previous section focused on the process of conducting interviews. This section focuses more on the art of interviewing.
2. The results of a good IG interview are directly related to the amount of planning put into the effort. You must be clearly focused on obtaining facts directly pertinent to the matters under investigation. What are the issues and allegations? What standards are you using against which to compare your evidence? What events have transpired up to the point of the interview? What evidence do you already possess, and what evidence do you still require? Have you constructed your interrogatory while keeping the above questions under consideration? Have you consulted with your Staff Judge Advocate? If you have considered the above, you will be mentally ready for the interview.
3. Aside from the administrative considerations (interview location, tape recorder acquisition and preparation, and necessary paperwork needed) and the preparation of the interrogatory, most IGs still feel unprepared for the actual interview. The art of facing another human being and having to ask the hard questions drains most people. You are no exception. How can you quickly and pleasantly begin, and then conduct, the interview? This chapter will discuss the tactics and techniques used during the IG interview.

Formulating Questions

1. The Interrogatory. A well thought-out interrogatory is the key to a successful interview. Use care when determining the order of your questions. You can put the witness at ease by asking background questions first in order to establish rapport. Your interrogatory should include the anticipated answers or right answers. If you cannot anticipate the answer, be ready to follow-up with other prepared questions. Try to avoid being surprised, but don't let surprises upset you. Do not hesitate to take a break to think your way around surprises or develop changes in your line of questioning. A well thought-out question is better than a reactive question.
2. Getting to the Point. At the appropriate time during the interview, you must directly address the issues and allegations. Asking the hard questions at the correct time is a genuine art form. You need to establish background information and put the witness at ease before getting into difficult areas that could cause the witness to become defensive. The best approach is usually to ask first background questions that are pertinent but not controversial and then work the witness toward the more difficult subjects. A defensive witness may not want to answer your questions, and a defensive suspect may invoke his right not to incriminate himself. Waiting too long can appear to be "beating around the bush" or "fishing," which can be just as bad.
3. Phrasing Questions. Phrase your questions so the information comes from the witness. Providing too much information in your question may identify your sources. Avoid questions that the interviewee can answer with a yes or no response (otherwise known as a close-ended question). For example, if you want to know if the witness was at a certain place on a particular day, do not ask him or her if he or she was there. Instead, ask where that person was that day.
4. Be Methodical. Ask one question at a time, then patiently wait for the answer. If the witness hesitates, don't immediately start rephrasing the question -- he or she simply may need time to think. In many instances, a witness starts to answer a question and one or both investigators interrupt with another question for clarification before the witness has completed answering the original question. Write a note, and ask the question when the witness finishes the answer. Usually, if a witness does not understand a question, he will ask for clarification.
5. Avoid Leading Questions. Avoid making detailed statements followed by, "Is that correct?" Do not put words into the mouth of a witness such as, "You really didn't use the Government sedan to go hunting, did you?" However, it may be appropriate to summarize to the witness what you think he said. You can say, "Let me get this straight. You are telling me that the Government sedan was inoperable on the day you were alleged to have been out hunting?"
6. Language Usage. Use language that the witness understands, and try to persuade the witness to avoid jargon or slang. If jargon, slang, or acronyms are used, clarify them during the interview. Rephrase the question if the answer you receive is incomplete or not to the point.

7. Ask Simple Questions. Do not ask compound questions; they elicit incomplete answers, and it is difficult to determine later which question the witness answered.

8. Sketches and Diagrams. Should you ask about locations or positions, it is frequently helpful to have the witness draw a rough diagram or sketch. This diagram or sketch can be entered into the ROI as an exhibit where it can help a reader to understand the testimony.

Section 8-3

Establishing Rapport

1. Barriers to Communication. The goal of all IG interviews is to gather evidence from people via oral statements. However, most people feel intimidated and nervous when talking to an IG. You face a daunting task in removing this barrier to effective communications during your interview. Establishing rapport aids greatly in achieving a more open environment and is vital in conducting an IG interview.

2. Techniques. Rapport is an ongoing process that should continue throughout the interview. Your first step is to greet your witness / subject / suspect warmly with appropriate military courtesy. Begin some casual conversation prior to going into the pre-tape outline to establish rapport. Establish rapport from the onset by clearly stating your name, your title, and the purpose of the interview. Ensure that the person whom you are interviewing understands that an allegation has been made, that anyone can make allegations, and that IGs inquire into allegations for the commander. The pre-tape outline is designed to help build rapport.

3. Application. Your efforts to build rapport must appear to be genuine and not contrived, or it will be counterproductive to your goal of enabling your witness / subject / suspect to answer your questions freely. Furthermore, rapport offers you the opportunity to discern what is important to the witness / subject / suspect and to determine the most effective interviewing and questioning strategy or style to employ. Rapport can be nothing more than a firm handshake, a smile, professional demeanor, or even the smooth and controlled way you explain procedures during the pre-tape briefing. Rapport sets the conditions and tone for the witness / subject / suspect to speak with the IG and establishes a secondary, non-verbal method of communication.

Section 8-4

Active Listening

1. Importance. As your witness / subject / suspect discusses matters under investigation with you, employ good active-listening skills. Active listening is an important interviewing skill. It is a good technique for improving communication skills in any context, but it is critical for interviewing because you do not always have the opportunity to interview key witness / subject / suspects a second time. Active listening is much more than simply concentrating on what the other person is saying because it frequently requires you to test the accuracy of your own perceptions.

2. Techniques. Active listening begins by putting witness / subject / suspects at ease and letting them know that what they say is important. Good IGs minimize their own speaking while reacting positively to witness / subject / suspect comments. Head nods; body language that suggests interest; and brief statements like “yes,” “I see,” “go on,” etc. let witness / subject / suspects know that you understand what they are saying and consider it important. These techniques encourage them to keep speaking.

3. Questioning for Clarification and Feedback. Paraphrasing, or putting into your own words what the other person seems to be communicating to you, is the central skill in active listening. This technique enables witness / subject / suspects to know whether or not their point is getting through, or whether you have misunderstood and need further explanation. Paraphrasing minimizes the potential for the witness / subject / suspect to take exception to your subsequent record of the interview.

4. Know your Witness. You must remember that most witness / subject / suspects have not developed the skill of active listening and may misinterpret what you are asking them, even when you skillfully phrase the question. Consequently, witness / subject / suspects often give an answer that does not respond to the question. Unfortunately, IGs who are not good active listeners do not realize that they never received an answer to their question until they try to write a synopsis of the interview. Non-responsive answers can be important and useful because they may reveal what truly concerns the witness / subject / suspect and provide a useful basis for follow-up questions. However, you must also be sure to get the answer to the question.

5. Keep an Open Mind. To be able to paraphrase effectively, the IG must keep an open mind and avoid making assumptions or judgments, both of which are distracting. Active listening tests your own ability to perceive accurately and demonstrates that you must share in the responsibility for the communication.

6. The Two-Person Rule. The proper interpretation of a witness / subject / suspect's body language is an important part of the skill of active listening and is another reason why, when possible, two people should conduct interviews. While one person takes notes, the other concentrates on watching the witness / subject / suspect to ensure that the witness / subject / suspect's body language (non-verbal communication) is consistent with what the witness / subject / suspect is saying. Body language may reveal that a verbal denial is really a silent admission. Your eyes can tell you how to listen.

Section 8-5

Non-Verbal Communications and Body Language

1. Overview. IGs use their eyes to listen. Non-verbal communications (i.e., the body language displayed by a witness / subject / suspect) can reveal much about what a person is attempting to convey to you. Most people can control their verbal communications better than their non-verbal ones. We may think before we talk, but our non-verbal communications, or body language, may say more about what we really mean. This fact is particularly true during an interview. For example, some witness / subject / suspects will hesitate or pause before or during a response to certain questions in order to think about and formulate the answer. Such hesitation may indicate an attempt to think of a deceptive answer, but it also could be an attempt to give a controlled response to a sensitive question or area of concern. During the pause in the verbal communication, the witness / subject / suspects may engage in patterns of non-verbal communications that are unconscious and therefore uncontrolled. These spontaneous reactions generally are more reliable indicators than the verbal response that accompanies or follows the body language. Thus, the good IG reads body language to give context to verbal communication.

a. Eye gaze, eye movement, pupil constriction / dilation, touching, and distance or spacing are all part of non-verbal communication. You need to know how to use these concepts in the interview to reduce or increase tension in a witness / subject / suspect, to gain rapport, and to enhance cooperation.

b. Likewise, you need to be aware of the witness / subject / suspect's non-verbal behavior to evaluate credibility properly. Is the witness / subject / suspect withholding information? Lying? Unfortunately, there is no one single non-verbal indicator that magically tells whether the witness / subject / suspect is being deceptive. Most people will exhibit some signs of stress when they are omitting or falsifying information. However, the stress may be induced by a variety of unrelated issues or problems, and all individuals have favored verbal and non-verbal behavior that is normal for them. The witness / subject / suspect's intelligence, sense of social responsibility, and degree of maturity may also affect stress.

2. How to Read Body Language. There are a number of general observations about mood and veracity that you may draw from specific body-language responses. A few of them appear in the following paragraphs.

a. Failing to exhibit any facial expression or exhibiting fear may indicate deception. By contrast, an expression of anger probably indicates truthfulness. A defiant expression, especially when coupled with crossed arms and / or legs, indicate deception as does an expression of acceptance (sad expression, eyes dropped, or hand across the mouth). Indications of pleasure (including cocky or challenging attitudes) are typical expressions of deception (an exception may apply to juveniles).

b. Changes in facial color may be revealing. Blanching, an indication of fear, may also indicate deception. Blushing is more likely to mean embarrassment than deception.

c. Normal eye contact is maintained 30 to 60 percent of the time between two persons engaged in conversation. IGs have greater freedom in maintaining or breaking eye contact than witness / subject / suspects, and a long gaze by a witness / subject / suspect may be interpreted as a challenge. Truthful persons look at you longer during the interview than do deceptive persons. Truthful eyes are direct, but not overly so; are open with a good portion of the whites showing; and are attentive and looking at you. Deceptive witness / subject / suspects tend to avert their gaze and avoid direct eye contact. They range from evasive to a cold stare; they may appear tired or have a glassy look.

d. A body movement such as shifting the torso shows internal conflict when the movement is consistently in time with the questioning. Deceptive people unconsciously retreat from a threatening situation. In those cases, witness / subject / suspects actually move their chair away from you or toward a door or window.

e. Body posture for witness / subject / suspects is characterized as either truthful or deceptive. The chart below summarizes body posture attributes.

Truthful Body Posture	Deceptive Body Posture
Open, upright, and comfortable	Slouched in chair, preventing the IG from getting close
Aligned frontally to face the IG directly	Unnaturally rigid
Leaning forward with interest	Lacking frontal alignment
Relaxed, casual, with some nervousness or excitement	Tending to retreat behind physical barriers
Smooth in its changes with no pattern	Erratic in its changes (can't sit still) Closed (elbows close to sides, hands folded in their lap, legs and ankles crossed)
	A "runner's position" (one foot back ready to push off)
	Exhibiting head and body slump

f. Supportive and symbolic gestures may indicate:

- Sincerity, with open arms, palms up;
- Disbelief, with hands to chest (who me?);
- Denials, by head shaking;
- Accusation, by pointing a finger (usually by a truthful person);
- Threats, by pounding or slamming the fist (usually by a truthful person);
- Disgust, by turning the head away and sighing (indicative of an untruthful person);

- Agreement, by nodding the head and dropping eye contact, to indicate an admission;
- Lack of interest, with head or chin in hand and head cocked;
- Interest, with head or chin in hand and head straight;
- Closed posture (deception) by crossing of arms, legs, and ankles; or by hiding hands, feet, mouth, or eyes.

g. Grooming gestures are exhibited because the body needs stress and tension relievers. Grooming gestures keep the hands busy and allow the witness / subject / suspect to delay answering questions. These gestures usually occur when the witness / subject / suspect is lying and are inappropriate for the situation. Grooming gestures include tie straightening, sleeve or skirt tugging, head or hair combing or scratching, clothes sweeping, etc.

h. Some general observations of verbal patterns indicating truthful and deceptive persons may include the following:

- Deceptive persons tend to deny their wrongdoing specifically while the truthful person will deny the problem in general.
- Deceptive persons tend to avoid realistic or harsh language while the truthful do not.
- Truthful persons generally answer specific inquiries with direct and spontaneous answers. The answers are on time with no behavioral pause.
- Deceptive persons may fail to answer or delay answers. They may ask to have the question repeated or repeat the question asked. This tactic allows them time to think of an answer. "Could you repeat the question?"
- Deceptive persons may have a memory failure or have too good a memory. "I don't remember the specifics of that." "I don't recall."
- Deceptive persons tend to qualify their answers more than truthful persons. "I was not involved in an adulterous relationship in December of 2003."
- Deceptive persons may evade answering by talking off the subject. "Hey, enough of this stuff. How about those Yankees?"
- Deceptive persons may support their answers with religion or oaths. The truthful rarely employ this tactic. "May God strike me dead..."
- Deceptive persons tend to be overly polite, and it is more difficult to arouse their anger.
- Deceptive persons may feign indignation or anger initially but will quit as the interview continues. "Is that all you have on me – this trivial issue?"

3. A Note of Caution. It is important that you identify both verbal and non-verbal communication throughout the interview. You must read clusters of behavior and may not rely on a single observation. Limitations and exceptions to the use of body language are based on factors such as emotional stability, cultural variations and the age of the witness / subject / suspects, outside influences such as drugs or alcohol, and the intelligence of the witness / subject / suspects (the higher the level of intelligence, the more reliable the behavioral symptoms as an indicator of truth or deceit).

4. A Final Caution: Effective use and interpretation of body language requires training and practice. IGs should be wary of making decisions about witness / subject / suspect veracity based only on their interpretation of that person's body language.

a. As an IG, you conduct interviews as part of an administrative proceeding – not a court of law. However, the people you interview typically have misconceptions about the proceedings. Consequently, most witness / subject / suspects tend to exhibit psychological traits that the IG can exacerbate if he or she is not cognizant of the stress levels that the interview can generate.

b. There are a number of psychological factors that have a direct bearing on interviewing techniques and influence the reliability of the information obtained. The IG should ascertain the existence of such factors in the witness / subject / suspect and, in some cases, reduce or heighten them. Some of the more important emotional factors are anger, fear, and excitement. Such factors are readily recognizable through their physical and verbal manifestations.

- Witness / subject / suspects who become angry may resist the IG emotionally. In most cases, the IG must suppress this anger. In some cases, however, anger may cause the witness / subject / suspect to make truthful admissions that he or she might have otherwise withheld. IGs must always keep their own anger in check.
- Fear is aroused through any present or imagined danger. The fear associated with interviews is not fear of physical danger but of psychological danger associated with job and financial security. This emotion may be beneficial when interviewing a hostile witness / subject / suspect. When attempting to elicit information from a friendly witness / subject / suspect, IGs should attempt to minimize its influence.
- Excitement tends to heighten perception and may leave false impressions. However, neutral excitement means the witness / subject / suspect is merely prepared to meet whatever may arise and may also affect the perception of the witness / subject / suspect. This neutral excitement could develop into fear or anger with their attendant changes in mental attitude. Usually, neutral excitement is aroused when people are aware of a potential danger not specifically directed at them as would be the case in a witness / subject / suspect interview. IGs may eliminate the supposed danger by adequate assurances to the witness / subject / suspect that they are not threatened by the situation. Tell the witness / subject / suspect that you are interviewing him or her because he or she may have pertinent information to the matter under investigation or that he or she is not the target or subject of the inquiry.

5. Remember: unless you are formally trained in the use of body language assessment, your observations should only be used to facilitate more in-depth questioning. Do not enter your observations of witness / subject / suspect body language into an ROI / ROII unless you are fully trained and certified to make such an assessment. See Section 8-8 for more detail on the use of IG observations.

Section 8-6

Interview Guidelines and Witness Control

As a general rule, the following guidelines should be followed during IG interviews:

- Greet the person to be interviewed in an appropriate manner
- Open the interview in accordance with AR 20-1 and the Pre-tape outline
- Define or state the purpose of the interview
- Establish and maintain rapport
- Maintain control - don't let the witness / subject / suspect interview you
- Don't argue with each other or with the witness / subject / suspect
- Try to evaluate each piece of information or allegation on its own merit; the witness / subject / suspect may present many allegations that are patently untrue but may also make an allegation that has great significance or import (IGs who stop listening will miss the latter)
- Refrain from trying to impress the witness / subject / suspect unless such action is specifically used as an interviewing technique
- Maintain strict impartiality and keep an open mind, receptive to all information regardless of its nature – be a fair and impartial fact-finder
- Listen before taking action
- Take your time -- don't hurry
- Be a good listener
- Accept the witness / subject / suspect's feelings
- Ensure you understand what the speaker is trying to convey
- Use appropriate questioning techniques based upon the witness / subject / suspect's demeanor
- Make perception checks to ensure you understand what the witness / subject / suspect means
- Use silence when it is appropriate to force a response

- Do not try to solve the problem during the interview, but do mention the types of subject-matter experts (personnel specialist, counsel, etc.) that may be of assistance
- Review your notes and information to ensure you and the witness / subject / suspect agree on what was said
- Ask what the complainant or witness / subject / suspect expects or wants to happen as a result of the information provided
- Allow your IG peer to ask questions
- Make no promises
- Ask if there is any other issue or information the IG should know or anything else the witness / subject / suspect would like to add
- Set up time for continuation, if necessary. When in doubt, don't punt – HUDDLE!
- Extend your appreciation
- Close the interview in accordance with AR 20-1 and The Assistance and Investigations Guide.

Section 8-7

Interviewing Non-DA Civilians

1. You do not have the authority to require the appearance or testimony of non-DA civilian witnesses. Your techniques in dealing with non-DA civilians will frequently determine if you can gain their cooperation and testimony. Consider these techniques when dealing with civilian witnesses.

- a. Adopt an objective, empathetic attitude.
- b. Explain the procedures that will be followed and the rationale because some civilians may not understand your role or may view the investigation more as an inquisition. Anticipate potential problems. Do not use military jargon and acronyms.
- c. Attempt to conduct all interviews at your location. If the witness does not agree to this request then conduct the interview at a neutral place like a hotel or motel conference room. If the witness still refuses, it is permissible to conduct the interview where the witness suggests. However, make sure you take appropriate measures to avoid the appearance of impropriety. Be aware of the impact you and your partner have, as IGs, when you go to a person's place of business to conduct an interview. There may be rumors that adversely affect the witness. If you make witnesses aware of these potential problems, they will often change their minds about interviewing at the place of work. Civilian clothes could be appropriate when interviewing civilian witnesses at their home or work place.
- d. Explain the IG concept of confidentiality and the methods used to protect the rights of all those involved in the investigative process.
- e. Should the witness be reluctant to participate in a formal interview, explain the emphasis on the IG process of sworn, recorded testimony. If the witness remains reluctant, then continue the interview without recording the session. Complete a written summary of the information provided immediately following the interview.

2. Consider other alternatives if there is continued reluctance to testify after repeated explanations. For example, if a witness refuses to give oral testimony, ask for a written statement. Ask yourself if this witness's testimony is critical to your investigation. Can this information be obtained from another source? A decision not to interview a reluctant witness is sometimes best.

Section 8-8

Interviewer Observations

Your observations are of value when developing follow-on questions and may be of value when weighing the evidence or credibility of a witness. During the questioning, continuously evaluate the mannerisms and emotional state of the witness. Hesitation, evasive answers, body movements, and fidgeting may indicate the witness is not telling the truth or is concealing information. Such behavior may only mean that the witness is nervous with the interview process. Your ability to put the witness at ease becomes very important in these instances. You are better able to judge when a specific question causes the witness obvious discomfort. It may be worth rephrasing the question, or it may be appropriate to direct your question to their discomfort. For example: "I sensed a change in your voice when I asked that question. Why?" When appropriate, write a Memorandum For Record that describes physical mannerisms. Use caution, however, in interpreting physical mannerisms, and avoid attaching undue or unfounded significance to them.

Section 8-9

Memorandum For Record

1. A Memorandum For Record (MFR) is a suitable way to record your observations, to identify exhibits, or to record other information important to the investigation. A MFR can also be used to document a summary of witness testimony. Remember: when you include an MFR with your observations in your report, you become a witness in your case.
2. Prepare MFRs while the matters are fresh in your mind. Take a few minutes after the interview to make either notes on the testimony transcript information sheet or dictate your observations on the tape immediately after the recorded testimony.
3. The MFR should contain:
 - a. What was observed (who, what, when, where, and how, if applicable).
 - b. Why the action was recorded.
 - c. What was found.
 - d. Explanatory notes, comments, or comparisons.
 - e. The signature of at least one investigating officer.

Section 8-10

Polygraph Use

The polygraph, commonly known as a lie detector, is not an appropriate method for gathering evidence in an IG inquiry or investigation. An investigation that requires the use of the polygraph has gone beyond the scope of what is appropriate for an IG. If you need to use a polygraph, consult with your SJA and consider turning the case over to a criminal investigator.

Section 8-11

Common Pitfalls

1. Successful IGs use their personal traits but must be able to adjust their own dispositions to harmonize with the traits and moods of the witness / subject / suspect. There are many errors that an IG can make while making this adjustment. Some of the most blatant are:

- Showing personal prejudice or allowing prejudice to influence the conduct of the interview - destroys IG objectivity and credibility;
- Lying - destroys the IG's credibility and encourages similar behavior from the witness / subject / suspect;
- Hurrying - encourages mistakes and omissions and leads to the IG improperly evaluating the veracity of the information provided;
- Making assumptions, drawing unconfirmed inferences, and jumping to conclusions - may result in important information not being requested or may allow false or unverifiable information to be introduced into the investigation;
- Making promises you can't keep - destroys the IG's credibility and reputation and may cause the witness / subject / suspect to react negatively to other investigative personnel in the future (note: the only promise IGs legitimately can make to a person involved in wrongdoing is, "I will bring your cooperation to the attention of the appropriate officials");
- Looking down at, or degrading, the witness / subject / suspect, or showing a contemptuous attitude - may anger witness / subject / suspect and encourage unnecessary emotional barriers;
- Placing too much value on minor inconsistencies - allows the interview and the IG to get 'hung up' on minor or irrelevant issues;
- Bluffing - destroys the IG's credibility and may allow the witness / subject / suspect to take charge of the interview;
- Anger - results in control of the session reverting to the witness / subject / suspect; it serves as a relief to the witness / subject / suspect and is a distraction from the information-gathering process; and
- Underestimating the mental abilities of witness / subject / suspect especially by talking down to him or her - antagonizes the witness / subject / suspect and invites the person to trip up the IG.

2. Summary. AR 20-1 stresses a procedurally correct IG witness / subject / suspect interview. However, the information, facts, and subsequent evidence gleaned from the interview is the ultimate goal of the proceeding. IGs set the stage for success through detailed planning and careful interrogatory development. They build upon this planning during the interview by establishing and maintaining rapport with the witness / subject / suspect, by understanding and compensating for psychological factors, and by practicing active listening by using both verbal and non-verbal means. Use these techniques when you conduct your interviews. Your interviews will benefit greatly.

Section 9-8 – Common Pitfalls

Section 9-1

Overview

As you gather evidence in your case, you must evaluate it and determine if you have obtained a preponderance of credible evidence that is sufficient to allow you to draw a conclusion. This is a complex, intellectual process. Your effectiveness depends upon your skill and experience, your knowledge of the categories and levels of evidence, the quantity of evidence you gathered, and your assessment of the credibility of each item of evidence. After you evaluate the evidence, you must decide whether the allegations are substantiated or not substantiated. You then document your findings, conclusions, and recommendations for your Directing Authority in a ROI or ROII. This section will guide you through this entire process.

Section 9-2

Findings Standard

IG investigations and investigative inquiries make conclusions based on the preponderance of the credible evidence available and not on proof beyond a reasonable doubt. Consult with other IGs or with your SJA if you have questions when you evaluate evidence. You will use a finding statement of “substantiated” or “not substantiated” for each allegation addressed in your ROI / ROII.

Section 9-3

Evidence Matrix and Force-Field Diagram Evaluation

1. Overview. When you are conducting an investigative inquiry, your evaluation of evidence may be a mental process -- particularly if the case is simple. For more complex investigations, useful tools for evaluating evidence such as a matrix and force-field diagram (discussed during the planning step) will help you perform a mental evaluation of the evidence and reach a conclusion.
2. Evidence Matrix. The matrix lays out the evidence spatially and helps you see whether you have enough evidence to support a conclusion. Once you have enough evidence to conclude that an allegation is substantiated or not substantiated, you should interview the subject / suspect. The subject / suspect may introduce new evidence that you need. Once you have collected all the evidence necessary to draw your conclusions, write your report, coordinate your evaluation with the SJA, and close out your case. If, however, you cannot get a preponderance of credible evidence, you may have to conclude that the allegation was not substantiated. With experience, you will be able to use the evidence matrix as both a control chart for your investigation and as an indicator of the weight of credible evidence.
3. Timeline. A timeline graphically depicts the relationship of events over a given period of time. The timeline summarizes evidence over a period of time and can be used to establish a frequency of occurrence, probable cause-and-effect relationships that demonstrate premeditation, or an inability to be at a specific place in time or perpetrate an improper act.
4. Force-Field Diagram. A force-field diagram (shown below in a completed form) is an invaluable tool for graphically depicting the weight of evidence, determining the facts, and measuring the preponderance of evidence. Begin by first writing your allegation and elements of proof at the top of the chart. Next, divide your evidence into two groups -- evidence that tends to support substantiating the allegation or evidence that tends to support not substantiating the allegation. Write this information on the chart. Indicate your value assessment levels of each piece of evidence (direct, circumstantial, hearsay, opinion). Similarly, make a notation if un-sworn testimony is provided (i.e. a statement) versus sworn testimony. Look for multiple citations in the evidence to establish any facts and enter the facts as a separate line in either or both of the columns. You then weigh the resulting columns of evidence to determine a preponderance of evidence. Three entries of direct evidence weigh greater than three entries of hearsay evidence. Finally, assess the evidence as a whole and make a determination of substantiated or not substantiated.
5. Translating the Force-Field Diagram into the ROI. The evidence entered into the force-field diagram can be directly written into your ROI / ROI discussion paragraph by formatting specific subparagraphs that address evidence "supporting substantiation" and "not supporting substantiation." Formatting your discussion of the evidence in this manner clearly details a preponderance of evidence to your reader (Principle IG or Directing Authority).

Section 9-4

Report of Investigation and Report of Investigative Inquiry

1. Documenting the Findings. Once you have completed your investigative inquiry or investigation, you must document the findings. The ROI / ROII format (attached below) provides a logical, disciplined approach for presenting the case to an uninformed reader.

a. Investigation. As part of the formal investigation process, you must document your case by preparing a ROI. The format and detailed instructions for preparing an ROI are shown below. Before you prepare an ROI, you should review previously prepared reports so that you can get a feel for the style and level of detail required in your command.

b. Investigative Inquiry. Use the ROI format to document your investigative inquiry.

2. The ROI / ROII is a very important document. It gives the Directing Authority the facts, your conclusions, and your recommendations. The report provides the basis for the Directing Authority's decision in the case. It may affect the future of the person under investigation or result in policy changes in your command. Your findings may also be used in the personnel screening process for centralized selection boards and can impact a Soldier's career.

3. The ROI / ROII is the official record of the case. It documents your authority to conduct the investigation, contains all pertinent testimony and evidence, and makes provisions for the Directing Authority to approve the report. Keep the approved report with its exhibits on file in accordance with records disposition instructions. The summary transcribed into the IGARS database must be concise, complete, and able to stand alone long after the paper file is destroyed (see ARIMS requirements in AR 25-400-2).

4. Executive Summary. The Executive Summary (EXSUM) is a separate, stand-alone document that provides a succinct overview of the case, providing the background (where the case originated) as well as identifying the complaint. An EXSUM is not required but is recommended, especially for complex cases involving multiple allegations and / or multiple subjects / suspects. The allegations are presented by grouping those that are substantiated and those that are not substantiated. Write a brief synopsis of the key evidence that led to the conclusion. Don't get into the details of the case in the EXSUM. The EXSUM is a summary of the case, not the detailed discussion contained in the ROI itself.

5. Evidence.

a. The main body of the ROI must be a clear, concise presentation and analysis of the pertinent evidence. Do not simply restate all the facts you gathered. Use the ROI format in all cases in which you complete the investigation. In those cases where you terminate before completion or turn the case over to a follow-on investigator, you may abbreviate this ROI format. However, this abbreviated format does not relieve you of the requirement to complete the investigative inquiry or investigation process, to write the report, to make notifications, to close the case, and to enter the IGAR into the IGARS database.

b. In most investigations, you will probably collect more evidence than you need to substantiate or refute an allegation. You may have collected evidence that has no bearing on the case, is redundant, or will serve no useful purpose if included in the report. You may mention in the ROI the fact that you looked at a piece of evidence and found it to be of no value. However, you may omit evidence with no bearing on the case without comment in your ROI.

c. Testimony is difficult evidence to analyze. Usually, only a few witnesses provide vital testimony. Witnesses often provide fragments of information that you must piece together to present a picture of what took place. In these cases, you may summarize the testimony of the witnesses who provided pieces of information, but be careful not to omit important points. Use care in summarizing the testimony of a witness who lacks knowledge of certain events. The lack of knowledge may be genuine, but it may also indicate that the witness was not candid. In complex cases (or those with many witnesses), it is helpful to develop a system for identifying what each witness said about each allegation. A matrix, an outline, or file cards may be helpful. Whatever system you use, reference the testimony. This technique will also help eliminate unneeded testimony. A sample of an evidence matrix is in Chapter 5.

d. Your analysis of the evidence must bring together all evidence (documentary, physical, and testimony) relating to the allegations and result in a determination of whether the allegations were substantiated or not substantiated. Your conclusions must be clearly supported by the weight of evidence. Some conclusions may not be clearly supported because of vague standards or inconsistencies in testimony. In such cases, use your judgment and objective reasoning to formulate your conclusions. Have another IG who had no contact with the case look at your draft report and comment on your judgments. You, the IG working the case, are often too close to critique the case yourself.

e. You should analyze and address any conflicts in evidence. If you have witnesses who are not credible or whom you believe to be untruthful, say so. You are explaining to the reader how you determined the preponderance of evidence. Your discussion might state that five witnesses said the suspect did not do what was alleged and three witnesses said the suspect did. The preponderance of evidence points toward not substantiated. However, it would be helpful to explain the credibility of the three witnesses. Without that explanation, a reader might wonder what the conclusion might have been had you interviewed more witnesses.

6. Discussion.

a. In the discussion subparagraph, it is not sufficient merely to restate evidence already presented. Your discussion should lead an uninformed reader logically through the evidence to obvious conclusions. If the facts and evidence already presented lead to obvious conclusions, this section need only be a brief statement leading to the conclusions. You may offer your opinion; however, experience has shown that unsupported opinions often weaken a report. For example, if, in your opinion, a unit had poor morale and discipline, you should support that statement with evidence (appearance of Soldiers, comments you overheard, etc.). However, you are now a witness in the case, which may detract from your impartial fact-finding role. It is best to present evidence from witnesses who testify or state that, in their opinion, the unit had poor morale and discipline. The witnesses should give examples. This procedure strengthens the analysis of the case by the objective or impartial investigator.

b. Your directing authority will use your discussion subparagraph to gain a clear understanding of the evidence. Weigh and discuss the evidence that you presented in the evidence section. If you believe that your opinions or judgments should be introduced, then do so here, but clearly identify them as your opinions and introduce them sparingly. Do not present new evidence in the discussion paragraph. The biggest problem in writing the discussion portion of the ROI is that investigators tend to introduce things that they know but have failed to put in the evidence section. If you know it, you probably got the information from a source. Find the source and place it in evidence.

7. Conclusion.

a. The goal of your investigation should be to develop and report sufficient evidence to conclude that the allegations are either substantiated or not substantiated. You must gather evidence to either support or refute the allegations with equal vigor. If you do not find enough credible evidence to draw a conclusion of substantiated or not substantiated, and no other evidence is reasonably available, your finding must be not substantiated.

b. Your conclusions must be consistent with the allegations, evidence, and discussion. If you have properly presented your discussion, the conclusions need no further explanation. It should follow logically from your discussion that an allegation is substantiated or not substantiated. Remember: a substantiated allegation must always indicate an impropriety.

c. The only conclusions for allegations in an IG investigative inquiry or investigation are substantiated and not substantiated. Do not use "partially substantiated" or "substantiated without impropriety." If you are at the point where you believe only part of the allegation is substantiated, then you should divide the allegation into several parts and discuss each allegation separately.

d. IGs will use the conclusion of "closed without findings" only when the inquiry or investigation is terminated prior to conclusion under the following special circumstances:

(1) The allegation or issue relates to actions that are more than three years old. The IG will document the relevant time periods and close the case without findings

(2) A legal process such as a court order or a settlement between the U.S. Government and a subject and / or complainant includes a requirement to terminate all ongoing inquiries or investigations. The IG will obtain a copy of the order or settlement, include it in the case file, and record the matter as closed without findings.

(3) Directing authorities may, at any time, terminate an IG inquiry or investigation that they directed. When this happens, process the IGAR in accordance with procedural guidance from DAIG Assistance Division (SAIG-AC).

e. Make sure your conclusions are complete. You may determine that an individual's behavior violated a regulation, but extenuating or mitigating circumstances existed which led you to conclude that an impropriety did not occur. These circumstances are normally worded as follows: "However, the facts indicated that the suspect's actions were motivated by concern for the subordinates and not by self interest." You could also conclude that an allegation was not substantiated but include the comment, "However, the suspect's actions led many in the unit to believe that the suspect was involved in an impropriety."

8. Other Matters.

a. During an investigation you may develop matters that are outside the scope of the specific allegations but that require a detailed examination. For example, if you are investigating allegations of improper command influence, and witnesses also tell you about (or you observe) poor vehicle maintenance, it would be proper to discuss that fact in a paragraph in the "Other Matters" section of your ROI / ROII. Since vehicle maintenance is outside the scope of your original directive, you might present this issue and recommend an IG inspection or an examination by another staff agency.

b. However, if your investigation into improper command influence developed information that the morale in the unit was low based on this improper influence, then that issue / situation would be a related matter for investigation within the scope of your Directive. You would then present your evidence of the low morale and your conclusion in the body of the ROI / ROII. Use this paragraph with care; it is not a license to go beyond the scope of your Directive. If unsure, seek guidance from your senior IG or Directing Authority.

9. Recommendations.

a. You must always close your ROI with your recommendations for action by the Directing Authority, i.e., that the report be approved; that the case be closed; and, possibly, that the ROI or portions of it be forwarded to the appropriate commander or staff section for action. Do not make recommendations of any punitive, adverse administrative, or disciplinary action concerning the subject or suspect. To do so compromises your status as an impartial fact-finder. You may recommend that other allegations discovered during the investigation or investigative inquiry be turned over for investigation by another investigating officer (MPI / CIDC) or another criminal investigative agency. Do not recommend a Commander's Inquiry, an AR 15-6 investigation, or Article 32 investigation -- and never make any recommendation concerning adverse action to be taken against individuals or organizations.

b. Your commander, by approving your recommendation to close a case, implicitly tells you to monitor any required actions taken such as implementing letters, forwarding the ROI / ROII to a higher headquarters, and closing the file without further referral to the Directing Authority. However, if the follow-up action appears inappropriate, you should advise the Directing Authority.

c. If you identify systemic problems and noted them in Other Matters, your recommendations should address the general corrective action you anticipate. For example, "An extract of the report identifying the problem be provided the commander / director of _____. " You may recommend that the commander sign and forward a letter (prepared by you) describing a generic problem that the subordinate command needs to address. If you should determine that teaching and training is required, recommend a specific office or agency to execute the necessary action.

10. Addressing Issues in a ROI / ROII. Issues brought forth by the complainant in conjunction with allegations can be separately addressed in the ROI / ROII. Address these issues in the same format used for allegations. Issues are either Founded or Unfounded. You would describe the issue, state the standard, detail and explain your evidence, compare the evidence to the standard, and make a conclusion. For example, a complainant stated that he lost his Government contract to another bidder who did not possess the necessary equipment to perform the contract. During your investigation, you determined that the contracting standards that pertained to contract awards in The Federal Acquisition Regulation (FAR) did not require a bidder to actually possess the equipment to win the contract. Witness testimony and documentary evidence indicated the contracting personnel deemed the new bidder to be responsible and reasonable and awarded the contract in accordance with the FAR. You determined, therefore, that the issue was not founded. You would document this evidence in the ROI / ROII and state in your discussion paragraph that: "The complainant contended that another bidder was awarded a contract even though he did not possess the necessary equipment to perform the contract. In accordance with The Federal Acquisition Regulation, paragraphs..., an official bidder for a Government contract needed only to possess lines of credit to acquire requisite equipment to be considered a responsive and responsible bidder. The preponderance of evidence indicated that contracting personnel deemed that the winning bidder was reasonable and responsive and was most advantageous to the Government. The contract was properly awarded." You would then conclude: "The issue was unfounded (or founded)."

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

The executive summary must be written as a stand-alone document. It should be concise and, when possible, limited to one or two pages. Do not assume the reader has any knowledge of the case.

NAME / POSITION: Provide the name, grade, and duty positions of all subjects or suspects as of the date the improprieties allegedly occurred.

AUTHORITY: Cite the authority for the investigation (usually the Directive). Include the date of the Directive and the names and organizations of the investigating officers. Cite any changes in the scope of the investigation (e.g., new allegations) that may have occurred after the Directive was signed. Include a copy of your Directive and any changes to it as EXHIBIT A of your ROI.

BACKGROUND: Briefly describe how the allegations were received. Identify the complainant, if known. Add any other information needed to understand the case.

SUBSTANTIATED ALLEGATION: State the first allegation that you substantiated. It should be worded exactly the same as in the Action Memorandum unless you modified it during the course of the investigation.

SYNOPSIS: Summarize the complaint and key evidence that led you to conclude that the allegation was substantiated. Do not include all the details; these details are available in the ROI itself. This synopsis is a brief summation of the evidence. Conclude the paragraph with a statement indicating that you substantiated or not substantiated the allegation.

(In succeeding paragraphs list other substantiated allegations followed by summaries of the key evidence for each)

NOT SUBSTANTIATED ALLEGATION: State the first not substantiated allegation. Again, it should be worded exactly the same as in the Action Memorandum unless modified.

SYNOPSIS: As in the previous discussion, summarize the complaint and key evidence that led you to conclude that the allegation was not substantiated.

(In succeeding paragraphs list the remaining allegations that you did not substantiate each followed by its synopsis).

(Each page of the executive summary and the ROI must have as a footer, "FOR OFFICIAL USE ONLY. DISSEMINATION IS PROHIBITED EXCEPT AS AUTHORIZED BY AR 20-1" and "This document contains information EXEMPT FROM MANDATORY DISCLOSURE UNDER FOIA. Exemptions 1, 2, 5, 6, and 7 apply." Number the pages beginning with page two. See AR 20-1, paragraph 3-2, for further guidance.)

INTRODUCTION

1. Begin the main body of the ROI on a new page. The introduction is optional and is often omitted if an executive summary is included. Use it to present extensive background or introductory material that is necessary for a reader to understand the case but is not appropriate for inclusion in the executive summary. Do not repeat information in the executive summary. Do not include evidence in the introduction.

CONSIDERATION OF ALLEGATIONS

2. Allegation 1: Should you have more than one allegation, the first allegation that you address in the body of your ROI / ROII need not be the first allegation in your Action Memorandum or the first allegation listed in your executive summary. Sometimes you can make your ROI / ROII more readable by listing your allegations in chronological order. On other occasions, you may wish to cover the most serious allegation first. Frequently, investigators will address the simplest allegations early in their ROI and address the most complex last. In all cases, restate the allegations exactly as written in the executive summary.

(Note: If you omit the introduction, the first allegation becomes paragraph one of the body of the ROI.)

a. Evidence. In the evidence subparagraph for an allegation, introduce all the evidence pertaining to that single allegation. Normally, you will use succeeding subparagraphs for each item of evidence beginning with the complaint and followed by the standard or standards, documentary evidence, testimony, and statements (with the complainant's testimony first and the subject's or suspect's testimony last).

(1) Standard. In this and succeeding subparagraphs, cite and describe the standards. Summarize (if the standard is lengthy) or quote verbatim the guidance contained in regulations, policies, or the UCMJ. Also, describe the elements of proof contained in the standard. Attach extracts of the regulations, policies, or UCMJ to your report as exhibits. Ensure that the standards you use were in effect at the time the misconduct allegedly occurred by indicating the standard's date; personnel and travel regulations change frequently.

FOR OFFICIAL USE ONLY

Dissemination is prohibited except as authorized by AR 20-1.

This document contains information EXEMPT FROM MANDATORY DISCLOSURE under the FOIA. Exemptions 1, 2, 5, 6, and 7 apply.

(2) Documentary Evidence. In succeeding subparagraphs, introduce each item of documentary evidence. The first item of documentary evidence is a description of the allegation initially made by the complainant. It can be the IGAR or letter signed by the complainant. Describe each item of documentary evidence by identifying the document and describing the evidence it contains. Example: "(n) DA 1351-2, Travel Voucher or Subvoucher, Control # XXXXXXXX, dated 4 January 20XX, showed that COL Smith claimed reimbursement for 400 POC miles pursuant to official travel from XXXXX to XXXXX on 5 through 8 June 20XX." Append all documents to your ROI as exhibits.

Note: Address physical evidence like documentary evidence. Identify the object and describe its relevance. Since you will usually not maintain the object with the ROI / ROII, explain where it is stored. Frequently, you may have documentary evidence in lieu of physical evidence (e.g., an accident report instead of a damaged vehicle).

(3) Testimonial Evidence. Conduct the complainant's interview early in the investigation. Your complainant is often the primary source of evidence against the suspect. Also, the complainant is frequently able to identify other witnesses. The ROI will flow more easily if you introduce your complainant's evidence first. You should introduce evidence provided by all witnesses for this allegation in separate subparagraphs -- one for each witness. There is no prescribed order for the witnesses or for the detail you must provide unless you interviewed a witness who is a subject-matter expert (SME). List the SME witness first because the SME often explains the policy, process, procedure, or standard involved in the case. Introduce the evidence in a manner that is logical and understandable for a reader who is not familiar with the details of the case. Paraphrase and summarize what witnesses said rather than quoting them directly. Append the transcripts or summarized testimony to the ROI / ROII as exhibits. When you interview the suspect or subject, you should provide him the opportunity to comment on all unfavorable information that will be used in the ROI / ROII (this rationale leads you to interview the subject or suspect after all witnesses).

NOTE: As an exception to providing separate subparagraphs for each witness, in the event that you have several witnesses who provided the same evidence, you may combine that evidence into a single subparagraph (e.g.; "(n) SSG Jones, SSG Smith, and SSG Taylor, squad leaders in 3rd Platoon, Company B, all testified...").

(4) Other Evidence. Describe and or enter physical evidence in this paragraph. Attach rendering of physical objects if necessary when inclusion of a actual object into the ROI / ROII is impractical. Enter any IG observations here in memorandum for record format.

b. Discussion:

(1) In the discussion paragraph, concisely evaluate the evidence. You must make judgments regarding the credibility of the evidence. You must determine if the evidence supports or refutes each element of proof captured in the allegation. You must resolve discrepancies and contradictions (witnesses' recollections of events will rarely be the same). Finally, you must determine if you have a preponderance of credible evidence either to substantiate or refute the allegation. If you do not have a preponderance of credible evidence, you must determine what additional fact-gathering will yield the preponderance that you require.

(2) The discussion paragraph must clearly describe your findings for an allegation. The burden is upon you to lay out logically and clearly the evidence you gathered so that your commander will understand the case and draw the same conclusions you did. You must explain why you reached your conclusion in a logical, step-by-step method. Your reasoning and writing skills are key. Remember: your job is to remain impartial and tell both sides of the story. Begin the paragraph by restating the allegation then summarize the standard(s) used. Next, summarize the key evidence that would tend to substantiate the allegation. Follow with a similar discussion of key evidence that tended to not substantiate the allegation. Then focus the reader on the facts that the evidence revealed. Conclude your discussion with a finding statement that states, "The preponderance of credible evidence indicated (name) (did) or (failed to do) (something)."

c. Conclusion: The allegation that (name) improperly (did or failed to do something) in violation of (standard) (was / was not) substantiated.

The conclusion is a concise statement of your determination that it is more likely than not that the allegation did or did not occur. State the allegation exactly as written in the beginning of the paragraph and the executive summary (who, improperly, the alleged misconduct, and the standard) followed by ". . . was substantiated" or ". . . was not substantiated." Neither / nor conclusions are not used.

3. Allegation 2: State the next allegation followed by its evidence, discussion, and conclusion.

a. Evidence: Frequently, witnesses will provide evidence on more than one allegation. You must sort through their testimony and enter the evidence where appropriate in the ROI / ROII. For clarity, you may cite specific pages where the evidence can be found. Example: "(n) SPC Jones testified that he and PFC McSpivit. . . (EXHIBIT B-7, p. 5-6, 11)." If evidence entered for a previous allegation is pertinent to this allegation, refer to it again in summary. Example: "(n) CPT Smith, as previously indicated, testified that . . . (EXHIBIT B-9, p. 7)"

b. Discussion: Discuss evidence entered for this allegation only.

c. Conclusion: The allegation that (name) improperly (did or failed to do something) in violation of (standard) (was / was not) substantiated.

4. Issue 1: State the issue as presented by the complainant.

a. Evidence: . . .

c. Conclusion: The issue that _____ was (Founded / Unfounded).

OTHER MATTERS

5. During the course of investigations, you will often uncover situations that, while not pertinent to the allegations, require your commander's attention. These situations are systemic problems that require correction by a staff agency or perhaps an inspection by your own office. Document these situations in separate paragraphs in the "Other Matters" paragraphs (one paragraph for each issue). For example, an "Other Matters" might read: "During the course of the investigation, we determined that the procedures for verifying travel vouchers outlined in DA message XXXX were not being followed in XX Brigade. This situation was evident in the documents examined (EXHIBITS E-1 through E-17) and the testimony of LTC Smith and MAJ Doe (EXHIBITS B-7 and B-3)."

RECOMMENDATIONS

6. The most common recommendation for a ROI / ROII is as follows: "This report be approved and the case closed." Never recommend adverse action.

7. Any other recommendations. If you have documented other matters, you must include a recommendation for each of them. Ensure that your recommendations are appropriate for the issues that you raise. These recommendations are normally written like an IG inspection report recommendation (Who will fix it and how to fix it) found in The Inspections Guide. Coordinate in advance with the agencies you specify in the recommendations (the proponents) as the ones you think should fix the problem as a professional courtesy. Keep in mind, however, of your guidelines for release of information and the need to maintain confidentiality.

EXHIBITS

1. Attach exhibits to your ROI / ROII or include them in separate volumes if you have several exhibits. Identify exhibits by letter. Attempt to arrange exhibits in the order they appear in the report. The Directive for investigation is normally EXHIBIT A. All testimony is EXHIBIT B (with sub-numbers such as B-1, B-2, etc. for each witness). Other exhibits are marked alphabetically beginning with EXHIBIT C and continuing into double and triple letters as necessary (e.g. AA, AB, AC). If an exhibit is several pages long, but only one page pertains to the investigation, consider including only that one properly identified page with the ROI / ROII. An index of exhibits precedes EXHIBIT A. This index identifies each exhibit and its letter designation.
2. An index of witnesses (EXHIBIT B) immediately precedes the testimony. The index of witnesses gives the full name, rank, organization, and consent to (or denial of) release of testimony IAW FOIA. List all persons who testified, including those whose testimony was summarized. For civilians, list title, employing organization, and address. If you informally interviewed a witness and did not administer an oath, you have statements, not testimony. You would include a MFR summarizing that witness's statement as an exhibit. Instead of summarizing that "CPT Smith testified," write "CPT Smith stated" when introducing evidence provided by a witness's statement.
3. Attach all other exhibits in the order you introduce them in the ROI / ROII except for testimony, which is always Exhibit B. These exhibits include extracts of regulations; policies, or the UCMJ; documentary evidence; and memorandums for record that summarize informal interviews.

STYLE NOTES

1. The first time you refer to an individual, include his grade, full name, and position. Thereafter, simply refer to him by grade and last name. If an individual has changed grade, name (marriage, for instance), or duty position, you should indicate it in your report. (e.g.: "MAJ Jane Smith, Executive Officer, 37th S&T Battalion (formerly CPT Jane Jones, Commander, Company B, 37th S&T Battalion), testified . . .")
2. Spell out all acronyms the first time they are used. Abbreviate after that.
3. Use the word "alleged" in your report when referring to the matters under investigation.
4. Write your report (and standards) entirely in the past tense. The document is a "snapshot" of a particular time, and the situation may have changed.

CLASSIFICATION REQUIREMENTS

1. Classify and safeguard ROI / ROII that contain classified defense information IAW AR 380-5, Department of the Army Information Security Program.
2. Mark ROI / ROII containing classified defense information as follows: "CLASSIFIED IAW AR 380-5. WHEN DECLASSIFIED, DOCUMENT BECOMES FOR OFFICIAL USE ONLY. DISSEMINATION IS PROHIBITED EXCEPT AS AUTHORIZED BY AR 20-1."

3. Mark an ROI / ROII which does not contain classified defense information IAW AR 25-55, The Department of the Army Freedom of Information Act Program. Place "FOR OFFICIAL USE ONLY" in letters 3/16 of an inch high on the bottom of the front cover and on the outside of the back cover. Do not use the abbreviation "FOUO." Extracts of ROI / ROII's must be similarly marked. (NOTE: Each page should be marked "FOR OFFICIAL USE ONLY. DISSEMINATION PROHIBITED EXCEPT AS AUTHORIZED BY AR 20-1.")
4. ROIs transmitted outside IG channels should be handled and marked in accordance with instructions contained in paragraph 3-2, AR 20-1.

ROI / ROII REVIEWS

1. Internal (Peer) Review. While your ROI is in draft, have as many IGs as practical review the document to ensure that it is complete, correct, and understandable. You will find that when you work directly on a case and write the ROI, you become so close and familiar with the issues that you will make mental connections that are not apparent to your reader. Your peers can point out these problems, as well as grammatical errors, faulty logic, and gaps in evidence. Accept peer criticism in a positive manner and don't be defensive. Evaluate all comments with an open mind. Make sure your discussion points are supported by evidence and your conclusions flow logically from the discussion.
2. Senior IG Approval. Once the peer review process is complete and the ROI assembled, you and your partner IG should sign and submit the report through your senior IG. The senior IG can concur with your report and forward it or return it to you with recommended changes. Your senior IG will want to know the SJA's opinion prior to sending the report to the directing authority.
3. SJA Review. Ask the SJA to review your report while in draft form (after an internal peer review but before you send it to your senior IG). This allows you to correct any possible problems before you finalize the ROI. After the senior IG approves your ROI, formally refer the document to the SJA for a legal review to determine if there are any legal objections and that your conclusions are supported by a preponderance of the credible evidence. You should also ask for your SJA's opinion concerning whether you have properly interpreted laws, regulations, and policy. Remember: if you expect the SJA to do a good job, this should not be the first time he or she has seen the case. The SJA should have agreed with your initial analysis of how to handle the case and should be pre-briefed before each update or decision briefing to the Directing Authority. An excellent tool for keeping the SJA abreast of the case is to use your evidence matrix. Depending on the nature of the allegations and whom the allegations are against, the SJA may want to accompany you when you brief the Directing Authority.

ROI / ROII COPIES

The circumstances of each case and local SOP dictate the number of copies required; but, in most cases, one copy in addition to the original is sufficient. In many cases, you will not make copies of the exhibits. Attach the implementing documents and transmittal letters to the report. Examples of letters of transmittal are at Appendix B.

EXAMPLE REPORT OF INVESTIGATION (CASE OTR 05-0009)

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

NAME/POSITION: Colonel (COL) David E. Brown, Director of Personnel and Community Activities (DPCA), Fort Von Steuben (FVS), Virginia (VA).

AUTHORITY: Commanding General, FVS, Directive, dated 15 December 2003.
(EXHIBIT A)

BACKGROUND: An anonymous "concerned Employee" made allegations against COL Brown in a letter received by the Commanding General (CG) on 30 November 2003. (EXHIBIT B)

SUBSTANTIATED ALLEGATION: COL Brown improperly conducted an adulterous relationship with a female employee at FVS in violation of Article 134, Uniformed Code of Military Justice (UCMJ).

SYNOPSIS: An anonymous complainant alleged COL Brown improperly had an adulterous relationship with Ms Smith, his secretary. Article 134, UCMJ, prohibited adultery. Ms Sallie Smith, Secretary, DPCA, FVS, testified that she and COL Brown had an adulterous relationship during March and April 2003. Other witnesses testified they believed the two were having an adulterous relationship because of their "unusually familiar" behavior, demeanor, and that they occasionally arrived at work together when COL Brown's wife was out of town. Motel receipts and registration slips indicated COL Brown registered for a double room at the Notel Motel in Lynchburg, VA, with "Mrs. Brown" on 21 March, 27 March, and 15 April 2003. Witnesses saw COL Brown with a woman in the motel lobby on those dates. COL Brown denied the allegation. COL Brown testified that his wife, Jenny Brown, was out of town during March and April 2003. COL Brown testified that he stayed in the motel occasionally to avoid the stress of being in his house by himself. COL Brown testified the registration slips with "Mrs. Brown" registered were a mistake. COL Brown testified that he had dinner with Ms Smith on the occasions he stayed in the motel but no more. The preponderance of evidence indicated COL Brown violated Article 134, UCMJ.

NOT SUBSTANTIATED ALLEGATION: COL Brown sexually harassed female employees in violation of Army Regulation (AR) 600-20.

SYNOPSIS: An anonymous complainant alleged COL Brown sexually harassed female employees within the DPCA, 66th ID. No witnesses testified that COL Brown harassed them or that they had seen COL Brown harassing others. Witnesses did observe that COL Brown frequently used endearing terms ("Honey, Darling") to female employees but attributed this behavior to his age and background. Two female witnesses testified that they heard COL Brown tell a "mildly off-color" joke on one occasion, but they thought it was funny, appropriate for the setting (standing around the office coffee pot), and they were not offended. COL Brown admitted that he had a habit of referring to women as "Honey" and "Darling" and once told a "dirty" joke in the office (he suggested that this was probably a mistake in judgment). He denied ever harassing anyone. The preponderance of evidence indicated COL Brown did not violate AR 600-20.

CONSIDERATION OF ALLEGATIONS

1. Allegation #1: COL Brown improperly conducted an adulterous relationship in violation of Article 134 UCMJ.

a. Evidence:

(1) An undated anonymous letter was received by the CG, 66th Infantry Division and FVS, on 30 November 2003, from a "Concerned Employee." In the letter, the anonymous complainant alleged misconduct on the part of COL Brown. The anonymous complainant alleged COL Brown conducted an adulterous relationship with Ms Smith, his secretary, during March and April 2004. (EXHIBIT A-1)

(2) Article 134, UCMJ, Manual for Courts-Martial 2003, prohibited adultery. The stated essential elements of adultery were: "That the accused wrongfully had sexual intercourse with a certain person; at the time the accused or the other person were married to someone else; and that, under the circumstances, the conduct of the accused was to the prejudice of good order and discipline in the armed forces or was of a nature to bring discredit upon the armed forces." (EXHIBIT C-1)

(3) COL Brown's Officer Record Brief, verified by him on 23 January 2004, indicated that he was married to Mrs. Jennifer Coggins Brown. (EXHIBIT E)

(4) Registration entries and receipts for the Notel Motel, Lynchburg, VA, indicated Mr. David E. Brown and his wife were registered at the property on 21 March, 27 March, and 15 April 2003. The receipts were on a Visa card in the name of David E. Brown. (EXHIBIT F)

(5) SPC Jane A. Gray, Personnel Administrative Specialist, DPCA, testified on 4 January 2004 that she believed Ms Smith and COL Brown were having an adulterous relationship because she overheard COL Brown used endearing terms toward Ms Smith. SPC Gray saw COL Brown and Ms Smith embracing and kissing in the Xerox room. Ms Smith confided in her that she (Ms Smith) was having an "affair" with COL Brown and hoped to marry him once COL Brown divorced his present wife. (EXHIBIT B-1)

(6) Mr. Thomas P. Groom, Budget Analyst, DPCA, testified on 8 January 2004 that he believed COL Brown and Ms Smith were having an adulterous relationship. They frequently went to lunch together and seemed "unusually familiar." On several occasions during the spring, he saw their cars pull into the parking lot at the same time. This series of events seemed unusual to him because COL Brown normally preceded Ms Smith to work by approximately 45 minutes. (EXHIBIT B-2)

This document contains information EXEMPT FROM MANDATORY DISCLOSURE under the FOIA. Exemptions 1, 2, 5, 6, and 7 apply.

(7) Mr. Harold H. Hanson, desk clerk at the Notel Motel, testified on 9 January 2004 that he registered a Mr. and Mrs. Brown at the motel on 21 March, 27 March, and 15 April 2003. The two did not register together, but he saw them walking through the lobby and eating in the restaurant together. (EXHIBIT B-3)

[IO NOTE: Mr. Hanson identified COL Brown and Ms Smith as Mr. and Mrs. Brown from photographs provided by the investigating officers.]

(8) Ms Smith testified on 28 January 2004 that she and COL Brown were having an "affair" and that COL Brown had promised to marry her once his divorce from his present wife was finalized. They (Ms Smith and COL Brown) had engaged in sexual intercourse on seven occasions -- four times in her apartment when her roommate was away and three times at the Notel Motel in Lynchburg during March through April 2003. The "affair" ended when COL Brown told her he and his wife had "patched things up" and were not going to get divorced. (EXHIBIT B-4)

(9) COL Brown testified on 1 February 2004 that he did not have an adulterous relationship with any woman assigned to DPCA or anywhere else. He suggested that some people might think there was something "going on" between him and Ms Smith since they were friends and socialized together on several occasions. He acknowledged there had been problems in his relationship with his wife. He and his wife had undergone a trial separation in March and April, but they were now back together. On a few occasions during that time, he stayed in the Notel Motel to avoid the stress of being in his quarters by himself. He met Ms Smith at the motel "once or twice" for dinner because she would cheer him up. He denied having spent any of those nights together with Ms Smith. He denied ever having sexual intercourse with Ms Smith. He believed he mistakenly registered at the motel as Mr. and Mrs. out of habit. He recalled once giving Ms Smith a "brotherly" hug in the Xerox room, but he denied kissing her. He admitted referring to Ms Smith as "Honey" and "Sweetie" but claimed he referred to all women in a similar manner. He recalled no circumstances when he and Ms Smith arrived to work at the same time; he normally preceded her by at least 30 minutes. (EXHIBIT B-5)

b. Discussion.

(1) (Restated Allegation) An anonymous complainant alleged COL Brown improperly had an adulterous relationship with Ms Smith, his secretary, in violation of Article 134, UCMJ.

(2) (Summarized Standard) Article 134, UCMJ, prohibited adultery. The elements of proof for this offense were that the accused wrongfully had sexual intercourse with a certain person; that at the time, the accused or the other person was married to someone else; and that under the circumstances, the conduct of the accused was to the prejudice of good order and discipline in the armed forces or was of a nature to bring discredit upon the armed forces.

(3) (Evidence Supporting Substantiation) Ms Smith testified that her relationship with COL Brown was adulterous. Other witnesses supported Ms Smith's testimony. Personnel in the DPCA noted that there was something between the two by their "unusually familiar" behavior and demeanor toward one another. However, one witness testified seeing COL Brown and Ms Smith kissing in the Xerox room. Hotel receipts and witness testimony placed COL Brown and Ms Smith meeting at a local motel where COL Brown registered as a couple when his wife was out of town.

(4) (Evidence Supporting Not Substantiation) COL Brown testified that he socialized with Ms Smith, but denied ever having sexual intercourse with her. He stayed in the Notel Motel to avoid the stress of being in his quarters by himself. He met Ms Smith at the motel "once or twice" for dinner because she would cheer him up. He believed he mistakenly registered at the motel as Mr. and Mrs. Brown out of habit.

(5) (Analysis of All Evidence) Documentary evidence and witness testimony indicated COL Brown's relationship with Ms Smith went beyond the innocent social activity described by COL Brown. The preponderance of credible evidence indicated that there was an improper sexual relationship between COL Brown and Ms Smith.

c. Conclusion: The allegation that COL Brown improperly conducted an adulterous relationship in violation of Article 134 UCMJ was substantiated.

2. Allegation #2: COL Brown sexually harassed female employees in violation of AR 600-20.

a. Evidence.

(1) In the anonymous letter, the "Concerned Employee" alleged COL Brown created a hostile work environment for female employees in the DPCA by sexually harassing them. The anonymous letter writer stated that COL Brown used vulgar and abusive language; referred to women in demeaning and sexist terms; and, through innuendoes, solicited sexual favors from female subordinates. (EXHIBIT A-1)

(2) Paragraph 6-4, AR 600-20, dated 13 May 2002, Army Command Policy, referred to Sexual harassment as a type of sex discrimination. It stated that sexual harassment violated acceptable standards of integrity and impartiality required of all Army personnel and interfered with mission accomplishment and unit cohesion. One example cited was deliberate or repeated verbal comments or gestures of a sexual nature that are offensive to the person to being addressed. (EXHIBIT C-2)

(3) Mrs. Tillie Ickes, Administrative Specialist, DPCA, testified on 24 January 2004 that she did not know if anyone was harassed by COL Brown or that had seen COL Brown harassing others. She once heard COL Brown tell a "mildly off-color" joke, laughed without reservation at the joke, and did not think anything of it later. (EXHIBIT B-6)

(4) SGM Conrad Mack, Noncommissioned Officer In Charge (NCOIC), DPCA, testified on 25 January 2004 that COL Brown frequently used endearing terms ("Honey, Darling") to female employees but attributed this behavior to his age and background. (EXHIBIT B-7)

(5) CPT Megan O'Reilly, Chief, Officer Personnel Records, DPCA, testified on 26 January 2004 that she heard COL Brown tell a questionable joke pertaining to male / female anatomy. She thought it was funny, appropriate for the setting (standing around the office coffee pot), and was not offended. (EXHIBIT B-8)

(6) Ms Smith testified on 28 January 2004 that although she and COL Brown had an "affair," it was personal and kept separate from their working relationship. He never used his position as DPCA to influence her or coerce her. She always thought he was a "perfect gentleman" in the office. She never observed actions she considered to be sexual harassment. (EXHIBIT B-4)

(7) COL Brown testified on 1 February 2004 that he admitted he had a habit of referring to women as "Honey" and "Darling" and once told a "dirty" joke in the office (he thought that this was probably a mistake in judgment). He denied ever harassing anyone. (EXHIBIT B-5)

b. Discussion:

(1) (Restated Allegation) An anonymous complainant alleged COL Brown sexually harassed female employees within the DPCA, 66th ID in violation of AR 600-20.

(2) (Summarized Standard) AR 600-20, Army Command Policy, referred to sexual harassment as a type of sexual discrimination. It stated that sexual harassment violated acceptable standards of integrity and impartiality required of all Army personnel and interfered with mission accomplishment and unit cohesion. One example cited was deliberate or repeated verbal comments or gestures of a sexual nature that are offensive to the person being addressed.

(3) (Evidence Supporting Substantiation) No witnesses testified that COL Brown harassed them or that they had seen COL Brown harassing others. Witnesses did observe that COL Brown frequently used endearing terms ("Honey, Darling") to female employees, but attributed this practice to his age and background. Two female witnesses testified they heard COL Brown tell a "mildly off-color" joke on one occasion, but they thought it was funny, appropriate for the setting (standing around the office coffee pot), and they were not offended.

(4) (Evidence Supporting Not Substantiation) COL Brown admitted that he had a habit of referring to women as "Honey" and "Darling" and once told a "dirty" joke in the office (he opined that this behavior was probably a mistake in judgment). He denied ever harassing anyone.

(5) (Analysis of All Evidence) Witness testimony indicated COL Brown's alleged inappropriate behavior did not constitute sexual harassment. No witness testified that COL Brown ever sexually harassed any person. Female employees did not consider COL Brown's use of endearing personal pronouns and "mildly off-color" jokes as offensive. The preponderance of credible evidence indicated that COL Brown did not violate AR 600-20.

c. Conclusion: The allegation that COL Brown sexually harassed female employees in violation of AR 600-20 was not substantiated.

3. OTHER MATTERS: There was a lack of understanding of the concept of sexual harassment and unfamiliarity with Army Policy on the subject. Several witnesses could not define the terms sexual harassment, sexual discrimination, or gender discrimination found in Army policies and regulations. No witness could recall seeing or reading the CG's Policy Memorandum #3, Sexual Harassment.

4. RECOMMENDATIONS:

- a. Approve the report and close the case.
- b. SJA brief sexual harassment policy as a topic of discussion in an upcoming commander's call, and redistribute the CG's policy memorandum on the subject.

Modified ROI / ROII with Command Product

During the course of an IG investigation / investigative inquiry, circumstances will arise that cause you to refer allegations / issues to the chain of command or another investigator within the Department of the Army (DA) for their action as appropriate. The physical results of these command actions are called Command Products. In accordance with AR 20-1, paragraph 3-6 b (3) (a), (b), and (c), an IG can only provide limited information to a follow-on investigator. The IG must ensure that the follow-on investigator understands what issue(s) / allegation(s) are to be investigated. Once the command product is complete, the IG reviews it for due process in accordance with the applicable regulation(s) that address the issue(s) / allegation(s). If due process was followed in accordance with the governing regulation (e.g., AR 15-6, AR 195-2, etc.), the directing authority signed the product (document), the SJA performed a legal review (if required), and the IG concurred with the finding(s), then the IG can use the Command Product as a piece of evidence. However, the conclusion of the IG investigating officer (substantiated / not substantiated) contained in the approved ROI / ROII will go in the IGARS database. If the IG does not concur with the conclusion because the Command Product was flawed, then the IG will request a legal review. If due process was in accordance with the governing regulation, but the IG still does not agree with the finding(s), then his or her finding(s) will be captured in a modified ROI / ROII and the IGARS database.

Example of a Modified Report of Investigative Inquiry Using a Command Product (OTR 05-XXXX)

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY: (An EXSUM is not needed due to the straightforward and uncomplicated nature of this case)

1. INTRODUCTION: The complainant, CW5 Frank F. Turmoil, a Soldier assigned to Headquarters, 66th Infantry Division (M), Fort Von Steuben, submitted an Inspector General Action Request (IGAR) to DAIG via fax on 11 March 2005 requesting an explanation as to why he was being required to accept a PCS assignment after another fully qualified Soldier was allowed to decline the same assignment. CW5 Turmoil was seeking an answer as to why one Soldier was allowed to decline this assignment while he was not afforded the same opportunity. CW5 Turmoil stated that he had been at his present duty station for only 19 months whereas the other qualified Soldier, CW4 Louis Rhines, had been at his duty station for over 10 years.

CONSIDERATION OF ALLEGATION

2. Allegation: CW5 Donald R. Webster improperly required an individual to accept an assignment in violation of the USAR Active Guard Reserve (AGR) Permanent Change of Station (PCS) Policy memorandum, dated 4 December 2003.

a. Evidence: Completed Army Regulation (AR) 15-6 investigation, dated 10 June 2005. The OCAR IO determined in the investigation that: "CW5 Webster decided not to force the PCS on CW4 Rhines due to single parent-status, children in school, unit mobilization, and the [service member's] intent to retire." The AR 15-6 IO also found that: "If CW5 Webster had fully research[ed] the situation and followed the AGR PCS policy, he should have selected CW4(P) Rhines for the PCS to 2nd BDE [Aviation] before CW5 Turmoil. Although CW5 Webster had valid reasons for PCSing CW5 Turmoil and not CW4 Rhines, CW5 Webster made several assumptions that he failed to research fully and follow up. (EXHIBIT A)

b. Discussion: CW5 Donald R. Webster improperly required an individual to accept an assignment in violation of the AGR PCS Policy memorandum, dated 4 December 2003. An investigation was initiated in accordance with AR 15-6 to determine if a memorandum from the office, Chief, Army Reserve (OCAR), DAAR-HR, dated 4 December 2003, subject: AGR PCS Policy, was violated. OCAR conducted an informal investigation IAW AR 15-6, and all of the documents gathered during the AR 15-6 investigations were relevant and accurate with regard to the allegation. It was further determined that the sworn statements of CW5 Turmoil, CW4 Rhines, and CW5 Webster were consistent with the facts of the case and are considered to be credible. The preponderance of credible evidence indicated that CW5 Webster violated the OCAR AGR PCS policy.

[IO Note: After careful consideration of all the evidence presented, it was determined that the documents and testimonies provided during the AR 15-6 investigation are relevant and accurate with regard to the allegation.]

c. Conclusion: The allegation that CW5 Donald R. Webster improperly required an individual to accept an assignment in violation of the Active Guard Reserve (AGR) Permanent Change of Station (PCS) Policy memorandum, dated 4 December 2002, was substantiated.

3. OTHER MATTERS: This office concurs with the findings and recommendations of the investigation IAW AR 15-6 by the OCAR IO. This office conducted a thorough due-process review of the AR 15-6 product and determined that due process was served in accordance with that regulation. Also, the investigation report had a legal review with an attached opinion.

Example of a Command Product

(Note: This AR 15-6 report was documented using a memorandum-type format. Some AR 15-6 investigation reports are documented on DA Form 1574; however, use of DA Form 1574 is not required IAW AR 15-6.)

AR 15-6 Report of Investigation, CW5 Donald R. Webster

AUTHORITY: Memorandum for MAJ Duane J. Long, subject: Appointment as Army Regulation 15-6 Investigating Officer, dated 29 May 2005. (EXHIBIT A)

BACKGROUND:

The complainant, CW5 Frank F. Turmoil, a Soldier assigned to Office of the Chief, Army Reserve, Pentagon, submitted an Inspector General Action Request (IGAR) to DAIG via fax on 11 March 2005 requesting an explanation as to why he was being required to accept a Permanent Change of Station (PCS) assignment after another fully qualified Soldier was allowed to decline the same assignment. (EXHIBIT B)

CW5 Turmoil was seeking an answer as to why one Soldier was allowed to decline this assignment while he (CW5 Turmoil) was not afforded the same opportunity. CW5 Turmoil stated that he had been at his present duty station for only 19 months whereas the other qualified Soldier, CW4 Louis Rhines, had been at his duty station for over 10 years. At this time, the command initiated an investigation in accordance with AR 15-6 instead of an IG investigation.

Allegation Presented in the Appointment Memorandum: CW5 Donald R. Webster improperly required an individual to accept an assignment in violation of the Active Guard Reserve (AGR) Permanent Change of Station (PCS) Policy memorandum, dated 4 December 2002.

EVIDENCE:

1. Standard. AR 15-6, Chapters 2 and 3, dated 30 September 1996. (EXHIBIT C)

2. Standard. Memorandum, OCAR, DAAR-HR, 4 December 2002, subject: Active Guard Reserve (AGR) Permanent Change of Station (PCS) Policy. (EXHIBIT D)

a. Paragraph 4 of the policy states that: "...AGR Soldiers (officer or enlisted) will not be ordered to execute a PCS based solely on his / her time on station (TOS) in one geographical area. However, Soldiers with the longest time on station will be ordered to execute a PCS before Soldiers with less time on station based on the needs of the Army and the stabilization guidance listed below."

b. Paragraph 5 of the same policy states that the "Career and family needs of each AGR Soldier will be considered against the needs of the Army."

3. Testimony.

a. On 7 June 2005, CW5 Turmoil testified to the following information: CW5 Turmoil testified that the duty position against which he was slotted was in fact a flying position. Therefore, he (CW5 Turmoil) would have to go through a battery of physical and mental exams in order to be qualified for that position. CW5 Turmoil received his yearly flight physical and would probably pass the screening; however, it would take him at least six months to get qualified to fly this aircraft. CW5 Turmoil testified that CW4 Rhines is already qualified to fly the aircraft, so it would be prudent to place him in that billet. (EXHIBIT E)

b. On 9 June 2005, CW5 Webster testified to the following information: CW5 Webster testified that CW4 Rhines was stabilized in his career and felt that, due to his family circumstances, he should remain in his current position. CW5 Webster also testified that CW5 Turmoil was better qualified for the PCS position than CW4 Rhines. (EXHIBIT F)

4. Documentary Evidence: PCS Reassignment Orders, dated 1 March 2005 for CW5 Turmoil indicated he (CW5 Turmoil) was reassigned to 2nd Brigade in Los Alamitos, CA, with a report date of 22 May 2005. (EXHIBIT G)

DISCUSSION:

1. CW5 Donald R. Webster improperly required an individual to accept an assignment in violation of the Active Guard Reserve (AGR) Permanent Change of Station (PCS) Policy memorandum, dated 4 December 2002.

2. It was determined that CW5 Webster acted improperly when he allowed CW4 Rhines to remain in his current duty assignment despite his having been on station for over 10 years. It was further determined that the sworn statements of CW5 Turmoil, CW4 Rhines, and CW5 Webster are consistent with the facts of the case and are considered to be credible. The reasons for this determination are as follows:

a. The normal stabilization period for a warrant officer is five years. CW4 Rhines had satisfied this requirement twice over.

b. CW5 Webster allowed CW4 Rhines's family needs to outweigh the needs of the Army, thereby violating paragraph five of LTG Lynch's policy. Paragraph five of the policy states that: "Career and family needs of each AGR Soldier will be considered against the needs of the Army." This guidance does not mean that a Soldier's family needs will be at the exclusion of the needs of the Army. CW4 Rhines had been in his present assignment for 10 years; he knew, or should have known, that a PCS move was a distinct possibility and should have made arrangements for his family accordingly. That said, the OCAR PCS policy also states that the priority of PCS moves will be determined by an OCAR-directed move and secondly by promotions. Since this PCS reassignment was an OCAR-directed move, and since CW4 Rhines was on the promotion list, he met the top two criteria for being reassigned.

3. This move did not effectively meet the needs of the Army. CW5 Turmoil testified that the position at the 2nd Brigade was a flying job, and the preponderance of the evidence supports the veracity of this statement. As a flying billet, CW4 Rhines was the better qualified candidate to fill that position since he was currently on flying status. CW5 Turmoil, on the other hand, testified that he told CW5 Webster that it would take him six months to attain RL1 in order to fly. The most suitable and qualified warrant officer for the position at the 2nd Brigade was not given the job.

I / O Note: After careful consideration of all the evidence presented, it was determined that the documents and testimonies provided during the investigation in accordance with AR 15-6 were timely, relevant, and accurate with regard to the allegation.

FINDINGS: The preponderance of credible evidence indicated that CW5 Donald R. Webster improperly required an individual to accept an assignment in violation of the Active Guard Reserve (AGR) Permanent Change of Station (PCS) Policy memorandum, dated 4 December 2002.

RECOMMENDATIONS: Approve the report and close this case.

Obtain Approval

1. Investigative Inquiry. There is no formal process prescribed for approval of investigative inquiries. Ensure that your IG is informed and approves of the cases you believe should be worked. Consequently, brief the senior IG when you complete these cases. The command or State IG will approve the ROI, if not directed by the Directing Authority, IAW paragraph 8-4, AR 20-1. If your investigative inquiry substantiated allegations, you must obtain a written legal review from the servicing SJA's office. On a case-by-case basis, you or your IG may need a written legal review for ROIs with not substantiated allegations. Use your own best judgment. When in doubt, obtain a legal review.
2. Investigation. Before taking the ROI to the commander, you must obtain a written legal review from the servicing SJA. Once the SJA has deemed the ROI legally sufficient, present the ROI to the commander. Normally, the ROI is hand-carried to the commander for approval. If appropriate, give the commander an oral briefing in the form of a decision brief.
 - a. Actions by the Directing Authority. The Directing Authority approves, modifies, or disapproves the recommendations and directs any actions to be taken. The Directing Authority may not agree with either the conclusions or the recommendations. A Directing Authority, or other individual, should never compromise your independence by suggesting that any particular conclusions or recommendations should appear in the report or that any conclusion should be changed. This kind of influence degrades the objectivity of your investigation. However, it would not be incorrect for the commander to request that you gather more evidence to support a finding. The commander is not bound by your findings, conclusion, opinions, or recommendations. Commanders may act as they see fit. Experience has shown that having the SJA's concurrence and recommendations will greatly enhance your case's chances of approval.
 - b. Actions by Higher Authorities. Do not transmit ROIs from subordinate commands to a higher authority unless the investigation is requested by, or is of interest to, a higher headquarters or involves other commands. If the higher authority requests the investigation, that authority reviews the conclusions and recommendations, monitors action taken by the subordinate command, and then determines if further action is required. Final approval rests with the Directing Authority of the IG office of record. If the case is referred to a higher authority because other commands are involved, that headquarters takes any necessary action only when the other commands are within its jurisdiction. If not, the case is referred to the next higher headquarters. Unless requested, exhibits are not normally transmitted with the ROI to the higher headquarters. In Whistleblower reprisal investigation cases, the Directing Authority must concur or non-concur with the ROI. The ROI, including all exhibits, must be sent through IG channels through higher-level commanders in the chain of command for endorsement through DAIG Assistance Division to IG, DoD, for final approval (see paragraph 8-10c (4), AR 20-1).

Section 9-7

Actions if Directing Authority Disapproves ROI / ROII

1. Disapproval. There are several actions your directing authority can take with your ROI / ROII. He or she is not bound by your conclusions or recommendations and may approve or disapprove the report in part or in its entirety, to include modifying your recommendations. If the directing authority agrees with your conclusions and recommendations, then normally he or she will sign and approve the report. But what do you do if your directing authority disapproves your ROI / ROII's conclusions?

2. Investigative Inquiry. First of all, an investigative inquiry – less formal than an investigation – is normally authorized by the command / State IG. If the command / State IG authorized the investigative inquiry, then AR 20-1 does not require approval of the ROII by the commander / directing authority if it contains no substantiated allegations. On the other hand, paragraph 8-7c (1) (c) requires action by the directing authority if you have a substantiated allegation.

3. Investigation. A formal investigation, however, requires a written directive from your directing authority; therefore, approval of the report will usually come from the same level, regardless of whether the allegations are substantiated or not substantiated. A Whistleblower reprisal case is an exception to this rule since DAIG's Assistance Division (SAIG-AC) is the office of record and IG, DoD, is the final approving authority.

4. IG Response. Responding to the disapproval of your recommendations is usually less difficult than resolving the disapproval of your conclusions. Common recommendations in the ROI / ROII include approving the report; filing and closing the case; and, if appropriate, a recommendation for a follow-on investigation or forwarding to a subordinate commander for action. The IG investigating officer (IO) should never recommend punitive, adverse, or disciplinary action. To do so compromises your status as a fair and impartial fact-finder. There are several reasons why the directing authority may not agree with your recommendation(s). For example, the IO may recommend in the report to forward the allegations to a subordinate commander for appropriate action, but the directing authority may favor appointing a follow-on investigator himself / herself. Coordination with your SJA and a clear understanding of commander's guidance will help you out in these cases. The key is to find out exactly why the directing authority disagrees with the recommendation(s). Resolving these differences in a face-to-face discussion with the directing authority when the IG submits / briefs the report is the best approach. If your report contains substantiated allegations, take the SJA with you when you brief the directing authority. Let the SJA lead any discussion on the appropriate type of follow-on investigation.

5. Additional Fact Finding. In some cases the directing authority may disapprove your recommendation to close the case if he or she feels that certain documents were not included or a key witness was not interviewed. The standard course of action in that case would be to conduct the additional fact-finding and update the report accordingly. Get a new legal review from your SJA, then re-submit the final report to the directing authority.

6. IG's Conclusions. What if the directing authority disapproves of the Investigating Officer's (IO's) conclusion of either substantiated or not substantiated. The directing authority should never compromise the IO's independence by suggesting that any particular conclusions appear in the report or that any conclusion be changed. This kind of influence degrades the objectivity of the investigation. However, the directing authority may request that you gather more evidence to support a particular finding. Additionally, the directing authority may find that your discussion does not flow logically. You will find that when you work directly on a case and write the report, you become so familiar with the issues that you make mental connections that are not apparent to your reader. A good IG peer review (from someone who did not work as closely on the case) will help. Peers can point out faulty logic, gaps in evidence, and grammatical errors. IG tech channels are another source for help -- especially with complex cases. In any case, the commander is not bound by your conclusion and may act as he or she sees fit.

7. DAIG Can Help. Just as with disapproval of your recommendations, the key to dealing with disapproval of your conclusions is understanding why the commander disagrees, then taking appropriate action to resolve the issue. Once again, experience has shown that SJA involvement throughout the process and concurrence with your conclusions prior to submitting the report will greatly enhance your case's chances of approval. If you and your directing authority are still at loggerheads and are unable to agree on the conclusion(s) -- substantiated or not substantiated -- contact SAIG-AC. They will coordinate with DAIG Legal, and TIG, if necessary, to make the final determination of what goes in IGARS – S or N.

Section 9-8

Common Pitfalls

1. Lack of Evidence to Support Conclusions. You may not have provided sufficient credible evidence to support the conclusions that you reached. Continue to investigate in this situation. If the evidence does not exist, you may have to alter your conclusion. You may have gathered sufficient evidence to support your conclusion but did not introduce it in the evidence subparagraph. If this is the case, correct your report.
2. Inconsistent Conclusions. You may draw incorrect conclusions by misreading or misinterpreting the evidence gathered, not wording allegations correctly, or by not having the fortitude to be candid. This in turn will adversely affect your recommendations, erode the integrity of the IG system, and subject you to an allegation of bias. A thorough peer review will help avoid this problem.
3. Recommendations Not Synchronized With the Conclusions. Common errors are recommendations in the ROI / ROII not supported by a conclusion or a conclusion that requires a recommendation and none is presented. All recommendations should be based on your conclusions.
4. Interjection of Investigating Officer (IO) Opinions. You may use IO notes to clarify information for the reader in the evidence subparagraph of an allegation. You may also enter your personal observations as evidence if they are pertinent. Avoid interjecting your opinions in the evidence sections of your ROI. Naturally, you must exercise judgment as you evaluate evidence in the discussion subparagraphs of your ROI. You must write out the rationale for your judgments in a logical and cogent manner so that they transcend mere opinions. If you are in doubt regarding any aspect of your ROI, do not hesitate to use tech channels and call either DAIG Assistance Division or the Investigations Instructor at TIGS. They will discuss your case with you and maintain the confidentiality you require.

Post Fact-Finding Actions

Section 10-1 – Post-Investigation Notifications

Section 10-2 – Other Post Fact-Finding Actions

Section 10-3 – Closing the IGAR

Section 10-4 – Common Pitfalls

Section 10-1

Post-Investigation Notifications

1. Overview. The post-investigation notifications (step 5 of the IGAP) are different from the initial notifications (step 3 of the IGAP). Normally, initial notifications of the subject or suspect and a commander are done verbally. Post investigation notifications will be done in writing after you complete your case and the report is approved. Sample close-out letters are shown below. These letter formats may be used for both investigative inquiries and investigations.

2. Persons Notified Pertaining to Results of an IG Investigation or Investigative Inquiry. The following individuals must be notified:

a. Subordinate Commanders / Supervisors: At the conclusion of an investigation / investigative inquiry, formally notify any commanders or supervisors whom you initially notified. Use the format shown below. Notify the incumbent in the command position of an individual who departs from command when your case is in progress or has a need to know the outcome of the case when completed.

b. Subjects / Suspects: In an investigation / investigative inquiry, formally notify the subject or suspect in writing after the case is completed and approved. Type and underline the words "Exclusive For" on the envelope IAW AR 25-50. If the subject or suspect desires more information, he or she must request it under the provisions of the Freedom of Information Act. In both inquiries and investigations, it is not appropriate for you to comment on actions that may be contemplated by the command other than the appointment of a follow-on investigator.

NOTE: If the investigation or investigative inquiry was conducted by the "office of inquiry", for whatever reason(s), all of the information gathered by the IG Office of Inquiry will be forwarded to the IG Office of Record for their final report. At this time, the IG Office of Inquiry is not required to notify the subject / suspect that the investigation / investigative inquiry has gone back to the IG Office of Record. However, if asked, the IG could tell the subject / suspect (verbally or in writing) that the final reply would come from another IG office.

c. Complainant. In both investigations and investigative inquiries, you must notify the complainant of the approved results of the investigation or investigative inquiry in writing. The approved investigation or investigative inquiry results are those issues and allegations directly pertaining to, or made by, the complainant. In most cases, you will only notify the complainant of the results if you deem the complainant to be personally wronged (the victim of adverse actions related to the alleged misconduct by the subject / suspect). IG, DoD, has expanded the definition of personally wronged parties to include family members of an injured party in some cases. Third-party complainants are only entitled to know that the investigation or investigative inquiry was completed and that the commander will take appropriate action as he or she deems appropriate. See paragraphs 4-11 of AR 20-1 for further guidance.

Also, IGs may use this same general format, with some minor adjustments, if notifying in writing a witness who provided sworn, recorded testimony that an IG investigation or investigative inquiry is complete as outlined in AR 20-1, paragraph 4-9d.

Section 10-2

Other Post Fact-Finding Actions

1. Your actions do not end once you have made your notifications at the completion of your case. Your post fact-finding actions are driven by the nature of the case and are independent of the fact-finding process you used.

2. Follow-up. You should return to steps six and seven of the IGAP once fact-finding is complete. Follow-up actions are frequently extensive. Even if you hand-off corrective actions to a proponent staff agency, you will probably have to follow-up to ensure that problems are fixed.

3. Disposition of Documents / Physical Evidence.

a. You should maintain and file the ROII / ROI as required by the appropriate regulations governing the maintenance of records and files. Consider carefully which case materials you keep beyond the ROII / ROI. You should maintain only case-related materials needed for factual documentation. As a general rule, eliminate any extraneous working papers such as draft reports, administrative notes, or other items not needed for your ROII / ROI and case file and return all other materials to their sources. Remember to dispose of all files in accordance with AR 25-400-2, The Army Records Information Management System. You are not authorized to keep any files beyond their destruction date.

b. When you have completed a case, you should purge your files of unnecessary notes, logs, internal memoranda, personal observations concerning the credibility of witnesses, etc. Your final action is to erase magnetic recording tapes used to record testimony once you have a transcript or summarized testimony and the case is closed.

Section 10-3

Closing the IGAR

You must ensure that the IGAR is coded in accordance with Part One, Chapter 2, of this guide. Give special attention when deciding which codes are recorded. The function codes selected will identify the areas into which the IG inquired or investigated. The case notes, at a minimum, should reflect those key actions by the investigating officer such as notifications, interviews, important documents received, etc. The synopsis must be a clear, concise summary of the complaint; the allegations investigated; the evidence analyzed; the conclusion reached by the investigating officer; and the actions taken by the command. The synopsis must be a stand-alone document that can be retrieved from the IGARS database anytime in the future and understood by the IG reading it. It should answer the questions Who, What, When, Where, Why, and How, and How Many? Each allegation should be clearly written in the correct format (Who improperly did what in violation of a standard) with the conclusion of substantiated or not substantiated clearly displayed for each allegation. The determination codes (or SNA codes) should be indicated with an individual function code for each allegation.

Section 10-4

Common Pitfalls

1. Overview. Occasionally, you will encounter problems when you conduct investigative inquiries or investigations. To assist you, commonly encountered problems and possible courses of action are discussed below.

2. Refusal of a Commander to Cooperate. From time to time commanders may not be fully cooperative. In most cases, the best course of action is for you to convince the commander that it is in his or her interest to cooperate fully. If a commanding officer (subordinate to your directing authority) will not allow his or her subordinates to testify or make them available for you to interview, two courses of action are open to you:

a. Advise the commander that the matter will be referred to the next higher commander or the Directing Authority. Then contact your office and request that action be taken to inform the appropriate commanders, or call the commander yourself. Frequently, the mere statement that the higher commander will be notified is sufficient to persuade a commander to cooperate.

b. Submit a written report to the senior IG or Directing Authority. Ensure the written report contains protective markings IAW AR 20-1, Chapter 3-2.

3. Request to Have Others Present During an Interview.

a. Allowing third-party individuals in the interview is not a preferred practice. These individuals are anyone other than the witness, the investigators, a stenographic secretary, court reporter or interpreter, union or collective-bargaining representative, and counsel when authorized. Third-party personnel include friends, spouses, assistants, physicians, nurses, and union representatives. Privacy promotes confidence; third parties do not. While the presence of third parties is discouraged, the final decision is up to the investigating officer.

b. In cases where the person being interviewed has requested the presence of an unauthorized observer or lawyer, you should weigh whether the presence of such a person will facilitate or inhibit communications. If the person's presence will make the interviewee more comfortable, you may want to consider making an exception. Indicate in the record the presence of all parties to an interview. If a witness requests the presence of another person, offer to have the other person located in a nearby room and admitted to the interview only if needed.

4. Refusal of a Witness to Testify.

a. Military members and DA civilians are required to answer all questions related to an investigation except questions that may be self-incriminating or, in the case of military personnel, those that are privileged communications as defined in Section V, Rule 501-513, Military Rules of Evidence of the Manual for Courts-Martial. Lawyer-client, husband-wife, and certain communication with clergy members are privileged.

The military doctor-patient relationship is not considered privileged communication in the Army. However, the rules for each differ, and you should check with a legal advisor if a military witness claims one of the exemptions.

b. DA civilian or military witnesses who improperly refuse to answer questions (Remember: you cannot compel any witness to incriminate himself or herself) may be ordered to answer by their commander or supervisor. Allow the witnesses to explain why they should not be required to testify before you take action to require them to do so. This approach provides you a basis for determining whether you want to force the issue. IGs confronted with a military member or DA civilian witness who improperly refuses to answer questions should consult with their SJA or legal advisor. IGs should not order a witness to testify because they will jeopardize their role as an impartial investigator. Failure to cooperate is an offense punishable under applicable regulations. Possible punishments include dismissal from Federal service.

c. If a civilian contractor witness is the employee of a business with a government contract, that person may be ordered to answer by his or her supervisor. The investigator should contact the Contracting Officer or the Contracting Officer's Representative to gain the cooperation of the witness. Again, allow the witnesses to explain why they should not be required to testify before you take action to require them to do so. This approach provides you a basis for determining whether you want to force the issue.

d. A witness may also refuse to answer because the response may reveal classified information. If the IG involved does not have the proper clearance, he or she should obtain it or request assistance from an IG who does have the proper clearance.

e. The witness may not refuse to testify on the basis that the question is not relevant. You alone determine if a question is relevant to the investigation, and you should advise the witness accordingly.

f. If you have a reluctant witness whom you believe has information concerning a felony, you may read that person Title 18, United States Code, Section 4, to convince him or her to discuss the issues with you. This law provides that any person having knowledge of a felony and who does not make this information known to civil or military authority is subject to a fine or imprisonment.

g. Civilian witnesses who are not DA employees may rightfully refuse to testify on the basis that you have no authority to make them do so. Your personal appeals may help obtain their testimony. Title 18, United States Code, Section 4, is applicable. You must realize, however, that the possibility of a civilian being taken to court for refusing to cooperate with an IG is remote. Therefore, you should be cautious about using this warning.

5. False Testimony by a Witness. False testimony knowingly given to you under oath by an individual subject to the Uniform Code of Military Justice constitutes false swearing. False testimony knowingly given to you under oath by a civilian witness constitutes an offense under Title 18, USC, Section 1001. Appropriate advisements that may be read to individuals who provide false testimony are contained in applicable read-in scripts. Remember: a false official statement made by someone subject to the UCMJ is a criminal offense.

6. Requests for Advice from an Investigating Officer. A witness may ask for or seek your advice, but you must tell the witness that you cannot give any advice except as to rights, duties, and procedures regarding the interview. Do not advise witnesses whether or not they should consult with counsel. Do not advise witnesses whether or not they should consent to release of their testimony if they make a FOIA request.

7. Intimidation of Witnesses.

a. If you believe there has been tampering or interference with a witness, you should immediately report this information to the witness's commander and request that these practices cease immediately. If the commander does not cooperate, or if the commander is suspected of being a party to this irregularity, advise the Directing Authority and request that appropriate action be taken. Make sure you make a full record of such action and that the pertinent details appear in the ROI / ROII.

b. A witness may be intimidated by the fear of retribution for testifying about their superiors or supervisors. There have been instances where individuals were called as witnesses and gave testimony that implicated their commanding officer. Despite the assurance given to these witnesses by the investigator, reports have occasionally been forwarded to the same commander for necessary action. These referrals present the possibility of adverse or discriminatory action against the witnesses. The effect of such action is to destroy the confidence of witnesses in the integrity of the IG system. Therefore, avoid this practice whenever possible.

8. Request by Witness or Lawyer to Record an Interview. Normally, persons providing testimony are not allowed to tape interviews in order to preclude compromising testimony and other evidence (see paragraph 8-4h, AR 20-1.). Follow the procedures outlined below when you receive a request to record an interview.

a. Military or DA Employee Witness. Inform the witness that IG investigation procedures prohibit the witness from recording the interview. Should this advisement not resolve the issue, you may offer them the opportunity to read the testimony in your office upon proper request. Also, upon proper request (see paragraph 3-7a(2), AR 20-1), you may provide the witness a copy of his testimony after the ROI is approved. Both these requests must be in writing. If the witness is uncooperative and refuses to testify because he or she has been denied permission to record the interview, you may have a commander order the person to testify.

b. Non-DA Civilian Witness. If a civilian witness not affiliated with DA puts a condition on his or her cooperation such as refusing to testify unless allowed to record the session, you can persuade that person not to do so, to honor the request, or to forgo receiving his or her testimony. You cannot require a civilian witness to testify. If you allow a civilian witness to record an interview, attempt to retain the tape until the investigation is complete to avoid compromising the investigation or consider interviewing all other witnesses before allowing a civilian witness to record an interview.

9. Request for a Copy of the ROI / ROII. Individuals involved in an IG investigation or investigative inquiry will not be provided access to the ROI / ROII. ROI / ROII's and accompanying testimony are released only as authorized by Chapter 3, AR 20-1.

10. Request for Results of an Investigation.

a. Follow guidelines in Chapter 3, AR 20-1. The Directing Authority may direct that you provide ROI / ROIs or summaries within the Department of the Army for official purposes; however, you need to take several precautions:

- (1) Comply with all provisions of Chapter 3, AR 20-1.
- (2) Make sure the protective markings are applied to each page of the report and attached testimony.
- (3) Prohibit reproduction.
- (4) Prohibit subsequent transfer to another agency.
- (5) Attempt to satisfy the request for an ROI by permitting the report to be used in your office.
- (6) Provide for return of the report to the IG office as soon as the action desired is completed.

b. The purpose of these restrictions is not to hinder operations but to limit access to IG records. An example of a ROI transmittal letter is at Appendix B.

11. New Allegations Received During an Interview. It is not uncommon to receive new allegations from an interviewee during an interview. If these allegations are related to your investigation, include them in your case – but you may need to expand your Directive. If you are unsure, brief your Directing Authority. If an unrelated issue surfaces, take it through the seven-step IGAP process. It could result in a separate investigative inquiry or investigation.

12. Off-the-Tape Discussions. If the witness appears to be withholding information or is uneasy talking about a subject, consider turning off the recording devices and discussing the apparent problem. Although the tape recorders are off, the discussion is still on the record and official. You should discuss the witness's concerns, attempt to dispel them, and encourage the witness to allow the information to be recorded. While you can make a MFR of off-tape discussions, the witness may later contend that you modified or misunderstood what he said. It is best to have the witness put off-tape answers in the recorded testimony. When you resume taping, ask the witness to summarize what he told you off tape.

13. Refusal to Swear or to Affirm Testimony.

a. You cannot make individuals who are not subject to UCMJ or who are not DA employees testify under oath or affirmation. If a witness refuses to be sworn or refuses to affirm his testimony, let the record reflect his refusal and continue to interview.

b. You can require individuals subject to the UCMJ or DA employees to testify under oath or affirmation. If a witness refuses to swear, you may continue with an unsworn interview, or you may consult with a SJA and then ask the witness's commander or supervisor to direct the witness to swear or affirm to the testimony.

14. Locating Civilian Witnesses. If you have difficulty locating essential civilian witnesses, the first choice is to seek help through IG technical channels. When not practical, sources such as the local Provost Marshal, local CID detachment, or the designated liaison official for the local police or other law-enforcement agency can be helpful.

15. Gifts and Social Activities. Do not accept gifts or be involved in any social activities that might give the appearance of a conflict of interest with anyone involved in your investigative inquiry or investigation -- or any inquiry or investigation an IG is conducting in your office. Should you find yourself in a position where someone might question your impartiality in an investigative inquiry or investigation, consider disqualifying yourself to the senior IG or Directing Authority. Even if you think you can be impartial, it is what others think that matters. If you are the senior IG, your office may have to hand off the case to a higher IG.

16. Amending Directives. Occasionally, you may find your Directive to be inadequate for the investigation either because you misinterpreted the original information or you found new information outside the scope of the original Directive. If this situation occurs, have your Directive amended, or prepare a new Directive and a MFR explaining the circumstances. Do not confuse this situation with the discovery of matters not appropriate for you to investigate. Refer those inappropriate matters to the agency having jurisdiction for action.

17. Requests for Interim Reports.

a. IG investigations often take several weeks or months to complete. You may use an executive summary as an interim report to keep your senior IG or the Directing Authority informed of your progress. The executive summary must contain protective markings. Be careful not to speculate on the results of the investigation too early in the investigative process because subsequent evidence and legal reviews may alter those premature conclusions.

b. Complainants may ask, write, or call you, the commander, or a higher IG for the progress (or the results) of an investigation before the results have been approved. Do not provide any information other than to state that their complaint has been received and appropriate action is being taken. Do not release any other information such as the tentative conclusions stated in an interim report. Even when the case is complete, the complainant cannot be allowed to have any information except that which applies directly to him or her.

c. Never fall into the trap of leading a subject or suspect to believe that the allegations will be not substantiated before the case has been approved by your Directing Authority. The weight of evidence may change, or the commander may not agree with you.

18. Using IG (Technical) Channels. Some of the tasks you typically would ask an IG from another headquarters to perform are:

a. Notify the IG's commander of the investigation. Never notify the commander if the allegations are against your commander.

- b. Schedule and arrange locations for interviews.
- c. Assist with lodging and transportation requirements and with administrative support.
- d. Assist in gathering documents and other physical evidence.
- e. Assist with, or conduct, interviews by being part of the interview team. You can assist by administering the oath; conducting the pre-tape, and read-in, and read-out to a witness; or assist by actually conducting the interviews. Do not put another IG into the position of investigating or appearing to investigate his or her own boss (either commander or senior IG). This situation creates a conflict of interest and may jeopardize the IG's working relationship with his or her boss.

19. Courtesy Calls. Do not routinely make courtesy calls with commanders. Because of the confidential nature of IG investigations, you cannot normally discuss details of a case beyond what is provided in the Directive. This need for confidentiality applies to investigative inquiries as well. If a commander desires a courtesy call, exercise tact and restraint. Limit your discussion to the minimum information the commander needs to do his job -- usually the information in the Directive. The same guidelines apply to exit interviews; limit discussion to the Directive and the support rendered by the command.

20. Shifting from Investigative Inquiry to Investigation. Shifting from an investigative inquiry to an investigation is not a significant problem. Frequently, IGs will begin an investigative inquiry and later determine that an investigation is more appropriate. The information from your investigative inquiry is the basis for the background paragraph in your Action Memorandum. Once your commander signs your Directive and you begin your investigation, you must formally notify the chain of command and the subject or suspect (even if you advised the person that you were conducting an investigative inquiry). You can use the evidence you gathered during your investigative inquiry as evidence for your investigation. You do not have to conduct formal interviews with witnesses you previously interviewed informally. However, you might do so if you need to document your findings fully, the case is complex, or you have conflicts in evidence.

Service Member Whistleblower Reprisal Inquiries / Investigations

1. Section 1034 of Title 10, United States Code (10 USC 1034), revised by The Strom Thurmond National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 1999, extended authority to Inspectors General within the Military Departments to grant Whistleblower protection for reprisal allegations presented directly to them by service members. (Note: TIG may limit this authority to one level above that of the IG servicing the complainant such as ACOM, corps, armies, etc.) 10 USC 1034, implemented by DoD Directive 7050.6, requires Service IGs to investigate allegations of individuals taking or threatening to take unfavorable personnel actions or withholding or threatening to withhold favorable personnel action as reprisal against a member of the Armed Forces for making or preparing a protected communication. A protected communication (PC) is:

a. Any lawful communication to a Member of Congress or an IG.

b. A communication in which a member of the Armed Forces communicates information that the member reasonably believes is evidence of a violation of law or regulation (including sexual harassment or unlawful discrimination, gross mismanagement, a gross waste of funds or other resources, an abuse of authority, or a substantial and specific danger to public health or safety) when such a communication is made to any of the following:

(1) A Member of Congress; an IG; or a member of any DoD audit, inspection, investigation, or law-enforcement organization.

(2) Any person or organization in the chain of command (see AR 600-20 for the definition of chain of command).

(3) Any other person or organization designated under Component regulations or other established administrative procedures (i.e. Equal Opportunity Advisor, Safety Officer) to receive such communications.

2. If, upon presentation, a Soldier makes a reprisal allegation that appears to meet the criteria outlined in 10 USC 1034, the IG who receives the allegation will contact the Whistleblower Investigation and Oversight Branch (WIOB), DAIG Assistance Division, within two working days using the Whistleblower Advisement (below). Include the name, grade, unit assignment, address, and phone number of the Soldier (complainant). IGs serving below the ACOM / ASCC / DRU level will also inform the ACOM / ASCC / DRU IG about the reprisal allegation. The field IG should be prepared to respond to the following specific questions:

a. What PC(s) does the Soldier claim that he or she made or prepared?

b. To whom were they made?

- c. When were they made?
- d. What matters were addressed in the PC (i.e. gross mismanagement, waste, public safety, abuse, etc.)?
- e. What were the unfavorable personnel actions alleged by the Soldier?
- f. Who were the responsible management official(s) (RMOs) alleged by the Soldier to have taken or threatened the personnel action? Allegations against senior Army officials (i.e., COL(P)s, General Officers, and SES-grade civilians) must be reported to the DAIG Investigations Division within two days of receipt.
- g. When were the personnel actions against the Soldier taken or threatened?
- h. When did the Soldier first become aware of the personnel actions?

3. Upon receipt of the advisement and the complaint document, WIOB will forward a letter to the Soldier formally acknowledging receipt of the complaint and will also notify the IG, DoD, as required. WIOB will then refer the case to the appropriate IG for Preliminary Inquiry (PI) to determine whether the allegation meets the criteria for Whistleblower reprisal. (See the example referral memorandum below.)

4. The following four central questions have to be answered in order to determine whether you have Whistleblower reprisal:

- a. Question 1: Did the military member make or prepare a PC?
- b. Question 2: Was an unfavorable personnel action taken or threatened, or was a favorable personnel action withheld or threatened to be withheld following the PC?
- c. Question 3: Did the official(s) responsible for taking, withholding, or threatening the personnel action know about the PC?
- d. Question 4: Does the evidence establish that the personnel action would have been taken, withheld, or threatened if the PC had not been made or prepared?

Additionally, a detailed chronology of the PC(s), unfavorable personnel action(s), and management official knowledge will aid in analyzing the facts and circumstances and in establishing any connection between the PC and the personnel actions. See IG, DoD, Guide (IGDG) 7050.6 (available on the TIGS website) for further information on the four questions and developing interrogatories for your interviews.

5. A PI will address the first two questions of whether a PC was made or prepared and if an unfavorable personnel action was taken or threatened, if a favorable personnel action was withheld or threatened to be withheld, and if the reprisal complaint was submitted within 120 days of when the complainant became aware of the unfavorable personnel action. AR 20-1 and the current DoD Directive 7050.6 indicate a 60-day submission requirement, but the draft DoDD 7050.6 and current IG, DoD, guidance specify 120 days. Therefore, Army IGs follow the 120-day requirement. A PI can only result in a recommendation that the case be declined or that more investigation is required. A declination would be indicated if there was no PC or no unfavorable personnel action or if the complaint was untimely. Submit a declination memorandum to SAIG-AC per the format in this guide. If the evidence indicates there was a PC and there was an unfavorable personnel action and the complaint was timely, then you must conduct an investigative inquiry or investigation. WIOB will maintain oversight of all Whistleblower cases.

6. In accordance with DoDD 7050.6, IG, DoD, is the final approving authority for cases involving allegations of Whistleblower reprisal. The command or State IG can direct an investigative inquiry; however, a written directive from the directing authority is required for an investigation. The investigating IG will obtain the directing authority's concurrence or non-concurrence with the conclusions and recommendations of the investigative inquiry / investigation and will forward the ROI / ROII through IG channels to DAIG. Each intermediate IG will review the ROI / ROII and obtain his or her commander's endorsement regarding the conclusions and recommendations. The ROI / ROII will be prepared in accordance with AR 20-1, paragraph 8-7, and Part Two, Chapter 9 of this guide.

The enclosed documentation (Enclosure 1) is forwarded for PI IAW 10 USC 1034 into the matters presented.
2. You must interview the complainant to clarify the allegations and issues. When you set up the interview, ask the complainant to furnish any documentation that she has which establishes that she prepared or made a PC and any documentation that the individual has regarding the personnel action. A questionnaire filled out by the complainant does not replace an interview. The interview must be recorded in your files as a verbatim transcription or as summarized testimony. Key questions for the complainant include: Who do you believe is responsible for the personnel action? Why do you believe the Responsible Management Official (RMO) knew you had prepared or made a PC before he or she took the action or made the threat? Whom did you tell about making or preparing a PC? Who can testify or provide documents to show the RMOs were aware of the PC?
3. Begin your PI to determine how far you must proceed by answering the following questions:
 - a. Question 1: Was there a PC made or prepared under the provisions of 10 USC 1034?
 - b. Question 2: Was there an unfavorable personnel action taken or threatened, or was there a favorable action withheld or threatened to be withheld following the PC that affects or has the potential to affect the service member's current position or career?

(SFC Huffy Duffy / DIH-06-60XX)

c. Was the reprisal complaint submitted within 120 days of when the complainant first became aware of the unfavorable personnel action? (Each case should be considered based on merit, i.e. a Soldier on 179-day deployment may exceed the 120-day window vs. a Soldier who procrastinates and waits 1-2 years to file a reprisal complaint.)

4. If there was no PC or no unfavorable personnel action or the complaint was untimely under 10 USC 1034 criteria - STOP!! Do not progress any further under the statute. Complete the PI recommending declination under 10 USC 1034. Attach all evidence (documentation) and forward to SAIG-AC, Whistleblower Investigations Oversight Branch (WIOB). WIOB will then review the PI and submit through IG, DoD, for final approval.

5. When completing the DA Form 1559 under the declination rule, ensure you use the "A" code in the *DETER box of the Function Information. You can then close your case in IGARS. Once IG, DoD, approves the recommendation for declination, SAIG-AC will notify you of the findings.

6. Your suspense for completing the PI and forwarding all accompanying documents to SAIG-AC is not later than 30 days from the date of receipt of this referral memorandum. The suspense for an Investigative Inquiry or Investigation is provided on the top right corner of this referral memorandum.

7. A PI can only result in a recommendation that the case be declined or more investigation is required. A declination would be based on a "No" to either question 1 or 2; the complaint was not filed within 120 days after the complainant first became aware of the unfavorable personnel action; or the action was independent of the protected communication. You cannot recommend a finding of "substantiated" or "not substantiated" based on a preliminary inquiry. If you cannot determine whether there was RMO knowledge or that the action was independent of the PC based upon the documentation that you acquired during the preliminary inquiry, then you must conduct an Investigative Inquiry or Investigation.

8. If the answer to questions 1 and 2 above is "yes" and the complaint is timely, continue your analysis regarding the last two questions.

a. Question 3: Did the RMOs know or suspect a PC was prepared or made?

b. Question 4: Would the personnel action have occurred absent the PC?

Section 11-2

DA Civilian, Non-appropriated Fund, and DoD Contractor Employee Allegations of Whistleblower Reprisal

1. Section 2302(b)(8), Title 5, United States Code (5 USC 2302(b)(8)) provides similar coverage to appropriated fund (DA / DoD civilian) employees as previously discussed for members of the Armed Forces. Likewise, Non-appropriated Fund (NAF) employees are covered under 10 USC 1587, and coverage to DoD contractor employees is provided under Section 2409(a), Title 10, United States Code (10 USC 2409). When a DA / DoD civilian, NAF, or DoD contractor employee presents an allegation of reprisal for protected disclosure to an IG, you must perform the following actions based on the employee's status:

- a. Inform the appropriated fund civilian employee of the right to present the reprisal allegation to the Office of Special Counsel (OSC).
 - b. Advise the NAF employee of his or her right to submit reprisal complaints to the IG, DoD, in accordance with DoDD 1401.3. The IG may take the complaint from the NAF employee; however, the IG must forward the complaint to IG, DoD.
 - c. Inform DoD contractor employees that they should make their complaint about reprisal to the IG, DoD, and inform them that the provisions of 10 USC 2409 govern their rights.
2. If the employee elects not to present a complaint of reprisal to the OSC or IG, DoD, but still wants to present the complaint to an IG, obtain that decision in writing and coordinate with the SJA and the commander to determine which type of IG action is appropriate.

SUBJECT: Whistleblower Reprisal Preliminary Inquiry (PI) (SPC Snuffy / DIH-06-60XX)

1. Purpose: To report Preliminary Inquiry results regarding an allegation(s) of Whistleblower Reprisal IAW 10 USC 1034, Military Whistleblower Protection Act, and DoD Directive (DoDD) 7050.6, Military Whistleblower Protection, and recommend declination.

3. Date and Background of Complaint: SPC Snuffy filed a Whistleblower reprisal complaint with the Department of the Army Inspector General's (DAIG) Office on 1 February 2006 (Tab 1). DAIG forwarded the complaint and referred the case to the Fort Von Steuben IG Office on 10 February 2006. SPC Snuffy alleged that 1SG Bailey recommended her for an Article 15 because she had filed an EO complaint against him.

4. Date and Discussion of Interview with the Complainant:

a. On 16 February 2006, MAJ List and SFC Bergerac, Fort Von Steuben IG Office, interviewed SPC Snuffy (Tab 2). During the interview SPC Snuffy alleged that her 1SG was a "racist." She (SPC Snuffy) believed that because she had filed an EO complaint against him (1SG Bailey), she was given an Article 15.

b. SPC Snuffy provided the paperwork of the Article 15 and stated that there was a 15-6 investigation regarding an alcohol incident in the barracks.

c. SPC Snuffy could not provide any names of witnesses that could corroborate her allegations.

5. Was there a Protected Communication(s) and Disposition of PC(s)?: (List the Protected Communication(s) and the disposition) Yes, SPC Snuffy filed an EO complaint on 15 December 2005. SPC Snuffy alleged that 1SG Bailey discriminated against her because of her race. The Fort Von Steuben EO office investigated the EO complaint and completed it on 13 January 2006. The findings were not substantiated against 1SG Bailey (Tab 3).

6. Was there an Unfavorable Personnel Action? Yes, SPC Snuffy received an Article 15 on 30 January 2006 (Tab 4).

8. Previous or Current Investigations of the Reprisal Allegation(s) by any Other Agency: None.

9. Analysis of the Evidence: The documentary evidence indicated that the Article 15 rendered to SPC Snuffy was the result of an AR 15-6 investigation (Tab 4). The 15-6 investigation was initiated on 13 December 2006 regarding a barracks party involving alcohol that took place in the barracks while alcohol was off limits. The findings of the 15-6 investigation determined that SPC Snuffy and five other individuals participated in a party involving alcoholic beverages when no alcohol was allowed in the barracks. SPC Snuffy and the other five individuals involved each received an Article 15 based on the 15-6 investigation.

10. Conclusion: The preponderance of the credible evidence indicates the Article 15 was independent of the PC; therefore, this case does not meet the criteria for Whistleblower reprisal.

Example Whistleblower Reprisal Report of Investigative Inquiry (ROI)

REPORT OF INVESTIGATIVE INQUIRY (WHISTLEBLOWER REPRISAL) (DIH 06-60XX / OTR 06-00XX)

(Note: An EXSUM was not used for this ROI; therefore, an introductory paragraph is included before the Consideration of the Allegations.)

1. Introduction:

- a. On 30 May 2005, SSG Carol Miranda, then Section Chief, Wheeled Vehicle Maintenance Section, Headquarters and Headquarters Company (HHC), 4th Support Battalion (SB), Fort Von Steuben, VA, met with her commander, CPT Paul G. Smith, regarding an alleged incident of misconduct in the unit.
- b. On 10 June 2005, SSG Miranda was relieved from her duty position as Section Chief by the commander, CPT Smith.
- c. On 28 August 2005, SSG Miranda visited the Fort Von Steuben IG office. Her visit to the IG office led to the filing of her reprisal complaint on 2 September 2005.
- d. On 9 September 2005, SSG Miranda received an adverse Noncommissioned Officer Evaluation Report (NCOER). The rater for this NCOER was SFC William C. Jones, Motor Sergeant, HHC, 4th SB; the senior rater was CPT Smith; and the reviewer was LTC Richard Power, Battalion Commander, 4th SB.

2. Consideration of the Allegations:

- a. Allegation # 1: CPT Smith improperly reprised against a subordinate through an adverse NCOER in violation DoDD 7050.6.
- b. Allegation # 2: CPT Smith improperly reprised against a subordinate by relieving that person of his / her duty position in violation DoDD 7050.6.

3. Evidence:

a. Standard: DoDD 7050.6, Military Whistleblower Protection, dated 23 June 2000, stated in paragraph 4.3 that members of the Armed Forces would be free from reprisal for making or preparing a protected communication.

b. Document: SSG Miranda's DA Form 2166-8, NCOER, for the period February 2003 to June 2003 was a change of rater NCOER and reflected that she received "fair" ratings for performance and potential from her senior rater, CPT Smith. (EXHIBIT C)

c. Testimony:

(1) SSG Miranda testified on 12 November 2003 that her NCOER was adverse because the NCOER had ratings of "fair" by the senior rater (CPT Smith) for overall performance and potential. With respect to being relieved from her duty position, she testified that while members of their unit were deployed to Fort Polk, LA, for an exercise from 12 May 2003 to 4 June 2003, they were under a strict alcoholic beverage policy. The policy prohibited Soldiers participating in the exercise from drinking any alcoholic beverages during the exercise even when off duty. On three to five occasions, SSG Miranda went out to eat dinner with several other enlisted members of the unit. Occasionally, while they were at dinner, the other Soldiers would have a pitcher of beer on the table and pour their drinks from the pitcher. SSG Miranda said she did not always sit with them at the restaurant, and she did not drink any beer. She testified that every Soldier knew of the drinking policy. She was relieved of her duty position as Team Leader on 11 June 2003 because the company commander believed she violated and failed to enforce the drinking policy. (EXHIBIT B)

(2) SFC William Jones, Motor Sergeant, HHC, 4th SB, testified on 15 November 2003 that he did not deploy with HHC, 4th SB to Fort Polk, LA, due to a knee injury shortly before the exercise. For this reason he had no first-hand knowledge of SSG Miranda's actions while at Fort Polk. He heard quite a few of the rumors about violations of the drinking policy when the unit came back, and he thought they were just rumors. He was SSG Miranda's rater on her two most recent NCOERs, and he rated SSG Miranda's performance as average on both NCOERs. (EXHIBIT D)

(3) SFC Alan Moran, HQs Platoon Sergeant (a witness), HHC, 4th SB, testified on 16 November 2003 that SSG Miranda was relieved by CPT Smith because of her duty performance. She was too much of a buddy with the members of her team. He also testified that CPT Smith was upset with SSG Miranda at Fort Polk because she did not report the alleged incident of misconduct by an NCO to him, and she was the team's NCO-in-Charge. CPT Smith felt that she (SSG Miranda) was disloyal to him. CPT Smith said that in late August, and he (SFC Moran) told CPT Smith that SSG Miranda told him she had gone to the IG. (EXHIBIT E)

FOR OFFICIAL USE ONLY

Dissemination is prohibited except as authorized by AR 20-1.

This document contains information EXEMPT FROM MANDATORY DISCLOSURE under the FOIA. Exemptions 1, 2, 5, 6, and 7 apply.

(4) CPT Smith, a Responsible Management Official (RMO), testified on 22 November 2003 that he was the unit commander and denied that he took the adverse personnel actions against SSG Miranda in reprisal for her protected communications. He testified that he relieved SSG Miranda from her duty position because she lied to him. Each of the other Soldiers involved in the violation of the drinking policy incident said that SSG Miranda was the senior NCO present. Either the four Soldiers were lying or SSG Miranda was lying. SSG Miranda then admitted that she did lie to the commander and that she did violate the drinking policy. He no longer felt he could trust her, and he had no confidence in her ability to tell the truth. These were also the reasons why he put the adverse comments on SSG Miranda's NCOER. CPT Smith went on to say that he would work with SSG Miranda over the next several months to rehabilitate her and to send her to the NCO academy for schooling. He said that he gave SSG Miranda a key assignment as the NCOIC of a three-person team sent to support an Air Force Detachment and that she did a great job. He has seen much improvement in her performance over the past several months. (EXHIBIT F)

d. Discussion:

(1) Question 1: Was there a protected communication made or prepared that was protected by Title 10 U.S.C., Section 1034? Yes. There were two protected communications. On 30 May 2003, SSG Miranda met with her commander, CPT Smith, reference an alleged incident of misconduct in the unit. This qualified as a protected communication because the Soldier went to her company commander and discussed / reported her knowledge of an incident of misconduct by another member of the unit. The second protected communication was made when SSG Miranda visited the Fort Von Steuben IG in August 2003. Any lawful communication to an IG was a protected communication.

(2) Question 2: Was there an unfavorable personnel action taken or threatened, or was there a favorable action withheld or threatened to be withheld that affects or had the potential to affect the service member's current position or career after the protected communication was made or prepared? Yes. There were two unfavorable personnel actions: relief from duty position and an adverse NCOER. These actions are considered unfavorable personnel actions because they could harm a Soldier's career and have a negative impact on the Soldier's potential for future promotions.

(3) Question 3: Did the official(s) responsible for taking, withholding, or threatening the personnel action know about the protected communication(s)? Yes. The RMO was SSG Miranda's company commander, CPT Smith, and he testified he was aware of her protected communications.

(4) Question 4: Does the evidence establish that the personnel action would have been taken, withheld, or threatened if the protected communication had not been made? Yes. There were actions by SSG Miranda that could have been the basis for the personnel actions taken against her. SSG Miranda admitted that she allowed members of her team to violate a published drinking policy. She also initially denied knowing of the drinking violations to her commander. The paragraphs below discuss whether these actions were the basis for the RMO's unfavorable personnel actions against SSG Miranda.

e. Unfavorable Personnel Action #1, Relieved from Duty Position:

(1) Reasons: SSG Miranda was counseled on 10 June 2003 by her commander, CPT Smith, on the reasons why he relieved her from her current duty position. The reasons included tardiness, making a false statement to the commander, and allowing her Soldiers to violate the published drinking policy.

(2) Reasonableness: There were no other Soldiers of the same grade as SSG Miranda involved in violating the drinking policy. The other NCOs involved were also given adverse comments on their NCOERs similar to those given to SSG Miranda. SSG Miranda actually sat at the table while the Soldiers drank beer; and, on several occasions, she drove the Soldiers to and from the restaurant where they violated the policy. It was reasonable to conclude that she would receive a harsher punishment since she was the senior NCO involved with the violations of the drinking policy.

(3) Consistency: SSG Miranda was the only E-6 and the senior member of the group that included Soldiers who admitted to violating the drinking policy. The other members of the group included three E-5s and one E-3. All three E-5s received some form of unfavorable personnel action for violating the drinking policy. SSG Miranda was the senior member of the group and was the only one relieved from her duty position. There were no other Soldiers of SSG Miranda's grade involved in the violation of the drinking policy. The NCO who was involved in the reported misconduct (improper sexual act and homosexual proposition of an enlisted Soldier in the unit) was the same grade as SSG Miranda. This NCO was administratively discharged from the Army for his misconduct. This action showed that the command was consistent in taking significant action when an NCO violated rules and regulations.

(4) Motive: The RMO's motives were to discipline SSG Miranda for her part in violating the Fort Polk drinking policy and not reporting to the chain of command the potential criminal sexual act of another member of the unit. CPT Smith was upset because SSG Miranda did not bring the issue of misconduct to his attention, and he wanted to ensure she understood that this behavior was not acceptable. CPT Smith also wanted to discipline SSG Miranda, but he didn't want to be too harsh. Therefore, he did not take the full action he could have by imposing the maximum punishment. The fact that SSG Miranda was given a Change-of-Rater NCOER instead of a Relief-for-Cause NCOER was an attempt by CPT Smith to discipline the Soldier without imposing the maximum punishment. Additionally, an overall attitude of distrust developed in the unit. The unit's leadership had good intentions and could have resolved many of their issues with better communication. Many of the issues that developed in the unit could have been avoided if there was a more formal atmosphere and better communications prior to mobilization.

(5) Procedural Correctness: SSG Miranda's Relief for Cause was not procedurally correct. The only documentation involved was the 10 June 2003 counseling statement. AR 623-205 required a Relief-for-Cause NCOER when an NCO was relieved regardless of the rating period involved. Relief for Cause was defined as the removal of an NCO from a ratable assignment based on a decision by a member of the NCO's chain of command or supervisory chain. SSG Miranda should have been given a Relief-for-Cause NCOER for the period of February 2003 to June 2003 instead of a Change-of-Rater NCOER. CPT Smith testified that he originally intended to give SSG Miranda a Relief-for-Cause NCOER but changed his mind based on advice from the Battalion Commander, LTC Power, and CSM Strickman, the Battalion CSM.

f. Unfavorable Personnel Action #2, Adverse NCOER:

(1) Reasons: CPT Smith testified the reasons for his adverse comments on SSG Miranda's NCOER were for the same reasons as her relief. These reasons included: a non-supportive and uncaring attitude, making a false statement to the commander, and allowing her Soldiers to violate the published drinking policy. CPT Smith showed documentation (counseling statements) to the reviewer, LTC Power, to support his rating. LTC Power and CPT Smith discussed the importance of having documentation to support his rating.

(2) Reasonableness: The violation of the published drinking policy was a significant negative event during SSG Miranda's rating period. It was reasonable and appropriate that this event would be documented on her evaluation report. The event was recorded on a counseling statement and later included in her overall performance evaluation. SSG Miranda also had several other documented issues that contributed to the overall negative characterization of her duty performance. These issues included tardiness and missing a formation (EXHIBIT O).

(3) Consistency: There were no other Soldiers of SSG Miranda's grade involved in the violation of the drinking policy. The Soldier who was involved in the improper sexual act and homosexual proposition of an enlisted Soldier in the unit was the same grade as SSG Miranda. This NCO was administratively discharged from the Army for his misconduct, which showed that the command was consistent in taking some sort of significant action when a NCO violated rules and regulations. The other NCOs who were members of SSG Miranda's team each received negative comments on their NCOERs because of their violations of the drinking policy. The negative comments the other three NCOs received were similar to the ones SSG Miranda received, but their ratings of performance and potential were not as low as SSG Miranda's. All of the other NCOs were one grade lower than SSG Miranda.

(4) Motive: The RMO's motive was to discipline SSG Miranda for her part in violating the Fort Polk drinking policy. CPT Smith also wanted to punish SSG Miranda, but he didn't want to be too harsh. Consequently, he did not pursue a Relief-for-Cause NCOER. He sent a draft copy of her NCOER to the Battalion CSM, CSM Strickman, for his review to ensure that he was giving an appropriate rating. Additionally, an overall attitude of distrust developed in the unit. The unit's leadership had good intentions and could have resolved many of their issues internally with better communications. Many of the issues that developed in the unit could have been avoided if there was a more formal atmosphere and better communications prior to unit mobilization.

(5) Procedural Correctness: SSG Miranda's NCOER was not procedurally correct. The only documentation involved was the 10 June 2003 counseling statement. AR 623-205 required a Relief-for-Cause NCOER when an NCO is relieved regardless of the rating period involved. Relief for Cause was defined as the removal of an NCO from a ratable assignment based on a decision by a member of the NCO's chain of command or supervisory chain. SSG Miranda should have been given a Relief-for-Cause NCOER with thru dates of February 2003 to June 2003 instead of a Change-of-Rater NCOER. CPT Smith said that he originally intended to give SSG Miranda a Relief-for-Cause NCOER, but he changed it based on advice from LTC Power and CSM Strickman.

g. Conclusions:

(1) The allegation that CPT Smith improperly reprised against a subordinate through an adverse NCOER in violation DoDD 7050.6 was not substantiated.

(2) The allegation that CPT Smith improperly reprised against a subordinate by relieving her of her duty position in violation DoDD 7050.6 was not substantiated.

4. Other Matters: The relief for cause NCOER in this case was not executed in accordance with AR 623-205.

5. Recommendations:

a. Concur with the conclusions above against CPT Smith as not substantiated.

b. Forward the case thru SAIG-AC to IG, DoD, for final approval.

Section 11-5

Improper Referral for Mental Health Evaluation Investigations

1. DoD Directive 6490.1, Mental Health Evaluation of Member of the Armed Forces, and DoD Instruction 6490.4, Requirements for Mental Health Evaluation of Members of the Armed Forces, establish and implement DoD policy, assign responsibility, and prescribe procedures for the referral, evaluation, treatment, and administrative management of Service Members who may require mental health evaluation, psychiatric hospitalization, and / or assessment for risk of potentially dangerous behavior. The directive prohibits improper referral as a punitive violation of Article 92, UCMJ, and the instruction requires the Military Departments to notify IG, DoD, within 10 working days after receipt of allegation(s) involving improper referral for a mental health evaluation (MHE) in violation of the directive.

2. IGs receiving allegations of improper referral for MHE will notify DAIG Assistance Division (SAIG-AC) within two working days. This notification will include the name, grade, address or duty location, and phone number of the complainant; a synopsis of the specific allegation(s); any supporting data received by the IG; the name, grade, address, and phone number of the IG action officer; and any other information required during notification in accordance with DoD Instruction 6490.4.

3. All allegations of improper referral for MHE must also be analyzed for reprisal in accordance with 10 USC 1034. If, as a result of the initial review by DAIG, a possible violation of DoDD 7050.6, Military Whistleblower Protection, cannot be ruled out, then DAIG will refer the allegations to the appropriate IG for IGPA (see paragraph 8-10c(2), AR 20-1).

Example Mental Health Evaluation ROII

REPORT OF INVESTIGATIVE INQUIRY (MHE) (Case # DIH 05-6099 / OTR 05-8011)

NAME / POSITION: SGT Ima Sane, HHC, 123rd DISCOM, Virginia Army National Guard (VAARNG), Complaintville, Virginia.

AUTHORITY: On 10 June 2002, COL Edward J. Columbo, the State Inspector General, VAARNG, authorized MSG Shoulder to conduct an investigative inquiry.

BACKGROUND: The VAARNG IG's office conducted an inquiry concerning allegations of an improper mental health evaluation referral for SGT Sane. SGT Sane alleged that his chain of command improperly referred him for a non-emergency mental health evaluation (MHE).

On 2 May 2002, SGT Sane admitted himself into the Acme mental health clinic to receive counseling for work-related stress. He said that he was working 60-hour weeks in a dysfunctional office. SGT Sane signed a Privacy Act statement and a consent statement with LT Mindprobe, a physician's assistant at the Lightduty AFB.

On 2 May 2002, CPT Lynn Logger, Commander, HHC, 123rd DISCOM, called Capt. (USAF) Anna Freud, psychologist, Lightduty AFB, about SGT Sane. CPT Logger was concerned about SGT Sane's mental state as he (SGT Sane) continuously came by her office and told her stories, which she described as "far-fetched."

After talking with CPT Logger, Capt. Freud in turn called SFC Enlistment, Operations Sergeant of the Recruiting and Retention Command, where SGT Sane was attached and serving on active duty for special work (ADSW) orders. Capt. Freud recommended that a psychiatrist evaluate SGT Sane.

When SFC Enlistment received this recommendation from Capt. Freud, she talked with her first-line supervisor, SGM Jones, Sergeant Major of the R&R Command. SGM Jones, in turn, telephoned LTC Ross P. Boss, the commander of the R&R Command. SGM Jones explained to LTC Boss that Dr. Freud had recommended that SGT Sane receive a mental health evaluation. LTC Boss acknowledged the recommendation and told SGM Jones to take the appropriate action to help SGT Sane.

Afterwards, SGM Jones called HHC, 123rd DISCOM (the unit to which SGT Sane was assigned), and spoke to SFC Three, the operations sergeant of HHC, 123rd DISCOM. SGM Jones explained to SFC Three that SGT Sane was in need of a psychiatric evaluation. SGM Jones did not inform the commander of HHC, 123rd DISCOM (CPT Logger), about the MHE referral.

SGM Jones directed SFC Enlistment to schedule SGT Sane for a MHE. SFC Enlistment scheduled this appointment and, upon further instruction from SGM Jones, SFC Enlistment prepared and signed the MHE referral. LTC Boss, Commander, R&R Command, did not sign the MHE request. (EXHIBIT A)

SGT Sane subsequently underwent his MHE with COL (Dr.) Joe Smith, psychiatrist for the VAARNG on 20 May 2002.

SUBSTANTIATED ALLEGATIONS:

LTC Boss improperly referred SGT Sane for a Mental Health Evaluation in violation of DODD 6490.1.

SGM Jones improperly referred SGT Sane for a Mental Health Evaluation in violation of DODD 6490.1.

COL (Dr.) Smith improperly conducted a Mental Health Evaluation of SGT Sane in violation of DODD 6490.1.

SYNOPSIS: The key evidence that led the IO to substantiate the allegations were the testimonies from the subjects. All three subjects testified that they were unaware of the proper procedures for referring individuals for an MHE. All three allegations were substantiated.

CONSIDERATION OF ALLEGATIONS

1. Allegation #1: That LTC Boss improperly referred SGT Sane for an MHE in violation of DODD 6490.1.

a. Evidence:

(1) Standard: DODD 6490.1, Mental Health Evaluations of Members of the Armed Forces, dated 1 October 1997, assigned responsibilities for referral, evaluation, and management of Service Members directed for mental health evaluation. (EXHIBIT C)

(2) Documentary evidence:

(a) In a memorandum, subject: Request for MHE, dated 3 May 2002 SFC Enlistment, Operations NCO, Recruiting and Retention Command, submitted the original request for a psychiatric evaluation for SGT Sane. (EXHIBIT A)

(b) In a memorandum, subject: Request for MHE, dated 7 May 2002, SSG Patty Hearst, Detachment X Medical Coordinator, approved the 3 May 2002 MHE request from SFC Enlistment. (EXHIBIT B)

(c) A memorandum, subject: Request for MHE, dated 20 May 2002, conveyed the results of SGT Sane's MHE to LTC Boss. (EXHIBIT D)

(d) In a memorandum, subject: Counseling with SGT Sane on 3 May 2002, dated 18 June 2002, SGM Jones, SGM of Recruiting and Retention Command, related the sequence of events surrounding SGT Sane's MHE. (EXHIBIT E)

(e) In a memorandum, subject: MHE, dated 20 June 2002, SFC Enlistment admitted that he signed the MHE request. There were no signatures on these memorandums from LTC Boss (Commander, Recruiting and Retention Command) or CPT Logger (Commander, HHC, 123rd DISCOM).

(3) Testimonial evidence:

(a) SGT Sane was not interviewed because he was OCONUS and discharged from the service.

(b) SFC Enlistment, Operations Sergeant of the Recruiting and Retention Command, testified on 12 June 2002 that the commanding officer of the Recruiting and Retention Command (LTC Boss) did not consult with a mental health professional before referring SGT Sane for a mental health evaluation. He (SFC Enlistment) testified SGT Sane was afforded his rights to speak with a lawyer and the Inspector General; he was not advised of these rights by his unit commander. (EXHIBIT A)

(c) LTC Boss, Commander, R&R Command, testified on 14 June 2002 that he did not consult with a mental health professional before referring SGT Sane for an MHE. LTC Boss did not provide SGT Sane written notice of the MHE referral. There was no written notice provided to SGT Sane. However, SFC Enlistment provided a written notice that included the date and time of the scheduled MHE, factual description of the behavior or verbal expressions, name of the mental health professional, and positions and telephone numbers of authorities, including attorneys and IGs. LTC Boss did not provide SGT Sane an opportunity to seek advice from an Armed Forces attorney or an IG. LTC Boss did not provide SGT Sane a choice to be evaluated by a mental health professional of his own choosing. LTC Boss did not restrict SGT Sane from lawfully communicating with an IG or a member of Congress. LTC Boss did not allow SGT Sane at least two business days before the scheduled MHE to meet with an attorney, an IG, a chaplain, or other appropriate party.

b. Discussion: SGT Sane alleged that his chain of command improperly referred him for a non-emergency MHE. DoDD 6490.1, Mental Health Evaluations of Members of the Armed Forces, prohibited the improper referral of Soldiers for mental health evaluations. LTC Boss was aware of the MHE referral; in fact, he told SGM Jones to initiate the MHE. However, LTC Boss was not involved in the referral process IAW DoDD 6490.1 and therefore was in violation of this directive. Specifically, LTC Boss did not advise SGT Sane of his rights, and LTC Boss did not sign the MHE referral. LTC Boss testified that he was unaware of DoDD 6490.1 and that he had no excuse for his actions. The preponderance of credible evidence indicated that LTC Boss violated DoDD 6490.1.

c. Conclusion: The allegation that LTC Boss improperly referred SGT Sane for a Mental Health Evaluation in violation of DODD 6490.1 was substantiated.

2. Allegation #2: That SGM Jones improperly referred SGT Sane for a MHE in violation of DODD 6490.1.

a. Evidence:

(1) Standard: DODD 6490.1, Mental Health Evaluations of Members of the Armed Forces, dated 1 October 1997, assigned responsibilities for referral, evaluation, and management of Service Members directed for mental health evaluation. (EXHIBIT C)

(b) In a memorandum, subject: Counseling with SGT Sane on 3 May 2002, dated 18 June 2003, SGM Jones, SGM of Recruiting and Retention Command, related the sequence of events surrounding SGT Sane's MHE. (EXHIBIT D)

(3) Testimonial Evidence:

(a) SGT Sane was not interviewed because he was OCONUS and discharged from the service.

(b) SFC Enlistment testified on 14 June 2002 that SGM Jones did not consult with a mental-health professional before referring SGT Sane for a mental health evaluation. SGT Sane was afforded his rights to speak with a lawyer and the Inspector General; he was not advised of these rights by SGM Jones. (EXHIBIT A)

(c) SGM Jones testified on 17 June 2002 that he did not consult with a mental-health professional before referring SGT Sane for the MHE. He did not provide SGT Sane written notice of the MHE referral. No written notice was provided by SGM Jones to SGT Sane. SGM Jones testified that SFC Enlistment provided a written notice to SGT Sane that included the date and time of the scheduled MHE, factual description of the behavior or verbal expressions, name of the mental-health professional, and positions and telephone numbers of authorities, including attorneys and IGs. SGM Jones did not provide SGT Sane an opportunity to seek advice from an Armed Forces attorney or an IG. SGM Jones did not provide SGT Sane a choice to be evaluated by a mental-health professional of his own choosing. SGM Jones did not restrict SGT Sane from lawfully communicating with an IG or a member of Congress. SGM Jones did not allow SGT Sane at least two business days before the scheduled MHE to meet with an attorney, an IG, a chaplain, or other appropriate party.

b. Discussion: SGT Sane alleged that his chain of command improperly referred him for a non-emergency MHE. DoDD 6490.1, Mental Health Evaluations of Members of the Armed Forces, prohibited the improper referral of Soldiers for mental health evaluations. SGM Jones was aware of the MHE referral, and he told SFC Enlistment to initiate and write-up the referral. However, SGM Jones was not involved in the referral process IAW DoDD 6490.1 and therefore was in violation of the directive. Specifically, SGM Jones did not advise SGT Sane of his rights and failed to advise LTC Boss that the commander was responsible to notify the complainant of his or her rights, and the commander was required to sign the MHE referral. SGM Jones testified that he was unaware of DoDD 6490.1 and that he had no excuse for his actions. The preponderance of credible evidence indicated that SGM Jones violated DoDD 6490.1.

c. Conclusion: The allegation that SGM Jones improperly referred SGT Sane for a Mental Health Evaluation in violation of DODD 6490.1 was substantiated.

3. Allegation #3: COL (Dr.) Smith improperly conducted a Mental Health Evaluation of SGT Sane in violation of DODD 6490.1.

a. Evidence:

(1) Standard: DODD 6490.1, Mental Health Evaluations of Members of the Armed Forces, dated 1 October 1997, assigned responsibilities for referral, evaluation, and management of Service Members directed for mental health evaluation. (EXHIBIT C)

(2) Documentary evidence:

(a) In a letter, dated 19 May 2002, from SGT Sane to Dr. Smith, SGT Sane expressed worry about leaving the VAARNG at the end of his ADSW tour on 31 May 2002. SGT Sane also indicated he was nervous about moving to Korea after he got out, even though he had a good contracting job lined up there. (EXHIBIT E)

(b) In a memorandum, subject: Mental Health Evaluation of SGT Sane, dated 20 May 2002, Dr. Smith indicated SGT Sane was mentally fit for retention but that SGT Sane overtly expressed signs of anxiety, which were attributed to his impending departure from service and relocation to Korea. (EXHIBIT F)

(3) Testimonial Evidence.

(a) SGT Sane was not interviewed because he was OCONUS and discharged from the service

(b) COL Smith, psychiatrist for the VAARNG, testified on 18 June 2002 that he did not assess the circumstances surrounding the request for the MHE to ensure that the evaluation was not due to reprisal. He did not report to the superior of the referring commander via mental health command channels that the MHE may have been inappropriate. COL Smith testified that he was unaware of DoDD 6490.1 and was not aware that SGT Sane should have been advised of his rights prior to and after the MHE. He did not advise SGT Sane of the purpose, nature, and likely consequences of the evaluation. He did not make clear to SGT Sane that the MHE was not confidential. COL Smith assessed the mental state of SGT Sane but did not ask about the procedures leading up to the evaluation.

b. Discussion: SGT Sane alleged that his chain of command improperly referred him for a non-emergency MHE. DoDD 6490.1, Mental Health Evaluations of Members of the Armed Forces, prohibited the improper referral of Soldiers for mental health evaluations. COL Smith testified he was unaware of his obligations as a privileged physician to advise SGT Sane of his rights prior to and during the MHE IAW DoDD 6490.1. Also, COL Smith should have told SGT Sane that the results of the MHE were not confidential. The preponderance of credible evidence indicated that COL Smith violated the provisions of DoDD 6490.1.

Overview

IGs frequently receive requests for information and records. Provisions for handling such requests are covered in Chapter 3, AR 20-1. The most common situations you will face are discussed here. You must be thoroughly familiar with the procedures for safeguarding IG information as the potential exists for the compromise of confidentiality should records be inappropriately released. Study Chapter 3, AR 20-1, and refer to it when you receive requests for information. If you have any questions, consult with DAIG Records Release Office.

Section 12-2

Nature of IG Records

All IG records, including USAR and ARNG IG records pertaining to Federal matters, are the property of the Secretary of the Army (SA). IG records are maintained by TIG for the SA. The records frequently contain sensitive information and advice. Reports of Investigation are almost always sensitive information. Rarely will anyone but you, your SJA, and your commander review a complete copy of a ROII / ROI and only with proper authorization. As IG records belong to the SA, local IGs are not authorized to release them -- even if ordered to do so unless the release is in accordance with AR 20-1. This rule applies to release of IG records to other IGs. TIG, or a higher authority, must approve the release of IG records for adverse action. Refer to AR 20-1, paragraph 3-3.

Section 12-3

Use of IG Records for Adverse Action

IG records are not normally used for adverse action. To do so compromises the confidentiality built into IG fact-finding. Under legal due process, the suspect or subject will be provided copies of the evidence used to support the adverse action, including IG records if they are used as the basis for adverse action. Under certain circumstances (cost, administrative burden, pending separation of the suspect, transfer of witnesses, etc.), your commander may wish to use your records to support an adverse action. In those cases you must request TIG approval for release of the record. Requests must state why a follow-on investigation would be unduly burdensome, unduly disruptive, or futile. Send your records-release request to DAIG Records Release Office IAW procedures outlined in paragraph 3-3d of AR 20-1. Describe precisely what IG records are required, why they are required, and the adverse action that is contemplated. As a rule, only the minimum records required are released. Normally, the released records consist of selected transcripts and documentary evidence. IG opinions, conclusions, and recommendations are not evidence and will remain protected.

IG records may be used (and are often used) as the basis for an adverse action against a senior official with TIG or DTIG approval as outlined in AR 20-1, 3-3b (2). The adverse action must ultimately afford the senior official due process protection.

Section 12-4

Official Use of IG Records within the Department of the Army

1. Many requests for IG records and information are for official use within DA. IG records and information can be used, without redaction, within DA for official purposes (other than adverse actions). You advise witnesses of this provision during the Pre-tape and Read-in for interviews. You are authorized, with certain restrictions, to release your records for official purposes. During the course of investigations or investigative inquiries, you will frequently uncover systemic problems that need to be fixed. You document these issues / problems in the ROII / ROI in the "Other Matters" paragraph and propose a corrective action with your recommendations. In such cases, you will initiate the release of information and records through an extract from your files to the agency or subordinate commander who will actually fix the problem.
2. Restrictions that apply are as follows:
 - a. IG records may not be used for adverse action without TIG approval.
 - b. IG records are not to be used for comparison of commands or commanders.
 - c. IG records are not to be cited in evaluation reports, performance appraisals, award recommendations, or other evaluations maintained in personnel records.
 - d. IG records released for official purposes are not to be converted to personal use or further distributed without the authorization of the IG office of record.
 - e. The contents of a ROII / ROI are not to be released to subjects, suspects, or witnesses named in the report (except for their own testimony as discussed below).
 - f. IG records must be safeguarded and marked IAW AR 20-1.
3. Provide the minimum records and information required. Ensure that you properly mark all records and extracts (refer to paragraph 3-2, AR 20-1).
4. Ensure that the agency receiving the records understands that the records are not to be reproduced without your permission and that they are to be returned to you when they have served their purpose. Emphasize that the records are IG records "on loan" and must not be incorporated into another system of records that is subject to the Privacy Act. Remember: only TIG or a higher authority can approve the release of IG records outside DA for any purpose.

Section 12-5

Release of IG Records for Official Purpose Outside the Department of the Army

TIG is the release authority for records outside DA. IGs forward requests from other Federal Government agencies for IG records for official purposes along with one copy of the requested information to DAIG Records Release Office. Coordinate telephonically with this office prior to sending the records. Investigators from IG DoD; Defense Investigative Service; GAO; Office of the Special Counsel; or the Merit Systems Protection Board have a statutory right to read, but not copy, IG records in your office if they are relevant to one of their ongoing investigations or audits. Requests from these agencies for copies of your records must be submitted in writing and include the reason that the copies are required. Forward these requests to DAIG Records Release Office. TIG must approve the release of the copies to these agencies. Requests for IG records from State, county, or municipal governments are processed under the Freedom of Information Act (FOIA).

Section 12-6

Release of Records for Unofficial (Personal) Use

1. Requests for release of records for unofficial or personal purposes are made under provisions of the Freedom of Information Act (FOIA). The FOIA allows individuals (anyone) to request government records for private purposes. IGs commonly receive FOIA requests from subjects or suspects against whom they substantiate allegations. It is important that you understand how to process requests for information that are made under the FOIA.
2. Requesters must make their request in writing and must reasonably identify the actual records being sought. No specific format exists; a simple letter will suffice. The request should describe the desired records as accurately as possible and may include a monetary limit on how much in FOIA fees the requester is willing to pay. The request should also furnish as many clues as possible regarding the requested records such as the time, place, persons, events, or other details that will help the DAIG Records Release Office respond to the request. The requester should send the request to DAIG Records Release Office, 2511 Jefferson Davis Highway, Arlington, Virginia 22202-3912. The FAX number is commercial (703) 607-5865 or DSN 327-5865.
3. If someone submits his or her records request directly to your office instead of DAIG Records Release Office, respond to the requester in writing within 10 working days that you received the request and that it has been referred to the Records Release Office for search and direct reply. Simply acknowledge receipt of the request. Do not inform the requester that you have the records and are forwarding them to DAIG.
4. Forward the original FOIA request, one copy of the requested records, and a copy of the acknowledgment you sent to the requester to DAIG Records Release Office within 10 working days. Advise DAIG of any concerns you or your commander have concerning the release of the records. Identify witnesses by name and indicate who specifically did not consent to release of their testimony. Also indicate the source of any non-IG records being forwarded. Avoid retaining extraneous documents, notes, or comments in your case files. Once a FOIA request is received, the file is frozen and you cannot purge your files. It is a violation of Federal law to purge your files after a FOIA request is received. When you receive a FOIA request, forward all requested documents to DA for their review (even if the files are potentially embarrassing to you or your command).
5. DAIG Records Release Office processes the requested records for TIG approval. They review the records, apply FOIA exemptions, redact exempted information, coordinate with the requester regarding processing fees, obtain TIG approval for release, and then mail the released records to the requester.

Section 12-7

Release of Information to Follow-on Investigating Officers

1. If you develop facts that indicate that the allegations in the case on which you are working are going to be substantiated, then consider whether referral to another agency for investigation is appropriate. Should your commander close your case and appoint a follow-on investigator (AR 15-6, Rule 303, CIDC / MPI, Financial Liability Investigation of Property Loss), review paragraph 3-6b (3) in AR 20-1. In general, you may provide an investigator with the following:

a. An oral briefing or written summary of the nature of allegations or matters the IG office examined. Be careful to avoid revealing your findings, conclusions, or recommendations. You want the follow-on investigator to conduct an unbiased investigation -- don't prejudice him with your opinions.

b. Commonly available documents. Release evidence readily available that was not received by you in confidence. Under this category, you may release documents such as vehicle dispatches, personnel and pay records, travel documents, hotel receipts, etc. that can be obtained by DA personnel in the course of normal duties. Documents provided to the IG by a complainant are considered to be documents obtained in confidence.

c. Identify witnesses and explain their relevance to the case . You can provide a written or verbal list of witnesses and a verbal summary of their testimony. Avoid revealing the identity of the complainant where possible.

2. Do not allow a follow-on investigator to read your transcripts. Limit the information you release to the minimum the investigator needs to complete his task -- readily available documents and a summary. The most important facet of your communications to a follow-on investigator is ensuring that you preserve the impartiality of the follow-on investigator. Be careful not to be judgmental about the allegations, the credibility of the witnesses, or to reveal your findings. Communicate only the facts to the follow-on investigator.

Section 12-8

Release of Transcripts

1. Records-Release Requests. Witnesses, as well as subjects or suspects, commonly request copies of their testimony. Individuals who provided statements or completed an IGAR must submit a FOIA request to the IG office of record to obtain a copy of their own testimony or IGAR (DA Form 1559). Upon receipt of the written FOIA request, the IG office of record must forward one collated copy of the requested records to HQDA (SAIG-ZXR) 2511 Jefferson Davis Highway, Arlington, Virginia, 22202-3912, for action. IG records will only be released after case closure.

2. Transcript Review by Witnesses. You may allow witnesses, subjects, or suspects to read their transcript in your office while the case is in progress. It is in your best interest to allow persons to review their own testimony. You can be open and forthright with the individual. The threat to the confidentiality of your case is low since these individuals already know the questions you asked and the answers provided. Additionally, they may remember new details when they are reviewing their testimony. If someone indicates a desire to change or add to his or her testimony, you can conduct a recall interview on the spot. A caution: if you prepared a MFR summarizing an interview, ensure that it contains only the evidence the witness provided. Ensure that any opinions or observations you have about the witness are contained in a separate MFR (since the MFR is internal IG information, do not show it to the witness).

Section 12-9

Media Requests

Do not discuss specific investigations or investigative inquiries with media representatives. Refer them to your local Public Affairs Office. Neither confirm nor deny that a specific individual or topic is under investigation or inquiry. Should media representatives request IG records, advise them of the FOIA.

Section 12-10

Response to Subpoena or Court Order

1. IGs and IG records are sometimes subpoenaed. Procedures regarding subpoena of IG records are discussed in paragraph 3-7a (2) (d) in AR 20-1. The Judge Advocate General (TJAG) is the proponent for all aspects of litigation involving DA personnel. Should you receive a subpoena, a court order, or have reason to believe either is imminent, immediately consult with your local SJA and the DAIG Legal Advisor. DoD policy is that official information should be made reasonably available for Federal and State courts. However, TIG (or a higher authority) is the release authority for IG records outside DA, including IG records requested by courts.

2. Do not ignore a subpoena or court order. Advise individuals requesting records that they must specifically state in writing what information they desire and why they want it. You should further advise them that TIG or a higher authority within DA or DoD must authorize release of the information. If necessary, contact your SJA or DAIG Legal Division to seek a stay to provide time for TIG to review the request. In the unlikely event that a response to the court is required before TIG reviews the request, respectfully explain to the judge why you are unable to comply with the subpoena or court order. IGs may ordinarily expect judges to respect the military officer's dilemma of whether to comply with military orders or with subpoenas and other orders from courts of the Judicial Branch.

Section 12-11

Requests Under the Privacy Act to Amend IG Records

The local IG can amend facts in a record such as a misspelled name, an incorrect Social Security Account Number, or an address. Only TIG can amend records pertaining to areas of judgment such as IG opinions, conclusions, and recommendations. Contact DAIG Assistance Division if you must amend an IG record.

Section 12-12

Disposition of Reports of Investigation and Investigative Inquiry

1. Overview. IG records include ROIs, extracts of ROIs and other supporting records and summaries. See Chapter 3, AR 20-1, for disposition, protection, use and release instructions. All IG records, regardless of where initiated, are the property of the Secretary of the Army.

a. As an advisor to your commander, it is imperative that the confidentiality of your reports be scrupulously maintained. However, under some conditions information contained in IG reports may be provided to commanders or higher military authority in the discharge of their official duties.

b. Nothing prevents a senior commander or higher military authority from acquiring a copy of a completed ROI following a proper request for official use.

c. An ROI is NOT normally provided to anyone who is not a member of the directing authority's command or higher authority (see in paragraph 3-6, AR 20-1), for the following reasons:

(1) The ROI contains recommendations made in confidence by a subordinate (you) to a superior (your Directing Authority);

(2) The ROI contains allegations or accusations that may be substantiated by IG standards but may not provide proof beyond a reasonable doubt in a court of law.

(3) The ROI is advisory in nature and the conclusions and recommendations are not binding upon the commander.

(4) The ROI may have your comments and conclusions and may contain the personal opinions or the conclusions of witnesses. Therefore, whenever practicable you should furnish information summaries rather than the ROI itself.

d. Providing an extract from the ROI, or a summary of the pertinent information to a staff or higher headquarters, may be preferable to providing the complete report. A summary or extract allows the staff agency or headquarters to focus on their problem without the possibility of a breach of confidentiality concerning witness testimony

2. Release of ROIs Outside of the Department of the Army.

a. Inspector General reports, including any witnesses' testimony and exhibits, will not be furnished to any agency or individual outside Department of the Army unless approved by TIG or higher authority.

b. Requests for complete or partial IG records are forwarded to DAIG IAW Chapter 3, AR 20-1.

3. Use of Reports For Official Purposes Within the Department of the Army.

a. Distribution of ROIs / ROLs is restricted to the absolute minimum consistent with the effective management of the Army. ROIs / ROLs will be used within Department of the Army IAW paragraph 3-6, AR 20-1.

b. When a commander or the IG office of record finds it is necessary to use items of information contained in ROIs they may provide such information to agencies within their command or elsewhere within the Department of the Army IAW paragraph 3-6, AR 20-1. Information summaries will be used whenever practicable (see below). Utilize the transmittal format letters in Appendix B of this guide to convey these information summaries to commanders and staff agencies.

4. Summaries. Summaries are factual and complete. The following information is not normally included:

a. Classified material, except on a need-to-know basis to personnel possessing the appropriate security clearance and access.

b. Information received from agencies outside Department of the Army, particularly that received from the Federal Bureau of Investigation, unless approval of the pertinent agency is obtained.

c. Information revealing investigative techniques to include:

(1) The identity of confidential informants or sources of information.

(2) The name(s) of the IG who conducted the investigation.

(3) IG opinions, conclusions or recommendations.

(4) Any other information that would involve a breach of faith or violate a moral obligation to keep the information confidential.

(5) Derogatory testimony toward a superior that could result in adverse action against a witness.

WITNESS TELEPHONE PRE-TAPE SCRIPT

1. Hello, this is _____. Are you still available for this interview? Can you speak freely and privately on this line? Great. Let's proceed. Today I'm being assisted by _____, who is with me now. We're communicating with you on a speakerphone so that we can take notes and tape record this interview. Although we haven't started the tape recorder, we're still on the record. We'll tell you when the tape recorder is started. Again, we've contacted you because we believe you may have information pertaining to the matter under inquiry. You are considered a witness in this inquiry and are not suspected of any wrongdoing nor are you the subject of any unfavorable information. Throughout this interview we'll be reading from standardized scripts designed to ensure that we follow approved procedures.

2. This will be a four-part interview. We're now in Part 1, which provides you an explanation of the process and procedures we'll follow and is designed to ensure that you understand your rights pursuant to the Privacy Act of 1974 and the Freedom of Information Act. Part 2, the formal read-in, is a tape-recorded preliminary session that will include an oath of truthfulness. Part 3 is a tape-recorded questioning session. Part 4, the formal read-out, is a tape-recorded conclusion.

3. United States Army Inspectors General are confidential fact-finders for the Directing Authority. Our Directing Authority for this inquiry is _____. IGs collect and examine all pertinent evidence and make complete and impartial representation of all evidence to the Directing Authority. IGs have no authority to make legal findings, impose punishment, or direct corrective action. In investigations and inquiries, IGs establish the truth of allegations or establish that allegations are not true.

4. While one of our most important tenets is to protect the confidentiality of everyone involved, we cannot guarantee it. In order to protect the confidentiality of everyone involved, we do not reveal our sources of information. Accordingly, we will not tell other witnesses or the subject / suspect with whom we have spoken or with whom we plan to speak. Finally, we will not tell you the specific allegations.

5. The following rules apply during this interview:

a. We'll take sworn and taped testimony which later will be transcribed verbatim.

b. All of your answers must be spoken since the tape recorder will not record non-verbal responses.

c. For accuracy, we'll ask you to spell any names or abbreviations you use.

d. We cannot discuss classified information during the interview on this telephone line. If it becomes necessary for you to discuss classified information, tell us and we'll make arrangements to interview you using secure communications.

e. We can go off tape for breaks, but when we're back on tape, we'll introduce questions pertaining to any off-tape remarks you make.

f. Regardless of whether we're on or off tape, we are never off the record. Everything you say will become part of the interview record.

6. Under the Freedom of Information Act, or FOIA, any member of the public can request the IG record pertaining to this case. This record will include your testimony. During the read-out phase, _____ will ask you if you consent to the release of your testimony but not your personal identifying information such as name, social security account number, home address, or phone number to members of the public pursuant to FOIA. In this regard, it's your voluntary choice to grant consent for release of your testimony pursuant to FOIA. When _____ asks you this question during the read-out phase, all we need is a "yes" or "no" answer. Your decision has no impact on the weight or perceived credibility of your testimony.

7. Because we need to ask you for your social security account number and other personal information, we're required to ensure that you understand your rights pursuant to the Privacy Act of 1974. To ensure you do, I'll now read you a short explanation of the Privacy Act.

READ PRIVACY ACT STATEMENT.

AUTHORITY: Title 5 US Code, Section 552a.

PRINCIPLE PURPOSE(s): Information is collected during an inquiry to aid in determining facts and circumstances surrounding allegations / problems. The information is assembled in report format and presented to the official directing the inquiry as a basis for Department of Defense / Department of the Army decision-making. The information may be used as evidence in judicial or administrative proceedings or for other official purposes within the Department of Defense. Disclosure of social security account number, if requested, is used to further identify the individual providing the testimony.

ROUTINE USES:

- a. The information may be forwarded to Federal, State, or local law-enforcement agencies for their use.
- b. May be used as a basis for summaries, briefings, or responses to members of Congress or other agencies in the Executive Branch of the Federal Government.
- c. May be provided to Congress or other Federal, State, and local agencies when determined necessary by The Inspector General (DAIG).

MANDATORY OR VOLUNTARY DISCLOSURE AND THE IMPACT ON THE INDIVIDUAL FAILING TO PROVIDE THE INFORMATION:

For Military Personnel: The disclosure of the social security account number is voluntary where requested. Disclosure of other personal information is mandatory, and failure to do so may subject the individual to disciplinary action.

For Department of the Army Civilians: The disclosure of the social security account number is voluntary. However, failure to disclose other personal information in relation to your position and responsibilities may subject you to adverse personnel action.

For All Other Personnel: The disclosure of your social security account number, where requested, and other personal information is voluntary and no adverse action can be taken against you for refusing to provide information about yourself.

Do you understand the Privacy Act?

8. During the read-in phase, _____ will administer to you an oath to obtain your pledge to provide truthful testimony. Unless you prefer the word “affirm,” we’ll use the word “swear.” Do you have a preference? Do you object to the use of the phrase “so help me God?”

9. This inquiry is an administrative procedure and not a court of law. We are interested in what you know about the matters under inquiry regardless of whether your knowledge is direct, hearsay, or your opinion. However, it’s important that you make the source of your information clear to us, so we'll ask you if it is not.

10. To keep this matter as confidential as possible, we ask that you not discuss your testimony with anyone, except your attorney if you choose to consult one, without our permission. Again, you are a witness in this inquiry and are not suspected of any wrongdoing nor are you the subject of any unfavorable information.

11. Could you please confirm your present status?

12. Unless you have any questions, we're now turning on our tape recorders, and _____ will start the read-in.

SUSPECT (Face-to-Face) PRE-TAPE SCRIPT

- 1. Thank you for coming in today. I'm _____, and this is _____. These are our ID cards and credentials, if you would like to look at them, and this is our Directive for the investigation. (Present ID cards, credentials, and Directive to the suspect for review.)
- 2. At this time let me go over the interview process. This will be a four-part interview. We're now in Part 1, which provides you an explanation of the process and procedures we'll follow and is designed to ensure that you understand your rights pursuant to the Privacy Act of 1974 and the Freedom of Information Act. Part 2, the formal read-in, is a tape-recorded preliminary session that will include an oath of truthfulness. Part 3 is a tape-recorded questioning session; and Part 4, the formal read-out, is a tape-recorded conclusion.
- 3. Although we haven't started the tape recorder, we're still on the record. We'll tell you when the tape recorder is started. During the read-in and read-out, we'll be reading from standardized scripts designed to ensure that we follow approved procedures.
- 4. Army Inspectors General are confidential fact-finders for the Directing Authority. Our Directing Authority for this inquiry / investigation is _____. We collect and examine all pertinent evidence and make complete and impartial representation of all evidence to the Directing Authority. IGs have no authority to make legal findings, impose punishment, or direct corrective action. In investigations and inquiries, IGs establish the truth of allegations or establish that allegations are not true.
- 5. While one of our most important tenets is to protect the confidentiality of everyone involved, we cannot guarantee it. In order to protect the confidentiality of everyone involved, we do not reveal our sources of information. Accordingly, we will not tell you or other witnesses with whom we have spoken or with whom we plan to speak.

6. Now, I'd like to go over the ground rules that apply during this interview:

a. We'll take sworn and taped testimony, which later will be transcribed verbatim.

b. All of your answers must be spoken since the tape recorder will not record non-verbal responses.

c. For accuracy, we ask that you spell out any proper names or abbreviations you use.

d. If classified information comes up, please let us know. We will pause the tape and discuss it off tape first.

e. We can go off tape for breaks, but when we're back on tape, we may introduce questions pertaining to off-tape remarks you make. Regardless of whether we're on or off tape, we are never off the record. Everything you say will become part of the interview record.

f. (If the suspect has an attorney present, remind the suspect that brief consultation with the attorney is permitted; but, if a more lengthy discussion is required, we will pause the interview until the discussion is complete.)

7. Regarding release of your testimony, the last question we ask during the read-out phase is whether you consent to release your testimony under the Freedom of Information Act, or FOIA. Under FOIA, any member of the public can request the IG record pertaining to this case. This record will include your testimony. It is your choice whether you want to protect your testimony from release outside the Federal Government. In this regard, it's your voluntary choice to grant consent for release of your testimony pursuant to FOIA. When we ask you this question during the read-out phase, all we need is a "yes" or "no" answer. Your decision has no impact on the weight or perceived credibility of your testimony. A "yes" answer means you do consent to the release of your testimony but not your personal identifying information such as name, social security number, home address, or phone number to members of the public; a "no" means you do not consent. Our report, including your testimony, will be used as necessary for official government purposes.

8. Because we need to ask you for your social security number and other personal information, we're also required to ensure that you understand your rights pursuant to the Privacy Act of 1974. Please review this copy of the Privacy Act. (Pause and provide copy to suspect.) Do you understand the Privacy Act?

9. Another form we use is the Testimony Information Sheet. It is used to record proper names, abbreviations, acronyms, and the like to aid in preparing an accurate transcript. Please verify the information on the form. (Slide form across the table for review.) Thank you.

10. Can you please tell us your current military status?

11. Next, since you are considered a suspect in this matter, we will go over the DA Form 3881, Rights Warning / Waiver Certificate. (Execute DA Form 3881 according to the instructions on the form and Section 7-8 of the guide, including signature in the appropriate block.)

12. Lastly, to sum up the pre-tape portion of the interview, this is an administrative procedure, not a court of law. We can accept and use both hearsay and opinion. Also, confidentiality is one of the tenets of the IG system; however, we cannot guarantee confidentiality. To keep this matter as confidential as possible, we will ask that you not discuss this case with anyone without our permission, except for your attorney, if you choose to consult with one.

13. Unless you have any questions, we'll turn on our tape recorders and begin the read-in.
